

COOPER STATE FOR DRYAN

Democratic Speakers, Including Congressman-Captain Hobson, Will Urge Voters of Oregon to Support Commoner.

Bryan red fire will begin to blaze along the trail Monday next, and a bright light will be kept burning from that time on until the eve of the presidential election in November. The state headquarters have been busy for several days mapping out the itineraries of the various speakers who are to take the stump for the Nebraska and a portion of the list has been completed.

In addition to those speakers who have been assigned their speaking dates, several others are yet waiting to be told by the state chairman where to begin their campaign tours. Among these are A. B. Bennett of The Dalles, Judge J. W. Whitely of Douglas county and Judge J. K. Weatherford of Albany. These assignments will be made in a day or so and the campaign attack will be begun and carried out in different parts of the state simultaneously.

West Side Tour.

Beginning Monday next Colonel Robert A. Miller will begin a tour of the west side counties which will fill out the week. His dates are as follows: Newberg, Monday, 19; Dallas, 20; Independence, 21; Corvallis, 22; McMinnville, 23; Hillsboro, 24. At all of these places the arrangements for the meeting will be in the hands of the local Bryan and Kern clubs, and it is anticipated that the meetings will be large and enthusiastic.

E. S. J. McAllister of Portland will commence at Harrisburg, October 21. He will speak at Seaside on the afternoon of October 22 and at Brownsville in the evening, at Lebanon on the evening of October 23, and at Albany on the evening of October 24.

Eastern Oregon Meetings.

Senator O. P. Coshaw of Douglas county will make a tour of eastern Oregon, speaking throughout the week. His itinerary is as follows: Ontario, October 21; Vale, 22; Pendleton and Umatilla county, 23 and 24; Enterprise, 25; Elgin, 27; Union, 28; Heppner, 29; and Condon, 30.

The dates for the meetings of Congressman Pearson at Astoria, October 21, at Hood River, October 22 and at The Dalles, October 24.

OUTLINE PLAN OF CONSPIRACY

William T. Kerr, one of those indicted on a charge of conspiracy together with others representing themselves as representatives of the Pacific Furniture & Lumber company, and who pleaded guilty, was on the witness stand in the United States court this morning, outlining the details of the conspiracy. Kerr was manager of the Pacific Furniture & Lumber company's business at Portland.

JOHN BARRETT GETS TO REGISTER

Portland is still the home of John Barrett, director of the international bureau of American republics, former minister to Siam, and who probably knows as much about the affairs of South America as any man in the United States. He arrived yesterday and during the afternoon went to the courthouse to register.

Mr. Barrett will be in Portland until next Wednesday. He goes from here to Seattle to confer with the directors of the exposition with reference to the display which is to be made next year by the 20 Latin republics of South America.

During his visit in Portland Mr. Barrett will be a busy man. He is to speak at the commercial club Monday and is to be given a reception by the Royal Arcanum Monday evening. Tuesday night he will be the guest at a banquet to be given by the Knights of Pythias.

Among others who are to entertain Mr. Barrett at their homes is George W. Hazen, the attorney.

PORTLAND FIRM IS GIVEN DECISION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Olympia, Oct. 15.—A victory for the Portland firm of Brettle Bros., which sells tea, coffee and spices by sample through solicitors in this state, results from a decision handed down by the supreme court.

Two solicitors for the Portland firm, W. G. Glasby and S. D. Davis, were arrested in South Bend on a charge of violating a city ordinance imposing a license of the nature upon peddlers. The solicitors did not deliver goods, but simply took orders, delivery being made by the Portland house. Glasby and Davis were each convicted and each was fined $10 and costs.

The appeals were taken to the supreme court in their names. The court holds that the solicitors were engaged in interstate commerce and that the state or municipality has no right to regulate the traffic. The defendants are ordered dismissed.

TWO MEN WANT THE MONEY DUE THEM

J. O. Gotra has brought suit in the circuit court against W. H. Nixson for $1,500 said to be due him on a promissory note which he holds against the defendant.

Charles J. Anderson is trying to collect $200 from L. A. Lawson through the circuit court. He says that he loaned the money to Lawson, who refuses to pay.

ANSWER OR ALL A SAD MISTAKE

Advance Man Arrested Because Girl Gives One Version of Question.

"Did you miss Willie?" Or, "Are you Miss Willier?" Which of these two questions did Clifton Wilson ask Leona Davis last night? If the first, then Wilson is liable to punishment under the anti-masking ordinance. But if he asked her the second question, he was merely mistaken in the identity of the girl whom he interrogated and has committed no offense under the law.

Leona Davis, a pretty young lady who is a singer in the city and who is stopping at 190 West Park street, was passing along Seventh street last night when in front of the Calumet hotel a man standing in a shadowy corner spoke to her. "How do you do?" he said. She turned her head, saw that he was some one she did not know, and hurried on. The man then came out of his corner and, according to her story, took hold of her arm and asked her one of the two questions. She thinks he said "Did you miss Willie?" He says that the question he asked was, "Are you Miss Willier?" Miss Willier being a theatrical friend of the young man. Miss Davis denies that there is any truth in the story, that she struck him with her hand, and she also denies the truth of the story.

Thought Not a Friend.

Wilson is advance agent for the "Honeymooners," a traveling theatrical company which he says is addressing in the city. He thought he was addressing a member of the "Knights for a Day" company that was here early in the week. Mr. Baker, assistant city manager, met at various times and places. When Leona Davis passed him on the street he thought she was Miss Willier and accordingly addressed her. He denies that he took her by the arm.

Officer Roberts happened to be near by and saw the occurrence, and he came up and asked Miss Davis if she wanted the man arrested. She said she did and the officer took him to the police station, where he was locked up until he obtained $50 bail money.

Strange Coincidence.

George Baker, the theatrical manager, is the man who introduced into the council the anti-masking ordinance under which Wilson is arrested—and it was Mr. Baker's assistant, Milton Peterson, who came down and put up the $50 bail to release Wilson from duress.

And Attorney John Logan, the man who brought up the anti-masking ordinance, was retained as counsel for the alleged masker. Mr. Logan says he is in favor of the strict enforcement of the ordinance—but he contends that his client merely made a mistake and had no intention of trying to "mask" Miss Davis. Mr. Logan did not contest the constitutionality of the ordinance.

Miss Davis appeared in police court this morning and swore to a complaint against Wilson. Wilson, who wished to leave town tomorrow morning, acting on the advice of his attorney, entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $10.

JOURNAL PATTERNS WILL INTEREST YOU

Are you a woman and not interested in hand embroidery? What an anomaly! And if you are interested in embroidery have you seen the new pattern supplement that The Journal is issuing? These sheets of patterns for transfer work are given free with the Sunday Journal and are proving the greatest success.

Every well-dressed woman knows how important the touch of handwork is upon her garments this year. More than ever before this important detail is being insisted upon, and from the top of her ruche to the hem of her skirt, here is the peculiar charm of dainty handwork to distinguish the garments of the particular woman.

Next Sunday's design is for an embroidered shirt waist in eyelet and French. It is an effective design, and not difficult for the average woman. Each week some new design is given and women who are interested should take care to miss none of them.

ASKS $3,700 FOR HER MOTHER'S SUPPORT

The claim of Amanda M. Watt to the estate of her mother, Sarah M. Guthrie, is on trial in the county court today. The estate is said by some concerned in the case to be valued at not more than $2,500. Mrs. Watt's claim is for $3,700, which she alleges is due her for taking care of her mother for a long period. The defense asks the court to let her wait.

AT THE THEATRES

Seats Selling for "Checkers."

Seats are now selling at the box office of the Hellig theatre for the favorite character comedy, "Checkers," which comes to the above theatre for three nights beginning next Sunday, October 18. Hans Roberts will again be seen as Checkers and Dave Braham as Push Miller.

Special Price Matinee Tomorrow.

A special price matinee will be given at the Hellig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, when the interesting play, "The Clansman," will be the bill. Seat sale at theatre.

"The Clansman" at Hellig Tonight.

Tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock the attraction at the Hellig theatre will be "The Clansman."

Scene From "The Clansman," the Widely-Discussed Drama at the Hellig Theatre, the Remainder of This Week.

There will be the widely discussed and interesting drama, "The Clansman." The book of this name has been one of the biggest sellers in this country.

"The Girl of the Golden West."

Many people have requested George L. Baker to extend the run of "The Girl of the Golden West" till another week at the Bungalow, but he has positively announced that he must play "Brown of Harvard" next week. Evening curtain at 8 sharp. Matinee tomorrow at 2 sharp.

"Brown of Harvard" Opens Sunday.

Sunday matinee at the Bungalow will be the opening performance by Baker stock company of the great college play, "Brown of Harvard," and this production should continue to pack the house at every performance for it contains all the elements theatre-goers love—novelty, romance, love, society and above all the typical modern college life.

Minstrels at the Baker.

The real old Richard & Pringle's famous minstrels are at the Baker theatre all this week and lovers of this class of entertainment—and they are a legion everywhere—are enjoying themselves to the utmost.

Typical George M. Cohan Play.

"The Honeymooners," which opens at the Baker next Sunday night, is a typical Cohan play and ran at the Amsterdam theatre, New York, all summer with immense popularity. The plot is entirely logical and deals with love, politics and sport. The company is made up of Broadway favorites headed by Willie Dunlay and Anna Wheaton.

"The Rocky Mountain Express."

The golden west has supplied numerous ideas for the playwright, and the latest melodrama with this kind of a flavoring is the Rocky mountain play called "The Rocky Mountain Express," which has been highly successful since its production. "The Rocky Mountain Express" is the attraction at the Star theatre this week.

"At Cripple Creek" Coming.

The well-known manager, Walter

It is an old story now that nervous people tell of how the blood became thin and poor and then the nervous symptoms followed.

How many correctly guess that the thin blood was responsible for the nervous disorder?

The nerves get all their nourishment through the blood and as thin blood is deficient in nerve-building material, the nerves become starved. Pain and nervous breakdown result.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood that supply it with the necessary elements to nourish and tone up the nerves and, the cause being removed, nature does the rest and health is restored.

At all druggists, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50.

Arlington, who has a number of high-class attractions on the road this season, will present his strongest, largest and best attraction, the big scenic four-act melodrama, by Hal Reid, entitled "At Cripple Creek," at the Star, week beginning with the Sunday matinee, October 18.

Famous Sisters Ylterone.

The famous Sisters Ylterone are performing their great circus revolving-globe act at the Grand this week. They are conceded to be the best in their profession. This trio of girls head a program of superior vaudeville. On the list with them is Harry Thornton, the celebrated pianist, who renders a number of selections from the masters.

The Howards at Orpheum.

The Howard boys, who are at the Orpheum this week, are distinctly clever in their singing and dancing comedy, "The Hebrew Messenger Boy and the Theban." The little act they are presenting is a melange of songs, humorous dialogue and clever parodies, and all the material they use is written by themselves. The audiences are going wild over them.

Pantages' Theatre.

The following advanced vaudeville acts are appearing at Pantages theatre this week: Eight Zingari Singers, presenting the spectacular operatic production, "Gypsy Life"; Thomas and Payne, expert wooden shoe and roller skate dancers; Little All Right, Japanese wonder; Fanner and Gilbert, presenting "How to Make Love."

Death Defying Milk Can Mystery.

Hardeen, the king of handcuff kings, will introduce his own original death-defying milk can mystery at Pantages theatre next week. Next Monday at noon he will jump from the Burnside street bridge handcuffed and shackled, and will release himself under water.

An Electric Man.

An electric man will be exhibited at the Grand next week. It is Enigmelle, the scientific marvel which caused such a stir in Europe last year. From Paris to Berlin and from London to Vienna, Enigmelle has attracted notice. This is the only electric man in existence.
