"The Honeymooners," at Baker.

George M. Cohan has a true exponent in Willie Dunlay, who is playing the lead in "The Honeymooners" at the Baker this week. One would have to know them both intimately to tell the difference. Dunlay's songs, gestures and mannerisms are all Cohan's to a T. Matinee Saturday.

College Play at Bungalow.

"Brown of Harvard" is delighting packed houses at the Bungalow this week. Howard Russell, Donald Bowles, James Gleason and all the men of the company play to life typical college boys. Matinee Saturday.

Hardeen, the Mysterious.

The milk can mystery, as presented by the great Hardeen at Pantages theatre is certainly a mystery that mystifies. Even the stage mechanics working by the side of him at each performance have failed to "get wise" to this wonderful scientific trick. The entire city is wondering.

WARMLY DEFEND PRESENT SYSTEM

In reply to a letter from W. G. Eliot Jr., the secretary of the civil service commission, which met yesterday afternoon, was instructed to say that the commission is in favor of making promotions subject to competitive examination. This was in answer to the question whether or not the civil service thought this method better than that of promotion through department heads.

Commissioners W. L. Brewster and P. L. Willis expressed themselves decidedly on the inadvisability of a change from the present system.

"If the charter commission frames up a provision that will put me out of office I will not grieve, but I do want to see the methods now employed by the city perpetuated as I think they are as satisfactory as any new ones could possibly be," is the view expressed by the former.

Portland Public Market.

MODERN REPRODUCERS OF TONE OR SOUND

MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF COSTLY TALKING MACHINES BEING MADE BY EILERS PIANO HOUSE.

The large show window of Eilers Piano House is devoted to a wonderful display of costly instruments for the reproduction of tone. To designate them as talking machines would not do them justice. The finest is unquestionably a new $225 style Reginaphone, this being unquestionably the highest achievement obtained as yet in the phonograph field.

The Victor Victrola is shown in several superb styles; the prices are at $200 and $300.

An instrument known as the "Auxetophone," wherein an electric motor creates a powerful air current which is forced against the reproducing diaphragm, costing $500, is displayed in several styles.

Another instrument, shaped somewhat like a miniature piano, is designated the "Symphony Grand." It possesses most wonderful velvety tone qualities and cost $200.

The double-sided discs are now being sold in large quantities at Eilers Piano House.

The records, instead of appearing on one side of the disc only, are placed on both sides, furnishing virtually two for the price of one.

The only place in Portland, where all makes and all records are shown impartially side by side is Eilers Piano House. Be sure you can determine just exactly what you want, whether a $10 Victor, a $500 Auxetophone, a $225 Reginaphone, or any instrument at a price within this range.

All instruments are sold on the partial payment plan if desired. Eilers Piano House, Washington St., at Park, or 8th.
