

GOD TO RULE SUBDUED WORLD

Deep Students of Religion Believe Heaven Will Come on Earth.

GOD AS ALL IN ALL TODAY'S AMBITION

Conception of God Depends on Individual—World Will Not Be Destroyed—God Will Harmonize All.

Dr. Luther R. Dyott preached an able sermon yesterday morning at the First Congregational church on "The Conception of God." He took as his text, I Cor. xv:28, and spoke in part as follows:

"And when all things have been subjected unto him, then shall the son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that God may be all in all.—I Cor. xv:28.

A true conception of God is not the mere luxury of a dogmatic theology. Neither is it found at the end of hazardous, capricious and capacious guesses about him as the supreme deity of all life, and love, and being. The God-consciousness, as the primary datum of all knowledge, must locate in a divine experience in human life.

"God can be known. He can be known by us. He can be known by us here and now. This knowledge must underlie, encircle, uphold and sustain everything else. Nothing is altogether certain until it finds certitude in God. Our highest rights are in life and all other things worth while must have their origin, their progress and their end in God. The progress of life and persons and all things related to the same are true, only as our conception of God is true.

"Now, a conception, a product of the inventive or constructive faculty of the mind in this personality, mind, will, affection, memory, reason, imagination and faith all have their part.

Origin in Spiritual. "God is a spirit. God is love. God is our father. Like finds like correspondence in like as the source, a true conception of God must be something more than the product of super intellect. It must be the product of the spirit which is man. It must progress through love and a filial devotion. A true conception of God has its origin in the spiritual. It is that content in the irreducible minimum, where waking consciousness whispers the initial idea of God in the spirit, which is man. Then it rises, moves outward and upward, and finds truth held in commune by others; it moves outward and upward, until men, here and there, harmonizing with the character, the will and plans of God, revealed through nature, through grace, through Jesus Christ, through the Holy Spirit, through the experience of the individual believer.

"We show our superiority in nothing so much as in our ability to receive and convey true ideas of God. We observe his unambiguous footsteps in nature, and see him alike in the vast and the minute. He is the God who 'Sees with equal eye as God of all, A hero perish, or a sparrow fall, Atoms and systems into ruin hurled, And now a bubble bursts, and now a world.'

"The material part of his universe speaks of ages of which we have no consciousness in our physical being, which epitomizes the material realm about us. But nature does bear indubitable witness of God to man, and even the scientist who studies material phenomena cannot be an atheist, if he will think deeply, clearly and conclusively, while the scientist who studies spiritual phenomena will find that nature is related to spirit, if he will think as clearly, deeply and inclusively as he should. He will reach the conclusion that God has never intended to destroy the world in which we now live.

Everything Into Subjection. "God intends to bring everything here into subjection unto himself and make all things contribute to man's good and God's glory. God will become all in all. Even the administration of Christ is to be resigned, not because it is in conflict with this sublime ultimate, but because of its perfect harmony with the same, and by virtue of which it is to fulfill its mission.

"In this act, Paul gives us a true conception of God by intimating that which God intends to do. This intention is not the arbitrary outcome of power so much as it is the ultimate realization of unflinching love in the interest of the whole human race. God is supreme, and cannot be defeated. Such a conception of what he is, through that which he intends to do, leads to a more satisfying realization of God.

"It admits of the investment of the larger hope of mankind. It suggests that our baffled endeavors and seeming failures back into the Republican camp, taking advantage of their first opportunity to do so.

In the campaign of 1908 a strong fight was made by John Manning for reelection as district attorney. He began to lay his plans before the voters. It is noted in the list published by the Oregonian that Patrick Maher, private detective, for Manning's administration, registered as a Republican, as many of his Democratic friends as possible to do likewise for the purpose of the primary election. Maher was not a Republican, but the entire Manning following earnestly worked for the nomination of Moser during the primary campaign.

George H. Thomas, chairman of the Democratic County Central committee, throws added explanation on the situation.

In the registration of 1906 there was a contest in the Democratic party between J. Malley and Tom Word. Each man had strong Republican following. It is well known that these men, many of them, registered as Democrats in order to get the influence of Malley or Word at the primaries. They are now returning to their party, as they should.

It is also well known that during the primary campaign of this year Democracy generally considered that Senator Fulton would be easier than Senator nominated, that Cate. He was under the thumb of P. J. Heney. His public record and his personal character have been assailed. He was opposed to the popular doctrine of Statement No. 1.

There was nothing against the record of Mr. Cate, nor his character. He was running on the Statement No. 1 platform. It is known that Governor Chamberlain, personally, believed that he would have less trouble in defeating Senator Fulton for the polls in June than in defeating Cate.

Proof of Absurdity. The argument that it was the Democratic votes cast to Cate in the primary election and then thrown to Chamberlain in June, according to the Oregonian theory, that resulted in the popular choice of Chamberlain is rendered still further absurd, if possible, by the record of the vote cast in Clatsop county. In Clatsop county Cate received only 198 votes in the primaries to 1,235 cast for Fulton. In June Cate received only 887 votes, while Fulton received 1,345. He received more votes in June than Fulton had in the primaries, conclusively that it was not Democratic votes, but Fulton Republican votes that defeated Cate so far as Clatsop county was concerned.

In the primaries Multnomah county gave Fulton 7,858 votes and Cate 9,187, or a majority of 2,089 for Cate. Following the argument made by the Oregonian subtracting the 539 Democratic votes supposed to be cast for Cate, there were only 560 Republican votes represented in this majority. Any one who remembers the relative strength of the two candidates in the county at the time will realize the absurdity of such contention.

Some Who Have Switched. Picking at random from the list published yesterday showing those who had changed their party affiliations to enter into a plot to nominate Cate and afterward elect Chamberlain, the following expressions are secured:

H. Nudelman, precinct 12.—I have always been a Republican and never was the Republican ticket and never have registered as a Democrat. I voted the Republican ticket during the last campaign.

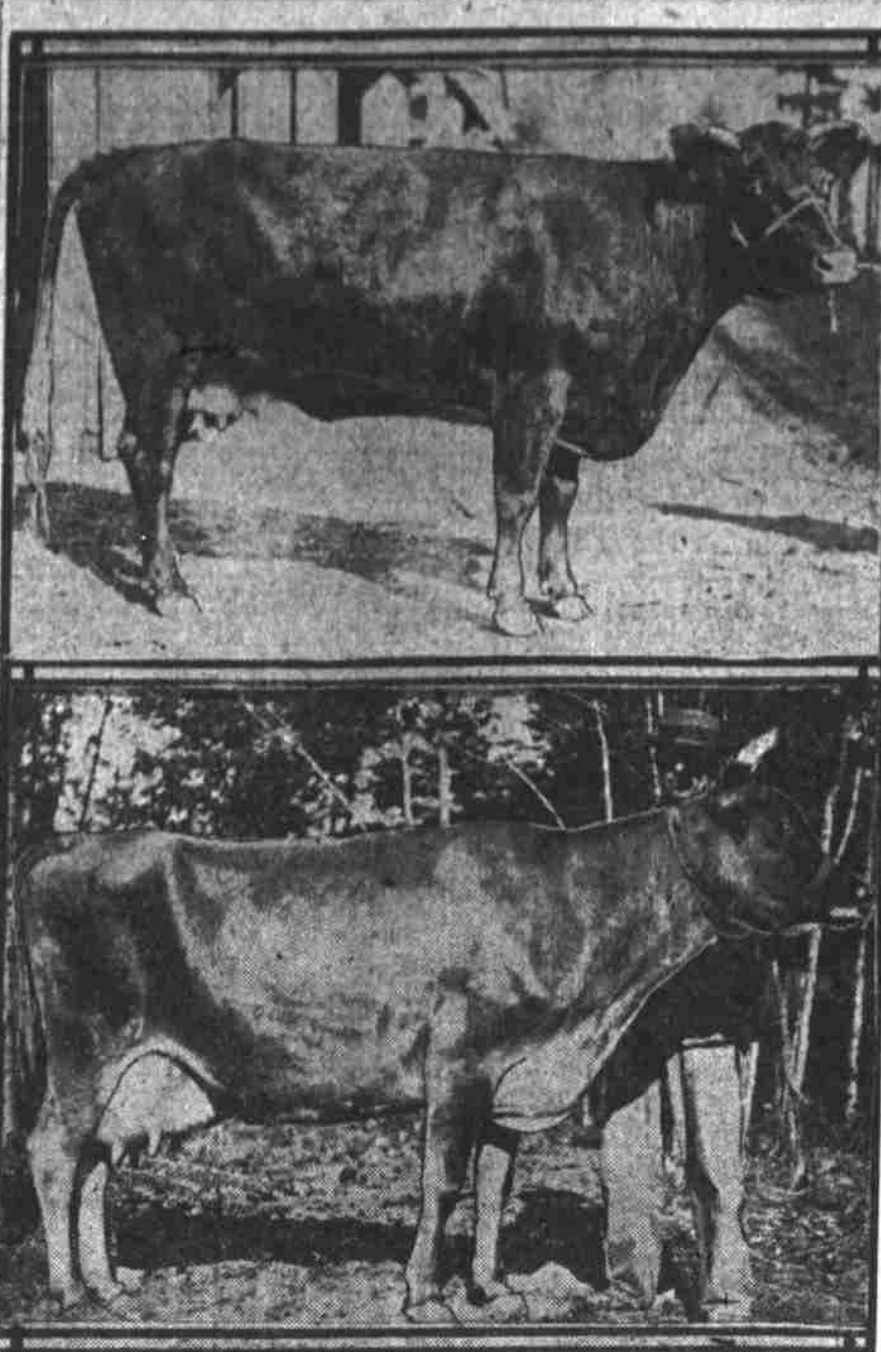

Alex McDonald, precinct 24.—I always have voted the Republican ticket and have been a consistent member of that party. I have never changed and never registered as a Democrat. Edward C. Haynes, precinct 43.—I changed my affiliation for a purpose, but I voted the Republican ticket in June. I am now affiliated with the Democratic party again.

Leo S. Ball, precinct 51.—I am a Republican on national issues. I registered as a Democrat several years ago to help nominate Lane and Word. I went back to the Republican party registration in 1908 and voted a split ticket headed by Chamberlain.

F. W. Cotton, precinct 42.—I am a Republican on national issues, and always have been. I voted a split ticket in June, but never have registered as a Democrat, and have always registered as a Republican.

Dr. Herman J. Harris, precinct 31.—I am a Republican, though I registered as a Democrat three years ago to oblige a Democratic friend in the primaries. I changed back in 1908, my first opportunity. I am a blind partisan, and in June voted for Chamberlain for that reason.

Shorthorn Shown by Bailey E. Scott. Zamaola, D. H. Looney's Prize-winning Jersey

ures, even in doing good, are not altogether in vain. God's ways with man will be vindicated in the final outcome of things. It brings religion down from the realm of theory and speculation and places God on our side of our everyday problems in everyday life. It answers it is that content in the irreducible minimum, where waking consciousness whispers the initial idea of God in the spirit, which is man. Then it rises, moves outward and upward, and finds truth held in commune by others; it moves outward and upward, until men, here and there, harmonizing with the character, the will and plans of God, revealed through nature, through grace, through Jesus Christ, through the Holy Spirit, through the experience of the individual believer.

Prize. I have never changed and never registered as a Democrat. Edward C. Haynes, precinct 43.—I changed my affiliation for a purpose, but I voted the Republican ticket in June. I am now affiliated with the Democratic party again.

Leo S. Ball, precinct 51.—I am a Republican on national issues. I registered as a Democrat several years ago to help nominate Lane and Word. I went back to the Republican party registration in 1908 and voted a split ticket headed by Chamberlain.

F. W. Cotton, precinct 42.—I am a Republican on national issues, and always have been. I voted a split ticket in June, but never have registered as a Democrat, and have always registered as a Republican.

Dr. Herman J. Harris, precinct 31.—I am a Republican, though I registered as a Democrat three years ago to oblige a Democratic friend in the primaries. I changed back in 1908, my first opportunity. I am a blind partisan, and in June voted for Chamberlain for that reason.

M. Hochfeld, precinct 31.—I am a Republican, never was a Democrat, always have registered as a Republican, and have always voted the Republican ticket.

Charles Bromberg, precinct 22.—It is a dirty lie. I have always registered as a Democrat and I voted as a Democrat in the April primaries and for Cate in June.

George E. Constance.—I have always registered as a Republican and have voted that way.

Paul Westinger.—I changed my politics in 1907 and have been a Republican since then. Free silver drove me out of the Democratic party. I voted for Fulton in the April primaries and for Cate in June.

Dr. E. C. Brown.—Fulton was my choice for the senatorial nomination. My Brother, Dr. S. A. Brown, also voted for Senator Fulton. We both registered as Republicans this year, as a matter of political conviction.

A. R. Tozier, the Morrison street cigar dealer.—I never voted the Democratic ticket in my life, although two years ago I registered as a Democrat to help defeat Tom Word for the Democratic nomination.

F. H. Strong.—I have been a Republican since the first Bryan campaign, and expect to remain one. I registered as a Republican and have done so for several years past.

J. Couch Flanders.—I became a Republican on the silver question. I voted for Fulton in the primaries and expect to vote for Taft.

D. W. Matson.—I registered as a Republican this year, but I did not vote either at the primaries or at the June election.

P. J. Cauthorn, precinct 42, is a Republican and voted for Cate in the primaries and in the election.

Undeterred. The trust has flown; the merger is dead. Alas! what is there in a name? The trust has flown; the merger is dead. Go on combining just the same. —Washington Star.

Common Sense And A Tablet Do Away With Dyspepsia, Stomach Trouble and Make Meals a Pleasure.

When your stomach goes on a strike and mass meetings of indignation are held all over your body, then it is that you should sit up and take notice. It is clearly and only a question of common sense—is this thing called Dyspepsia. Take away, by abuse, over eating, excess and high living, the things which the stomach needs, and you have dyspepsia and indigestion; then other maladies follow these—this is common sense.

The stomach is willing enough but you won't let it do its work. You take away the materials which are so necessary for it to use.

Give back these materials and dyspepsia and indigestion flee, and the whole machinery of man begins slowly to move and do its work.

What the stomach needs is nerve force, fluids for its digestive glands, nourishment and power. All these necessities it takes from the blood. If dyspepsia gives nothing to the blood, the blood gives nothing to the stomach. This is common sense also, pure, simple and unadorned.

PORTLAND'S LIVESTOCK SHOW

(Continued from Page One.)

all the extra care possible, but it is evident that it is going to have trouble handling the crowds on account of the fact that there is only a single track from Twenty-eighth street to the club grounds. This necessitates long and wearisome waits on the switches.

This morning the directors and others in charge of the grounds were besieged by the sale of peanuts, sandwiches, pink lemonade and all the other things that people buy at fairs and baseball games. The concession plot is located away over on the southwest part of the grounds, near the carriage entrance, a considerable distance from the grandstand.

Near the carriage entrance are the horse stables, which early this morning were virtually filled, only a few stalls being unoccupied. There are five or six stalls in each stable. The Seely and Campbell exhibit of stallions, and brood mares, William Mickie's Clydesdales and Hackney stallions, J. B. Gordon & Son's Clydesdale horses are especially attractive and drawing much attention.

And their thousands of cattle, the big Guernseys full of Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and other varieties. There are several large herds of Jerseys and Guernseys, and a few of the grandstand are the three stables devoted to sheep and swine, and the poultry house. The latter is jammed full and there is a great deal of quacking, crowing, clucking, quacking and honking that heard within, is almost deafening.

In the swine stable are many families of piglets that the women are certain to just go crazy over and want to take a piece for a pet.

Access This Afternoon. The races scheduled for this afternoon are the Open River purse, 2:14 pace for $1,000 and the Commercial Club purse, 2:16 pace for $1,000. Entries made in the first race for the Open River purse are:

Lizzie H. Explosion, Diabul, Albert Derida, Queen Derby, Bushnell King, Bonnie M., Queen B., Freely Red, Alton, Pilot, Raffle Prince Charles, Blue Josephine, Zonvert, Oregon Baby, Cleopatra, Merry Monarch, Zom Nort, Ray O'Light, Atabel, McFadden, Rockaway, Break, Red Skin, Iowa Splintress, General H., and Hugh Scott.

In the second race for the Commercial Club race are entered: Patay Rice, Lady W., Bert Aronsdale, Della Derby, Princess W., Modicum, Nogi, Irene, Prince Seattle, Seta Royal, Freddie C., Easter Bells, Deception, Bull McKinley, Regal Baron, Henry Gray, Starlight, Van Norte, Inc, H. H. Hastings, Zebona, Day Break, Red Skin, Iowa Splintress, General H., and Hugh Scott.

Yesterday afternoon the grounds were visited by thousands who went out for the first time to see what the place really looks like. It is safe to say that some of them were astonished, not only at the natural beauty of the grounds, but at the amount of work that has been done to get them in shape for the show. The whole grounds form a natural amphitheater, with the race track in the middle, so that everybody in the grounds, whether in the grandstand or bleachers or outside can see the entire track.

The track has been thoroughly worked and is in excellent shape, and there ought to be some fine races, especially in view of the quality of horsemanship that fills up the racing stables. It only needs a glance at the mile oval to tell one that the management has not exaggerated when it claimed that the track is the best in the west, and one of the best in the United States.

LAVEY GONE (Continued from Page One.) At the Antlers hotel in Seattle Lavey

hasn't been seen since September 13. There is a lot of talk here for him. His baggage is still in the room he occupied and he left no sign or indication that he was gone away.

Owing to Lavey's worries over the mix up in Oklahoma and the fact that he believed he had blood poisoning, his friends are of the opinion that he has killed himself.

Lavey, soon after he came to Oregon, went to La Grande where he had charge of a publicity bureau, having been recommended for the job by some members of the Portland Commercial Club. After he had been there while he saw the ad of Orin P. Spaulding in the papers and having known Mr. Spaulding in Kansas, applied for a job. He went to work at once and has done splendidly. Mr. Spaulding says that he is the best man he ever had.

Lavey entered the regular service of the army at Fort Riley, Kan., about a year previous to the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. He was wounded and served so nobly that he was made a Lieutenant in the course of time. When he left the service he was awarded a medal for bravery by Governor Morrow of Kansas and given an excellent record in the state penitentiary at Lansing.

Draft Never Came. While there he became interested in the fact that boys were made to work in the coal mines at the prison. He left his job, stamped the state and went instrumental in having a law passed prohibiting prisoners under 21 years of age from being put to work in the coal mines. This accomplished he went to the Indian territory and engaged in the land business. He has maintained from the beginning that he was innocent as charged by the government officials, and several times he has talked of going back and facing the music.

In his last letter to Mr. Spaulding Lavey said he had collected some money for him and that he would send a draft at once. The draft never came. He has a wife living with her parents at Yates Center, Kan.

SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE, ODD FELLOWS. Denver, Sept. 21.—With the exception of the Democratic national convention probably the largest gathering Denver has ever been called upon to entertain is assembled here today, at the opening of the sovereign grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Every state and territory, as well as parts of Canada and Europe, has its delegates here, a total membership of nearly 1,400,000 being represented.

BRYAN CONFERS WITH PARKER AND D. B. HILL. Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Judge Parker, Senator David B. Hill and William J. Bryan held an important conference at Esopus yesterday afternoon. No information regarding the conference was given officially but it is understood that a thoroughly amicable agreement was reached concerning the conduct of the campaign.

Energy is well-nourished muscles plus well-nourished nerves. Uneeda Biscuit are the greatest energy-makers of all the wheat foods.

5¢ In dust tight, moisture proof packages. Never sold in bulk.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

FISH CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Final Step Taken by Washington Authorities to Get the Matter Up.

(United Press Special Wire.) Salem, Or., Sept. 21.—Citations directing the Oregon supreme court to present the records of the Christ Nielsen case to the United States supreme court were filed by Deputy Attorney-General E. C. MacDonald of the state of Washington this morning and the final step has been taken to appeal the case. A bond has also been filed, and approved by Chief Justice Bean.

A decision in this case will settle the controversy between the authorities of this state and Washington regarding police jurisdiction on the Columbia river. Washington attorneys contend that Oregon has no jurisdiction over the waters of the stream further than the middle of the channel, while Oregon authorities maintain Oregon has concurrent jurisdiction on the Columbia river with Washington from bank to bank.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Judge Parker, Senator David B. Hill and William J. Bryan held an important conference at Esopus yesterday afternoon. No information regarding the conference was given officially but it is understood that a thoroughly amicable agreement was reached concerning the conduct of the campaign.

Energy is well-nourished muscles plus well-nourished nerves. Uneeda Biscuit are the greatest energy-makers of all the wheat foods.

5¢ In dust tight, moisture proof packages. Never sold in bulk.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

COMBINATION BREEDERS' AUCTION

HIGH-BRED HORSES--CATTLE

Big Feature of the Pacific National Show

SALE DAYS ARE: Horses—Thurs., September 24. Cattle—Friday, September 25.

COLLEGE MAID Will Be Sold

Famous Guideless Pacer, and other harness horses consigned by Kuster-Erwin Horse Company, Dr. A. DeFoe, I. D. Chapell, E. C. Kent, W. T. McBride and other famous breeders.

GLEN GORDON CLYDESDALES Perfect Types—Stallions and Mares.

SHORTHORNS From Minor & Ashbrunner.

HEREFORDS Richest Cattle Offerings in History of Coast.

Don't Miss the Auction COL. E. L. HARRIMAN, Auctioneer. Catalogs may be had at Pavilion

Pacific National Show Country Club Grounds.

Tomorrow's Races

INLAND EMPIRE DAY. Board of Trade Purse, $400, 2-year-old Trotting, $1,000, 2:27 class. Chamber of Commerce Purse, $600, Special—Running race, $100, five eighths 3-year-old pacers.

SIGHTLIEST, FASTEST TRACK ON THE COAST. Every inch of track visible all the time. Every event on schedule time. Everything finished.

LIVE STOCK PARADE SEE THE FANCY CATTLE, PIGS, POULTRY, GOATS, SHEEP, DRAFT HORSES, COACH HORSES

NEW EXHIBITION PAVILIONS LIGHT, AIRY, SPLENDIDLY ARRANGED

FIRST EVENT ON NEW GROUNDS OF PORTLAND COUNTRY CLUB

Take Rose City Park Car or Southern Pacific Specials from Depot 12:30 and 1 p. m. Daily—Transportation Facilities Fine

Admission 50c—Grand Stand 50c—Bleachers 25c

See Portland's Great Achievement—The New Country Club

PACIFIC NATIONAL SHOW ALL THIS WEEK

COMBINATION BREEDERS' AUCTION

HIGH-BRED HORSES--CATTLE

Big Feature of the Pacific National Show

SALE DAYS ARE: Horses—Thurs., September 24. Cattle—Friday, September 25.

COLLEGE MAID Will Be Sold

Famous Guideless Pacer, and other harness horses consigned by Kuster-Erwin Horse Company, Dr. A. DeFoe, I. D. Chapell, E. C. Kent, W. T. McBride and other famous breeders.

GLEN GORDON CLYDESDALES Perfect Types—Stallions and Mares.

SHORTHORNS From Minor & Ashbrunner.

HEREFORDS Richest Cattle Offerings in History of Coast.

Don't Miss the Auction COL. E. L. HARRIMAN, Auctioneer. Catalogs may be had at Pavilion

Pacific National Show Country Club Grounds.

Tomorrow's Races

INLAND EMPIRE DAY. Board of Trade Purse, $400, 2-year-old Trotting, $1,000, 2:27 class. Chamber of Commerce Purse, $600, Special—Running race, $100, five eighths 3-year-old pacers.

SIGHTLIEST, FASTEST TRACK ON THE COAST. Every inch of track visible all the time. Every event on schedule time. Everything finished.

LIVE STOCK PARADE SEE THE FANCY CATTLE, PIGS, POULTRY, GOATS, SHEEP, DRAFT HORSES, COACH HORSES

NEW EXHIBITION PAVILIONS LIGHT, AIRY, SPLENDIDLY ARRANGED

FIRST EVENT ON NEW GROUNDS OF PORTLAND COUNTRY CLUB

Take Rose City Park Car or Southern Pacific Specials from Depot 12:30 and 1 p. m. Daily—Transportation Facilities Fine

Admission 50c—Grand Stand 50c—Bleachers 25c

See Portland's Great Achievement—The New Country Club

PACIFIC NATIONAL SHOW ALL THIS WEEK

This Is The Way To Wash

With P. & G. Naphtha Soap. Try it, next washday.

WHITE CLOTHES.—Dip each piece in lukewarm water. Rub soap on the soiled parts and roll up. Pack rolls in a tub and cover with lukewarm (not hot) water. Let them soak half an hour or longer. Fill a tub half full of lukewarm (not hot) water; unroll each piece and rub soiled parts on the washboard, using fresh soap. The dirt will come out with little or no rubbing. Rinse in two warm waters and blue in a third cooler water. Excepting in cases of sickness, clothes need not be boiled. Hang them up to dry in sunshine and fresh air.

Isn't this simpler and easier and better than your present method? And wouldn't it be a good idea to try P. & G. Naphtha Soap and see if it really is as effective as we say it is?

The experiment costs little. A cake is ample for a week's washing.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap at all grocers.