

W. C. T. U. DOE AND SING

Review of 35 Years of Effort and Achievement—Works for Purity and the Square Deal as Well as Against Liquor Directly.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

(Copyright, 1920, by Frederic J. Haskin.)

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet in its thirty-fifth annual session at Denver, October 23. The year back of the earnest women who compose it is one that has been full of achievement. Individual work and concerted work of local, state and national organizations have resulted in the most sweeping prohibition movements that the W. C. T. U. has yet known. They have seen the dry territory approach with falling directions on the local option territory and when prohibition became practical, by the only political issue in the south during the past year, the women worked with an energy that has seldom been equaled in any other cause. In Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah, where the "penny dreadful" always sends its wickedest man of fiction, public sentiment has changed greatly within the year.

The women of this organization have fought long for reform in legislation that would make liquor traffic impossible, and the fruit of the past year is that they have done it. They have won. They will stop. They see still more work to be done, work of even greater volume than that which has been accomplished. The national motto is "For God and Home and Native Land," and they believe the interests of the best conserved through sobriety, purity, education, shorter working hours and more healthful living and working conditions for all people.

Said to be the largest society composed exclusively of women and composed entirely by them, the W. C. T. U. has perfected organization in every state and territory in the United States, including the District of Columbia and Hawaii, and has local organizations in about 10,000 towns and cities. A lineal descendant of the great temperance crusade of 1840, it now embraces 300,000 members. Frances E. Willard, often called the "Woman's Suffrage Union," "Organized Motherhood," and the name is not without its significance for wives and mothers have been its mainstay and inspiration. "We believe in the gospel of the Golden Rule," the members say when pledging themselves to the work of the organization, and that each man's habits of life should be an example safe and beneficial for every other man to follow.

In support of a wider education of the people along all lines, and especially that of temperance, they have organized national, state and local evangelists whose time is devoted to educational work. They believe that to be a fully appreciative citizen, a man should receive instruction in temperance in his own tongue. If he cannot understand English, they have organized departments for the Indian and the negro.

Work in School and Court.

They know that to be the best example to his community, each person must have the highest development of physical, mental and spiritual life. He has the right to be well born, and health and happiness are inseparable. They have organized and elaborated on by the women of the order. They offer instruction, wherever opportunity is afforded, in the laws of health in relation to dress, food, air, exercise, cleanliness, sanitation, ventilation, mental and moral hygiene. They have been instrumental in having physical education and the study of alcohol in its relation to health taught in nearly every school under the American flag. They distribute literature and maintain reading rooms in many places.

They have pledged themselves to secure the establishment of juvenile courts wherever practicable and to encourage at all times the industrial training for the young. They have done much in the getting of child labor laws placed on the statute books of the states and mean to keep up this interest until all states have such laws, all the laws are enforced, and the children are to enjoy educational privileges. They advocate school savings banks and are inaugurating a comprehensive campaign of support of the principles of thrift and economy. The savings system is now in 1,500 public schools in 28 states and nearly 500,000 children have deposits approximating $1,250,000 to their credit. They believe in the kindergarten, because they know that lessons taught earliest are last forgotten and there is much to be taught the children of the intemperate poor. From the kindergartens today will be drawn the world's workers of tomorrow.

Prison Reform.

While the Old Marshalsea of "Little Dorrits" day has become a tragic tale, long told, there are echoes of it among some of the present day prison systems, and the women of the W. C. T. U. are following in the footsteps of Elizabeth Fry and mean to bring healing of mind and soul to the men of the penal institutions of this country. They fight earliest are last forgotten and there is much to be taught the children of the intemperate poor. From the kindergartens today will be drawn the world's workers of tomorrow.

San Quentin, Cal., Oct. 15.—Daniel Meskill, a condemned murderer from Los Angeles, is denouncing his fate and crying to the doctors at the prison hospital to permit him to kill himself, following an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to commit suicide. Meskill received a letter yesterday from his attorney stating that his appeal would probably be lost, and that he had but little chance to live. He obtained permission to walk on the third tier of the cell house to look at the view, and then jumped 35

The difference between a sick man getting well and staying sick is very often the difference between getting Squibb's medicine in the prescription, or getting the other kind. Ours is a Squibb Drug Store.

Thomas says

When a man buys a real good one he sees it "CAUTION: DO NOT USE WITH BOILING WATER." The "THERMOLITE" HOT WATER BOTTLE is absolutely the only exception, but to the contrary. You are directed by the manufacturers to "BOIL FROM 10 TO 20 MINUTES." Mighty good, else you couldn't do this. Then, too, the "Thermolite" stores heat. Stays hot from 5 to 10 times longer than an ordinary hot water bottle. All drugists sell a 2-quart size for $2.50. OUR PRICE $1.50.

EUGENE BOOSTERS TO RAISE BIG FUND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Corvallis, Or., Oct. 15.—At a rousing booster meeting, held last night in the Commercial club rooms, plans for raising a booster fund of $5,000 were discussed. It was the largest meeting of that nature ever held in this town, and will have far-reaching results.

Mr. Hartog of Eugene was the principal speaker of the evening, and told of the great work being done by the citizens of Eugene in the upbuilding of their community.

The need of a booster club, to work in conjunction with the Commercial club, is keenly felt, and it is the determination of the local business men to keep the ball rolling, now that it is started.

RAILROAD INJUNCTION IS UPHELD BY COURT

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 15.—An injunction restraining the operation of the Puget Sound Railway, north of Seattle through the town of Newport, in this state, is upheld by the supreme court. The injunction was issued by the court 30 days ago to enable the railroad company to adjust the controversy by bringing proceedings.

With the authority of the city, the company constructed its tracks diagonally across one of the principal business streets of the town, which placed them within a few feet of the hardware store of H. M. Lund. Lund claimed to have been damaged, and secured the injunction restraining the operation of the road until the amount of damages had been determined and paid.

The Dominion of Canada contains nearly 3,400,000 square miles.
