Is there more than one kind of Ivory Soap?

No! But there are a hundred imitations. They resemble Ivory Soap in size, shape, color and wrapper—sometimes even in name.

It is a waste of money to buy such soaps; and a waste of time to use them.

AT THE THEATRES

Musical Play at Heilig Tonight.

The attraction at the Heilig theatre tonight and tomorrow night will be the merry and tuneful musical play, "The Time, Place and Girl." The favorite comedian, John E. Young, is supported by an excellent cast of principals and an exceptionally pretty chorus. There will be a special price matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:15.

Seat Sale for "The Rivals."

Seats are now selling at the Heilig theatre for the clever actors, Joseph and William W. Jefferson and their excellent supporting company in Sheridan's brilliant comedy, "The Rivals," which will be the attraction for four nights beginning next Sunday.

"The Road to Yesterday."

Again the Baker stock company scores. Next week the first production west of the Rocky mountains of the greatest New York success "The Road to Yesterday" will be presented at the Bungalow by special arrangement with the Shuberts, owners of the play.

"Brown of Harvard" at Bungalow.

The men of the Baker company have the honors this week in the celebrated college play "Brown of Harvard." Sydney Ayres, Donald Bowles, Howard Russell, William Dills, James Gleason and all the others appear as college youths.

Now Prepare to Laugh.

If you have any scruples against free and hearty laughter, for goodness sake keep away from the Baker theatre next week, and do not see those inimitable German comedians, Bernard and Dixon, in their funniest of musical comedies, "Hans an' Nix."

Mrs. Eva Fay Next Week.

If there is anything that you want to know, don't ask a policeman, but go to the Pantages theatre next week and ask Mrs. Eva Fay, the famous skilled and scientific manipulator of the arts, the wonderful daughter of a wonderful mother, Anna Eva Fay.

Packed Houses at Pantages.

Hardeen, the king of handcuff kings, is drawing large and enthusiastic crowds to the Pantages theatre this week. His latest scientific trick, the death defying milk can mystery, is attracting wide attention. It is an act that you see only once in a life time.

"The Honeymooners" at Baker.

Everybody is enjoying the fresh comedy and original music at the Baker this week. "The Honeymooners," which ran all summer at Amsterdam theatre in New York is filling the house nightly. Tonight, tomorrow matinee and night.

"Cripple Creek" at the Star.

Large and greatly pleased audiences continue to fill the Star every night to witness Arington's big melodramatic production of "At Cripple Creek." It is a highly satisfactory performance.

"The Flaming Arrow" Coming.

Brisk action, thrilling climaxes, clever actors, genuine Indians, dramatic ideas and a pretty story are among the reasons for the great success of Lincoln J. Carter's melodrama, "The Flaming Arrow," which will be seen at the Star next week.

Enigmarelle a Marvel.

There have been strange acts in vaudeville but Enigmarelle at the Grand this week caps the climax. Enigmare'le is an electric man and has been the marvel of every electrician and mechanic who has attended the theatre this week. The bill is also filled with song and music.

The Great White Mystery.

D'Amon, who comes to the Grand next week, is known as the great white mystery. He is the best mind reader of modern times and any one can test his skill by asking him questions. A vaudeville program of superior merit will surround the mind reading act.

Halloween Masquerade.

The exposition rink will be elaborately decorated in corn and pumpkins and a regular old time Halloween jubilee will be given. Elegant prizes valued at $50 will be given and will be on display in the Woodard Clarke Co.'s window.

"Stricken Blind" Tonight.

The Blunkall stock company will repeat its great melodramatic success, "Stricken Blind," at the Lyric tonight. This has been the show hit of the week and no one who has not seen it can claim to be a "live one."

Royal Pumpkin Pies
Tested and approved by the highest critic, father! The only kind that fool him into thinking ma made 'em, because they're so good! Order in advance for Halloween—2 for 2-bits. Either Morrison or Washington street branch, Royal Bakery and Confectionery.

TINY ALASKA MAIDEN LOST IN PORTLAND

It's pretty rough on a little Alaska girl to be lost in a big city like Portland, but that's what happened to 7-year-old Nellie Fane, an orphan, this morning. She is being taken from Alaska to the Chemawa Indian school by B. C. Hangam and another returning miner, and became separated from them on the street.

A woman, herself a stranger in the city like Nellie, found the little Indian girl on Third street weeping bitterly. The woman, however, knew that the police station is the clearing-house for lost children. Nellie had scarcely been tucked away in the big chair reserved for youngsters awaiting their anxious parents before Hannam apepared. The tears went out of the little girl's eyes in an instant.

MAY DISPLAY OREGON PRODUCTS IN EAST

With the idea of inducing Portland to keep a permanent exhibit of fruits and vegetables in New York city, to encourage immigration to Oregon, John G. Forsyth of the American Development & Security company, is in Portland, visiting the officers of the commercial bodies here. Mr. Forsyth's company has rooms on the tenth floor of the Singer building which it wants to devote to western exhibits. It is proposed to keep the exhibits in good condition, care for them and show them to prospective homeseekers. The company offers to [illegible] exhibit for $10 a square foot annually.

A New Departure
The cost of interments has been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking company.
Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
