Much attention is being paid to the officers of the Puglia, the Italian battleship in harbor. The commander, Marchese Cusani-Visconti is an Italian nobleman who came into his estate and his marquisship shortly before leaving on the present cruise. Unlike many of the Italian nobility, he is endowed with great wealth. He is well read and well educated and has proved a most agreeable guest. His under officers are no less entertained. All were guests at the MacMaster dance last week.

Mrs. C. E. Wood entertained at dinner for three of the younger officers Thursday evening. Her guests were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn, Mr. and Mrs. David T. C. Honeyman, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Hazel Dolph, Captain-Commissario Arturo Fontana, Signor Gustavo Gaidini and Signor Massimo Bernaroli. Signor Bernaroli has been decorated by the king of Greece for bravery. All were charming dinner guests, though slightly handicapped by their inability to speak the English language. They converse for the most part in French, as most Americans speak it more readily than they do Italian. Mrs. Richard Nunn, who speaks French fluently, has been a welcome guest on the ship and at functions where the officers are entertained. She gave an informal tea for them yesterday afternoon. Every day has seen some of Portland's prominent matrons and young people going to the ship to take luncheon or tea with the officers. They have entertained extensively during their stay and profess to admire Portland and Portland women very much.

Miss Selma Cobb of San Francisco entertained yesterday with a matinee theatre party at the Orpheum prior to her return to San Francisco. Miss Cobb and her mother, Mrs. Eva Cobb, have been extended many courtesies during their visit here and their kindnesses of their hostesses. Supper followed at the Portland grill. The guests were Miss Emilie Boshell, Miss Emily Hirstel, Miss Flora Fleischer, Miss Florence Kohn, Miss Mildred Meyer, Miss Elizabeth Rosenthal, Miss Clementine Hirstel, Miss Blumauer, Miss Fannie Davis, Miss Celia Friendly, Miss Sybil Lippitt, Miss Elva Rosenthal, Miss Helen Rosenthal, Miss Florence Wolf, Miss Helen Coblenz, Miss Emma Baum, Miss Theresa Adler of Baker City, Miss Helen Lauer and Miss Josephine Jacobson. The chaperons were Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Mrs. A. Hexter, Mrs. J. Rosenthal, Mrs. Bol Blumauer, Mrs. Rudolph Goldsmith, Mrs. George Loewenson, Mrs. Sol Garde, Mrs. Sam Frauenthal and Mrs. Eva Cobb.

The officers of Vancouver barracks have sent out cards for a dance next Friday evening in compliment to Colonel G. K. McGunagle, a new commanding officer in the First regiment. Colonel McGunagle has been at the barracks several weeks and in that time has made himself most popular. He has a large coterie of friends in Portland and has become a member of the leading clubs of the city. General and Mrs. Brush have not yet returned from Tacoma, where they were entertained for many days.

Mrs. John Fleming Wilson of Newport, wife of the magazine writer and newspaper editor, is visiting her father-in-law, Dr. J. R. Wilson, 405 Clay street. Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wilson, who have been in California more than a year, will arrive home today accompanied by Miss Helen Wilson. During her stay in Portland Mrs. John Fleming Wilson will also be the guest of Mrs. Francis James Bailey before she returns to Newport.

Mrs. Griswold, wife of Lieutenant Griswold, of the battleship Colorado, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Morrison. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sharp are expected to arrive today to visit Dr. and Mrs. Morrison for a month. Mrs. Griswold is a sister of Mr. Sharp and she entertained Mrs. Dorothy Morrison delightfully in Seattle and Tacoma this summer.

Colonel and Mrs. James Jackson have planned to leave today for New York to spend several months. With them will go their daughter, Miss Marion Jackson, who will study art in New York. Miss Jackson has devoted a good deal of time to her art and her miniature work under Miss Lillie V. O'Ryan's tutelage has attracted a good deal of attention. Her friends look forward to success for her.

Mrs. Frank Vincent Du Mond left Wednesday for her home in New York, after a stay of several months with her mother, Mrs. Henry E. Jones. Mr. Du Mond came out with his wife in June and conducted a short course in art at the Art Museum, which was largely attended. Mrs. Du Mond remained in Portland with her two children and she was extensively entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert entertained Miss Bessie Luckey and their son, Harold Simeon Gilbert, with a dinner Friday evening before the wedding. The guests included the bride's aunts, Misses Gertrude and Claire Jones of Brooks, Miss Adele Dyott, Miss Elizabeth McCormack, Miss Helen Towler, Wellington Gilbert, Fred Nelson, Arthur Cole, Harold Povey and Alfred McCormack.

William N. Barrett, Jr., of Hillsboro, a son of State Senator Barrett, midshipman at the naval academy, was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Francis James Bailey during the week. Mr. Barrett is now visiting his parents in Hillsboro. He will return to Portland Wednesday and leave immediately for the east to take up his studies at Annapolis.

Lewis I. Thompson left Tuesday for New York to study art at Columbia university. He was accompanied by his father, E. L. Thompson, who will return after a few weeks' visit. Young Mr. Thompson was graduated a year ago from Hill Military academy and spent the past year in practical art work with W. C. Knighton, architect.

Roy Bulkeley, of Cleveland, Ohio, was a guest at the Portland last week and was entertained by friends here. Just before leaving Mr. Bulkeley gave a small dinner at the hotel, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hart and Miss Hazel Dolph.

Miss Helen Rosenthal has invitations out for a bridge party next Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Mabel Wood, whose engagement to Clifford Marshall was announced here last Sunday.

The J. C. Clossetts, who have registered east on a trip abroad, were entertained last week at the Pack Avenue hotel in New York. They expect to spend about a year in Europe.

Mrs. Alan Welch Smith and her children are expected home today from their summer's stay at Gearhart Park.

Mrs. Frances Davis of San Francisco is visiting her cousin Miss Hazel Blumauer and is being much entertained.

Mrs. H. B. Adams will give a luncheon for the members of the Portia club Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

York after spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Henry E. Jones. Mr. Du Mond came out with her early in the summer and conducted courses at the Art Museum but returned to his studio in New York early in July. Mrs. Du Mond has been entertained extensively during her visit. She will visit on route in southern Oregon with her sister, Mrs. Robert C. Washburn, and will spend some time in Los Angeles.

WEDDINGS

A pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon, September 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Tuvensky, 541 Second street, when their only daughter, Clara, was united in marriage to Arthur S. Goodman of Terre Haute, Ind. The ceremony was celebrated at the Hall officiating. The church was prettily decorated with ferns and tinted vine maple leaves. The bride wore a white dress trimmed with duchesse lace. A full length veil of Brussels lace covered her face and she carried a bouquet of the Highland Congregational church. This was the culmination of an acquaintance that began before Mr. Newgent came to Oregon with the other members of his family. Mrs. Slaughter is a sister of the bride. The Slaughterers are on their honeymoon trip, having been married in Kansas City recently. Mr. and Mrs. Newgent will make their home in Portland.

A wedding of note during the week was that of Charles W. Henry and Etylee Smithson, which was celebrated Saturday afternoon. Miss Smithson is the daughter of A. J. Smithson and the sister of Forrest C. Smithson, who has recently returned from London after his victory in the Olympic games. Mr. Henry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Henry. The wedding, which was very quiet, was followed by a breakfast at the Hotel Portland. After a short bridal trip Mr. and Mrs. Henry will return to Portland about September 19 and will reside at 330 Halsey street until their handsome new home at Eleventh and Thompson streets is completed.

The wedding of Miss Bessie Katherine Luckey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Clinton Luckey, to Harold Simeon Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, Wednesday evening at the First Congregational church, was very largely attended and was an affair of a good deal of social prominence. The church was well filled and beautifully decorated. Palms and ferns banked the altar with green tulle draped here and there. Green tulle interlaced with fern cloysed the family pews and decorated the pews along the aisles. Dr. Luther R. Dyott read the service.

The bride was handsomely gowned in imported ivory silk that fell in soft folds. It was intricately and beautifully trimmed with ivy leaves in raised pattern encircling the skirt and adorning the bodice. The lace was combined effectively with the handsome trimming and her long veil was caught up with a spray of jasmine. She carried a white prayer book with a shower of Bride roses attached to the ribbon markers, and from this service was read the marriage vows. The bride was the Misses Gertrude and Claire Jones of Brooks, Miss Adele Dyott and Miss Grace Towler, wore yellow and carried yellow chrysanthemums. A brother, Wellington Gilbert, attended the bridegroom, and the ushers were Fred Nelson, Arthur Cole, Harold Povey and Alfred McCormack. Mrs. Palentius was at the organ and her daughter, Miss Margaret Palentius, played the violin. They also provided music at the reception which followed at the house.

The rooms at Mr. and Mrs. Luckey's home, 707 Marshall street, were beautifully decorated. In the reception hall were winding sprays of clematis with a charming effect of green and white. The parlors were in yellow with autumn leaves and yellow blossoms. The dining-room was ornamented with pink roses. About 200 guests called at the house and were received by the bride and bridegroom. The bridesmaids, Misses Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert, Miss McCormack and Wellington Gilbert, Mrs. Luckey wore an imported gown of black duchesse lace. The bride wore an imported gown of oriental silk of a deep cream shade embroidered in pale pink and yellow. Six girls assisted in serving refreshments—Miss Grace Chambers, Miss Mattie Cleland, Miss Jones Townsend, Miss Grace Cole, Miss Bessie Walton. Among the guests was Alfred Gilbert, the athlete of Olympic fame, a brother of the bridegroom, whose marriage to Miss Mary Thompson of Seattle took place last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert have gone to southern California on a two or three months' trip and will tour Arizona and Mexico before their return.

Miss Hilda Hart of Salem and George W. Layborn were married in the presence of a few friends and relatives at Salem Tuesday by County Judge Busby. Miss Ruby Long acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Brown as groomsmen. After the ceremony the bride and groom went to the residence of the bride's mother, where dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Layborn left for Portland to make their home.

Charles Ammer and Miss Stella K. Pleasants were quietly married at the
