Six-Story Reinforced Concrete Structure Will Rise on Ground Burned Over This Summer — Public Market on Lower Floor.

Work on an enormous public market to be erected on the block bounded by Fifth and Sixth and Gileson and Hoyt streets will be begun November 1 and the cornerstone for the $100,000 reinforced concrete building will be laid before Christmas. The Portland Public Market and Cold Storage company has filed a bond of $25,000 with the American Surety company that at least $100,000 will be spent on the block inside of a year.

The company, which has been organized with Herbert Booth King as general manager and with numerous well-known Portland men as stockholders, has offices in the Hoyt block. The plans are being drawn by Goodrich & Goodrich, who are drawing the plans for the structure, have been ordered to get everything ready for breaking ground November 1.

A 20-year lease from the Oregon Transfer company, carrying with it the privilege of purchase for $250,000 at any time before the expiration of the lease, has been executed and signed. The block is in the district that was burned over during the fire in July and the stables of the Oregon Transfer company formerly covered a portion of the ground.

The plans as drawn by Goodrich & Goodrich call for the most modern and perfect market and cold storage building in the country, with the largest refrigerating room on the coast, having 600,000 cubic feet divided into compartments of from zero to 40 degrees. The building will be of six stories. The first floor will be used as a public market, and will be divided into 208 stalls. The second floor will be a hure arcade and will be partitioned to suit tenants. The basement is to be absolutely waterproof and will be used for cold storage for meats, fruits and vegetables. It will be 16 feet deep.

EPISCOPAL PALACE AND PELLERON

First Convocation of Eastern Oregon Church Formally Opened.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., Oct. 1.—Under direction of Bishop Fuddock, the first convocation of the Episcopal church of eastern Oregon was formally opened at Pendleton this morning. Divine services were held this morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Neveous, a pioneer minister of Oregon, officiated at the communion. Besides the entire clerical body of eastern Oregon, many prominent lay members of the church are in attendance.

A feature of the morning's program was the official message from western Oregon sent by the right Rev. Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon. The message follows: Church, Coquille City, Or., Sept. 26, 1908.—My Dear Bishop Fuddock and Clergy and Laity of Eastern Oregon: The feast of St. Michael and All Angels, September 29, will be the second anniversary of my consecration and the eve of your first convocation. I shall be glad to say (D. V.) in our little church of St. John-by-the-Sea, Bandon, and my fervent prayers will be offered for divine guidance and blessing for you all.

While the eeding over of your important district gave me pain at heart, I rejoice in the consciousness that our widely separated clergymen in eastern Oregon are coming to the front, and that oversight with pastoral care and love. Western Oregon sends loving greetings to you and reaches out the hand of brotherly sympathy and encouragement. We must work together, dear friends, in the extension of Christ's kingdom. The call is for definite and constructive teaching of the faith, for making straight a highway for God to the thousands of settlers who are coming into this fair land, and for whom prayer, prayer, prayer, is so necessary. We cannot fail to hear this call and we must enthusiastically respond to it, for to stand still in Oregon is to fall far behind.

May God abundantly bless your consultations. May clergy and laity be loyal to their bishop and to each other, and may you, my dear brother bishop, be given health and strength, "wisdom and might" for many years of service, and may all possible success crown your splendid efforts for the advancement of the glory of God. Faithfully and affectionately,
Bishop of Oregon,
CHARLES SCADDING.

COLD CAMPAIGN IS GROWING VERY WARM

Some Important Things That Have Caused Voters to Take Interest in Proceedings—Journal's General News Letter From Chicago.

(Staff Correspondence.)
Chicago, Sept. 28.—With election day only a month away, Republican and Democratic campaign headquarters here show signs of new life and preparations are being made for a whirlwind campaign, which it is hoped will partially make up for the comparative inactivity of the earlier months. At the same time new issues are coming to the front, foremost among which is the movement for the conservation of the natural resources of the country. Political emissaries report that in some of the doubtful congressional districts this issue is the deciding factor in the line-up and that the so-called "progressive" candidates are making the most headway, regardless of party. This is said to be particularly true in states where the wasteful exploitation of timber and mineral resources has begun to tell on the people's pocket.
