

SEATTLE VITRIFIED BRICK ON FOURTH, GLISAN TO BURNSIDE

Fourth Street at the Corner of Burnside, Looking North. By resolution, adopted at last Thursday's meeting, the city council ordered the paving of that part of Fourth street between Burnside and Glisan with vitrified paving brick, manufactured by the Denny-Renton company of Seattle.

FOES DECLARE FORESTER CZAR

(Continued from Page One.) a big price for the privilege of allowing cattle to feed on the ranges that it makes it impossible for the small cattle owners to use the national ranges.

The friends of the Roosevelt administration are trying to squelch the matter. "Why," said one California delegate today, "we have to pay more than the interest on the price of the lands if we had to buy it, at a stiff price. It is outrageous."

The industrial exhibit of ranch, mine and timber products is attracting much attention today from the visitors. Letter from Roosevelt. One of the features of the congress will be the discussion of the report of a committee, appointed at last year's meeting at Sacramento, relative to the desirability of organizing an international congress having a broader and more comprehensive scope and touching the conservation and use of natural resources of all countries of the globe.

Wonderful Irrigation Exhibits. In the buildings constructed especially for this congress, at a cost of $50,000, the exhibits are complete.

the chief to inspect the hydrants the next morning, which he did. He has made a satisfactory explanation to us yet, though of why he did not do this sooner.

Want Blame Fixed. "Our club is with the mayor in his efforts to place the responsibility on the person who is to blame for it. We adopted a resolution to stand by the executive board in its findings as to the hydrant controversy."

DEATH KNELL TO NORTH END (Continued from Page One.) held back by the character of the neighborhood. Extra Police Granted. A few weeks ago a number of business men put this into effect, and laid the whole matter before Mayor Lane. He agreed with them that it was time for this region to be cleaned out. He asked the city council for 10 additional patrolmen and they were granted.

Placed at Orders. Naturally the reformers, clergymen and moral workers among the class of women affected are elated at the determination to issue the order and enforce it. They are all in accord in their expressions of belief that the enforcement of the order will insure to the best interests of the city.

Notice to Fat Women. Presumably you know, ladies, that the proper caper nowadays is lines. Curves are passé. You have got to take off your fat. This must be done in one of three ways: By dieting, by exercises, or by means of Marmole Prescription Tablets.

NORTH ALBINA CLUB. DETERMINED TO MAKE OFFICIALS DO DUTY. and I feel that if it is properly enforced it will be a good thing. "I am acquainted with a large number of these people who will be affected. I have worked among them and have of late spent much of my time in the North End district. They know my doors are always open to them and that I am always ready to assist them financially or in any other way until they can get on their feet."

Final Result in Doubt. "A good many of the girls have already left town and others are going. Last week I sent several of them home at my expense. But as to what the final result of this attempt is going to be, I can only say I don't know."

Move for Better Conditions. John Bain, secretary of the Municipal association, expresses the opinion that the police were capable of handling the situation and seeing that the order is enforced. "I do not mean to say," he stated this morning, "that the law and its enforcement will cure the social evil, but I think it will deal effectively with the root of the matter."

that cannot well be stamped out. "I think it is a mistake to scatter the women of the underworld over the city. That is what will be the result of the mayor's move. The 10 extra policemen could have kept order in a restricted district such as now exists, but 100 new policemen can not control the situation, as well as it is now controlled, when these women are driven into the lodging houses, boarding houses, apartments and other places throughout the city. Los Angeles tried it and failed. It will take more than 10 extra policemen to protect the wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts of those who have desired this change from insult on the streets after the new regime goes into effect. Portland is today in better order than any other city I know and should have been left alone. The new order will not eradicate the social evil, the women will not get out of town. They will scatter and appear on the streets, from which they have been barred, and the police will not be able to control them as well as now. I think it was a great mistake."
