TOWNSHIPS' DEBATE AN ASSAULT

L. R. Webb in Jail Charged John Barrett Offers Resolution With Starting Great Irrigation Congress.

Louis R. Webb, a hunter and trapper somewhat interested in mines in southern Oregon and who lived at Deering, wanted by the California authorities on a charge of having set fire to several thousand acres of government timber, was brought to Portland this morning in the custody of Deputy United States Marshal Clyde Nicholson.

Webb claims that his arrest is the result of a conspiracy on the part of some of his enemies. He asserts that he did not start forest fires. It is alleged by the California government that Webb deliberately and maliciously set fire to timber lands in northern California as a result of his action.

WM. ROCKEFELLER PITTSBURG WINS SEES PORTLAND FROM ST. LOUIS

William Rockefeller, brother of John D., and the richest man to come to Portland for years, together with his sons, William G. and Percy Rockefeller, President A. J. Earling of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and other directors of the Milwaukee road, reached Portland on a special train over the Northern Pacific yesterday afternoon and spent the remainder of the day inspecting the terminal yards of the Union Depot company and terminal sites along the river bank.

The party was under the guidance of President Earling and has been making a tour of the Pacific coast and of the route of the New Milwaukee coast extension. The special left for Astoria at 7 o'clock for San Francisco.

President Earling said that he could fix no date for the commencement of traffic over the new coast line. He said that he did not believe in running trains over a road that was not in perfect condition, and that until in such shape that the same time could be maintained over the old road, he would not expect to start regular train service.
