

TEN THOUSAND DEBS' VIEWS ON GOVERNMENT

Eugene V. Debs, leader of the socialists of the United States and their nominee for president, told of the aims and objects of the hopes and ambitions of the Socialist party last night, talking to a closely-packed audience of 10,000 or more people in the big auditorium of the old Exposition building. It was no milk and water meeting, the applause was not stimulated, and Mr. Debs was the idol of the people who had come to hear him tell of the remedies for existing governmental ailments as viewed through the eyes of the Socialist program.

Eugene V. Debs.

9 o'clock, Ed. J. Lewis, chairman of the meeting, and Harry McKee, one of the members of the Debs party, addressed the crowd. The address of the former was well received, though the latter, because of a bad cold and continual use of his voice, was unable to reach the great crowd, which became uneasy and called for Debs. Debs not being forthcoming at the time, Lewis held the audience for a few minutes longer, weaving a Socialistic argument around the reception to the athletes which was then taking place on the Multnomah field.

Vociferous Applause Greeted Debs.
Debs arrived at 9 o'clock and the scenes of his reception beat an old-time nominating convention. Men and women stood on chairs and benches and waved handkerchiefs, hats and umbrellas. Ten thousand voices howled and shouted until the band, which had started to play, was drowned out and could not be heard. This commotion lasted for a couple of minutes, subsiding in the hands of a tiger led by Chairman Lewis.

In his address Mr. Debs dealt with the problems of government and his solution as viewed by himself and other leaders of the Socialist party. He began by saying that he was pleased with the reception accorded to him, that it was flattering, especially to an undesirable citizen. He then said that the people of the United States had the privilege of living in a wonderful age made notable by the great strides of science, of electricity and of steam as applied to the industrial pursuits. The material advancement of the present century surpass all those of all preceding centuries.

The capitalistic system, however, is disintegrating, as shown by the industrial depression of the past year. The Republican party leaders have seen this, Mr. Debs said, and had called attention to it indirectly, for in 1920 the slogan had been, "Let well enough alone."

RAN OUT OF DOOR TO BE ARRESTED

Officers Take Three Youths Into Custody on Burglary Charges.

Seeing an officer walk up to the front door of his home at Fifth and Jackson streets late yesterday afternoon, Walter Nedvidek, aged 16, dashed out the back door and into the arms of another officer, thus completing the capture of three young men who are charged with burglary.

A gang of Southern Pacific bridge carpenters, the victims of the robbers, stopped work and after summoning Detectives Howell and Tennant by telephone aided them in the chase. All the captives are under 20 years of age.

Some days ago the bridge carpenters found their car, standing near Bertha, on the west side division, had been robbed of a tent and a number of blankets. When Earl Griffith and Fred Thompson crossed the trestle in South Portland on which the men were working late yesterday, the bundle they carried was recognized as one of the missing blankets. One man hurried to a telephone while the others followed the two young men.

Detectives Tennant and Howell arrived in the patrol wagon and Griffith and Thompson were pointed out and arrested. They had been seen to hide the blanket in a chicken-house and here the remainder of the loot was found. Once in the wagon they were induced to tell where the other member of the gang lived and plotted the officers to Fifth and Jackson.

Will of Richard H. Holmes. The will of Richard H. Holmes, late of Tillamook county, was admitted to probate in the county court this morning. It disposes of property worth about $100,000. Beneficiaries are made to two sons, Thomas P. Holmes and Oliver J. Holmes, the remainder going in equal shares to the widow, Mary Lizzie Holmes, and her sister, Mrs. Lotie Davis.

IMMENSE REDUCTIONS THAT ARE ONLY POSSIBLE AT THE PIANO EXCHANGE AND BARGAIN ROOM.

A Hurry-Up Sale That Means Immense Savings on Best Instruments—Most of Them Taken in Exchange for Genuine Pianola Pianos and Baby Grands.

Today there are just twenty-six more of the used uprights in the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room being offered. Fortunately, they are among the best we have had and yet the most modest in price. We are going to sell upright pianos today for from $115 up, and a fine range of price and a perfect line of instruments from which to choose.

But they won't last—all will soon be sold—that's sure. The Spirit of Music is in the air. This great big city is a "City of Homes" and the home is the music center of the world. An exceptional number of people bought pianos yesterday in the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room, and are considered in the light of the city in which we live, the number sold was very few indeed, and there are still a hundred homes to take a piano to every one in the P. E. B. R. so be you one of the hundred in this, at least. Don't fall of your purpose. Don't fall of your opportunity. Any arrangement you may suggest within reason as to terms will be acceptable.

Come prepared to buy—you'll find the Piano Exchange and Bargain Room full of interested and eager buyers—early callers have chosen the piano from which we will sell a Steinway, fine condition, not to be told from new, was $475, now $400. Another Steinway, strictly modern, also exactly like new, mottled walnut case, now $385. Still another Steinway, black stained case, good tone, $185. And fine Steinway grand, black stained—so-called "ebonized" case, was $750, now $485.

Another fine Jacob Doll oak case for $195. Another, walnut case, now $225, shows little or no usage. Splendid oak Hime, fine for a musician, now $168. Three other elegant nearly new, large-sized mahogany cases $250 pianos on sale today at $185. A nearly-new $250 Milton only $185. Another Milton $182. A $350 Fischer at $245. Fine walnut-cased $650 Kimball, only $375. Best $500 Heald at $320. Very fancy mahogany Hardman, usually sells for $375, now $225; and another, same make, but in fine condition, $210. A Rembrandt, stencil piano—advertised some times as a $250 piano, now $125.

Smith & Barnes, cost $25 now $200. Kohler & Campbell, usually sold at $350, now $185. Whitney, school piano good for many years' hard usage, modern design, now $120. Very fancy mahogany case, $250 piano, now $125.

The above and over a dozen other interesting bargains ready for immediate sale today. Terms—Cash, or the "Easy Pay Plan." Eilers Piano Exchange and Bargain Room, downstairs at 293 Washington st., corner of Park.

New Styles in Fur Garments

The new styles in fur garments are of especial interest to all women who spend money and care in the selection of their winter out of door garments. This matter has not been overlooked by the designers who enter to the trade of the woman of fashion, and the illustrations of The Journal fall fashion number have not failed to take advantage of the opportunity offered at the leading Parisian salons to catch the new features.

This single page should awaken a large interest among all well dressed women, for a fur garment is something that is too expensive to be thrown lightly aside at the coming of a new style. If the prospective purchaser sees the styles exhibited by Callot, Paquin and Bechoff-David, as well as the latest American creations in small fur, she will buy as understandingly as though she had herself made the trip abroad for this purpose.

In addition to the many attractions already mentioned, the latest American models of leading designers in women's suits are shown. In many cases the French styles are too extreme for the conservative woman, who still wishes to have her gowns embody the distinct changes in fashion. In this line the American designers, who understand American taste, are exceptionally well versed. At this and much more is to be seen in the Sunday special number, which is to be issued September 20. The demand will be large, and it is well to order in advance.

Professor Clinton D. Smith has left the Michigan college and experiment station to accept the directorship of Brazil's first agricultural college.

Chief Engineer George L. Davis of the road stated today that grading is in progress between Bay City and Tillamook, and that steam shovel No. 1 is at Bay City grading toward the Miami, while another is at work on bridge No. 1 at the Tillamook. The grading work has assumed a new activity since the recent trip of the Harriman officials over the route.

Another pile driver is at work at bridge No. 9 over the Miami river, while tunnel No. 1 at Hobsonville, 1 1/2 miles from Bay City, is being hauled in. Teams are hauling powder to the tunnel from Buxton, while there is a large force of men engaged in clearing the land along the right of way and grading from tunnel No. 1 to the 30-mile post. Grading and bridge work between the 20-mile and 30-mile posts is being pushed and as soon as men can be secured the working force on the road will be enlarged.

ALLEGED YEGGMEN'S TRIAL POSTPONED

James Davis, Bert Allen and George Dunbar, arrested some weeks ago on suspicion of having been mixed up in the Troutdale postoffice robbery, were before United States Commissioner A. M. Cannon this morning and their final action to organize, equip and direct the postal authorities have changed the complaints against the three men from that of robbing the postoffice to that of having robbed the Toppenish Wash. postoffice, August 13. The men were arrested in the Dalles late in August. The Government agents claim Davis, Allen and Dunbar are well known yeggmans.

ANNUAL CONVENTION 'COAST GAS ASSN'

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Santa Cruz, Cal., Sept. 15.—The sixteenth annual convention of the Pacific Coast Gas Association opened at the Casino here this afternoon, with over 150 delegates present. President G. O. Miller presided and gave a report on the annual address. The reports from the various officers showed that the association is in excellent condition. The sessions today were taken up with the reading of papers on technical subjects.

FROM FARM TO SCHOOLS

More Than Twenty Thousand Will Be Enrolled by the End of the Week—Gratifying Showing Made at the New Schools.

From figures received at the city school superintendent's office today it is estimated that by the end of the first week of school there will be more than 20,000 children in attendance. Today's figures show that 17,264 students were present when the roll was called, an increase of more than 1,000 over yesterday's attendance.

The showing at the new schools has been gratifying to the school officials. At Lincoln school there were 350 present today, while at Creston school there were 140. At the trades school the attendance was reported at 927. The East Side High school showed the largest registration, 1,015 names being placed on the roll book. Following is a table of Friday's registration, compared with the first day of last year:

WASHINGTON VOTE MAY BE AFFECTED

Olympia, Wash., Sept. 15.—There will be no tabulation of the returns of the state primary election from the official reports until after September 29. It has been customary for the secretary of state to open the returns of general elections as fast as they reach his office, but at a conference with the attorney general yesterday it was decided that the returns must remain sealed until the canvassing board meets on the third Tuesday after the election.

Press reports indicate that the returns in every county will show that mistakes have been made in counting first and second choice votes. On every office where second choice votes were required, the total first and total second choice votes are almost invariably the totals show from a dozen to several hundred more first choice than second choice votes on each office.

In an off-hand opinion today, the attorney general expressed the view that the state canvassing board had no authority to take cognizance of these manifest errors although they might affect the result. If the vote between candidates for any office to which second choice provision applied is close, contests are almost certain to follow the report of the state board. It is now indicated that the vote on attorney general and lieutenant governor will be so close that these errors in the count may have an important bearing on the result.

Galvanometers now are made so delicate that they register the current produced by the pressure of a human finger on a globe of mercury.

BLOOD-MAKING TONIC TREATMENT

A Cure for Anaemic Conditions That is Showing Remarkable Proofs of Cures in Stubborn Cases.

When the body becomes run down, either as a result of overwork, worry or a severe illness, an examination of the blood would show it to be weak and watery. This condition is called anaemia, which is the medical term for "bloodless." The common symptoms are paleness of the lips, gums and cheeks, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, dull eyes and loss of appetite. Anaemia itself is a dangerous disease and it may gradually pass into consumption. It must be cured by treating its cause, which is the poor condition of the blood. The vital fluid must be made strong and healthy thereby enabling it to carry the necessary nourishment to every tissue of the body.

The greatest builder of rich, new blood and they have been curing anaemia and other blood diseases for nearly a generation, during which time how these pills cure cases that stubbornly resist ordinary methods of treatment. Mrs. Moore's address is R. F. D. No. 8, Dulane, Ohio. She says:

"In 1904, when I was attending Denance college, I would come home all miles from Denance, and my face was always had bright red cheeks, but I seemed to lose my color and became deathly white. The physician at Denance said I was all run down and I took his medicine, but grew worse instead of better. My friends thought I was going into consumption."

"My mother had heard of a case that the doctors said was anaemia that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured and finally she said to me: 'This doctor's medicine don't seem to help you a particle and I am going to get you some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.' She did and in a week's time I began to feel like myself again. I took in all seven boxes. They cured me and I feel fine now and am in good health. I have recommended this to several of our neighbors."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, by mail, six boxes for $2.00, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

POWER BUILDING TO BE ENLARGED

Preparatory to the installation of new machinery, made necessary by the ordinance requiring wires to be put under ground in the business center, the Portland Railway, Light & Power company is having plans prepared for extensive alterations in the power receiving and distributing building at Seventh and Alder streets.

The old office portion of the building is to be torn out to make room for the new machinery and the walls and foundations are to be strengthened. It is probable that the foundation of the building will be made so sufficient heavy to support an eight or ten story office building, which the company contemplates putting up at no very distant date.

The alteration work will be commenced in the next few days and will be carried on in a way not to interfere with the operation of the big machines which control the receiving and distribution of electricity for light or power throughout the city.

SCHOOL HOUSE BURNS; COMMUNITY AROUSED

Red Bluff, Cal., Sept. 15.—The sheriff of Tehama county and the residents of the South Fork district are searching for traces of the persons who burned the South Fork school house last night. The entire community is aroused over the act of vandalism.

The entire building, including the school furniture and the school library, was totally destroyed. The loss is estimated at $2,000, partially covered by insurance.

The trustees are making arrangements to house the school children until a new school house can be erected.

LEWISTON STATE NORMAL OPENS

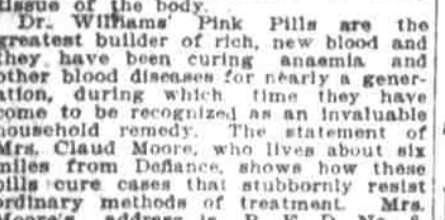

Lewiston, Ida., Sept. 15.—The Lewiston, Ida., State Normal school began its fifteenth year yesterday. Registrar Cheesman states that there is increased attendance over last year in the normal department and that there is a still greater increase in the training school. President Black has returned from his summer's research work in the University of Chicago and is attending to the administration and furtherance of his new plans for the training of rural teachers.

There are three new members in the faculty.
