BRYAN GIVES WATERWAYS PLEDGE

Tells Convention He Will as President Go Beyond Even Their Request—Hill Knocks Government Aid Plan of Development.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, Oct. 8.—William J. Bryan was the center of interest today at the meeting of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterways convention. He entered it with David R. Francis, former governor of Missouri, and was given an ovation by the delegates. James J. Hill, the railroad magnate who was to speak this morning, did not appear and his address was read by Congressman Rainey of Illinois. The speech in part follows:

"The assertion that the railroad interests are hostile to the development of waterways is absurd. The trunk lines from Chicago to New York have created enormous traffic in the face of competition from the Erie canal. St. Louis, an important railroad center, has the Mississippi river.

"The two carriers are supplementary. The future of the waterway is assured as the helper of the railroad. Waterways should be constructed as other great works should. The trunk lines should be located first.

"The way to the sea should be opened by the biggest outlet first. It is as important that the lower Mississippi should be opened first, as that the water should not be set running in a bathroom before an escape pipe is provided. Enthusiastic advocates make a mistake in urging the pledging of national credit for unlimited amounts to complete the work. It is a reckless and almost criminal policy. The congressional bill proposed an appropriation of $50,000,000. It also authorized the president, when the fund should fall below $20,000,000, to sell bonds to bring it back to $50,000,000. This makes the waterways expenditure equal to the pleasure of the executive and the power of the nation to borrow."

Bryan Goes All Lengths.

Bryan was introduced by ex-Governor Francis and made a brief address in which he expressed his belief in the importance of the work undertaken by the convention and pledged his support to the general plan of development of waterways. His remarks were loudly cheered in their progress and when he finished the delegates cheered him for several minutes.

In his address Bryan made a comprehensive review of the problem of water transportation and predicted that eventually the rivers would carry the bulk of freight. He promised his hearty cooperation in the work and asked the audience if the delegates thought that anything he might say could make his promise of support any stronger. In conclusion he said:

"I am heartily in sympathy with the waterways movement. If you tell me what you want and I can aid you in the future I will go beyond you. The government cannot guarantee the people too good facilities in the movement of their merchandise. I will help you make the Missisippi river navigable."

After leaving the hall Bryan spoke to the students at Northwestern university. He then started on a hurried trip through the suburbs of the city. Tomorrow he will resume his tour of Illinois.

Forester Pinchot Speaks.

The afternoon session of the waterways convention was called to order at 2 o'clock and Gifford Pinchot, forester of the United States, spoke on "Waterways and the Conservation Movement." In part Pinchot said:

"The development of inland waterways is part of the great conservation program. I believe the great waterway from the lakes to the gulf should be finished first.

"This association has done one of the most remarkable pieces of public agitation for a great cause the country has ever seen. From the time of the president's trip down the Mississippi river the country has been awakened to the necessities of waterway development."

Candidates at Banquet.

An episode of extraordinary character was the meeting of Bryan and Taft at the banquet board last night as guests of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Bryan was in his place when Taft entered and rose with the rest to greet his big opponent. As Taft passed, Bryan's hand was ready and pleasant personal greetings were exchanged. The words spoken were drowned in the roar of applause evoked by the pleasing spectacle. Impartial tribute was paid the candidates in the following variation on the great American chant:

"What's the matter with Bill?"
"He's all right."
"Who's all right?"
"Bill's all right."

President Hall of the association, introducing the speakers, paid equal tribute to the characters and purposes of the distinguished guests, who, on their part, vied with each other in their exchange of testimonials of high personal regard and admiration.

Bryan spoke of commerce as "the great molding force of the world," and of corporations as creatures which were necessary to do what neither man singly nor men in partnerships could do, but as creatures which might become a million-fold stronger than any individual of their creators, the people, and from this proposition he argued the necessity for restriction.

Taft admitted the need for placing new limitations on the immemorial rights of private property and concluded with his now familiar disquisition on the evils attendant upon the advantages given to the rich litigant under the present system of court procedure.

PARASITE MOREL FLEES THE CITY

Lucien Morel, one of the hyenas of society, was this morning found guilty by Judge Van Zante of an indecent and immoral act and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and 90 days in the city jail. Viola Hutchings, the girl who was with him in a room in the Cambridge building when he was arrested by Sergeant Kienlin, was also found guilty and fined a similar amount, with 30 days in jail. This, however, probably amounts only to a forfeiture of their bail money, as neither of the defendants were in court, they being represented by Charles Petrain as counsel. The police do not know their whereabouts and believe that they have left the city.

According to the story the girl told Mrs. Baldwin, Morel enticed her away from her home and was going to take her to Seattle the next day. The girl, who is only 12, was cashier in a nickelodeon. Morel is known to the police as one of the worst of the class of men who live off the earnings of women. He has appeared in police court before.

STRONG WINDS HELP SHOALS

Alliance Has Trouble in Crossing Over the Coos Bay Bar.

DEAD WHALE IS SIGHTED ON TRIP

Dredge Sunk While Resting on Sheer Legs at Shipyard Is Being Raised to Work Again for Better Harbor.

The steamer Alliance arrived at the Couch street dock last night and is unloading her cargo of 421 tons today. First Officer Dexter reports a very eventful trip. The Alliance made record time both ways on smooth seas, but experienced great difficulty in crossing the bar at the entrance to Coos bay because of the shoals which had been brought about by the strong winds of September 22.

It is said that the sands were washed into the Coos bay harbor three feet high, giving the harbor at low tide only 15 feet, but the ebb tides will soon wash the shoals away. Captain Dexter says that Coos bay is an ideal harbor but for the "hog backs" and it was to remove these that the ill-fated Coos bay dredge was built.

The dredge was sunk recently while resting on the sheer legs in Kruse's shipyards, where her smokestack, which had been taken off during bad weather, was to be replaced. The dredge was run upon the sheer legs at high tide and when the water went down the entire weight of the boat was thrown on two piles which tore through the bottom and the dredge sunk. About $2,000 damage was done. She is being raised.

On the way down to Coos bay the crew of the Alliance sighted a dead whale floating seven miles from Tillamook rock and about seven and one-half miles from shore, N. W. by W. by one-quarter W. A light southwest wind was blowing and it could not be determined where the body would wash ashore.

ASTER OFF WITH WHEAT

Makes for Liverpool With Big Grain Cargo.

The German ship Aster sailed down today with one of the largest cargoes of grain shipped from this port for some time. The Aster is making straight for Liverpool and has on board 30,000 sacks of flour and 1,446 sacks of Walla Walla wheat, valued at about $86,045. The Knight of Thistle will add greatly, together with the Aster, to Portland's exports for the year.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The steamer Breakwater sailed for Coos bay last night with 793 tons of general cargo.

The steamer King George moved from the Eastern & Western mill to the Oceanic dock this morning.

The Nome City, with 597 tons of cargo sailed for San Francisco yesterday.

The Norwegian steamer Guernsey arrived at Astoria last night at midnight.

At 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the steamer Rose City will sail for San Francisco.

Preparations are being made to launch the steamer H. B. Kennedy at the Willamette Iron & Steel works.

United States engineers have purchased the new launch Ocia which has just been completed by O. P. Graham. She will be put into active service very soon.

The Knight of the Thistle, one of the largest steamships which has invaded this port for years is making preparations to clear tomorrow. She will take 224,000 bushels of grain away from here, being a cargo of about 8,000 tons.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Notice is hertby given that Saunders reef whistling buoy, S. R. 2, located three eights of a mile southwest by south from the outer rock on Saunders reef and seven and a half miles below Point Arena, heretofore reported adrift, was replaced October 3.

Local Concern Embarrassed.

It was rumored today that the Outlet Clothing company of this city, located at First and Morrison streets, was having considerable trouble among its stockholders.

The Outlet Clothing company, it will be remembered, went into the hands of a receiver last spring, and about July 1 reorganized with increased capital, what was then considered sufficient to conduct a successful business. It is now common rumor that several stockholders failed to pay in the amount they subscribed.

The manager, so it is said, went east and bought very heavily, anticipating big business this season.

In order to buy goods right in the eastern markets, one must buy on very short terms or for cash. Many of these bills are now past due. The meeting is now in progress at the Hotel Oregon to determine ways and means of continuing. It is to be hoped that this well-located clothing store will get its financial difficulties straightened out and continue in business.

Firemen's Realty Association.

Articles of incorporation of the East Portland Firemen's Realty association were filed today. The incorporators were W. A. Hays, Robert Gee and Thomas H. Cunniff. The capital stock is given as $5,000, divided into 50 shares of $100 each. In addition to buying and selling real estate, the company proposes to carry on a general brokerage business.

Objects to the Alimony.

Denton D. Coffey, former auditor of Marion county, and now a Portland contractor, has filed an appeal to the circuit court from the judgment rendered by Judge Webster, requiring him to pay $40 a month to his divorced wife for the support of their 10-year-old child.

Tomorrow and Saturday will positively be last days for discount on west side gas bills. Don't forget to read Gas Tips.

GRAND FIGHT TO BE ON HARRIMAN

T.-M. Congress Filled With Fighters—One Victory Already Scored.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—The visiting delegates to the Trans-Mississippi commercial congress were entertained today with a trip around San Francisco bay and the session of the organization will not open until late this afternoon.

The fight against the Harriman lines for more cars and better service on land and for better service on sea to the Pacific islands and the South American coast is crystallizing in the committee on resolutions and there is every prospect that a hot fight will develop when the committee considers, late today, the various resolutions that have been introduced.

A ruling calling for the omission of all the "whereas" clauses in all of the resolutions was adopted at a meeting of the resolutions committee yesterday afternoon and this is expected to harmonize the defenders of the Harriman policies with the opponents who are fighting all the Harriman interests in the congress. The resolutions empowering the interstate commerce commission to examine and determine in advance the reasonableness of railroad rates, will be the center of the battle. Ike T. Pryor of Texas, a millionaire cattleman, will lead the fight for this resolution as well as for another he introduced calling for a law empowering the interstate commerce commission to distribute cars.

Harriman's Man Shut Out.

The Trans-Pacific trade will be the subject of an address this afternoon by George W. Dickie, a shipbuilder of San Francisco, and resolutions denouncing the recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission that regulates Trans-Pacific traffic are expected.

The California delegation is in a furore today as the result of the election of ex-Governor Pardee yesterday as a member of the resolutions committee. Chairman Briggs of the California delegation appointed Colonel John P. Irish, a supposed friend of the Harriman interests, to a place on the committee and the delegation ousted him, placing Pardee on the committee instead. Pardee is expected to be a "live wire" when the railroad interests are under discussion.

Ship Subsidy Recommended.

The committee on resolutions last night decided to recommend for adoption the ship subsidy resolution of the Hawaiian delegation, but changed it to include the merchant marine of both Atlantic and Pacific.

"The Conservation of Our Natural Resources," the policy of President Roosevelt which was made the object of a meeting of governors at Washington several months ago, was the topic for discussion late yesterday afternoon. Governor John C. Cutler of Utah led the discussion in a speech in which he charged that the critics of President Roosevelt in this policy were selfish and shortsighted.

Former Governor George C. Pardee of California followed Governor Cutler with a plea for the conservation of waterways and forests of the west. As the special representative of Forester Pinchot, Governor Pardee devoted the most of his address to a defense of the government forest policy. He declared that those who were attacking the policy of restriction had selfish aims.

James J. Calibreath Jr. of Denver, secretary of the American Mining congress, made a plea for the conservation of the mineral resources of the west.

"If we can solve the problem of the production of more gold in the west, the question of the national currency will be solved," he said to the United Press.

Calibreath in his address to the congress pleaded for the establishment of a national bureau of mines with a sufficient appropriation to enable the government experts to work on the problems that confront the gold miner. He will ask for a resolution calling on congress for this appropriation. The prevention of mine disasters by the study of their causes by a national commission under the supervision of the bureau of mines was the subject of a strong plea by Calibreath. He pointed out that foreign countries were ahead of the United States in the prevention of loss of life by mine explosions.

Denver for Next Convention.

When the Trans-Mississippi congress reconvenes at 4 o'clock this afternoon to select the next meeting place, Denver will probably be selected as the convention city. Thomas R. Walsh of Denver was elected president of the congress last night, and although there was considerable opposition to giving both honors to one city, Denver has but little opposition today.

In the 19 years that the congress has been organized, both honors have gone to one state in one year, four times. In 1895 the congress met at Omaha, Neb., with William J. Bryan of Nebraska as president. In 1905 the congress met at Portland with Theodore B. Wilcox of Portland as president. In 1904 the congress met at St. Louis with Richard C. Kerens of Missouri as president, and in 1906 the congress met at Kansas City with David D. Francis of Missouri as president.

These four times are taken as precedent for naming both the man and the convention city from one state this year and it is probable that Denver will be selected.

Officers Elected.

The officers of the congress were elected at a meeting of the committee on permanent organization yesterday and ratified by the congress at its night session. They are Thomas F. Walsh, Denver, president; Ike T. Pryor, Texas, chairman of the executive committee; Samuel P. Dutton, Denver, vice-chairman; N. C. Larmion, Larmion, S. D., first vice-president; C. A. Fellows, Los Angeles, second vice-president; A. C. Trumbo, Muskogee, Okla., third vice-president; Herbert Strail, Great Falls, Mont., fourth vice-president; Arthur F. Francis, Cripple Creek, Colo., secretary; James C. Dahlman, Omaha, treasurer.

Ike T. Pryor of Texas, who was elected chairman of the executive committee, was a candidate for president in opposition to Walsh and it is probable that he will be elected president next year.

Arthur R. Briggs, president of the California state board of trade, was elected chairman of the advisory board, and James H. Brady, Republican candidate for governor, and millionaire irrigation and power man of Pocatello, Idaho, vice-chairman. The other members of this board are: C. E. Hart, New Orleans; John Henry Smith, Salt Lake City, and Tom Richardson of Portland, Or.

The congress adopted a resolution appointing a committee consisting of President Walsh, former President Case, the chairman of the executive committee, the chairman of the congressional committee and the chairman of the advisory board, with John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, to wait upon the president-elect of the United States and invite him to attend the next session of the congress.

GREATEST CROWD

extra detail of 150 police (including mounted squads) has been ordered to the grounds to aid in restraining the crowds from scaling the high fences. The grandstand and bleachers are filling rapidly. A fringe is forming back of the centerfield ropes and the gates will be closed long before the game begins because of the huge crowd within.

Reserves Ready.

Word has been received from police headquarters that reserves are being held in readiness at all adjacent precinct stations.

The batteries:

Chicago—Pfiester, pitcher, and Kling, catcher.

New York—Mathewson, pitcher, and Bresnahan, catcher.

Umpires—Klem and Johnstone.

Jack Pfeister, the Cub pitcher who pitches today is a southpaw and graduated into fast company from the Northwestern league. In 1902 and 1903 he worked for the Spokane team and later in the season of 1903 for the Frisco team. Along with long Jimmy Wiggs and Catcher Carisch he was drafted by the Pittsburg team. He only lasted about two months in Pittsburg, when he was released and signed by Omaha. From here he went to the Cubs, and by his sterling work has done much to win two pennants and a world's championship for the Chicago team. He has been especially effective against the Giants this season and has been saved by Chance for this great game.

I Cure Men

DR. TAYLOR,
The Leading Specialist.

$10

My Fee in All Uncomplicated Cases

Consult Me First

Even though your case may be one that some other doctor is able to cure, and though his cure be absolutely thorough and permanent, there is yet good cause for your coming to me for treatment. The service I render is entirely unlike and better than the ordinary. I have devised new and scientific methods of treating men's diseases in all their phases. I cure cases that others cannot cure, and cases that others can cure I cure in less time and without pain or possibility of injury. All my forms of treatment have been perfected along the lines of nature's requirements and are in exact harmony with the natural recuperative forces. Therefore, my cures are painless, prompt and thorough.

Contracted Disorders

The serious results that may follow neglect of contracted diseases could scarcely be exaggerated. Safety demands an absolutely thorough cure in the least possible time. I have treated more cases of contracted disorders than any other physician upon the Pacific Coast. My cures are thorough and are accomplished in less time than other forms of treatment require in producing even doubtful results. I employ remedies of my own devising, and my treatment is equally effective in both recent and chronic cases.

I Treat Men Only

The vast multitude of men who have taken my treatment have not been disappointed. They know that I do not promise more than I perform. To them I have actually illustrated in the cure of their own cases the truth of what I claim, namely, that my treatment is as certain to cure as it is that my patient engages my services and follows my directions. My success is due not alone to education, experience, skill and scientific equipment, but to the fact that I limit my study and practice strictly to diseases and weaknesses of men. To male maladies alone I have earnestly and exclusively devoted 25 years of my life, and on them all my faculties are concentrated.

Pay When Cured

Varicocele

There is no necessity for surgical operations in the treatment of Varicocele. This disease yields completely to my mild and painless method, and results are far better than were ever attained by the harsh and dangerous practice of cutting. But one week is required, and seldom is it even necessary to detain the patient from his business.

Stricture

In the treatment of stricture I have again triumphed over surgery. I employ an original method by which the obstructing tissue is completely dissolved, and all inflammation and irritation throughout the system expelled. No pain, no cutting, no dilating, and a sure cure in every instance.

Examination Free

I do not charge for advice, examination or diagnosis. If you call for a private talk with me, you will not be urged to begin treatment. If impossible to call, write. Hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays, 10 to 1.

WEATHER REPORT

Barometric conditions have changed but little since Wednesday morning except that the center of high pressure has drifted eastward to the middle Missouri valley. The pressure is falling slightly over northern Washington and the British northwest, and is rising over the rest of the Pacific slope. Scattered showers have occurred in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and the south Atlantic coast and rain is general over the Great Lakes. It is warmer this morning over the most of this district, and cooler, with temperatures much below normal, from Texas northeastward through the lake region. Elsewhere temperature changes are slight.

The indications are for showers tonight or Friday in Washington, western Oregon and northern Idaho, and fair weather tonight and Friday in southern Idaho and eastern Oregon. It will be cooler in eastern Washington Friday.

BEAUTIFUL GLEN HARBOR

Have you purchased a lot in Glen Harbor? If not, read this:

THREE WEEKS

Is the time it took to sell out six blocks, comprising 150 lots. To accommodate the late comers, we have rushed the platting of our new addition and are now ready to sell these lots at the same low prices and terms. Lots 50x100, some larger, from $225 to $500 —TEN PER CENT DOWN and $10 per month.

GRADED STREETS, WATER and SEWERS to EVERY LOT. The above is enough for the price, but we add more, viz.: UNOBSTRUCTED VIEW of entire EAST PORTLAND and SUBURBS, the MOUNTAINS and the COLUMBIA RIVER. FIFTEEN MINUTES to center city of PORTLAND when electric line, now building, is finished. West side — NO DRAWBRIDGES.

Inquire of us when automobiles leave for tract.
