PRAISE CREW FOR BRAVERY

Norwood's Passengers Commend Action of Officers After Collision.

INJURED VESSEL BEACHED IN BAY

What Remains of Asuncion's Big Oil Cargo Pumped Into Standard Oil Company's Tanks at Point Richmond.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—The steamer Norwood, which collided with the Standard Oil steamer Asuncion Thursday morning off the coast of Humbolt county about four miles west of Point Gorda, has been towed upon the mud flats off Mission bay and beached to await an examination of her injuries. What is left of the Asuncion's cargo of oil is being pumped into the Standard Oil tanks at Point Richmond.

Passengers on the Norwood who experenced the thrilling adventure of the collision have nothing but praise for the captains of both vessels, whose presence of mind was all that avoided a panic on the Norwood and saved the lives of its passengers. Captain Bridget and his chief officer were both on the deck of the Asuncion when the collision, which was brought about by the extreme fog, took place. The Norwood filled very quickly, and it was at first thought that she would sink quickly, as the water was rapidly filling in through the hole in the port side.

The passengers of the Norwood were picked up from the small boats by the Asuncion and cared for until they reached this city. They were brought ashore yesterday by the tug Fearless. One of the crew, Peter Logan, narrowly escaped drowning when he fell from the Jacob's ladder in climbing down the side of the vessel and was crushed between the hull and the dory.

ALBANY FARMERS' COMPANY SUED

Allegations of Fraud Are Made in W. H. Goltra's Complaint.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Oct. 10.—Asking the appointment of a receiver for the Albany Farmers' company, and alleging fraud on the part of the directors of the company, W. H. Goltra, this city, yesterday filed suit in the circuit court against the directors of the company. The Albany Farmers' company is alleged insolvent by the plaintiff.

The directors in the company, mentioned in the suit filed by Goltra, are all prominent Linn county farmers. They are S. J. Archibald, Philip Swank, A. Blevens, John Denny, S. W. Propst, Albert Barns and Thomas Frokan.

Goltra alleges that the company is short in the amount of wheat and oats stored in its warehouses by himself and other persons. He asserts that the directors fraudulently disposed of the grain.

In the complaint the plaintiff alleges that he is short about 35,000 bushels of oats and 18,000 bushels of wheat.

THIRD ATTEMPT TO LYNCH NEGRO

Sacramento Mob Fooled Before Martin Was Landed Safe in Prison.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Oct. 10.—News of a third attempt to lynch Edward Martin, the negro assailant of Miss Edith Ralston, was brought here today by Deputy Sheriff W. T. Woods, who returned from Folsom prison, where he took the prisoner to serve a life term. After the mobs in the courtroom and at the depot here had been foiled, it was believed there was little further danger of an attempt being made on the negro's life. When the officer and prisoner arrived at Folsom, however, they were greeted by a band of 50 determined miners from Sacramento, Miss Ralston's former home. The miners demanded the surrender of the negro, but Woods succeeded in deceiving them in the belief that his prisoner was not Martin, but a robber under 10 years' sentence.

CALVARY WILL NOT JOIN FIRST

At the annual meeting Thursday night of Calvary Presbyterian church, the matter of union with the First Presbyterian church was discussed and declined. The letter which was sent to the committee of the First Presbyterian church is as follows:

"Messrs. James F. Ewing and W. M. Ladd, committee of session of First Presbyterian church, city. Dear Brethren—I am requested by the office-bearers and members of Calvary Presbyterian church to thank you for your letter of August 28, anent the question of the union of our two churches, and to express through you to your session, our cordial appreciation of the spirit which moved your communication.

"The district surrounding Calvary is growing so rapidly in population in common with the rest of the city, that we feel it incumbent upon us to maintain and expand the work of this church in her particular field. The need which this field began to develop some years ago is constantly growing, and we are satisfied that under right leadership, a strong, effective and important work may be built up here. We cannot but believe that God will provide the man and the means for its accomplishment.

"Convinced that this duty is laid upon us by the head of the church, and that we would be recreant to the trust thus imposed were we to relinquish the work, we, while grateful for your invitation, feel that, in view of all the circumstances as we see them, it is unnecessary to appoint the committee for conference which you suggest.

"With best wishes for the continued success of your work, I remain,

"Yours very truly,

"JOHN BAIKIE, Secretary."

Officers of Calvary Presbyterian church were elected as follows: President, H. Claussenius Sr.; secretary, John Baikie; treasurer, George B. Rate. Trustees, elected for two years, were as follows: G. J. Burns, Fabian Byerley and Thomas D. Honeyman. The total church indebtedness was shown to be $900.

NEGROES PROTEST AT CLANSMAN

Portland negroes started their campaign against "The Clansman," which is to be played at the Heilig theatre next week, with a mass meeting last night at the A. M. E. Zion church, Thirteenth and Main streets. The meeting was originally called by the Colored Taxpayers' league.

Rev. Mr. Drew, in opening the question, said it was an outrage that "The Clansman," with its insults to the colored race, should be allowed to play in this city. He claimed that the play had stirred up strife elsewhere, and had promoted bad feeling and violence between the whites and the blacks. He said the negroes should appeal to Mayor Lane to stop the production as harmful to the morals, peace and good order of Portland.

Other speakers opposed Drew's plan of protesting to the mayor, among them being Rev. W. W. Matthews, pastor of Zion church, and William Brady. They favored taking up the matter with the theatre management direct.

Another negro mass meeting is to be held in Zion church next Sunday evening, when a committee appointed last night will report progress.

LONG JOURNEY TO VOTE FOR BIG BILL

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Oct. 10.—Henry E. Huntington, the trolley king, is today arranging his affairs here preparatory to starting across the continent tomorrow so that he may cast his vote for William H. Taft, Republican candidate for president. Huntington will go to Oneonta, N. Y., his voting home. He is a presidential elector in New York state and is keenly interested in the outcome of the contest.

GAME OLD HORSE OUT THIS YEAR BUT HIS FAIR RIDER WILL APPEAR

A rider in the jumping class at the horse show who will attract interest this season will be Mrs. J. R. Chipman, whose performance in the ring last season was invariably crowned with victory. Mrs. Chipman was the only lady in one of the jumping classes which had six or eight entries, and was the only one to take all of the bars clean and without mishap of any kind.

This in itself is not such a wonderful feat in a town of splendid women riders like Portland, but the fact that her mount, Jocko, had reached the ripe old age of 29 years and was able to take stiff jumps better than the youngsters who were his competitors, was considered nothing short of marvelous. Jocko is a familiar figure on the streets of Portland, being driven daily by Mrs. Chipman and her 4-year-old son Rupert. For many years this game old horse was ridden and jumped in the cross-country runs of the Hunt club and was considered one of the best jumpers here. He will not appear in the ring this season, but will be remembered by all who witnessed his wonderful performance last year.

Little Rupert Chipman, who also created a sensation last year by his driving in the pony class—being then only 3 years old—is again on the program and his appearance is anticipated with keen interest. Mrs. Chipman will ride in various classes, including the saddle tandem. She is easily one of the best riders in Portland, having a splendid seat and a fine pair of hands. Mrs. Chipman uses the side saddle exclusively.

13 OF A KIND BEAT MR. FRENCH'S HAND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Oct. 10.—The first fine of the hunting season took place this afternoon when John M. French of this city pleaded guilty to trespassing on the farm of R. H. Crooks, a farmer residing in Syracuse precinct. It seems that Mr. French, while out in search of game, spied a China pheasant in Mr. Crook's field and killed it. As he climbed over the fence to bag his game 13 husky farmers pounced upon him. The combination was too great for him. French was fined $15 and costs. A fine bird dog is now on sale at a bargain price.

Another marked high pressure area overlies the middle and nothern Rocky mountain states this morning. The low barometer area that was over Saskatchewan Friday morning is now over Lake Superior, and the south Atlantic storm remains nearly stationary, with diminished energy. The pressure is falling slightly along the north Pacific coast. Rain has fallen in the eastern portions of Tennessee and Kentucky, in southern Ohio, the Carolinas and Virginia. Clear skies are general elsewhere except along the north Pacific coast. It is much cooler over the British northwest and Montana, and warmer over the upper lakes and upper Mississippi valley, but temperatures are still much below normal in the middle and lower Mississippi valley and the gulf states.

The indications are for showers tonight or Sunday west of the Cascade mountains, but fair weather will continue over Sunday in the remainder of this district.
