

SOCIETY

SOcial activities have practically been brought to a halt the past week in preparation for the fall ball and the horse show. The latter is attracting even more attention than last year, and entertaining is to be on a far more elaborate scale. Large box parties, with dinners and suppers, are being planned. The complete list of boxholders is as follows: J. P. Porter of Vancouver, E. Cookingham, W. J. Burns, Miss Kate Gile, W. B. Fechtelner, Mrs. James Muckie, W. E. McCord, Otto Breyman, George Lawrence, Jr., E. S. Jassby, Dr. William Jones, H. D. Storey, Sanford Hirsch, T. Scott Brooke, A. and C. Feldenheimer, Mrs. H. L. Ladd, Robert Smith, Wesley Ladd, Walter S. Hobart, E. Duplessis Bevilard, J. W. Conside of Seattle, J. W. Crutcher, E. O. Downing, Mrs. E. Lewis, W. Leadbetter, Walter F. Burrell, J. C. Norton, James Nicol, The Journal, Ambrose Cronin, Dr. William Ladd, Vancouver Hunt club, Andrew Laidlaw of Spokane.

A beautiful wedding was that of Miss Mabel Wood and Clifford Fleming Marshall in the Unitarian church, Wednesday evening. Dr. T. L. Elliot read the marriage service. The altar was tastefully decorated with potted palms, and a fashionable audience filled the church. The Lohengrin wedding march was played as the bridal party entered. The bride, an attractive demi-brunette, wore a princess gown of white messaline with a train, the yoke and sleeves were of princess lace with a fall of rare old lace, studded with pearls, a family heirloom over the shoulders and across the front. Her veil was caught by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Miss Helen Rosenfeld was maid of honor. Her frock was of pale pink. She wore a pink satin ornament in her hair and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Vivian Marshall and Miss Evelyn Rieger were the bridesmaids and wore princess gowns of white lace over pink silk with diaphanous meshes of pink satin and white of tiny pink satin roses. They too, carried shower bouquets of white roses. Oliver Walker was best man and Cyrus Woodworth and Elmer Young were the ushers. Frank Wood, father of the bride, gave his daughter away.

Mrs. Frank Wood wore a very beautiful gown of apricot messaline. Mrs. Rudolph A. Marshall, mother of the bridegroom, wore a beautiful white sheath gown. Miss Vera Hamilton, a cousin of the bridegroom, came from Pittsburg, to attend the wedding. The bride's father, Mrs. Woodworth and Elmer Young were the ushers. Frank Wood, father of the bride, gave his daughter away.

Mrs. Thomas Lamb Elliot and her daughter, Miss Henrietta Elliot, were hostesses Thursday afternoon at the biggest function of the week. About 500 guests called during the afternoon at the Elliot home on West Park. Receiving with Mrs. Elliot and her daughter was Mrs. William G. Elliot, Jr. The dining-room, beautiful white roses graced the tea table, where Mrs. William Ladd, Mrs. Lee Hoffman, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett and Mrs. Holt C. Wilson presided. The dancing about stairs in the study, and there Mrs. William Brewster and Mrs. Gordon Voorhees were at the piano. In the reception rooms and dining-room were Mrs. Curtis C. Strong, Mrs. Tishnah Roberts, Mrs. H. B. Greenleaf, Mrs. Ralph W. Wilbur, Mrs. William F. Biddle, Miss Anderson, Miss Ione Dunlap, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Mrs. Margaret Cahill, Miss Olive Felling, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Geraldine Wilson, Miss Lucille Parker and Miss Maida Hart.

Mrs. W. S. Ladd and Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett have cards out for a large reception next Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett. The enclosed at home cards give Monday afternoons, November 2, 8 and 15, as their at home days.

Miss Shirley Eastham is one of the debutantes to be added this season to the younger set. Miss Eastham completed her course at Ossining-on-the-Hudson in June, and will return to her home this winter. She is an exceptionally clever girl, with a chic figure, and wears exceedingly becoming frocks. A good deal of attention was accorded her at Mrs. Elliot's tea, as this was Miss Eastham's first formal function. She is the youngest daughter of Mrs. F. M. Storey, who spends her summers at her charming country home and ranch Glenora, near Oswego, which is one of the most delightful country places in the state.

Miss Kathleen Burns entertained Thursday evening with an informal dinner in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Orelle. Mrs. Orelle was Miss Beaulieu's sister-in-law, who was recently married. A good deal of attention has been paid this charming young woman, who promises to become one of the most popular young matrons here.

A feeling of satisfaction was generated in the appointment of T. S. McKeith as judge of the Spokane horse show last week. It was a signal honor to be chosen to judge the horse show, the Portland Hunt club took the honor especially keenly. The Spokane show was the largest ever held in the Northwest, and the Spokane people took their horses over there in the greatest numbers.

From there they will come down here. With the Spokane, Seattle and Burlington game people, the show here will certainly be made very gay.

The Considers will be here from Seattle with their fine string of horses. They have one of the best equipped stables on the coast, and the perfect appointments of their turnouts last year excited much enthusiasm and a good deal of desire for emulation. Mrs. Conside is a splendid whip, and her hand-

Miss Sabine M. Dent was married Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dent, at 721 Hawthorne avenue, to Robert McKimle Hofer of Astoria and Mrs. E. Hofer of Salem. Dr. George B. Van Waters, pastor of St. David's Episcopal church, read the service, and only a few relatives and immediate friends

Frances Heading Lindley of Ontario, Cal., and Joseph C. Mueha of Portland are the principals, and the wedding will be celebrated in January. Miss Lindley is a sister of Annius Reginald Lindley, a prominent attorney of Los Angeles, and is well known in southern California. Mr. Mueha is connected with the First National bank and is a prominent horseman, and a member of the Hunt club.

A reception followed the program of the opening day of the Woman's club last Friday afternoon. The hall was pretty with autumn leaves. Mrs. Robert Lutke, the new president, was in the chair. Mrs. Frederick Egger and Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe were the hostesses for the day and were assisted by the members of the social committee. Mrs. Egger, Mrs. Sarah Evans and Miss Mary Montgomery were the chief speakers of the day.

Miss Sabine M. Dent was married Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Dent, at 721 Hawthorne avenue, to Robert McKimle Hofer of Astoria and Mrs. E. Hofer of Salem. Miss Ellenore Laidlaw of Spokane on "Flashlight."

ding of her fiery pair, Sunshine and Belle Brandon, is considered rather remarkable. Another pair she often drives is Ann Dale and Colonial Bell. Her two daughters, whose pictures are shown today with their mother, are also good whips, and will drive at the show this week. Little John W. Conside, Jr., has attracted a great deal of attention by his smart little traps and his clever handling of the reins, as well as by his attractive manner of dress.

Miss Ellenore Laidlaw of Spokane will be one of the prominent horsewomen at the show. Her splendid saddle horses, Searchlight and Flashlight, have carried off many ribbons. She is a splendid seat and one of the most graceful riders anywhere around here. Miss Laidlaw is a member of a fine old English family that is prominent in Seattle society. Miss Bernice Baker of Tacoma will be another prominent rider in the show. Miss Baker is a relative of the Ainsworths of Portland.

A model in one of the down-town shop windows last week attracted a good deal of attention, showing the 1860 costume to be worn at the Woman's Exchange benefit ball next Wednesday evening at Maria Park hall. Much time has been devoted the past week to rehearsing for the feature dances of this ball and the affair promises to be a most beautiful one. The women who have lent their names as patronesses are Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Miss Henrietta Felling, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. C. H. Lewis and Mrs. Solomon Hirsch. Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd and John K. Kollock will lead the Maypole figure.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Day Ramsdell have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Kate Esther Ramsdell, to Ralph Hahn, Wednesday evening, October 21, at 8:30 o'clock at St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral. There has been a good deal of entertaining for Miss Ramsdell who is a sister of Mrs. H. N. Ramsey, wife of the rector of St. Stephen's church.
