RED HOT GOSSIP FOR RABID FANS

The eyes of all the coast fans were on the championship games in Detroit and Chicago and now we are going to settle down to the even tenor of our lives and root for the Coast League. Several days ago The Journal printed dispatches containing information of the proposed trip of the Chicago Cubs to Los Angeles and San Francisco to play a post-season series. Wonder if Judge McCredie and D. E. Dugdale couldn't induce the big fellows to come north for a series of games? Probably the weather man could be bribed to serve real nice baseball weather.

What will be the biggest ball park in the country is being prepared for Connie Mack's Athletics. The lot measures 484 by 430 feet, containing 352,000 square feet. It is built of steel and concrete on the cantilever plan and will hold 15,000 fans. The park itself will hold 50,000 and is so arranged that it can be emptied in five minutes. In all the grandstands there is not a post to obstruct the view.

Whether or not Larry Schaffler, who helped win the pennant for Portland in 1928 and who is the only man in recent years to pull off an unassisted triple play, will manage Toronto again next season is a problem. There are those who think Larry was only filling in last season and that President McCaffrey would prefer a more worthy successor to old Joe Kelley.

Three years ago Manager Frank Chance was afraid to use Orval Overall the premier Cub pitcher in the game with the Chicago White Sox for the world's championship. Last year Overall was the shining light of the world's series against Detroit and this year he won two of the four games taken by the Cubs, allowing fewer hits than any other pitcher and getting the only shut-out of the series. Had Chance taken a flyer on the big fellow in 1928, the result might have been a different result, for Overall is at his best when the world's championship is at stake.

PORTLAND ACADEMY SWAMPS PACIFIC 'U'

On a field so soft and sloppy that the players sank into the mud over their shoe tops at each step, Portland academy yesterday defeated Pacific university, 4 to 0, a drop kick from the 20-yard line by Cobb being the only score made during the game. A recovered punt, an onside kick which netted 16 yards, a forward pass netting 14 more yards, several fumbles, and a Wilson and Cookingham punt the ball on the 20-yard line. Here two line backs netted the academy but ended with a fumble. Cobb dropped back for a kick. The ball barely got over the bar owing to a gust of wind which sprang up at the time. The academy kicked the ball into the Pacific would make a walk away of the game, for they were playing through the academy's line which had been broken. The academy was unable to do anything with their opponents. Four times Pacific worked the ball inside of academy's 10-yard line, but each time the boys in the orange and black held and their goal line was never crossed. Once the academy place kick failed twice they lost the ball on downs inside of the 10-yard line and the fourth time the whistle blew for the end of the game. Cobb half with the ball in Pacific's possession within two feet of the goal line. The academy managed to score their drop kick. Pacific did not get dangerous in this game. Captain Norris of academy was forced to retire owing to a broken finger, and will probably be out of the game for at least two weeks. He is now being played a great game, Cobb especially, and the breaking of this pair of ends was hindered considerably.

BARRETT'S FOOTBALL CUP PROMOTES GAME

In view of his interest in the Pacific northwest, as his residence, and wishing to encourage the competition of the Universities of Oregon, Washington and Idaho for the collegiate football championship of this section, John Barrett of Portland, director general of the International bureau of American republics, Washington, D. C., proposes to give a large, handsome silver cup to be awarded to that university which will succeed, in first getting its name inscribed upon the cup two times. The competition, therefore, must go on at least for two years, and may last four, in order to obtain a final decision. If one university should win it one year, another the second and another the third, it would require the fourth year to settle the final ownership. Of course, if one university wins it twice in succession, the cup will become its property. The university capturing the championship any year, previous to the final decision, will hold the cup during the course of that year as a trophy until the university which becomes the permanent owner of the cup be taken away by another university. Barrett has already proposed his plan for this prize before the University of Oregon at Eugene, and will presently lay the matter before the State University of Washington at Seattle and the University of Idaho at Moscow.

NEW MEN TURN OUT FOR ELEVEN

Multnomah Gets More Old Sun Comes Out and Rain Abates at Walla Walla County Show.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Oct. 16.—Fair weather has at last come to the relief of the Walla Walla County Fair association and the people who did not care to brave the rains of the first part of the week are making up in the last days. The track is in first-class condition today, the races are again being run in good time and indications are that the weather will be good for tomorrow, the last day of the fair and race meet. Today is Fraternal day and the various lodges of the city are trying to draw a large attendance. Tonight the Elks will give a spectacular parade. It promises to be a fine affair. The Elks have been making a fine job of it.

Derby day yesterday was a huge success, despite the threatening weather of the morning. Riders attending the sun did its best to shine and although for the most part unsuccessful, the weather was warm and the track could easily have been worse. Every business house was closed in honor of the event, and the entire city turned out to watch the races. The sun did its best to shine and although for the most part unsuccessful, the weather was warm and the track could easily have been worse.

There will be no game tomorrow afternoon. A game had been scheduled with Astoria Athletic club, but it was cancelled by the fishermen. In lieu of the game the team will practice tomorrow afternoon and then engage in a scrimmage practice Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock with the second team. Just now the field is in frightful condition except around the great at the center. The academy-Portland game yesterday proved that it must be well covered with sawdust. Men started work on the field at 6 o'clock, and by 10 o'clock the earth around the edges, it will be necessary to shovel the sawdust on the field with a hand barrow, a laborious job.

PORTLAND MAY SEE CHAMPIONS

The Chicago Cubs Will Announce Decision on Coast Tour Today.

(United Press Leased Wire.) *Chicago, Oct. 16.—A conference is to be held this afternoon between Frank Chance, manager of the world's champion Cubs, J. Cal Ewing, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball league, and Henry Berry of the Los Angeles team, regarding the proposed tour of the Cubs in the west this winter. It was announced that the decision would be given out after the conference this afternoon. Ewing has offered the Cubs a guarantee of $10,000 with the privilege of taking 50 per cent of the gate receipts if they amount to more than $10,000. Ewing and Berry have also offered to bet $10,000 that the teams of the Pacific Coast league will win a majority of the games played, should the world's champions come west.

The western baseball magnates want the Cubs to play a week at San Francisco and a week at Los Angeles, and then travel back and forth between Portland and Seattle for the other two weeks.

OREGON'S CAPTAIN

A monster football rally was held at East Side High school yesterday afternoon in preparation for the first game of the season with the Portland academy team Wednesday afternoon. About 500 students were in attendance and speeches were made by the coaches and Professor H. H. Nelson, who said figures that they have a very fine chance to finish first in the league this season and the students are going to make every effort to help their team.

Heuston, an end from last season's Pendleton high school team, entered the school yesterday and was out for practice with the team that afternoon. He is of about the same weight as the other players and is expected to filter to bustle to crowd any of them off.
