

FARMER'S BOY ROBS POSTOFFICE

John Rigby Jr. Arrested for Woodstock Robbery by Inspectors.

The living-room of C. F. Spaulding, postmaster at Woodstock, was robbed several weeks ago, and in addition to about $60 in cash and a watch a number of money orders belonging to Uncle Sam were taken. Owing to the fact that the postal orders were stolen Uncle Sam's men took a hand in the case. Also the Portland police.

John Rigby Jr., 29 years old, was arrested at his parent's farm near Dundee yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Clyde Nicholson on a federal warrant charging him with having committed the robbery. Young Rigby was brought to Portland last night and taken before a United States commissioner and the amount of bail placed at $1,500, which was furnished by relatives.

Young Rigby lives in Woodstock. Just where he conceived the idea of robbing the room occupied by Mr. Spaulding is not known by the authorities. So far as the government agents know, however, Rigby was alone at the time.

It is understood that Rigby admits his guilt. It is claimed by the government that Rigby burned the money orders which is one point in his favor. If he had attempted to cash them it might have made an additional charge against him.

GORGES JUGULAR VEIN WITH PRUNING KNIFE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Stockton, Cal., Oct. 2.—John C. Newman, for 30 years a letter carrier in this city, committed suicide on his little ranch 10 miles northeast of Stockton early today by slashing his throat with a big pruning knife.

Newman was suffering from a tubercular disease and was confined to his bed. The nurse, stepped out of his room and during her absence, Newman seized the pruning knife and cut eight gashes across his throat. His hand was weak and none of the gashes were deep enough to cause death. In desperation, the patient plunged the knife into his throat, reaching the jugular vein with the stab. He died just as the nurse reached the room. The deceased was 54 years of age.

Suffragette Banners.
From the Queen.

The occasion of the meetings of university extension students in Cambridge was utilized for an exhibition of the beautiful banners contributed by the Artists' league for the procession in support of woman suffrage on June 13.

The banners are skillfully displayed, the fine flag of the Cambridge alumnae (the women students, past and present), in rich shades of subdued blue being hung in the place of honor at the back of the platform. Near it were the banners to celebrate some of the great women who have shown what women can achieve.

On one, in shades of gold, stood forth the word radium and the name of Mme. Curie; on another, with a delicate Madonna lily on a pale mauve ground, the name of St. Catharine of Siena; on another St. Teresa; on another Katherine Barlow, whose heroic story is told in Rossetti's ballad "The King's Tragedy."

Elsewhere hung banners to commemorate George Elliot, Charlotte Bronte, Elizabeth Fry, Edith Pechey Phipson (one of the pioneers in opening the medical profession to women), Mary Wollstonecraft, Florence Nightingale, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Josephine Butler, Mary Somerville, Susan B. Anthony, Lydia Becker and many another.

With these were the banners of the great organizations of women suffragists throughout the country, of some of the chief professions in which women are doing good work, and of some of the societies, such as the National Union of Women Workers, Conservative and Unionist Suffragists and Liberal Women Suffragists.

PORTLAND SINGER IS BRIDE OF FORMER PORTLAND BALL PLAYER

Miss Eula Bennett, Who Becomes the Bride of Pitcher Essick.

Another link was forged between the stage and the baseball diamond last Tuesday in Kansas City when Miss Eula Bennett, a well known Portland girl, formerly with Savage's grand opera company, was married to William Essick, pitcher on the Kansas City baseball club of the American association. The other notable instance was the wedding of Mike Donlin, the famous New York outfielder, to the equally famous Mabel Hill, a Broadway favorite.

Miss Bennett is the daughter of John Bennett and spent the greater part of her life in Portland, where she graduated from the city schools. She became a pupil of W. H. Boyer and has been prominent in local musical circles. Her voice attracted attention abroad and she became a member of the Henry Savage grand opera company a couple of years ago.

The romance which culminated in Kansas City Tuesday had its inception when Bill Essick was a star pitcher on the Portland baseball team a few years back. Essick was drafted by the Boston team of the National league and went east. This year he has been pitching for the Kansas City team and made a great record.

CHOCOLATE ECLAIRS FOR PUSSY, FRIED CHICKEN FOR THE PUP

The cats and dogs of Mrs. Lowland, who lives at 541 Meridian street, are dying. But they die happy. The ailment is too much ailment. They die, but they die happy. At least, that is what one of the neighbors, a Mr. Hoss, says.

Mrs. Lowland complained to the police yesterday that someone had poisoned two of her white Spitz dogs, and she wanted the culprit caught and punished. Mrs. Lowland directed the police to her house and was almost wept for her cat and dogs.

It appears from what Mr. Hoss says, that the lady is always worrying over the health of her pets. She is afraid they do not eat enough. So she mixes them up all sorts of fancy dishes—angel cake minus pie, chocolate eclairs, fried chicken, etc. to tempt their fancy and induce their jaded appetites. And when doggie or pussy turns down her spoonfuls in disdain and assumes a weary and blasé air, she nearly beats them to death in an effort to force them to eat and save them from imminent starvation. The neighbor says the Spitz dog died from overfeeding, not from
