SCHOONER RIDES OUT BIG STORM

Sails of the W. H. Talbot Carry Away in North Pacific.

MAKES FAST RUN FROM DUTCH HARBOR

Captain A. Knudsen Reports That Government Revenue Cutters Have Captured a Japanese Sealing Schooner.

Tough weather has been the lot of the American schooner W. H. Talbot for several weeks past, and when she reached Portland this morning it was minus a lot of sails and with a weather-beaten crew. The hull, too, looks scarred and for that reason the craft will have a few days on the drydock before going to the mills of the Inman, Poulsen Lumber company to load lumber for Manila.

The W. H. Talbot reached the drydock this morning, and this afternoon Captain A. Knudsen is paying off his crew at the custom house. There are about a dozen in the bunch, all of them coasting sailors excepting the Japanese cook and cabin boy. Most of the men were signed on at Nanaimo, B. C., three having been shipped at Port Townsend.

The schooner came here from Dutch Harbor, Unalaska, and despite the ugly weather made what is believed to be a record-breaking run by covering the distance from her port of departure to Cape Flattery in nine days. She was well on her way into Puget sound before a tugboat came out and gave her orders to proceed to Portland to load.

Captain Knudsen says that the weather from Dutch Harbor to Cape Flattery was not so bad, but Sunday night, when standing out for a clear run down the coast, the wind increased in velocity until finally it had turned into a full-fledged gale with tremendous seas. The jib split and carried away before it could be taken in and the other sails would have fared as badly had they not been handled quickly when it became apparent that more than an ordinary blow was approaching.

Tuesday morning the Talbot reached the mouth of the Columbia and got in without trouble after having rode out about as high seas as ever dome in the path of vessels.

But it was on the way from Nanaimo to Dutch Harbor with a cargo of coal that the schooner ran into the worst weather of the entire trip and on that run a lot of canvas was torn into shreds. And it hailed and snowed almost continuously, making it exceedingly rough on the crew.

The officers report Dutch Harbor very dull and say it would have been dead, but for the presence there of four government revenue cutters Thetis, Rush, Perry and McCulloch. One of them had captured a Japanese sealing schooner and this created some excitement for the time being. The Japanese crew was sent home, while the vessel will be brought to one of the government stations along the coast for seizure.

The W. H. Talbot is here under charter to the Pacific Export Lumber company.

TWO OFFICERS HELD UP

Highwaymen Wait for Sailors Returning to Their Vessels.

Both the first and second officers of the Norwegian ship Daghild have been held up by highwaymen during their short stay in the harbor and they are of the opinion that if the police will make a little search in the vicinity of the terminal yards opposite Ainsworth dock one or more hold up men can be bagged most any time.

First Officer Skrishold was held up Tuesday night at 10 o'clock when going to his ship, which at that time was at Greenwich dock, and Second Officer Gunderson had been held up at the same place one night about a week ago. The highwaymen hid behind a small shed used for shelter by switchmen in the terminal yard.

When Skrishold came along, the two highwaymen jumped at him with pointed revolvers so unexpectedly that he had no time to prepare for resistance. He obeyed orders and was relieved of some small change. The robbers failed to get his watch, which he had concealed in one of his socks. They gave him back a lot of trinkets after examining them closely and seeing that they were of no intrinsic value.

Second Officer Gunderson lost nothing as a result of his meeting with the lone hold up man and could have captured him had he not feared the gun. Gunderson was so surprised by the man who stepped out from the shed that instead of complying with the command to elevate his hands he shoved them forward so forcibly that the highwayman rolled over in the mud. But Gunderson quickened his steps and was out of sight by the time the also surprised robber had recovered his equilibrium and composure.

CLOSE CALL FOR THE ATLAS

Big Oil Carrying Ship Loses Rigging Off the Bermudas.

The large four-masted ship Atlas of the Standard Oil company had a narrow escape last week from foundering in the vicinity of Bermudas while en route from Baltimore to San Francisco with a cargo of coal. The ship has just put into New York for shelter and repairs.

The disaster that overtook the Atlas was much similar to that which nearly wrecked her sister ship the Acme, when the latter made the run from Japan to Portland a little over a year ago. The Acme went on her beam ends before a terrific cyclone and all four of her top gallant masts had to be cut adrift to righten her. Many of the crew had narrow escapes from death.

According to the account that has just reached here from New York, the voyage of the Atlas was also marked with some narrow escapes from death. Ben Colleton, seaman, was blown off the jibboom. His shipmates threw him lines, but his hands were too much blistered to hold them.

The second mate was on the 'midships house with a new gasket. He made a bowline on a bight, dashed into the wallowing starboard rigging, slipped it around Colleton's ankles as he drifted by and hauled him in.

In the course of the long struggle the fore and main topgallant masts were snapped off; also the mizzen topgallant mast. When the gale let up all hands were turned to shovelling coal to get the ship back on an even keel.

BIG OCTOBER EXPORTS

Steamer Dejke Rickmers and Two Ships Sail With Wheat.

Portland will easily export fully 2,000,000 bushels of wheat during the month of October, there having been set afloat 1,785,641 bushels already since the first of the month. The figures were materially swelled this morning when the French bark Neuilly and the German steamer Dejke Rickmers cleared, the former for Queenstown or Falmouth and the latter for St. Vincent for orders.

The Dejke Rickmers' cargo measured 213,727 bushels and is valued at $201,096, while the cargo of the French bark Neuilly consists of 110,030 bushels, valued at $99,500. The vessels are expected to leave down during the day, following close in the wake of the German ship Henrietta, which started this morning for Europe with a full cargo of wheat cleared through the custom house the other day.

With but two thirds of the month gone and several vessels in the harbor waiting to load the total wheat exports for the month will probably amount to 2,200,000 bushels. The French bark General Faidherbe came up from Linnton this morning after having discharged her ballast and will begin to receive cargo in a day or two. The General Faidherbe will be followed by the Norwegian ship Daghild, which is booked to be ready for departure in a week from today.

BOVERIC MATTER STANDS

Department at Washington Finds No Cause for Rebate.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., Oct. 22.—Collector McGregor received a letter from the department in Washington today stating that the department could see no reason why it should interfere in the matter of the extra charges paid for clearance papers by the British steamer Boveric. The steamship loaded lumber at Knappton for Melbourne, Australia, and the customs office at Tacoma insisted that the clearing should be done from office there, as Knappton is in Washington and claimed to be in the Puget sound district. As a result the Boveric was compelled to stand the expense of a special customs officer making two trips from Tacoma, one to enter the vessel and the other to clear her. While the extra expense was paid by the steamer, E. M. Cherry, local agent for the vessel, forwarded a protest to the department, the latter refusing to interfere.

SAILOR DIES FROM FRIGHT

Ship Star of England Reaches San Francisco With Salmon.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Rendered helpless by the fright of her Chinese seamen, the Star of England, a salmon packer, rolled for a day in the trough of the sea during a gale that ripped her sails from the masts, several days out of Loring, Alaska. So great was the fright among the Chinese that one of them died of fear.

On the vessel when she came into port today were Captains Farrar and Hamilton of the sea-going tugs Kayak and Hattie Gage, who are accused of cowardice in deserting the Star of Bengal on the Alaskan coast during a storm.

GIVES CHALK TALK ON FRATERNAL INSURANCE

The Degree of Honor of Montavilla will entertain its friends at a social session in I. O. O. F. hall tomorrow night. Grand Lecturer Bohn will deliver one of his chalk talks on fraternal insurance and it will be a good opportunity for those who carry insurance in any society to get some practical information on the subject.

Crescent lodge, A. O. U. W., initiated four candidates at its last meeting and will have more for the evening of November 3. Grand Recorder Steadman, Grand Lecturer Bohn and C. E. Wheeler of Fidelity lodge assisted in the work.

Eureka lodge will confer both degrees upon several candidates next Monday night and all members of that lodge are requested to be present.

Upchurch lodge initiated one candidate Wednesday night and will have three more for the next meeting.

More activity is shown among the A. O. U. W. lodges of Portland at this time than has been seen for several years. The members are just beginning to appreciate the advantages of the changes made three years ago.

BENEFIT FOR GERMAN THEATRE COMPANY

A German play will be given by a German company tomorrow evening at Arion hall, Second and Oak streets, for the benefit of the German theatre company. Felix Philipps' masterpiece, "Der Wohlthaeter der Menschheit," will be played. Gregor Ascher will be the stage director and the leading man is Oscar Hahn, who will be supported by Mrs. Lindemann, Miss Lueben, Mrs. Moore, Mr. Moore, Mr. Dudel and others.

THE NEW CORSET FOR FAT WOMEN

The new corset designed to coerce over-fat ladies into the new style gowns has three sets of strings. When you have one set adjusted you still have two more struggles left. Think of that—and shudder.

To escape this fate, fat ladies should lose no time in securing one of the large cases of Marmola Prescription Tablets—that druggists and the Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich., sell for 75 cents. One of these tablets taken after each meal and at bedtime for a short while will make her independent of the new corset. Being made in strict accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription, these pleasant little standbys of the overfat are perfectly harmless, except to the fat itself, which they not infrequently do away with at the rate of a pound a day, and they are also the most economical and least restrictive means for reducing fat one could adopt as they get results without interfering either with one's easy chair tendencies or methods of diet, however generous.

ABOUT THAT COUNTING CONTEST

EXTRA SHEETS WILL BE SUPPLIED IF WANTED.

If you count correctly the Pianos and Organs that are shown in whole or in part in the drawing published in yesterday's Journal, you will secure the first prize—a Chickering Quarter-Grand—absolutely free.

The next nearest correct count secures the second prize—a magnificent Kimball Upright Piano.

There are numerous other valuable prizes for those coming next nearest to the correct count. Do not fail to look up the advertisement on page 5 of yesterday's Journal and study the proposition carefully.

If you want a Piano or a Pianola or an Organ or the very latest in the Talking Machine, it will pay you to join this contest.

It costs nothing except a little time and patience. No element of chance enters into this great opportunity.

To impress upon every reader of The Journal the magnitude of the Eilers business and the advantage of dealing with Eilers Piano House this contest has been organized.

Read the rules and send your answer promptly. The contest positively closes at 6 o'clock, Western Union time, November 4th, 1908.

Several communications have been received by the contest manager urgently requesting an additional copy because the news stands' supply was exhausted.

To accommodate those wishing to join we have had a number of extra pages printed, which will be furnished to any one asking for same at Eilers Piano House or by mail.

To cover the cost of printing a charge of five cents, however, will be made for each sheet. Eilers Piano House, Biggest, Busiest and Best, 353 Washington street. Phone Ex. 23.

HOME CURE FOR ECZEMA

Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, Glycerine, Etc., Used as a Simple Wash.

It really seems strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema, when it is now no longer a secret that oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol, glycerine, etc., makes a wash that is bound to cure.

Old, obstinate cases, it is true, cannot be cured in a few days, but there is absolutely no sufferer from eczema who ever used this simple wash and did not find immediately that wonderfully soothing, calm, cool sensation that comes when the itch is taken away. Instantly upon applying a few drops of the wash the remedy takes effect, the itch is allayed. There is no need of experiment—the patient knows at once.

Instead of trying to compound the oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., in the right proportions ourselves we are using a prescription which is universally found the most effective. It is known as the D. D. D. Prescription, or Oil of Wintergreen Compound. It is made by the D. D. D. Co. of Chicago, and our long experience with this remedy has given us great confidence in its merits.

WEATHER REPORT

A large high pressure area overlies the Rocky mountain states, and another large high pressure area, central over New England, controls the weather in the Atlantic states. A trough of low pressure extends from Texas northeastward to Missouri and thence north to Lake Superior. Heavy rains have fallen in Missouri, Oklahoma and central Texas, and light rain has occurred in the upper Mississippi valley. Snow has fallen in Wyoming, Colorado, northern New Mexico and the Canadian northwest. The rainfall in this district has been light and confined to extreme northwestern Oregon and western Washington. It is much colder in Oklahoma, eastern Kansas, Nebraska, Montana, and the Canadian northwest.

The indications are for occasional rain tonight and Friday in western Oregon and western Washington, and for rain or snow Friday in eastern Washington and northern Idaho.
