

BIG CASES IN SUPREME COURT

At October Term, Harriman, Sugar, Tobacco and Other Important Matters.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—A number of cases the importance of which can scarcely be overestimated will come before the United States supreme court when that body convenes for the October term. The cases that will attract most public attention are those in which the government and the big corporations are concerned.

One of the cases to be taken up first by the highest tribunal is that of Harriman vs. the Interstate Commerce Commission. Two other cases are connected with it, those of Kahn vs. the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the Interstate Commerce Commission vs. Harriman. The point involved is the refusal of Edward H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, to answer certain questions which the commissioners propounded to him at the taking of evidence in New York about a year ago. The decision of the tribunal in this instance will go far to define the commission's authority in the matter of probing into railroad financial transactions.

Sugar Trust; Postal Frauds. Much interest also attaches to the cases of Chicago & Alton vs. the United States and Wann vs. the United States, in which appeals are taken following successful prosecution in the lower courts for violations of the Elkins act against rebating. The case of New York Central vs. the United States, in which the government brought criminal suit for rebating on sugar, winning in the lower courts, is among those on the docket. In the case of the United States vs. F. W. Keitel et al is involved the validity of an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government out of coal lands in Colorado. Connected with this are several other cases alleging conspiracy to defraud the government out of timber lands in Colorado.

Then there is the case of William Gordon Crawford vs. the United States, which brings up once more the frauds in the postoffice department, in which August Machen, Beavers and others were concerned. Crawford was one of those involved, and was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government in violation of section 1464. He appealed, and the case comes to the supreme court on certiorari.

Tobacco and Express Cases. Other important cases on the docket are those of MacAndrew & Forbes company vs. the United States. These are the tobacco trust cases, and the decision of the appeals by the supreme court will determine the validity of indictments charging conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law.

Other appeals will be heard in cases arising from suits by the government to enforce the leading express companies of the country from issuing franks to employes and exchanging them with other companies for the use of their officials and employes. The government maintains this is in violation of the interstate commerce law.

Reunion of Texas Pioneers. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Decatur, Texas, Oct. 2.—A unique reunion began today at the home of Colonel John W. Hogg, brother of ex-Governor Hogg, in this place. During the remainder of this week Colonel Hogg will have as his invited guests the pioneers of Wise county the men and women who are responsible for Wise county being on the map and who shared in its early vicissitudes and struggles. The host has provided an elaborate program of entertainment for his guests. There will be feasting, singing and music of the old-fashioned sort and an abundance of reminiscences of the pioneer days before the railroads gridironed Texas and when the Indian roamed the land.

Crown Theatre. 251 Alder, near Third, Padrone, When Nellie Comes Home.

Blind Migratory Fish. From the Field. Few anglers are aware of the not inconsiderable number of sea trout and salmon that are totally or nearly blind. It is no rare occurrence for the ballfish when stepping into the cool box to find that all the fish do not frantically scatter about his feet. There are salmon and sea trout which lie perfectly quiet until touched. These when examined are found to have growing over their eyes a heavy covering like the shell of a pea that has been boiled. There can be no doubt that the fish which have their eyes completely enveloped by this shell are totally blind. There are this season on the Cumberland Derwent a larger proportion than usual of fish so afflicted. Blindness in sea salmon no doubt partly accounts for long sojourns in particular places.

White Soap—Blue Wrapper
The best naphtha soap is P. & G. Naphtha Soap. Remember the name.

But if you should happen to forget it, remember this description: The white naphtha soap in the blue wrapper. P. & G. Naphtha Soap is used by women who are anxious that everything about them shall be as clean as soap and water can make it; but who don't propose to stick to old-fashioned methods when new ones are better. P. & G. Naphtha is a new kind of soap. The method of using it is new. The results are new. Boiling of clothes is entirely done away with. The hard work over the washboard is reduced to a minimum. And because it is no longer necessary to keep a fire going all day long in order to heat the water, the room in which you wash is as cool as you care to have it. Think of that—working, on washday, in a cool room. P. & G. Naphtha Soap is sold by good grocers everywhere.

VOTES AGAINST BONDING CITY

Eugene Downs Water Project Because of Too Many Side Issues.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Oct. 2.—The proposition to bond the city of Eugene for $800,000 for the construction of a gravity water system was voted down at the special election yesterday by a majority of 188 votes. A hard fight was made by those favoring the plan, but so many bond elections have been held that many voters had become lukewarm on the subject of municipal ownership and gravity system and because so many side issues were raised that the main point was obscured the proposition was defeated.

The people have already voted $300,000 bonds for a water system, but this is deemed insufficient and it is not known now what will be done. There is some talk of the mayor and the councilmen resigning and turning the city government over to those who represent the majority, it being argued that they could be of no further public service since their program has been vetoed by the people. It would be better to adjust the administration, it is thought, along the new lines just as quickly as possible and let those who have different ideas as to the handling of the water question be given a trial with as little delay as possible. This plan would enable the people to more quickly decide what is best for the welfare of the city.

WEDDED BENEATH BIG FIRE BELL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Oct. 2.—One of the most unique weddings on record took place yesterday afternoon, when Charles E. Ogelsches, a prominent young man of West Stayton, Marion county, and Miss Edith E. Allpine of Lebanon were wedded, 100 feet above the earth, in the tall tower of Linn county's temple of justice and almost beneath the huge bell that strikes the hours of the day and rings the fire alarm. Justice of the Peace L. L. Swan of this city performed the ceremony. At the close of the ceremony the big bell chimed out the hour of 5, and was rung for the first time in its history a wedding bell in reality.

DIAMOND TRADE IS LOOKING UP

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, Oct. 2.—The recent marked improvement in the diamond trade is regarded in business and financial circles in this city as one of the most trustworthy signs of an early and general return of prosperity. The diamond trade was one of the first to feel the depression last year, and has been one of the last to show recovery. That the condition of the trade is steadily improving is evidenced by the fact that several of the largest factories devoted to the trade in New York have resumed operations during the past week or two and the others are preparing for an early resumption of business.

The Bible press of Oxford produces on an average 3,000 copies of the Bible, not to mention prayer books, every day. The skins of 10,000 animals are used every year for the covers of Oxford Bibles.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Boston, Mass., Oct. 2.—Eben S. Draper, lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts, will receive the nomination for governor without opposition at the Republican state convention, which meets here tomorrow. The only contest of the nomination will be for the nomination for lieutenant-governor. Three aspirants originally were in the field for the second place on the ticket, but as a result of the caucuses the contest has been narrowed down to two. Louis A. Frothingham of Boston, former speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, is the leading candidate for the nomination, with John N. Cole of Andover the present speaker of the house, running second. The managers of the Frothingham campaign today claim nearly 700 delegates to the convention, as against less than 500 conceded to Cole. The convention, which will be composed of 1,550 delegates, will meet in Symphony hall tomorrow morning and will be presided over by Congressman Augustus F. Gardner.

UNCLE SAM ORDERS MAMMOTH PAINTING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, Oct. 2.—A prominent firm of scenic artists in this city has received an order from the United States government for the execution of an enormous cyclorama for the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exhibition at Seattle next year. The contract calls for a huge picture on 35,000 square feet of canvas representing a mountainous view of Alaska. There will be besides, minor views of Crater lake, Or., studies from

Comfort for Men The Famous "Crawford Stub" Easiest Shoe in Town

Very few men fully appreciate how much their ailments are reflected in the work they do and impressed on the people with whom they come in contact. The healthy man of average ability will outdistance the semi-invalid genius on most occasions. It takes grit to entertain a smile on your face and a pain in your stomach at the same time.

This is an age of nervous disorders. An appalling percentage of men in active life, suffer a discount on their normal ability—through some nerve derangement. Much of this trouble can be traced to abused feet.

The "CRAWFORD STUB" is made on anatomical lines; it insures ample room for ALL toes, properly supports the foot-arch, correctly locates the ball of the foot, firmly holds the heel and fits all over.

The "CRAWFORD STUB" does not, like many alleged comfort shoes, look freaky. It is a natural, conventional-looking model, without senseless exaggeration. Thousands of men wear the "STUB" on all occasions, even for dress. It is made in all leathers—high or low cut. One very popular style for this climate is made of well-selected Box Calfskin, viscolized double soles. Like all of our "STUB" models—price is $4.00.

The "CRAWFORD" has won distinction by presenting styles and using methods not found in the usual shoe store. We select our styles independent of the judgment of other dealers, because our patrons exact of us originality. We liberally guarantee "CRAWFORDS," because accidents with them are not habitual.

Pig Sty or Cotton Field?

Since Biblical times, the hog has had the reputation of being a very uncleanly animal. How then, can hog fat, from which lard is made, be clean and wholesome, and make healthful, digestible food? It simply cannot, and does not.

Now let us consider the ingredients of Cottolene—just pure, refined cotton seed oil, and the choicest of beef suet. Do they not appeal to you as preferable to the fat of the swine?

Cottolene is an absolutely pure product, and will make palatable, digestible, wholesome food. Cottolene is the best frying and shortening medium made today. If the best is none too good for you, ask your grocer for Cottolene, and do not let any prejudice stand in the way. The only way to know Cottolene is to test it yourself.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Cook Book Free For a 2c stamp to pay postage, we will mail you our new "PURE FOOD COOK BOOK" edited and compiled by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, the famous Food Expert, and containing nearly 300 valuable recipes.
