

"CLAUDIA" LETTERS ON HAINS SCANDAL

Picture of Mrs. Claudia Hains, Taken From Recent Photograph.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 New York, Oct. 28.—Following the details issued by counsel for Mrs. Hains of the authenticity of letters attributed to her, 40 more sensational letters revealing the inner social life at Fort Hamilton and alleged to have been written by Mrs. Hains to her husband have been made public by attorneys for the defense of the accused brothers.
 Coincident with the issuance of the missives the attorneys for Hains declare they have discovered evidence tending to show that the star witness held in the background by the prosecution, and whose name is only hinted at, was a close friend of William E. Annis. They declare that this witness, with Annis, visited a physician to arrange for an illegal operation on Mrs. Hains. One of the letters issued today contains the following extract:
 "Duke Abruzzi is marry Miss Elkins, I see. Poor me, and I thought I was it. Well, you needn't be jealous."

PREGNANT POINTERS FOR THE PEOPLE

From Bryan's New York Speeches.
 The people have been cheated, because the Republican organization has given the promise in advance that the people shall get back through legislation the money contributed.
 My friends, you may vote me down or hold me up, you may elect or you may defeat me, but the time will come when this country will enjoy the relief that we are now trying to bring, and when that time comes and politics is purified and elections and canvasses made honest, whether I am living or dead, the country will give me the credit that I took part in this campaign for good politics.
 Last year I saw hundreds of people in the rain on a Sunday morning and they were going to sit there until Monday morning in order that they might present their checks at the banks. Did the Republican party attempt to regulate banks more carefully? Did it attempt to protect people from the men who got in on the inside and exploited with depositors' money? The only bill that was passed was one that financiers asked for, giving them a larger hold on the banks of the country. Fifteen million depositors asked for protection and the Republican party ignored their demands and listened to the demands of a few financiers.
 It was in going to be a people's victory. If we win it is going to be a people's government and a people's administration.

The Typographical unions of Indiana and other states are forwarding resolutions to William Jennings Bryan demanding that the union label be placed on his publication, "The Commoner." In many instances the resolutions state that, unless the demand is complied with, copies of the paper which are received by union subscribers will be returned to the Commoner office in Lincoln, Neb., in their original wrappers. The printers feel that so long as Bryan professes to be a friend of the unions he should see to it that his publishers follow the custom of all union offices.

AT THE THEATRES

"The Rivals" Closes Tonight.
 The attraction at the Helbig theatre tonight will be the last performance of Joseph and William W. Jefferson and their excellent company of players in Sheridan's brilliant comedy, "The Rivals," a classic on the stage for more than a hundred years.

Seat Sale Opens Tomorrow.
 The advance seat sale opens tomorrow morning at the Helbig for the favorite player, Lee Willard, who will present Sol Smith Russell's beautiful comedy drama, "A Poor Relation," Saturday and Sunday nights.

Minstrel Stars at Orpheum.
 Fred Warren and Al Hinshard, two minstrel and musical comedy stars, are presenting an act that is extremely funny. Jovial Fred Warren introduces an impersonation of a colored soubrette that is the funniest thing he has ever done.

D'Amon's Special Matinee.
 Friday afternoon, from 1 to 2 o'clock, D'Amon, the mind reader, will hold a special matinee for women when he will read palms. No men will be permitted in the theatre during this time, but the special matinee will not interfere with the regular afternoon performance, at which he answers all questions.

"The Flaming Arrow" at Star.
 Lincoln J. Carter's border drama, "The Flaming Arrow," which is playing at the Star this week, possesses the true essence of melodramatic flavor, depending for its success upon the brisk action, exciting climaxes and stage mounting.

Mrs. Fay at Pantages.
 Mrs. Eva Fay's wonderful exhibition of thaumaturgy is drawing thousands to the Pantages this week. Mrs. Fay is not a fortune teller, palmist or pretender of any kind; she is not infallible, but the proportion of true answers is remarkable.

"The Road to Yesterday."
 "The Road to Yesterday," which the Baker Stock company is presenting at the Bungalow for the first time in the west this week, is a strange, fantastic play filled with comedy and character studies.

New Prices at the Baker.
 The new prices at the Baker inaugurated this week have done wonders towards increasing the size of the audience. Dixon and Bernard have made a great hit in their latest success, "Tina and Nix." The piece is a scream.

"Pink Dominoes" Tonight.
 Tonight will see a repetition at the Lyric of that delightful comedy, "Pink Dominoes," by the Blunkall company. This has proved to be one of the biggest successes of this talented acting organization, which is saying a great deal. Matinee tomorrow.

MAYOR'S POWER IS CURTAILED

Charter Commission Votes to Take Away Right of Veto.

Before the charter commission had been in session five minutes last night, F. V. Holman wanted to adjourn. He said that, inasmuch as only nine members had appeared, the commission would better take no action which a full membership might undo at some future meeting.
 The other charter framers, however, were not in favor of adjourning, since they had taken the trouble to come. Accordingly discussion was begun immediately of the executive committee's report and after nearly three hours of the debate it was decided to recommend that the mayor's veto power be taken away. This change was suggested several weeks ago, but the matter did not come up for discussion until last night.

 Many nice things were said about Mayor Lane in praise of his efficient use of the veto during his administration. Such wise use of the veto as that of the present mayor is the exception, the charter makers agreed. The commission will probably also recommend that the number of councilmen be cut to six in order to prevent a tie vote, the mayor to cast the deciding ballot.
 A recall provision was adopted with a provision for the safeguarding of city officials from the attacks of the "interests." The original recall clause was so amended as to make it necessary for the circulator of a recall petition to file the document with the city auditor 10 days before circulating it. In this way voters would have a chance to find out who is seeking the recall and why. The 10-day provision, it was argued, would also prevent a recalcitrant corporation from in a single night going out and securing enough signatures to cause the official a great deal of expense.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (Incorporated)

MARCH OF CIVILIZATION FORCES SALE OF MONTANA SHEEP BANDS

Lawiston, Mont., Oct. 28.—The sale of nearly 30,000 head of sheep here this week by Waite, Elliott & Peck to Ferguson and Yellowstone parties marks the retirement of another big Montana woolgrowing firm which has for many years figured conspicuously in the business. The firm will winter 15,000 lambs and dispose of them next spring. Recently the firm sold a syndicate of Wisconsin capitalists its land holdings of about 32,000 acres, and will give possession in the spring.
 With the influx of farmers from the middle west these great tracts of land are becoming too valuable for agricultural purposes to justify holding them for sheep ranges. Land that will grow an average of over 35 bushels of high-grade winter wheat per acre, is now commands about $15 per acre, so it will be seen that these immense tracts represent a large sum of money.
 Waite, Elliott & Peck's retirement follows that of the Sage Creek company, which some time ago sold its holdings of 25,000 acres for a very large sum, and has now reduced its stock to 5,000 head of lambs, which will be marketed in the spring.
 The sales by Waite, Elliott & Peck were at $3 for wethers and from $3.50 to $3.87 for ewes.

TWICE WEDDED ONCE DIVORCED

And Mr. and Mrs. William Lensdale Again Move for Final Separation.

North Yakima, Wash., Oct. 28.—After being married to each other twice, Edna Ella and William Lensdale have decided that trying to live together isn't worth while and have applied through the courts here for their final divorce. A divorce was granted February of this year, but on account of the children, of which there are two, they tried once more to make their home together. Mrs. Lensdale states that her husband's temper is unmanageable, that his fault-finding and up-braidings are continuous and that she wishes once more a legal separation.

WHEAT EXPORTERS SUE O. R. & N. COMPANY

Kerr, Gifford & Co., who already have several suits pending in the state circuit court against the Harriman line for alleged negligence and failure to deliver cars for wheat shipments at the proper time, in sufficient numbers, added two more cases to the record yesterday morning. One is against the O. R. & N. for $1,142 for failure to furnish cars, causing damage, it is alleged, to various shipments of wheat, and the other is against the Southern Pacific for $40 on similar complaint.
