PORTLAND WINS ITS FINAL GAME

Jack Graney Bewilders Angels, While Beavers Swat Ball Hard.

Los Angeles, Nov. 2.—Boysish Jack Graney, the clever southpaw of the Portland team, won the closing game of the season for Portland yesterday by letting Los Angeles down with four hits and two runs, whiffing nine men. His teammates batted like fiends behind him and knocked Briswalter out of the box in the fifth inning, after making eight hits. Dolly Gray, who finished the game for the locals, allowed Portland but two hits in the last two innings.

Los Angeles made its two score in the eighth and ninth innings. Bernard and Howard being the brace of Angels to register. Graney was in grand form, keeping the Los Angeles batsmen silent in the ninth, when the Angels made two.

INCIDENTS OF CLOSING GAMES

Jack Graney gave four hits, passed two men and struck out nine Angels. In addition he got two hits and one run.

Pearl Casey accepted seven chances, perfectly, five being assists, in addition to getting one hit and one run in two times up.

Manager McCredie made no blunders yesterday. For the first time in years McCredie has batted under 275, his average being around the 260 mark this season.

Hal Danzig carried off batting honors of the Beaver-Angel game, getting three hits, including two doubles, in five times up. The Angels will be in the 300 mark for the season.

John Bassey carried off the run-getting honors with two runs in three times at bat. He also stole a base and got a one-bagger in his last game.

Ote Johnson tried hard to knock out a home run to signalize the last game of the season, but could do nothing more than smash a two-bagger past the Angel fielders. Ote gets credit for a sacrifice.

Jimmy Cook, the Oakland center fielder, in yesterday's matinee with San Francisco, got six hits in eight times at bat, probably the best record of any player for the season. In the post-match affair he got two hits out of five strolls for the plate. His grand total for the day was eight hits out of 13 times up, and he never got a run in the afternoon.

The final percentage for the season's play is as follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Los Angeles	110	78	.585
Portland	86	90	.490
San Francisco	100	104	.491
Oakland	83	116	.417

Aeronautic Society Field Day.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 2.—The plans of the Aeronautic society for a public demonstration at the grounds at the Morris Park race track tomorrow have been completed. Many of the leading sportsmen in the country have accepted the invitation to take part. The program as prepared by the society provides for a contest between flying machines and a wind-wagon contest, in addition to the main event which will be a contest between dirigibles over a five-mile course.

Lewiston High Wins.

Lewiston, Idaho, Nov. 2.—The Lewiston Normal school football team was defeated by its old rival, the Lewiston High school Saturday, 18 to 4. Captain McCormick's drop kick, the only one seen in Lewiston this season, saved his aggregation from a snoutout.

YALE'S CAPTAIN AND ROOSEVELT'S SON

Football now takes the center of the stage amongst sporting men. To the left of this picture is Bobby Burch, Yale's Varsity captain, who is justly popular, not only on account of his ability as a player, but in the manner in which he manages his men. At the right is a snap shot of Kermit Roosevelt, son of the president, who is a candidate for the freshman team at Harvard. Burch was injured recently and is unable to play during the season. Coy, the fullback, has been elected field captain, the team refusing to allow Burch to resign.

CRACK MACHINE IS OREGON TEAM

Corvallis Scout Pays Forbes Men Tribute for Winning Game From Idaho.

One of the most interested persons at the game at Moscow Saturday between the University of Oregon and the University of Idaho, when the Oregonians won, 27 to 21, was professor E. D. Angell of the Oregon Agricultural college, the official coach of the Corvallis institution. Angell passed through Portland yesterday on his way back to Corvallis. Here is his version of the game:

"It is very doubtful that the northwest will ever see a football game as full of peculiar features as was the 27 to 21 Oregon-Idaho game, contested at Moscow Saturday.

"Four fluke touchdowns were enough to make the spectators sit up and take notice, but when in the same game five place kicks are made, and one of the teams finishes the last 10 minutes of the game with only 10 men, it formed a combination of unique circumstances unprecedented in football history.

"The first half of the game, barring the fumbling, was a very fair exhibition of football with honors practically even and the score of 6 to 4 in favor of Idaho indicated that hard fought contest in the second half. But few spectators were prepared for the opera bouffe performance that was presented when the Idaho team, as it was in the last few minutes, after both teams had scored touchdowns and place kicks, were ruled out of the game for using a fluke substitute, as Coach Forbes had used every substitute, the Eugene team was compelled to finish the game with only 10 men.

"It seemed from a spectator's standpoint as though Idaho could have easily won the game at this point, but the Oregonians, who used a fluke substitute, were practically equal in playing ability and while their individual playing was of high class the final outcome was in doubt until the whistle blew down at the conclusion of the game.

"Clark's punting was high class work and McGill's place kicking doubtless establishes a record for northwest football. Four place kicks in one game is a remarkable achievement and makes Clark the most dangerous man on the team in any game that they may play.

"Small was somewhat of a disappointment, as his judgment at times was rather erratic, but he did show the brilliant class that he has been accredited with having. Eugene's play was rather rugged throughout the game, but taking into consideration their individual ability and the fact that Forbes knows his business thoroughly, it looks very much as though their team will be put into a cracker-jack of a machine in a couple of weeks."

WEST SIDE TO MEET CADETS WEDNESDAY

The championship of the Intercollegiate football league will probably, in a large measure, be decided Wednesday afternoon, when West Side High school and Hill Military academy meet in their annual struggle. Both teams have won one game so that the team coming out victorious in this game will undoubtedly be the champion for 1908.

That the game will be a hard fought one is expected and it is not altogether probable that a tie game may result. West Side's chances of winning depend much upon her ability to stop Donson, the Hill full back. Against Columbia Donson proved a steady ground gainer and unless the high school linemen can stop his rushes they will be up against it.

Coach Jordan has been drilling his men hard this week in stopping such attacks and expects that his team will be able to follow out his plan of defense when necessary. Coach Latourne, too, has been drilling his men hard and if they are unable to gain by straight football a series of tricks will probably be tried.

SEATTLE EXPECTS TO TAKE FRIDAY'S MEET

Seattle's grapplers and wrestlers who are coming to Portland Friday night next to meet the Multnomah club athletes expect to take all four of the events this season. They have been better trained this year than ever before and will be in prime condition for the Interclub meet.

The local clubmen are not worrying over the result of the meeting with the Seattle Athletic club fellows. Seattle will be up against a different proposition this season. Instructor O'Connell has drilled his men thoroughly and has made speed an essential quality in his wrestlers. Seattle will therefore bring up against the speediest pair of wrestlers in the Northwest, who has met in many moons.

ALBINA AND PIEDMONT PLAY FOOTBALL TO TIE

A fast and snappy game of football was played on Woodlawn grounds yesterday morning by two speedy local teams, the Albina club football team and the Piedmont Stars, the score coming out the same as last year, a 5 to 5 tie. It was their annual game.

The Albina boys made a touchdown, 10 minutes after the game started and Piedmont made theirs 12 minutes before it ended.

The Albina team is coached by Robert M. Roy, ex-University of Wisconsin player, and now left half on the Multnomah club eleven. The Piedmont boys have E. Tomes, coach, and a number of swats for the season. In the post-match affair he got two hits out of five strolls for the plate. His grand total for the day was eight hits out of 13 times up, and he never got a run in the afternoon.

PORTLAND JOINS WITH KLICKITAT

Enthusiastic Meeting at Goldendale Marks New Era of Progress.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Goldendale, Wash., Nov. 2.—Portland and Klickitat county grasped hands Saturday to stand together for a common cause—the advancement of the interests of this section. The occasion was a meeting held under the auspices of the Klickitat Development league. It was a complete success in every way. Representatives from the entire southwestern portion of Washington were in attendance. The Portland delegation came by special train, via. Lytle. They were met at the station by a reception committee and escorted to the hotel, the music furnished by the Goldendale band.

President Hugh Frazier opened the meeting with a brief talk explaining its purpose. He was followed by H. M. Adams, manager of the Spokane and Seattle railroad. Mr. Adams pledged the people of Goldendale and the people of Klickitat to the support of the railroad interests which he represents, in pushing the development of this section. Chapman was the next speaker. He laid stress on the fruit display in front of the speakers' platform, saying that it was the best of its kind he had ever seen.

Tom Richardson made one of his characteristic speeches. He told of the results accomplished in other communities by judicious advertising. He said that Klickitat had equal opportunities with Hood River, judging from the fruit display.

At the close of his speech he called for subscribers to the publicity fund. Farmers, business men and fruit growers responded liberally. From the hearty enthusiasm and cooperation evinced at the meeting it is obvious that today marks a new era of progress for this section; that from now on Klickitat county, which heretofore has occupied a comparatively obscure position in the eyes of the world, will step up to the front rank.
