

BOARD OF REGENTS DISAGREES

Over Number of Normals and Question Will Be Put Up to the Legislature—Appropriations.

Amount of Money Needed.

Salaries, $20,000 for each school per year, two years	$120,000
Dormitory for each school, and equipment, not to exceed $50,000 each in cost	150,000
Maintenance, $7,500 each school per year, two years	45,000
Eight acres of land at Ashland	2,000
Total	$317,000

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Oct. 12.—After the normal school board of regents had decided to recommend to the legislature that three normal schools be maintained and the amount was decided upon necessary to equip them satisfactorily, W. B. Ayer, member of the board, declared his intention of presenting to the legislature a minority report in which he would recommend that only two of the normal schools be retained. Mr. Ayer said he believed the people of Oregon would favor his plan if they could be shown that two schools could be equipped suitably, could do the work equally well and at a less expense than three.

The majority of the board, composed of Governor Chamberlain, Secretary of State Benson, Superintendent Ackerman, Colonel E. Hofer, Judge Stephen Jewell and H. J. Malin, for the maintenance of three, Monmouth, Weston and Ashland. The minority, W. B. Ayer and C. Q. Spence, will file a minority report favoring two, or perhaps only one. Mr. Malin declared before the board adjourned that this minority report will throw the old fight into the legislature again and that the recommendations of the majority will be the subject of a bill Senator J. N. Smith of Marion will lead the fight in the legislature for one normal.

Appropriations Wanted.
The board will ask the legislature in its majority report that a dormitory be constructed at once at each of the schools, Ashland, Weston and Monmouth, not to exceed $50,000 each, including equipment. It is asked that $20,000 a year for the next two years be appropriated for salaries at each institution, including the president's salary down to the janitors. The total will be $120,000 for two years. For yearly maintenance $7,500 was estimated for each school. The Ashland normal asks that eight acres of land now used by courtesy of owners, be purchased at the price asked of $2,000, making the total appropriation $317,000.

Ayer's Position on Normal.
The amount of the appropriations asked was not questioned by any member of the board. Mr. Ayer, the most active minority member, said that he deems the amounts too small, rather than too large. If the normals are to be operated, but he will fight upon the proposition that only two, or perhaps only one normal should be maintained. Ayer's position is that if this $150,000 were put into one good school and only a portion of the amount be maintained of one school, a higher grade of normal work would be maintained and thereby a larger number of students would be attracted to the institution and a larger number of qualified teachers would be turned out each year. He is drawn with a present attendance of 350 students the expenditures for operation alone will be $175,000 for the three schools for two years, or $250 per year per student, which he thought too much.

Colonel Hofer's Argument.
Other members of the board who favor maintaining three normals argue that not more than 10 per cent of the 3,000 state teachers are normal graduates and that in order to secure a sufficient number of normals to maintain normal schools in different parts of the state. This is made necessary, said Colonel Hofer, by the geographical conditions of the state, by distance and sparse population. Colonel Hofer also expressed his regret over the determination of Mr. Ayer to file a minority report, because it will cause the newspapers to print the amount of the appropriations asked and will lead to a hammering of normal schools by the press. Superintendent Ackerman said that he was establishing a normal school policy for the state, he would maintain only one school, but since there are three, he believes it best to continue them.

To Abolish Present Schools.
State Senator J. N. Smith of Marion county, who has given a great deal of attention to the normal school question, said tonight that he will introduce a bill in the legislature which will abolish all the present normals and establishing one normal near Portland. He will say that in the future both normal schools and efficiency. Senator Smith was in consultation with members of the board tonight, though he did not attend the meeting.

DECEIVED MOTHER
Thought She Was Drinking Coffee.
It is surprising how many persons have thought they were drinking coffee, when in fact it was Postum.
The secret of "good Postum" is in boiling it until it is dark and rich. This brings out all the food value and with good cream one can scarcely tell it from coffee—if at all.
And yet there's no coffee in Postum. It is made of clean, hard wheat and a trifle of molasses. But the way the wheat is roasted brings out a flavor similar to coffee.
"My mother was troubled with indigestion," writes a Kentucky woman. "She made her coffee so strong that no one else would drink it. I knew it was killing her by degrees."
"She would make one pot of coffee to suit the family and then another for herself—much stronger. When she came to visit me I made her coffee while we drank Postum."
"One morning, the pots containing coffee and Postum being alike, I took coffee. She drank Postum and said it was 'fine coffee,' had a better taste than hers, so rich and good. Then she began the use of Postum and found she began to get better. Now she is entirely well."

BY A MAJORITY SPEECH AT BANQUET

Chicago Association of Commerce, Most of the Members of Which Are Taftites, Listened Attentively to the Brilliant Orator's Words.

By John E. Lathrop, Staff Corr.
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 11.—Regular news reports could not carry details of the unusual meeting of W. J. Bryan and W. H. Taft around the banquet board of the Chicago association of commerce. It was an occasion never before witnessed, and the effect was immeasurably to strengthen Mr. Bryan.

In the first place, he entered the enemy's country, when he went into that banquet hall. In immense majority, the members of the association were Taftites. So marked was this condition that many members gaped at the suggestion that Mr. Bryan be placed on a level with their candidate—Judge Taft.

One could hear expressions to that effect on every side. "It was my fortune to be there. I stood in the rear with 1,300 men packed in the room, and, as always, those on the fringe of the crowd were freer to express themselves."
"When Mr. Bryan was making a five-minute preliminary speech, spoke kindly of Mr. Bryan, many members of the audience said audibly: 'Hall's a great josh; isn't he?'"

Reflected Their Sneers.
A dozen times I heard such sneers as Mr. Hall proceeded with knightly courtesy to accord equal honor to the two candidates.
Finally, Mr. Bryan began, with the sentiment that it was well that he should occasionally forget those things which divided us and dwell on the things more numerous and more important, with common sense as a common bond of citizenship.

It was a hit. Then followed pleasant and of the crowd into spells of loud laughter, and at last Mr. Bryan settled himself to deliver one of the bravest speeches I ever heard. He spoke, because, with perfect courtesy, absolutely keeping away from politics, he analyzed the social conditions, with common sense as his central theme, and declared: "For the protection of the God-made natural man from the possible unjust oppression of the man-made man—the corporate entity."
As he proceeded, those who had sneered began to say: "Well, that's all right." Or, "Great thought."

Really Great Oration.
When he had gotten into the swing of a really great oration—a plea for the God-made man not to be overpowered by the man-made corporate entity, when he courageously told those princes of merchandising, captains of industry, kings of distribution, kindly yet plainly that they must remember the closely knit relationship between the man who works and the man who directs, the hitherto formerly hospitable hosts grew enthusiastic; and then when he uttered that magnificent peroration they burst into unreserved applause.

His appeal for application of the divine law—just reward to each man and appreciation for his contribution to society—and his plea for keeping in mind always the inter-dependence of all men, reaching to the very fundamentals of current questions, affording absolute safety for him who has substance and honest protection for the man who has only labor to give, his words sank deep into the hearts of the guests and they were all united in saying: "Well, that's all right." Or, "Great thought."

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Proof is Right Here.

Nothing better demonstrates that rheumatism is a disease of the blood than the fact that it is hereditary in certain families, and may not develop until conditions of cold and dampness favor it because nature is always fighting to keep the body in health. When disease does get the upper hand and rheumatism is seated in the blood, a remedy that will revitalize and renew the blood is the simplest and best means of relief.

A remarkable instance of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in this disease is shown by the cure they effected in the case of Mrs. O. E. Taylor, whose address is R. F. D. No. 6, Columbus, Ohio, who says:
"I suffered severely with inflammatory rheumatism for three years and was helpless in bed for weeks at a time. The attack followed exposure to dampness. Every bone in my body seemed to ache and my joints were swollen to twice their normal size. During the first attack I had to be fed, as I could not raise my arms and was so perfectly helpless that I couldn't turn over in bed. The least bit of a jar would hurt and on damp days the sharp pains were worse and almost unbearable. I was not able to work for months, could not sleep and had no appetite."
"I was treated by several doctors at London, Ohio, who gave me only temporary relief. Upon the advice of a cousin, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit, I decided to give them a trial. I soon had an appetite and could see that the pills were helping me. I took several boxes and was cured as I have not been troubled with the pains since and am a healthy woman in every way."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make rich, new blood and have cured such diseases as rheumatism, nervous and general debility, indigestion, nervous headache, neuritis and neuralgia, partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. As a tonic for the blood and nerves they are unequalled.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FORGE MILL TO VACATE STREETS
Mayor Instructs City Attorney to Begin Action Against Company.
Mayor Lane has decided at last that the Inman-Poulsen Mill company must vanish from its present site. If the mayor is successful in his new determination the big mill company will have to remove its buildings from four east side streets from the river front to East Sixth street. These are East Harrison, East Lincoln, East Grant, East Sherman, East Cass and Division streets. Before the company will submit to the mayor's attempt to have them ousted it is quite certain that they will invoke every turn and technicality of the law to maintain their present position.

In a letter to the city attorney the mayor instructs him to begin legal proceedings to oust the lumber company. Just what steps will take Mr. Kavanaugh does not know at present but it is quite likely that mandamus or actual ejectment will be the course taken.
Following is the letter of the mayor to Mr. Kavanaugh:
"Hon. J. P. Kavanaugh, City Attorney, City of Portland, Oregon: I desire to call your attention to a matter of public concern, which, in my opinion, is of importance to the city, and is as follows:
"The Inman-Poulsen Lumber Manufacturing company is at the present time occupying a number of the public streets of the city for the operation and use of their large plant upon the east side of the river south of the Madison street bridge."
"It is my opinion that such streets (a list of which can be secured from the city engineer) are being unlawfully withheld from the public by the lumbering company, and I would respectfully request and urge that acting in your official capacity and in the name of the city that you begin a suit against the Inman-Poulsen Lumber Manufacturing company, charging in such suit that such streets and urge and press such suit to a speedy conclusion.
"I may be able to give or render you any information or assistance which I hereby tender. Hoping that you may give this request your early attention, I am respectfully,
"HARRY LANE, Mayor."

Councilman Rushlight's endeavor to revoke the license of M. Teabo, who owns a saloon at Third and Market streets, was defeated again yesterday at a session of the Liquor License Committee. The vote on revocation resulted in a tie. Mr. Rushlight will make a minority report.
Teabo was caught several weeks ago handing out liquor in numerous packages on Sunday. He said he was just giving a few of his "friends" a drink. The committee heard his explanations yesterday and then some of the more kind-hearted ones wanted to give him a license for Mr. Teabo by revoking his license.
The proposed ordinance taking away the power of attorney from every one but those actually owning liquor licenses will go to the council without recommendation. It will be stoutly opposed by Councilman Orison.
