CALUMET AND HECLA DIVIDEND

Today's $5 a Share Brings Yield Up to Enormous Sum of $107,350,000.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 29.—With the payment today of a quarterly dividend of $5 a share, the total amount of dividends received by the stockholders of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company reaches the enormous sum of $107,350,000. The dividends have been paid without interruption since 1871. The capital consists of 100,000 shares of the par value of $25.

To Alexander Agassiz, son of the celebrated scientist, Louis Agassiz, is due the credit for the development of the great Calumet and Hecla properties. Alexander Agassiz, like his father before him, is closely associated with Harvard university. As a result of their faith in Agassiz and his discoveries, many of the older families of Boston have accumulated millions from their early investments in the copper properties.

Though ultimately better known to the world in other lines, it was as a geologist that Louis Agassiz won his earliest reputation, and it was through his knowledge of geology and mineralogy that Alexander was able to bring out the full value of the property. It was in 1866 that he undertook to see what the Hecla property was like and went to Michigan for that purpose. Copper had been mined there to a greater or less extent by the whites since 1845. Agassiz did not get far in his investigations before he became satisfied of the mine's value. Returning to Boston he succeeded in organizing a company and raising sufficient capital to work the mine. He did so well with the Hecla mine that he was asked to develop the Calumet property also. As a result the two were eventually consolidated under the name of the Calumet and Hecla.

Most of the time since 1869 the yield of the Calumet and Hecla has been steady and large. The hard times from 1873 to 1878 cut it down, but as long ago as 1888, in which year the memorable Calumet and Hecla fire did so much damage to the timbering, the annual output was 12,000 tons. Since then it has reached more than 65,000 tons in a single year, a record that has been eclipsed by only one copper property in the world—the Anaconda mine of Montana.

TO BRYAN INAUGURAL WITH MAUD, A MULE

Indianan Expects to Make a Triumphal Trip to Washington on Next Fourth of March.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

A number of his Republican friends have agreed to present him with a rubber-tired buggy and harness if he will, in case of Bryan's election, go to Washington with Maud to attend the commoner's inauguration.

Berridge has promised his friends that he will not only go to Washington, but that after he gets there he will present the whole outfit to Bryan.

KING OF CHINATOWN AT DEATH'S DOOR

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Sept. 29. — Chan Cheong, the king of Chinatown, lies at death's door. He occupies a cot at San Jose Charlie's sanitarium, with his wife and children from China by his side. Chang has for years controlled all the theatres, joss houses and gambling places in Chinatown and owns considerable property. He was a very wealthy man before the great fire of 1906.

When disease took possession of Chang some time ago he called his attorneys, divided his property, endowed some tenement houses to perpetuate his name and is now awaiting the end. Chinatown will awake some morning to see the red papers of death scattered about and then it will look around for a new leader.

GRAFTED "CONS" AT SING SING

Dr. Robert T. Irvine Is Charged With Having Betrayed His Trust.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Sept. 29.—It is admitted by Cornelius V. Collins, superintendent of state prisons, that Dr. Robert T. Irvine, of Ossining, who was physician at Sing Sing prison for 17 years until last June, was given the alternative of resigning or facing prosecution on charges of grafting. The story has created a sensation, as it implicates the rich prisoners at the state prison.

The pardon of John W. Wooten, a former New York lawyer of prominence, which was granted just after the resignation of Dr. Irvine, is admitted to be connected with the investigation into the alleged prison graft. It is stated that Wooten trapped the doctor and was rewarded with a pardon by Hughes.

According to the story told here, no rich prisoner had to go to the rockpile if he would consult Dr. Irvine, and the prison officials declare the physician became wealthy in a short time.

"Earnest solicitude for the health of the prisoners netted Dr. Irvine thousands of dollars," said Superintendent of Prisons Collins today. That is all he would say about the case.

LIDSTER DEFIED AT LOS ANGELES

Liberal Alliances and Mayor Harper Demand a Showdown.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 29.—Following the activity of City Prosecutor Woolwine, who during the past few days has closed all club buffets, raided the exclusive California club and made open charges that the mayor and police board are guilty of protecting vice, steps are being taken to force the recall of City Attorney Leslie R. Hewitt, Woolwine's chief.

A joint committee of the German Alliance of Los Angeles and the Liberal Alliance of Southern California started the movement by passing resolutions demanding the recall of Hewitt on the ground that the recent activities were detrimental to the industrial interests of the city.

Mayor Harper and the police commission have not idly accepted Woolwine's charges against them and today the city executive announced that he would force the prosecutor to a show down.

"Mr. Woolwine will either have to convict me or acquit me," declared the mayor. "He will have to prove his charges against the police commissioners or admit they are false.'"

Salem, Sept. 29.—After three long sessions during which much business of a routine nature was transacted, the Oregon conference of the Methodist church concluded its work last night. The conference had been in session at Salem since last Tuesday.

Most Treatments for Rheumatism Are Experimental

It is unnecessary to tell the sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism that the ordinary treatments for this disease are unsatisfactory.

Physicians are not of one mind on the subject but the highest authorities hold that rheumatism is a disease of the blood. All admit that in attacks of rheumatism there is a marked and rapid thinning of the blood. This is a condition that a treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once arrests and corrects. The thin blood is enriched, the strengthened organs of the body throw off the poisonous impurities and the patient gets well.

With the fact in mind that the rheumatism is in the blood, it will readily be seen how useless it is to try to cure it by rubbing liniments on the skin. External applications may give temporary relief from pain but to cure rheumatism you must treat it through the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured hundreds of cases of rheumatism and no sufferer should allow any prejudice to stand in the way of giving these pills a thorough trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c. per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

LONDON'S NEW LORD MAYOR

He Is Sir George Truscott and His Elevation Is a Solemn Joke.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

London, Sept. 29.—Having sat tight as an alderman for 25 years, and filled the office of sheriff for one term, Sir George Truscott today went through the solemn farce of being elected lord mayor of the city of London. Time was—some 200 or more years ago—when the lords mayors were really elected by the citizens. But the aldermen—they are elected for life—took counsel among themselves, and decided that a position so exalted as that of lord mayor should not be thrown open to outsiders and made dependent on popular favor. Consequently they fixed things up so that every alderman, if he live long enough, is assured of becoming a lord mayor. When the last lord mayor was elected Sir George was next in line for the honor and now it is his turn to take the civic chair.

The election, which always takes place on Michaelmas day, is one of the most quaint and striking ceremonials of the city of London that have survived the change of centuries. On the day of the election the court of aldermen and councilmen, and members of the ancient city companies or "liveries" assemble in the Guildhall. Outside the building a barrier is stretched, in which stand a score of gates bearing the names of the city companies—"The Clothworkers," "The Fishmongers," "The Drapers" and so on. Outside the gates sweet herbs are strewn to preserve the civic dignitaries from the fevers of the crowd. This survival always amuses the present-day crowd, and is an object lesson in the progress of sanitation.

The new lord mayor, who will be inducted into office with the customary elaborate parade and ceremonies on November 9, is a son of the late Alderman Sir Francis Truscott, who was lord mayor in 1879-80. Sir George Truscott succeeded his father as alderman of Dowgate ward in 1895, having for 13 years previously been a member of the common council. He was sheriff in 1903, and was knighted on the visit of President Loubet to the city. He is the head of the firm of Messrs. James Truscott & Son, printers and stationers.

CHINK COOK, FIRED, POISONS STUDENTS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Stanford University, Cal., Sept. 29.—Chin, a Chinese cook, poisoned all the students who ate in the Stanford Inn last night, several of them seriously.

Chin was discharged from the restaurant several days ago and he returned yesterday and placed a powerful and irritating poison in the flour bin.

Within half an hour after dinner complaints began to pour into the university hospital that students had been seized with violent cramps and several were taken in a hurry to the hospital.

The flour is being examined and the students are looking for the Chinese. While none of the students is suffering permanent evil effects from the poison, prompt action is all that prevented several from becoming seriously ill.
