In Judge Morrow's department of the circuit court this morning a jury was called to try the suit of Henrietta Magone for $2,937 damages against the Portland Manufacturing company. She is suing as guardian of the person of her son, who was employed by the company and was 16 years of age at the time he was injured, in January, 1907. He was struck on the head by a piece of machinery and lost one hand at the wrist. The claim for damages being based on the alleged defective condition of the machinery.

A jury in Judge Morrow's department of the circuit court yesterday afternoon went all the way in awarding damages to the plaintiff. The suit was against the Portland Manufacturing company, who was employed by the company and was 16 years of age at the time he was injured, in January, 1907. He was struck on the head by a piece of machinery and lost one hand at the wrist. The claim for damages being based on the alleged defective condition of the machinery.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected last night by the Portland Admen's club as follows: President, C. C. Chapman; first vice-president, James M. Reeves; second vice-president, George T. Atchley; secretary, Fred North; treasurer, Fred Johnson; executive committee, S. Luders, F. Berg and J. G. Nichols. Frank Coffenberg made a hit with his talk on "The Confessions of a Press Agent."

Judge Cleland this morning took up the case of A. A. Church against A. G. Churchley, involving one of the small-est sums ever litigated in the circuit court. Church asks judgment for $150, but he claims in the balance due of a bill for $64 for painting Churchley's house. The case was appealed from the justice court and a jury trial was waived.

OPENS TOMORROW

New Cloak, Suit, and Fur House established by R. E. Worrell.

An event that has been particularly awaited by the thousands that have traveled up and down Washington street in the past few days will take place tomorrow, when R. E. Worrell throws open to the public the new cloak, suit and fur house of the Worrell Outfitting company. Mr. Worrell has just returned from the eastern markets, where, owing to the uncertainty of the presidential election, he has been enabled to buy from manufacturers valuable merchandise at 50c on the dollar and less, because ready money was badly needed. The firm will open up with an entire new fall stock of cloaks, suits and furs which will be sold at 50c on the dollar because of this excellent and timely purchase. The policy of this house will always be "money back if not satisfied," thus guaranteeing every article as represented. Tomorrow morning at 8 a. m. the doors will be thrown open with a special ready money sale, which is extensively advertised in tonight's Journal.

Buy It Quick.

Millinery Supremacy. Why Courteous Saleswomen, Superior Talent and Moderate Prices are always found at Fraley's: At Fraley's, where correct style and exclusiveness are supreme, shopping is a real pleasure, for courteous and experienced saleswomen gladly exhibit their most beautiful creations, without urging one to buy. Situated in a district where rents are low, Fraley's can profitably pay the high salaries demanded by expert millinery artists and competent saleswomen. Having an unusually large clientele, they are enabled to purchase direct from the wholesaler, instead of through the local jobber. Extremely moderate prices are the direct result of the saving thus effected.

GORE RECEPTION IS ALL ARRANGED

George H. Thomas this morning announced that Governor George E. Chamberlain has been appointed chairman, and Newton McCoy vice-chairman of the reception committee which is to meet and entertain Senator Gore, the blind senator of Oklahoma, who is to speak here September 25. The names of the other members of the committee will be announced later. In addition to the reception committee there will be an ushers committee, a finance committee, and possibly some others, the membership of which will be announced when the selections shall have been made.

Ex-Senator John M. Gearn will be chairman of the meeting. The Army has been secured for September 24 and Mr. Thomas announces that ample seating capacity has been secured to fill it. He expects a big crowd to hear Senator Gore, who in addition to being known as "the blind senator," has a reputation as one of the foremost orators of the country.

The principal work at present, as stated by Chairman George H. Thomas of the Democratic county central committee, is the formation of Bryan and Kern clubs. A meeting is to be held tomorrow night at Mohiavilla, at East Eighteenth and Gilliam streets, which will be addressed by E. S. J. McAllister and Senator Milton A. Miller. Later

There will be a meeting at Lent's. Arrangements have been made for sending two Democratic orators out over the state to address the voters on the questions of the day. They will go down the west side and come back on the east, later making a short trip into eastern Oregon.
