

SALARY MATTER NOT TAKEN UP

School Board Transacts Routine Business at Adjourned Meeting.

The school board, which held a postponed meeting yesterday afternoon, voted to raise the salary of Robert Krohn from $1,400 to $1,600 a year. Krohn is physical director of the city schools. He had asked for a raise to $1,800.

The judiciary committee of the board was ordered to secure counsel to represent the board in the suit brought by Kable & Kable, the architects who were not paid for submitting a design of the new Alhambra high school.

The number of teachers in the night school will be increased from 9 to 12 on recommendation of Superintendent Rigler. Mr. Rigler said that the school now has an enrollment of 279 pupils, and that owing to the large number of applications for instruction in high school courses it was necessary to secure additional instructors.

There were a number of applications for transfers of pupils in the Russellville school district to the Montavilla district. Many of the children have to walk two miles in order to attend the Russellville school and parents requested that these be permitted to attend at Montavilla. The applications were laid on the table.

The board decided to wait until next meeting before taking up the question of raising teachers' salaries, as Mr. Campbell was not present yesterday, and it is desirable that a full membership discuss this important matter.

The complaint of Fire Marshal Roberts that the Woodlawn school was in a dangerous condition, and that the adjacent iron stoves used in the building are held together only by wires, was mildly ridiculed. The complaint was referred to the building inspector.

WILL ASK FOR VOTE ON BRIDGE BONDS

The special bridge committee appointed by Mayor Lane to consider the plans submitted by Engineer Ralph Woodcock of Chicago for high bridges has decided to adopt the bascule draw type, the new bridge to cost $1,350,000 and to be located immediately north of the steel bridge. A resolution was adopted recommending that the council amend the city charter so that the people may vote on the bridge question. The procedure will be much the same as that by which the Madison street bridge was secured. The vote can not be taken before next June unless a special election is decided on as it is too late now to place the question on the ballot for next month's election.

JOURNAL PATTERNS ARE TIMELY FOR CHRISTMAS WORK

The pattern supplement issued weekly with The Sunday Journal, is proving one of the most acceptable features ever devised for women readers, for just at this time with the holidays near, every woman who is clever with her needles wants new ideas and pretty designs for her Christmas fancy work. These designs fill that need to perfection, for they are not over elaborate and are planned with especial thought as to fitness.

Next Sunday's patterns are for the baby and include a cap pattern, yoke, bib, booties and flower spray, which can be used to advantage many times over. The woman who wants to make dainty Christmas presents will be delighted with this sheet of patterns.

BIG CROWDS CHEER BRYAN

That William J. Bryan will carry Oregon on November 3 is the firm belief of many people who at the opening of the campaign would have predicted a landslide for Taft. Reports that have been coming into Democratic headquarters from all parts of Oregon are to the effect that enthusiastic crowds greet every speaker who goes out to stump the state for the Democratic candidate. Senator John M. Gearin spoke at Albany last night to one of the largest audiences ever assembled in that city. Long before Mr. Gearin appeared the hall was filled to overflowing and every mention of Bryan's name brought out cheers. State Chairman Sweek said this morning that judging from what he had heard of the general feeling in Albany, Bryan will carry Linn county by from 250 to 500 votes.

Senator Gearin and Judge Thomas O'Day will speak in Salem tomorrow night, and State Senator M. A. Miller and E. S. J. McAllister will address an audience at Corvallis. Judge O'Day is scheduled as the principal speaker at a rally to be held at The Dalles next Monday night and John A. Jeffery will speak the same evening at Canby. State Senator O. P. Coshaw, Democratic candidate for presidential elector, is making a tour of eastern Oregon, speaking everywhere to record audiences. He will speak in Union tonight, at Condon Friday, and at Fossil Saturday night.
