

WAR CALLED OFF LOCAL FISHING CLUB

Hostilities Ended for Time by Federal Injunction—Warden McAllister Meets New Difficulties in Determining Dividing Line.

Until September 28, when the court will issue further orders, hostilities between the Oregon fish authorities and the Washington fishermen are at an end, owing to a temporary restraining order issued by United States Judge Gilbert yesterday. The order restrains Fish Warden McAllister from enforcing the Oregon fishing laws along the Washington shore.

Owing to the latest developments fishermen along the Columbia on the Oregon side who have been in conflict with the master fish warden for several weeks because he has endeavored to uphold the laws threatening to move their traps and other belongings to the Washington side of the stream. There are no restrictions in Washington and owing to this fact the fishermen are contemplating making the move. With the issuance of the order by a federal judge the question of boundary between Oregon and Washington arises. As it is only an imaginary line, Fish Warden McAllister will enforce the Oregon laws on the south side of the main channel of the river.

Henry S. McGowan and the state of Washington are the two complainants in the two cases in which the master fish warden and his deputies are made defendants. The order issued yesterday is in effect until September 28, when the Oregon laws will be attacked in the United States courts.

The restraining order was issued after a conference yesterday between Attorney-General Atkinson and Crawford of Washington and Oregon respectively, and E. C. McDonald, Mr. Atkinson's assistant. The question was discussed some time with the result that it was decided to ask for federal interference.

Means Repeal of Law.

The present difficulty over the enforcement of the new Oregon fishing laws will, Master Fish Warden McAllister believes, result in the repeal at the next session of the legislatures of Oregon and Washington of the fishing laws of both the states and the enactment of new and harmonious laws. Master Fish Warden McAllister stated this morning that he was in touch with Governor Chamberlain with a view to securing the appointment of a joint fish commission by both the states, consisting of ten men from Oregon and the same number from Washington, to secure the enactment by the two legislatures of laws which will not be conflicting, as the present laws are, and which will be of benefit not only to the fish but to the fishermen.

Mr. McAllister says that he thinks there should be on this commission representatives of the seiners, the gill-netters, the cannerymen, the cold storage men and all the other branches of the fishing industry. He would be a member himself for Oregon, and the master fish warden of Washington would represent his state.

The injunction restraining order last night enjoining the warden from enforcing the Oregon fishing laws on the Washington side of the river comes before, he says. It is going to be almost impossible to determine what is the dividing line.

Did Duty, But 'Twas Hard Work.

"The only thing I can do," he said, "is to take the channel of the river as the dividing line. But in some places the channel has changed so it is hard to tell where it is. I guess I'll have to be a mermaid and go to the bottom of the river to find out. I have given my deputies instructions not to molest anybody who is fishing on the Washington side of the river, but if they catch anybody on this side of the river, they can bring their fish back to this side and sell them."

"But I'm mighty glad that I have been tied up with a restraining order. I feel as if a thousand pounds had been lifted off my shoulders. For I was having a pretty strenuous time of it. Now I can't do anything until September 28 when the injunction comes on for a hearing."

In Seventh Mississippi.

Natchez, Miss., Sept. 19.—The second primary to determine the Democratic nominee for congress in the seventh district is being held today and the result is awaited with much interest, owing to the close margin separating the two leading candidates in the first primary. The two candidates are Jesse Webb of Macomb City, and William A. Jackson of Centerville. So keen is the public interest in the contest that considerable money has been wagered on the result.

Pain Weakens

Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.

"I was subject to constant headaches for a period of four years. At times I was almost unable to do the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them."

Enthusiastic Rally at Montavilla Concluded by Organizing Bryan-Kern Club—Continue Bi-Weekly Meetings Until November.

Democrats of Montavilla did themselves proud last night at the rally held in the L. O. O. F. hall. Not only was the hall crowded to hear the addresses made by National Committeeman M. A. Miller and Candidate for Presidential Elector E. S. J. McAllister, but at the close of the addresses a Bryan and Kern club was organized with a large membership.

E. B. Morelock was elected president of the new club and S. T. Osburn secretary. It was decided to hold a weekly rally and club meeting in two weeks at which still more members will be added to the already large membership roll. The bi-weekly meetings will be continued throughout the campaign and the club will become one of the most active political organizations in the county.

It was shown at the meeting of last night that there is a very strong Bryan sentiment in the Montavilla district and the assertion was made by the speakers from that district that election day would show a stronger Democratic vote in that district than has been recorded for several election years. Montavilla is the home of large numbers of workmen and the Bryan and Kern tendencies of these residents are very pronounced and growing more so as the interest in the campaign increases.

DRAW BUSINESS TO EAST SIDE

Monthly Dinner of Business Club Prolific of Trade Getting Ideas.

"We have done much. Let us do more" was the slogan extended to the members of the East Side Business Men's club at their monthly smoker last night by President Bigelow. Mr. Bigelow's talk came near the end of an interesting program and in it was reflected the spirit which had prevailed throughout the evening's talk. Mr. Bigelow pointed out all that the club had done in its two years of existence for the good of the east side, and in closing, urged the members to keep to the work in hand and that all work to the east, better and more important east side.

Tom Richardson, manager of the Commercial club, was the chief speaker of the evening. Mr. Richardson spoke on the topic of "Portland and the East Side," and in the course of his talk outlined to the members what he thought would be the best plan for them to follow in building up the east side.

"Advertise, teach people the habit of buying on the east side, get the habit yourselves and do not forget that in teaching people to buy on the east side you are also buying on the east side, but only broadening and enhancing the amount of business done in the city of Portland."

"Habit is everything. People do not buy what they want or where they want but only where they are urged to buy and where they are urged to buy was the policy urged upon the members of the club. Mr. Richardson told a great deal about Portland in his speech, which was new to the members of the club. He pointed out that Oregon and Portland especially, was the only state in the union which was going to be in readiness for the opening of the Seattle fair and of the good work which the Oregon representatives were doing at Seattle.

With the conclusion of Mr. Richardson's program of singing, boxing and wrestling matches, singing by two colored jubilee singers and talks by different members of the club was given. Cheers and good wishes were passed around and the evening passed in getting acquainted. Elmer Vinson of the boxing team, from his brother, Willis, in the wrestling match and Joe Sax won from his brother, Frank, in the wrestling match.

Thursday, October 8, is east side day at the Gresham Grange fair and the members of the club together with their friends will be expected to make a day of it. Arrangements have been made with the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for special cars to carry the club to Gresham, leaving East Water and Morrison at 1 o'clock. The grounds have been turned over to the club for that day and a special program of athletic events has been prepared.

MRS. MASON'S BODY WILL BE CREMATED

The funeral services for Mrs. Hannah Mason, widow of the late Mayor W. S. Mason of this city, were held this afternoon at her home, 651 Irving street, where she had lived for about 35 years.

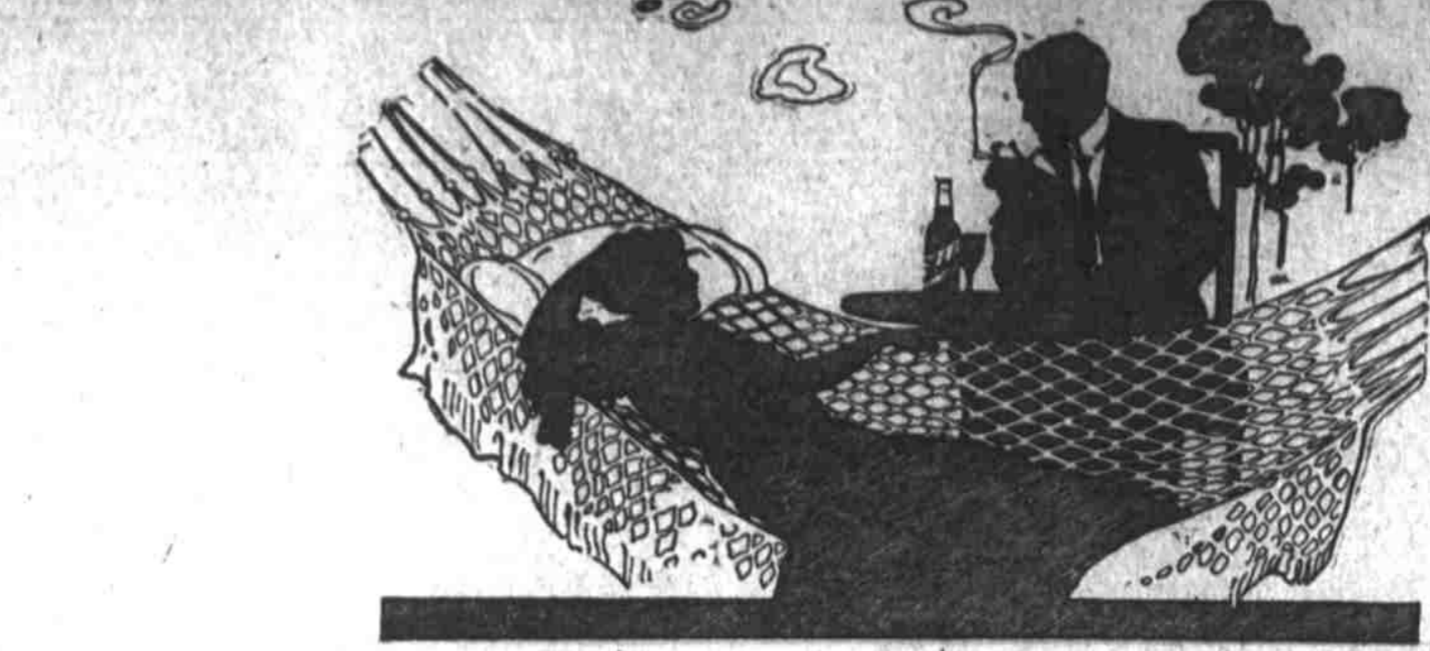

Mrs. Mason was a native of London, England. She came to this country when a girl and married Mr. Dedding, a banker of Napa, Cal. After his death she was married to W. S. Mason, and they came to Portland to make their home.

When the Portland National bank was overtaken by the financial panic of 1893, Mr. and Mrs. Mason turned over their very comfortable fortune to pay the depositors of the institution, and a special action left Mr. Mason with practically no funds, and Mrs. Mason had left but a small part of her fortune. Mr. Mason died about 19 years ago. The couple had no children, and so far as known Mrs. Mason had no relatives in this country. She has been under the constant care of her physician and two nurses for many years. She passed away without suffering, at the age of 87 years.

The funeral was conducted by W. H. Phelps, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Mason was a member. The remains will be cremated, and the ashes will be interred with those of her husband at the Masonic cemetery, San Francisco.

LENDS DEMOCRATS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

A meeting of democratic voters is scheduled for Lents on Wednesday next. Application has been made to the county central committee for a rally to be held at that place and on Wednesday night National Committeeman M. A. Miller and E. S. J. McAllister, democratic candidates for presidential elector, together with other well-known Democratic speakers, will make addresses there. At the close of the speech-making a Bryan and Kern club will be organized, and the reports from Lents indicate that there is an awakening interest in the Lents district in behalf of the Bryan and Kern campaign, and it is expected that the Lents Bryan and Kern club when organized will have a large and active membership.

MALTED BARLEY is digested food. Hops are a tonic—also an aid to sleep. That's what you get in beer. That's why the doctor says "drink beer" when one lacks vitality. Beer quiets the nerves, not because of the alcohol. There is only 3 1/2 per cent. of that. But because of the hops, for hops are soporific.

A bottle of Schlitz at bedtime induces sleep. In every way the drinking of beer is good for you, providing the beer is pure. It is only the wrong beer that leads to bad after effects and to biliousness.

Schlitz beer is pure. We spend more on purity than on all other costs of our brewing. Even the air that cools it is filtered. And every bottle is sterilized.

There is all the good of beer, and none of the harm, in Schlitz.

The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous

Ask for the Brewery Bottling. Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz. To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

KELLAHER WINS PAVING FIGHT

Committee Recommends An Ordinance to Bar Out Warren Company.

By a vote of five to two, the street committee of the city council yesterday recommended for passage the Kellaher resolution which will eliminate the Warren Construction company from doing business in Portland. Councilman Kellaher has been leading the fight against the company's patented bitulithic pavement, which he declared to be a patented process, and which the city has no right to lay because of the charter provision forbidding the use of patented articles which eliminate competitive bidding.

Councilmen Kellaher, Cottle, Vaughn, Wallace and Rushlight voted for the resolution, while Driscoll and Conannon voted against it. The resolution provides for the repeal of sections 21 and 22 of ordinance No. 14,253, an ordinance

In relation to the improvement of streets. The surprising strength shown by Kellaher at yesterday's meeting means that the Warren company will have to make the strongest kind of a fight in the council next Wednesday if it wishes to retain its privilege of paving streets within the city. Inasmuch as only three more votes will be necessary to pass the resolution it begins to look as though Kellaher would win his fight. He claims that the company is using a patented process which prohibits other persons or corporations from competing in the work of installing bitulithic pavements. He claims that his only desire is to force the company to engage in competition.

Kellaher also contends that the patented process, which are being laid in violation of the charter, and that they, too, will have to go.

Kellaher stated yesterday that if any property owner who had been assessed for a bitulithic pavement protested and sued for the recovery of his money that the city could be held liable because the charter expressly forbids the laying of patented pavements, which eliminates competition.

A Mother Testifies
This is to certify that my daughter was down for almost one year with a cold. The doctors finally pronounced it consumption. We had given up hope for her recovery. I was given a sample bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. I gave it all to her in about three hours. It stopped the cough, and gave her rest. I sent next day and bought a 50c. bottle and began giving it. In three month's time she was well. There can not be too much said in favor of Foley's Honey and Tar. It saved my child's life.
