

SOCIETY

Miss Isabella Gould, Miss Helen Barber and Miss Claire Wedder left Friday to go to Smith college, Bryn Mawr and Burnham, respectively. Miss Barber's sister, Mrs. Lewis B. Alderman, with her two little sons, came down from Eugene to see her and is spending a few days with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Barber, at 503 Yamhill street.

Mrs. R. C. Nichol, the charming young matron from Chicago, who formerly lived here, has been the guest of Miss Sophia Lawrence at Twenty-third and Flanders street. For the fortnight before she was Mrs. Louis Burke's guest and she has been entertained much in an informal manner at both houses.

The Steers-Coman series for this season includes Arthur Hartmann, violinist; Josef Lhevinne, pianist; a Metropolitan Opera company quartet, consisting of Rappold, Jacoby, Riccardo, Martin and Campanari, and Nicola, and company. These concerts are always society events of prominence.

Mrs. David T. Honeyman entertained with a pretty dinner Monday evening, in honor of Miss Webb of London, who is visiting her brother, C. Ernest Bridge Webb. Twelve covers were students and alumni. The Campbells are returning from their honeymoon. A good deal of entertaining is planned for them in Eugene on their arrival.

Miss Eva Long has been in from Seattle for a few days. The A. G. Longs are building a beautiful residence on Portland Heights, to be completed about November 1.

Mrs. H. Bache, General Bacon's sister, returned last week from the beach with the general's children, and they are at their home on Portland Heights.

Miss Lois Steers, who was hurt some weeks ago in a railroad wreck and suffered a nervous collapse in consequence, is improving.

Mrs. Leo Seiling who has been traveling in California, has returned home to 447 West Park street.

Mrs. Dorothea Mesick is a guest of her sisters, the Misses Sherlock, at their cottage at Seaside.

Sidney Mayer has gone to San Francisco to be among his old-time friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Burrell and their children returned Friday from paragus fern diffused their spicy fragrance from the top of the desk. Taking advantage of the opportunity, her friends presented her with a silver loving cup in appreciation of her faithful, continuous service of 35 years as financial secretary. The cup is pure Greek design. Completely surprised, it called forth most touching words of appreciation gratitude, which commended more closely the bonds of friendship that have survived a quarter of a century.

The following account of an entertainment in Hood River will be of interest to many in Portland who remember a similar one given here in May. Many of the participants were Portland children: "One of the most interesting and pleasing semi-social events ever given in Hood River took place last Friday evening in the opera house when the pupils of Prof. Beggs' dancing classes participated in an entertainment called the "Fairies' Love." The entertainment was given to show the progress the pupils have made in mastering the house of friendship under the direction of the professor and demonstrated most convincingly that he is a master of his art.

The patronesses were Mrs. P. S. Davidson, Mrs. R. H. Wallace, Mrs. Cecilia Sping and Mrs. H. S. Butterfield. The hall was decorated tastefully for the occasion and the opening number on the program was a scenic dialogue entitled, "The Coronation of the Queen of Flowers." The piece represented the retirement of the last year's queen and the crowning of the new one for the coming season, and was very prettily enacted. Speaking parts and characters were taken as follows:

"Queen Flora" (the retiring queen), Miss Vera Williams; the new Queen, Miss Adriana Epping; the bridesmaids, Alberta Jackson; Summer, Miss Mildred Huxley; Autumn, Miss Genevieve Butcherfield; Winter, Miss Elizabeth Johnson; maids in waiting to the queen, Miss Agnes Holt and Miss Helen Randall; Pages, Newton Clarke and Dickey Hansome.

"In a bower of evergreens and flowers Queen Flora selected the new queen surrounded by her courtiers, maids and subjects. After being duly crowned and receiving the homage of her new subjects, the queen led the march of flowers around the hall closing the coronation exercises.

Dressed in typical Highland costumes, Miss Dorothy Epping, Miss Mary Whitmer Whitehead, Miss Lucile Abbott and Miss Adriana Epping then through the Scotch air dances, displaying rare aptitude and wonderful agility in the steps required to execute this intricate dance.

The Maypole dance given next was one of the prettiest features of the evening and was executed by Misses Adriana Epping, Lucile Abbott, Whitehead, Catherine Baker, Eida Jackson, Burrell Clark, Elizabeth Hadley, Elizabeth Epping and the Misses Williams, Thurston Laraway, Glenn Hunt, Joe Williams, Malcolm Button, George Batcheider, Frank Ransome and Allen Button. The little dancers went through the mazes of the Maypole dance without a hitch and displayed much grace in their evolutions to the tune of a special feature during an intermission in this dance, Miss Epping executed the Spanish dance very gracefully.

"An interesting part of the evening's entertainment was then given when Prof. Beggs gave a demonstration of his method in teaching by lining up the young dancers and showing how they were taught the steps in grace and motion. At its conclusion Miss Catherine Baker and Miss Mary Whitehead gave a skirt dance in true professional style and with an airiness and lightness of foot that delighted the spectators.

As a conclusion to the special program Miss Dorothy Epping executed the Sailor's Hornpipe so admirably that she was forced to respond to an encore. Other features during the evening were the dancing of the two and three step and other dances by the pupils and an exhibition of round dancing by Prof. Beggs and Miss Helen Ransome, a tiny girl visitor at Hood River from Portland. The evening's entertainment was concluded by a dance, in which all took part and further demonstrated the excellent efficiency that the pupils have attained under the direction of Prof. Beggs in the comparatively short time they have been receiving instruction.

The excellent music furnished by Mrs. Del Rand helped very materially in adding the dancers to the entertainment's success."

the guests besides Mrs. Gordon were: Mrs. Thomas Murton, Mrs. George Wilkinson, Mrs. Frederick F. Frank, Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, Mrs. Peter D. Marshall, Mrs. Marjorie Collins, Mrs. Howard Scott, Miss Amelia Sutton, Miss Drury Lawton and Miss Sarah Ann Piper.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Randall celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Wednesday evening by entertaining their friends at cards. The rooms were pretty with huge bouquets of dahlias in tin buckets and smaller bunches of sweetpeas in tin cups. Festoons of tin spoons decorated the doorways. Tin shavings rung in garland form from the chandeliers and were festooned about the room. After cards, supper was served at the card tables, with the service of tin plates, tin cups, tin forks and spoons.

Five hundred was the game played and the score cards were small sheets of tin on which were pasted red stars and J. K. Olson was the first prize—a tin box filled with stationery for the woman and a tin box of cigars for the man. Addie Wheeler and Donald Francis won the consolation prizes—cookie cutters in the shape of a goose and a monkey. The prizes afforded much merriment. Mr. and Mrs. Randall received practically a full kitchen supply of cooking utensils from their friends.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Murdoch Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Luther David Brightson, Mrs. Addie Wheeler, Mrs. Anna Mary Fields, Mrs. Jeanette Frazier, Mrs.

T. Karlson Muehler, Mrs. Frederick McCallum, Mrs. Olive M. Bulok, Mrs. R. B. Bickerston, Miss Sarah Rowe, Miss Jasmine Gray, Miss Dorothy Whellock, Henry Fraser, George T. Yoder, Harold Davidson, Sydney Bronson, Drew Davidson, Frank Leslie Smythe, Leland Bulck, Clifford Howe, James H. Henry and Ted Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robertson have returned after a week's honeymoon at Victoria and the sound. A reception was given them Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Berans, 63 East Sixth street. Sweet peas and roses were used as decorations. Refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Robertson, mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John Sequist, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Robertson and their son, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Fields and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. O. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lumberg, Miss Kate Robertson, Mrs. Shoberg, Miss Edna Shoberg, Miss Shirley Clark, Miss Hulda Dull and Harry Robertson.

The Macabee club of the L. O. T. M. of the World held its September session at the home of Mrs. Hood, 428 East Grant street. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Louise McPadden, 391 East Seventeenth street north, October 13, at 2 o'clock. All L. O. T. M. are urged to be present.

Mrs. W. F. Short, Mrs. Emily Leaman and Marguerite Leaman have returned from a visit to Timber Valley, where they spent two pleasant weeks on the farms of G. C. Leaman and William A. Hogg. While there they were entertained on the Pine Grove farm by the Misses Moorehouse, who gave a dinner in honor of their mother's birthday. A very pleasant time was enjoyed and a beautiful dinner served. The guests present were: Mrs. W. F. Short, Mrs. Emily Leaman, Mrs. W. A. Short, Mrs. Mark Hogg, Mrs. H. Claxton, Mrs. E. H. Moorehouse and the Misses Vesta, Irma, Hallie, Harriet and Helen Moorehouse, Marguerite Leaman, Alice and Edna Claxton and Master Ivan Moorehouse.

A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Hare Wednesday evening by members of the "Wednesday Evening" club of which they have been members since its organization in 1904. The occasion was their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. After congratulations and a very pleasant evening T. J. Cleaton in behalf of the club in a few very appropriate remarks presented Mr. and Mrs. Hare with a beautiful silver tray. Mr. and Mrs. Hare responded in a pleasing manner.

A surprise party was given in honor of Miss Doris Ford at the home of her parents on East Fifteenth street last Wednesday evening. The occasion was the fourteenth birthday of Miss Ford. The evening was spent in games and other amusements, after which refreshments were served. Those present were Christina Denholm, Grace Elerath, Ruth Elerath, Doris Ford, Estella Ford, Pen-ton Ford, Alfred Lomax, Daniel Foster, Claude Lomax, Elmer Lee and Mrs. Ford.

Mrs. Nina Larowe gave her opening party Wednesday evening at Larowe hall. A number of prominent and popular young people were there. The music was good and the evening was spent delightfully.

Mrs. J. Coyan of 284 Park street gave a Dutch supper last Monday evening in honor of her mother, Mrs. William Buermeister, a late arrival from Manitowoc, Wis. The dining-room and parlors were beautifully decorated with evergreens and potted plants. After supper the party adjourned to the parlors, where the balance of the evening was spent in playing musical program was rendered. The following were among the invited guests: Mrs. William Buermeister, Mr. and Mrs. William Grubbs, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. H. Levenhagen, Miss Louise Woods, R. H. Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. J. Coyan.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Congregational church for the election of officers for the ensuing year an incident of more than usual interest occurred. The desk of Mrs. Frederic Eggert, retiring financial secretary, was most beautifully decorated in honor of her "silver jubilee." Pink and white asters, with myrtle and rose geranium, completely concealed the outlines, while a vase filled with pale pink carnations and no-

Mrs. George Drew entertained at luncheon Monday in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Willis Gordon of Seattle, who is spending a fortnight with her. The table was decorated with pink roses and the service was in pink and white. The hostess wore pink silk trimmed with white lace and insertion and Mrs. Gordon wore white organdy over pink taffeta.
