Oklahoma Governor Replies to President's Charges, fenses on Same Lines.

(United Press Leaked Wire.) Guthele, Okla., Sept. 24.-Governor Charles N. Haskell last night gave to the press a statement in answer to charges contained in President Roosewhich the president made the following allegations against Governor Haskell: That he was subservient to Standard Oll; that he vetoed a child labor bill; that he dealt in Creek Indian lands and that he had allowed politics to dominate him in the removal of members of the faculty of the state university and the appointment of others to succeed them.

The governor's letter is charged with surcasm and implied countercharges of offenses of exactly similar nature, only more flagrant, by the president himself and his advisors under each of the four counts of the president's own indictment of Haskell.

President Shifts His Ground. kell: That he was subservient to ment of Haskell.

President Enifts Eis Ground.

Haskell opens with the insinuation that the president and Hearst are virtually in collusion to blacken his character. He says they "certainly raked Ohio fore and aft concerning the Ohio Standard Oil cases of 1899."

Governor Haskell taunts the president regarding his quick shift from Ohio to Oklahoma, as follows:

"Finding absolutely nothing reflecting on me, the president tried to waive his charge of last Monday aside by saying he will make no allusion to that."

"He drops this subject because his original statement was untruthful and he must know from what he and Hearst tried to find in Ohio and failed, that I spoke the truth when I said I never in all my life had any connection or service with that company.

"I say the president knows now that my statement is true, and I regret that he tries to brush it aside without doing me candid justice. Were I to adopt the character of language so commonly used by the president, I would say what I mean in fewer letters than are contained in Talschood."

President a Worse Offender.

The governor draws the parallel behis own acts as executive of President Shifts His Ground.

President a Worse Offender.

The governor draws the parallel between his own acts as executive of Oklahoma and those of the president and the secretary of the interior, in relations to the oil interests. He admits that he did have the case against the Prairie Oil company dismissed, and says the president and Hearst knew he acted properly when he did it. He then reterts upon the administration with the question: "Why did your secretary of the interior grant what you know to be a Standard Oil company corporation at pipeline franchise in our territory and fasten it on our new state by provision of the statehood bill?" and follows this with:

"I would also remind the president to with:

"I would also remind the president that the company tried to enlarge its rights so as to include a gas well as an oil privilege. This I defeated, and even last April. Mr. President, your secretary of the interior tried to help the Standard Oil gas privilege against my protest by actually granting them a franchise to lay an interstate gas line also."

Weto and Bemovals. Governor Haskell says of the child labor bill that he vetoed it because it "went too far and included things not desired by our people." He says union labor interests approved the veto, and he hopes the president "will survive this veto of a local bill and permit us the says our local affairs."

this veto of a local bill and permit us to run our local affairs."

Remaining complaints are disposed of as follows:

"The president complains that we removed certain professors from our state milversity, our three state normal schools and preparatory schools in violation of civil service rules. That is, the president, with his usual impetuosity and reckless disregard of others, misstates the facts.

"The president complains that there are several suits pending against me to reclaim Creek Indian lands. The president should have gone further and said that I was not a dealer in Indian land and only came in as a subsequent purchaser and only incidentally, being a party without personal interest at all."

**Rot Shot at Parting.** Hot Shot at Parting.

The governor's parting shot is:
"The president assumes that all Oklahomans are grafters because his theoretical associates justify that name; that all ex-rallroad contractors are bad just because Paul Morton needed his protecting arm; that we all in Oklahoma violate the civil service law, just because Mr. Roosevelt removed the best United States marshal we ever had, the only reason being that he voted for a good Democrat instead of a bad Republican, and then appointed his cousin to fill the vacancy."

THEODORE BELL

Justifying His Acts and Bell of California opened the Demo-Accusing Roosevelt of Of- and delivered a strong address on the government of the Republican party. He dealt especially with Candidate James Schollcraft Sherman, who, he said, was the right hand man of the corporations, of Speaker Cannon and of all influences that tended to prevent the people's rule.

TALKS AT SALEN

Mr. Bell also touched on the methods of the Republicans in conducting the present campaign. He said in the west the Republicans were holding up Tatt as the "model successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "model successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "made successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "model successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "model successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "model successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "model successor" to Roosevelt, while in the east he was held out as the "model successor" to Roosevelt in and climinated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and plotured in plain words what the Ropublicans had eliminated from their platform everything Rooseveltian and control of the platform everything Rooseveltian and control of the platform eve
