

QUIET generally prevails and some accord it to the coming horse show with its festivities and others to the absence of so many people from town. However, the ease may be society is living mostly for the events of the next week and elaborate preparations are being made for the horse show.

A number of Portland women will participate in exhibitions given in conjunction with the evening programs at the horse show next week and a high school drill will be a point of special interest. Mrs. William Wood will lead a division of 12 in this drill, the others to be Miss Flanders, Miss Ainsworth, Miss Cronin, Miss Kierman, Miss Lawrence, Mrs. C. Wertenan, Miss Day, Miss Monroe, Miss Leadbetter, Mrs. James Nichol and Mrs. F. G. Buffum.

Much hospitality will be extended the California visitors who will come up for the show with the Hobart and Boydard parties. J. Wesley Ladd, chairman of the entertainment and reception committee, will do the honors and he has planned several elaborate luncheons and dinners for the occasion. The interest taken in the social side of the show is evidenced by the fact that practically all of the seating capacity in the Noronia and Portland grilles has been reserved, while the other grilles are also being crowded for room. Much decoration of private homes is also planned and the grooming will be on even a more elaborate scale than last year, when it was above reproach.

Everything possible is being done to make the horse show week a truly gala week. A pretty idea introduced by Mrs. Holt C. Wilson and developed by the members of the Woman's Exchange promises to add materially to the general air of festivity that week. On Wednesday evening preceding the opening night of the show an 1860 costume party will be given in the parlors of the Hotel Astor. The interest in this party will be in the costumes and the entire affair will have been planned and arranged for in two weeks and the costumes and accessories have been made in detail. But from what one knows of the women in charge and of the Woman's Exchange, the best can be expected. There will be no fear of imperfection of detail.

Preceding the ball proper a fancy dance program will be given under the direction of Miss Lullie Hall, who has recently returned from Chicago where she studied at the best dancing academies for fancy gymnastics and dancing. A set of 16 prominent girls will dance the concluding dances. The dances will be the Hirsch, Miss Leslie Knapp, Miss Claire Houghton, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Barbara Crocker, Miss Stella Frohman, Miss M. Weinstock, Mrs. Marjorie Hausman, Miss Maida Hart, Miss Ernestine Failing, and Miss Gladys Pitt. Miss Hall will follow this with some fancy steps of her own and a spectacular pretty May pole figure will follow.

The ball proper is to be patterned upon the "starvation parties" of the war times in Virginia. The full round skirt and the simple bodice with drooping shoulders. The hair will be dressed low in the neck with only flowers for ornament. In those days all available funds went to the support of the army and the women wore the simplest frocks. Tartan frocks will be used at this dance and the details of the ball will be as simple as possible. A great deal of interest is taken in the novelty of the plan. A number of prominent women interested in the cause have consented to act as patronesses. The announcements read that the dance will be given from 8:30 till 12 o'clock.

The wedding of Miss Kate Esther Ramsdell and Ralph Hahn will be celebrated October 23 and the friends of the bride-elect have been doing a great deal of informal entertaining for her.
