

TAFI TRES TO PACIFY KANSAS

In Stampede at Denver—He Says Gompers Lies—Ridicule for Bryan.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Dodge City, Kan., Oct. 3.—Only William H. Taft's great bulk and strength saved him from serious injury in a stampede last night at Denver.

Taft is putting in the day in his role as pacifier. He has been together with the warring factions of the party in Iowa and is using his best endeavors to establish general harmony.

On the train today are Senator Long and Joseph L. Bristow, who both long for the senatorial nomination this year.

Taft made a short speech at 6 o'clock this morning at Syracuse, where a short stop was made. He is speaking to the farmers all along the route today.

He called Gompers, plainly, a liar. Of Gompers' alleged control of the labor vote, of Taft's own alleged enmity to labor, and of Bryan's record as a pro-labor legislator, he said:

"This thing of Mr. Gompers having the labor vote in his pocket and of the labor men believing the lies he tells something that I complain of. Labor men ought to look at the record and see which party has done the best for them."

"If you will examine the legislative record, you will find not a line in the federal statute books that was put there by the Democratic party. Not a line was put there by Mr. Bryan when he was twice a member of congress in Grover Cleveland's administration, nor did he attempt to have any passed."

"I appeal to the clear-headed, intelligent and sane workingmen of this country to look into the facts and the law, and if they can find these things that are so much to be boasted of against me, but which I complain of in this windjamming and misrepresentation of a man who claims to control labor in order to defeat a man who is in favor of labor."

Taft told the beet raisers at Greeley that he was their friend and in his address there he ridiculed Bryan's free list remedy for the cure of the trust evil. He concluded on this point by saying:

"We say to regulate the trusts, to stamp out their evil, but not to punish the innocent with the guilty—not in order to bring the sugar trust within the law, to destroy the farmers who raise beets, the men who work in the beet sugar factories and the innocent beet sugar producers."

Bad Breath and Sour Stomach

Stopped at Once With Pure Willow Charcoal, the Greatest Gas Absorber Known.

There is no necessity to suffer the humiliation, chagrin and discomfort of bad breath, biliousness, sour stomach, gastritis, sluggish liver, etc. when a little dosage of charcoal will cleanse the stomach and make it pure and sweet.

Do not drug yourself when a simple little natural charcoal made from fragrant willow branches sweetened with honey, will add tone to your stomach, liver and intestines, rapidly absorb gases and stop all kinds of indigestion.

Charcoal will absorb one hundred times its own volume in gas. A box full of charcoal placed in a bedroom will keep the air of such a room pure and sweet.

A little charcoal dissolved on the tongue after meals will also keep the stomach fresh and clean. Charcoal is justly called the scrubbing brush for the stomach. The old remedy of medicinal teas cured bad cases of stomach trouble cast out devils from the system of man by feeding such a man charcoal.

Scientists of today believe in the great strength of charcoal for the cure of human ills. Too much of it cannot harm one. The system craves it just like an animal needs and craves it every so often. Charcoal goes into the stomach gently and is welcome, it settles down through the action of the stomach, and filters through all the food, absorbing gas, aiding digestion and giving tone to the juices, so that the food goes into the blood, and there meets other digestive fluids, the charcoal holds the impurities and thus keeps them from wearing the hunger and exposure. The old man said he had eaten nothing for three days. His story about the trip to California, Mr. McPherson says, is undoubtedly true, for he showed cards from the detectives whom he had consulted in San Francisco after he had been robbed.

Never Superannuated. Mr. Houghton is not, of course, a claimant in any conference of the fund for superannuated ministers, because he was never superannuated. He always insisted he had enough to live on and so never applied for this relief that is given by the church to the aged ministers according to the conference they are preaching in at the time of retirement. Therefore it is not certain what manly of support will be secured for him.

As for the Epworth church, which is supposed to have suffered most from the failure of its gift to materialize, Mr. McPherson expects to get together the required sum. The matter of pipe organ and furnishing for which they were expecting to draw on the $5,000 offered by Mr. Houghton, will wait, if necessary.

NO SHORE LEAVE; JACKIES GRUMBLE. By H. Lee Clotworthy, Staff Correspondent of the United Press on board the U. S. battleship Oregon, Manila, P. I., Oct. 3.—The sailors of the fleet objected bitterly today when the officers were given shore leave, but all the men were forced to stay on the ships.

They men say they can withstand the cholera as well or better than the officers, and say also that they will be exposed by being on the ships with the officers when they are ashore. "We might as well go ashore ourselves," said the men. "If the officers are going, and then come back to the ships. We are no more likely to get the cholera than they are."

The government officials are optimistic about the cholera, and evidently are convinced they have it under control. The Kansans, Minnesota, Kansas, Virginia, Vermont and Illinois are cooling at Cavite.

Epworth Church Will Proceed Without Houghton's Promised Gift.

Rev. C. T. McPherson and T. A. McDaniels have voluntarily constituted themselves a committee of two to look after the aged Methodist minister, Rev. George F. Houghton, who after about two weeks' absence finally appeared yesterday, penniless and ill before the county board of relief and asked for aid.

Sentiment has turned a good deal in the old man's favor since he met with misfortunes, and those to whom he pledged large sums of money no longer regard him as a fraud trying to deceive them. It is generally thought that worry about the money to which he is supposed to be heir has unbalanced his mind.

Mr. Houghton has now been taken back to the home of Mrs. C. H. Boddie, 511 Morrison street, from which he disappeared. The family there knows him well and insisted on receiving him again and caring for him, for he has been a friend there for many years. He will remain in the care of the Visiting Nurse's association till he is stronger, when some further action will be taken.

Several taken this morning by Deputy District Attorney Page. It is probable, however, that the work will be conducted on a different plan from that of last Sunday. Instead of making indiscriminate arrests of everybody who is in the neighborhood, grocery store, fruit stand or billiard hall, care will be exercised by the police to arrest only those who are particularly those against whom conclusive evidence can be obtained.

The failure of the case against F. L. Peterson, which was tried in police court last Thursday, is ascribed by the district attorney's office to lack of evidence against the man rather than to a disqualification on the part of the jury to convict under this obsolete law. The district attorney believes that a conviction can be obtained in which there is plenty of evidence there will be no difficulty in obtaining convictions.

For this reason the police are to devote their energies to getting a few strong cases rather than a large number of weak ones. Deputy District Attorney Page says he can see no reason for making a hundred or so arrests, a few good cases will suit his purpose better.

MR. BRYAN ANSWERS HUGHES AND OTHERS. (United Press Leased Wire.) Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 3.—Mr. Bryan in an address to the German Bryan club in Lincoln last night, answered the charges recently made by Governor Hughes of New York that he had insufficient experience in public affairs to qualify him for a successful career as president. He also answered the charge that Democratic success would bring on a panic.

He said in part: "The German element in our population is a very important one, both in numbers and in the character of the men who have come to us from Germany. The German language is rich in philosophy, in oratory and in poetry and the Germans, who have come among us, have brought not only their literary tastes, but their industry and integrity. They have helped to build up our country and the German strain in our blood has added to the strength, honesty and importance of the composite element. I appreciate the support which is being given to the ticket by the German Democrats here and there throughout the country."

The only Republican argument that we hear of much now is that Democrats will disturb business. Our contention is that national Democratic success will restore prosperity. How can the Republicans threaten us with a panic when a panic came under a Republican president and is still upon us? In some respects it is the most acute panic that we have had and there was less in natural conditions to justify it. That this panic still continues can be proved in many ways. First, the number of men out of employment—men anxious to work who are not able to find work to do.

The Republican charge that Democratic success will bring a panic, they ought to give bond that Republican success will bring prosperity. And who can furnish security? Every panic we have had came under a high tariff; the panic of 1893 came a year before the McKinley law was repealed, and the panic of 1907 came under a tariff so high that the Republican platform pledged the party "unwaveringly to revise it immediately, and Mr. Taft says that the revision will probably be downward."

Bryan asked, "Why this newborn zeal for experience?" He cited Lincoln, Grant, Blaine, Benjamin Harrison and McKinley as having no previous experience previous to their nominations. Governor Hughes, he said, had laid special emphasis upon Taft's experience as a business man. He declared that he had had two years' experience as governor of New York, and yet he thought three months ago that he was not qualified for the presidency as Taft.
