

The Prudential's
Very Newest Idea
in Life Insurance
A Monthly Income for Twenty Years
For Life

SUPPOSE your salary should permanently cease today by your death, what would your family do? What have you provided for them in its place? THE PRUDENTIAL has a new and perfect plan. Read this carefully. Say you are 30 years old; a monthly income of $50 a month for your family for 20 years after your death, or $12,000 in all to them, would cost you now only $107.35 per year, or $18.95 per month, during your life. Think of what your family could do with a check of $50 sent them on the first of EVERY MONTH, EVERY YEAR for 20 years by The Prudential! If your wife should die within the 20 years the money would still go to your children or other heirs for the remainder of the 20 years. At slightly higher cost, the income could be made to continue for life.

The checks will supply the money necessary to buy food, clothing, rent and education to those whom you now support. Send today for information of this wonderful new home-protecting policy.

THE DALLES JOINS THE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT

Representative Citizens Decide to Hold Convention October 14—Dufur Will Have Similar Meeting October 13—Judge Scott Talks.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., Oct. 2.—Judge John Scott of Salem met with a large number of representative The Dalles business men at the parlors of the Commercial club in this city yesterday to outline a plan for organizing a good roads convention to be held here October 14. Judge Scott was introduced by A. E. Lake, county judge of Wasco, who stated the object of the meeting. Judge Scott told of how, in nearly every section of the state, good roads meetings have been held and conventions organized for the purpose of interesting every one in the movement. "This is an automobile age and good roads are necessary, not only to automobilists, but to the farmer and every one who must travel by wagon road. A campaign of education along the line of building public highways is a big problem," continued Judge Scott, "that must be solved by active, intelligent cooperation between the farmer and the townspeople. Organized effort is extremely necessary, and when you put the machinery in motion the attention of all concerned will be attracted to the subject of the building of roads and they will consider it of sufficient importance to cooperate with you."

by M. Z. Donnell of this city and himself today. Judge Scott said: "I had no idea you had such splendid orchards and am surprised that you have not been advertising more. You have not been touting your home; you have been too timid and modest; you must toot your horn long and loud. When you begin agitating the question of good roads this will help in advertising this splendid fruit section of Oregon."

Judge Scott insisted that the women here be especially invited to attend all good roads meetings.

A committee was appointed by Judge A. E. Lake, chairman of the meeting, to arrange for the convention and to prepare a program to be given on October 14, when Judge Scott will return.

The committee appointed by Judge Lake is as follows: M. Z. Donnell, chairman; E. C. Pease, J. T. Peters, J. M. Patterson, F. S. Gunning, N. Wheelon, Max Vogt, H. J. Maier, A. E. Lake, E. M. Williams, J. L. Kelley, W. E. Waither and Mrs. J. M. Pillion.

Judges John Scott and A. E. Lake made a trip to Dufur Wednesday and held a meeting to plan for a convention to be held at that town October 13. "Why," said Judge Scott, "there was enough enthusiasm and people enough present at that meeting to have formed a good sized convention right there. We will have a rousing meeting at Dufur. A committee from there will visit the convention at The Dalles the day following the convention in their own city."

The Dalles citizens are awakening to a realization of what good may be derived from improved highways.

EBENEZER HAYES HAS LEFT HOME AGAIN

Brought home a week ago. Ebenezer Hayes, 80 years old and of feeble mind, has again left the home of his son-in-law, Charles Zehner, 305 Cook avenue. He disappeared Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Hayes forgets that his wife and daughter live in Portland, and when he is separated from them he asks assistance in reaching Halsey, his old home. While lost last week he was given a ticket and sent to the up-valley town by a man who later read in The Journal of his disappearance and notified the anxious daughter. It is expected this will occur again.

The old man's home address, 305 Cook avenue, is written on his hatband, and any person finding him should communicate with Mr. Zehner. Mr. Hayes is stooped, walks feebly, is very deaf, and about 5 feet 8 inches in height. His hair is but slightly gray and he wears a dark gray suit and a light felt hat. His weight is about 165 pounds.

SOCIAL SESSIONS GIVEN BY A. O. U. W.

Upchurch lodge is to be congratulated upon the success of the social session given in honor of the grand lodge officers this week. The affair was not only well attended by the members, but has been followed by renewed interest on the part of the membership as well as several applications. Refreshments were served.

Eureka lodge smoker of last Monday evening is a much talked of affair. So interested were those in attendance that it was midnight before all had left the hall. Several new members will be added.

The social session of Fidelity lodge was a decided success. The presence of the Ladies of the Degree of Honor lent dignity to the affair, and the refreshments served by them were duly appreciated. Some of the members present had not been seen at a lodge meeting for several years.

The present outlook in A. O. U. W. circles indicates that more new applicants will be initiated during the month of October than have been admitted during all previous months of the year combined. The order will be 40 years old on the 31st of this month and the lodges of Portland will appropriately celebrate by large initiations.

At the late session of the grand lodge provision was made for a board of directors which would be given full charge of the prudential affairs of the order between sessions of the grand lodge. The first meeting of this board was held at the office of the grand recorder this week and considerable routine business was transacted. Arrangements were made for the investment of $25,000 lately collected for the reserve fund, which makes a total of about $100,000 of reserve now invested and which has been accumulated within the past three years by the membership of Oregon.

The finance committee of the grand lodge lately authorized the payment of death claims amounting to $12,000. One of the death claims paid was that of the late George Woodward, who died August 28. He joined the A. O. U. W. in February, 1879, at the age of 44 years, was given a $2,000 certificate, upon which he paid a total of only $958 during a period of 29 years, an average yearly payment of $33 on a $2,000 policy.

The opening day of the Grange fair at Gresham, October 6, will be a "Grange day."
