MAKE PORT AFTER HARD EXPERIENCE

Sailing Vessels Lucipara and California Nearly Founder.

IN HEAVY STORMS OFF CAPE HORN

California Cargo Shifts and Vessel Rides on Beam Ends for Several Days While Crew Works Hard to Save Vessel and Their Own Lives.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—The crews of the sailing vessels Lucipara and California are relating today tales of the most terrible of experiences undergone by seamen of this port in years. They were towed into port late last night, both crippled by the storms through which they had sailed from Europe, and with the men exhausted from their terrible fights against the elements.

The four-masted bark Lucipara, 143 days from Antwerp, reports the worst voyage of the two. The vessel was out in a storm off Cape Horn August 25. The heavy seas swept her decks clean of everything and the crew was kept busy for days cutting away wreckage.

When the storm had subsided it was discovered there was four feet of water in the hold. The ship had sprung a leak in the storm and the crew had to pump for days to keep from sinking. The vessel finally made this port with the crew exhausted from fighting against the storms.

The four-masted bark California, 198 days from Rotterdam, was caught in the same hurricane. Her cargo shifted and she was in danger of sinking every minute. When the vessel reached Coquimbo September 16 there was no food on board and the water had just been exhausted.

The crews of both vessel are exhausted from their fight and will rest here for several months before going to sea again.

CLING TO TRAP ALL NIGHT

Two Seamen Rescued by Bellingham Searching Party.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Bellingham, Wash., Nov. 2.—Clinging with benumbed hands to the capping of a fish trap near Marietta, Peter Francis and Roy Shriver, two Bellingham seamen, spent 16 terrible hours in the tempest that raged on Bellingham bay yesterday and last night, praying for assistance which could not be given them because of the heavy sea. At 6 o'clock this morning, when they were at the point of extreme exhaustion, they were rescued by a searching party.

With the intention of visiting the ship Kynack, which lies in the stream, to learn if any seamen of their acquaintance were on the ship, Francis and Shriver left about 11 o'clock yesterday in a rowboat. All went well until they neared the ship. Suddenly a gust of wind drove a sea aboard the boat and half filled it. The storm increased and the men drifted toward the Marietta shore. With the frail craft still carrying a full load of water and evidently not having been observed by any of the ship's company, the two men were swept into a fishtrap about half a mile from the Marietta shore at 2 p. m.

Grasping a pile the men clung to it and climbed upon the capping. With the instinct of self-preservation strong within them they signaled to Marietta for help. By that time, however, the sea, impelled by tide and wind, had risen considerably and the fishermen on shore dared not go to the marooned men.

When the the tide had reached its maximum the rowboat was carried into the fishtrap and there battered into a wreck.

At 1 o'clock this morning Kirk Fletcher and companions went out to the vessel to ascertain if Francis and Shriver were aboard. They were told they had not been seen. Fletcher then organized a searching party and early this morning in a launch ranged the bay until he found the men on the traps.

LARGE BARK ARRIVES

Lydgate Comes From Santa Rosalia for Wheat Cargo.

After a stormy voyage of two months the four-masted British bark Lydgate reached Columbia river last night in ballast from Santa Rosalia. She is under charter to Kerr, Gifford & Co. to load wheat at this port for Europe.

The Lydgate is one of the largest sailing vessels to come here this season for grain, her capacity being about 4,000 tons of wheat. She is, however, not as large as the British bark Andorinha, which sailed hence a few weeks ago with 190,000 bushels of wheat, bound for the United Kingdom.

The French bark Sainte Anne, also under charter to Kerr, Gifford & Co., to carry grain to Europe, arrived up this morning from Astoria and went to the drydock, where she will be cleaned and painted.

SAILS TOMORROW MORNING

Oriental Liner Nicomedia Will Carry Away Big Cargo.

Tomorrow morning at daylight the German steamer Nicomedia, Captain Wagemann, of the Portland & Asiatic line will sail for Hongkong by way of Yokohama and other oriental ports. She will carry cargo to the value of $250,000.

The lion's share of the Nicomedia's cargo consists of flour, there being about 55,000 barrels beneath the hatches. About 200,000 feet of lumber constitutes part of the cargo and the miscellaneous freight consists of preserved and green fruit, a moving picture machine, paper and hardware.

The next liner to arrive here from the orient will be the Arabia which left Honolulu last Friday for this port by way of San Francisco.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The steamer Breakwater, Captain MacGenn, arrived at Oak street dork last night from Coos Bay.

The wind attained a velocity of 60 miles an hour at North Head yesterday. Storm warnings were displayed in the morning.

The river towboat Wauna was inspected this morning by the government inspectors of hulls and boilers.

The Harriman San Francisco liner, Rose City, will be at Ainsworth wharf early this evening. She reached Astoria at daylight after a smart run from the Golden Gate.

Captain Charles F. Pond, United States lighthouse inspector, returned yesterday from an inspection trip to Cape Mears, on the Oregon coast.

VOTE SAVED BY ACT OF FRIEND

From Brazil to Vote for Taft, and Can't—Democrat Offers Pair.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 2.—After traveling thousands of miles from his post in South America to his home in this city to vote and meeting with disappointment because of his failure to register, Irving Dudley, American minister to Brazil, solved the problem which confronted him upon his arrival here. George M. McKenzie, a prominent Democrat, came to the rescue of the disappointed diplomat and agreed to remain away from the polls tomorrow, pairing his vote with that of Dudley. The American minister's plight was caused by the refusal of the county clerk here to accept Dudley's affidavit, sent here several months ago, in lieu of personal appearance at the registration office.

EGYPT PREPARES FOR ROOSEVELT'S COMING

Will Have a Caravan and Will Cross the Wilderness to Khartoum and Then Go Down the Nile.

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 2.—Preliminary arrangements already are being made here for the visit of President Roosevelt to Khartoum in 1909, and he is being talked of today as "the great celebrity" who is coming to Egypt in that year.

Mr. Roosevelt probably will enter Africa by way of Mombasa and travel toward the great lakes by the British railroad. He will then take a caravan across the wilderness to Khartoum, from which point he will make his way down the Nile. The Roosevelt expedition is spoken of here as scientific and not wholly for hunting purposes.

B. S. Bowen.

Klamath Falls, Or., Nov. 2.—B. S. Bowen dropped dead Thursday noon while at dinner at the American hotel.

He was 50 years of age and had lived in Klamath Falls about two years, working on ranches and at the Exchange barn.

Nothing is known of his relatives.

WILL INDORSE GOMPERS' ACTS

State Federation of Labor to Take Official Action Tonight.

The State Federation of Labor will come into the presidential fight, officially, at a meeting of the executive board to be held tonight. At this meeting it is expected that the board will officially ratify the course Samuel Gompers, president of the National Federation, has pursued throughout the campaign and come out with a statement to the union men of the state urging them to stand together in an effort to defeat William H. Taft, who is unfriendly to organized labor.

Up to this time the State Federation has taken no official part in the presidential campaign, though its members and officers have cooperated with the Central Labor council of Portland in spreading the anti-Taft doctrines among labor union voters.

Because of the attacks which recently have been made upon President Gompers, however, many members of the federation have come to the conclusion that it would be well for the Oregon branch of the organization to go on record publicly as indorsing the acts of Mr. Gompers.

It is expected, therefore, that the executive board will set out at its meeting tonight just what position the Federation of Labor holds in the present campaign. It will be made plain that President Gompers is acting on the instructions of the National Federation in his opposition to Taft, and that the state organizations are backing him and the national organization.

PRESIDENT GOING HOME TO VOTE

Back to White House by Night to Receive Returns —Exodus of Clerks.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Washington, Nov. 2.—Today witnessed a general exodus of officials and government clerks who will tomorrow vote at their respective homes.

President Roosevelt has arranged to leave for Oyster Bay late tonight. He will vote early in the morning and it is probable that Theodore Roosevelt Jr. will be on hand to cast his first vote with his father. The president's special train will reach Washington on the return trip about 6 o'clock tomorrow evening in time for the president to receive the returns at the White House.

Government clerks living in Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Nebraska, New York, New Jersey and other states that can be classed as at all doubtful in the presidential contest, have practically all gone away. Only those who can reach their voting places from this city tomorrow and those who have no vote remain here.

DEBS STARTS ON FINAL CAMPAIGN

Socialistic Candidate Will Close Campaign With Big Mass Meeting.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, started for a tour of the state in a final dash of the campaign today. He will close his canvass tonight at Terre Haute, where a big meeting will be held. Debs declared that the interest in Chicago shows an enormous increase in the support of the Socialist party throughout the middle west. The leaders here are particularly pleased with the showing in the last few days.

At the party headquarters it was announced today that the Socialist vote in Chicago will be 100,000.

The leaders of the other parties today estimate the Socialist vote in this city at 40,000. The Debs men are well pleased with the results of the campaign and say that the vote tomorrow will mark a new era in Socialism in the United States.

AT THE THEATRES

"The Squaw Man" at Heilig.

Commencing tonight and continuing all this week the attraction at the Heilig theatre will be Dustin Farnum and his excellent company in the western drama, "The Squaw Man." Election returns will be read from the stage tomorrow night.

Election Returns at Baker.

Tomorrow night all those who see James J. Corbett in "Facing the Music" at Baker theatre will get the advantage of all the latest election returns. They will be received by special wire in view of the audience, and read from the stage by Corbett himself. After the performance the reading will be continued until the result is known.

Early Belasco Success.

One of the great plays that first made David Belasco famous was "Men and Women," which the Baker stock company is presenting all this week at the Bungalow. No play of today is more modern in plot and character. It was last seen here six years ago.

New Grand Program.

Today there is a new vaudeville entertainment at the Grand headed by Lind, the artistic dancer, from the Folies Berger, Paris. Other features will be Alice Mortlock & Co.; Tom Dempsey, "Just Married a Week"; Miss McKinney, and the Romanoffs, in their hair-raising knife throwing specialty.

"The Montana Limited" at Star.

"The Montana Limited," the attraction at the Star this week, is a thrilling play of life in the great west, by Charles Ulrich and W. L. Roberts. Critics are unanimous in its praise as one of the strongest western dramas produced.

"Happy's Millions" at Orpheum.

The principal features of the act produced by Morrow & Schellberg are its originality, general construction and and its costumes. They wear caps, the best that can be had, broad brimmed hats, spurs, boots, etc., and carry guns.

"Midnight in New York" at Lyric.

The Blunkall company at the Lyric is this week devoting itself to a fine production and performance of that sensational melodrama "Midnight in New York" which has ever been such a popular favorite with discriminating audiences.

RODGERS LEADS IN SALEM RACE

Popular Official Appears to Be Sure of Nomination and Reelection.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Nov. 2.—It is safe to predict that Mayor George F. Rodgers of Salem will be nominated and reelected at the forthcoming city election. The time for filing nominating petitions has passed, the primary election will take place this week, Saturday, November 7, and none has entered the field seeking a nomination in opposition to the mayor. The election will be held Monday, December 7.

So overshadowing has been the national campaign just closed that few people in Salem realize the proximity of a city primary election, at which time men will be selected as candidates to be voted for in the city election to follow one month later. Very little interest seems to have been taken in city affairs and there has been on contest for the offices to this point in the campaign, if indeed, it can be called a campaign. Nearly all the members of the present council will ask reelection, and in only one or two instances will there be contests for the place.

Big Figure in Campaign.

Mayor Rodgers is the big figure in the campaign. Everyone has accepted his candidacy as a matter of course and no one feels confident enough to try matters out with him. During the present mayor's administration Salem has experienced its most prosperous two years. It has been developed further in a great many directions than under any previous mayor, which accounts for the general satisfaction with Mayor Rodgers' direction of affairs and the universal hesitancy that seems prevalent as to entering the fight against him for the mayorality.

Money for Improvements.

More than $150,000 has been expended during the past year for street improvements so that Salem is now one of the most beautiful cities on the Pacific coast. The Oregon Electric has come within the past year, placing Salem in quick connection with Portland and other sections of Oregon in the lower Willamette valley yet undeveloped.

The mayor has pursued a rigid policy toward the gambling element and the saloons. During the past nine months one of the severest restrictive ordinances ever enacted in an Oregon city, providing for glass fronts in all saloons has been passed and is being enforced. They mayor has always stood aggressively for strict observance of the law and has extended a hand of welcome to new industries and institutions that tend toward the upbuilding of the capital city.

WEATHER REPORT

A moderate storm is central over Alberta; it has caused light to moderately heavy rain in western Oregon and western Washington and high southerly winds along the coast. A maximum wind velocity of 60 miles southeast occurred last night at North Head, and the wires to Tatoosh island are down this morning. Warnings for this storm were ordered Saturday night at all coast stations and extended last night to interior seaports. Two large high pressure areas control the weather over the greater portion of the United States, one of which is central over Colorado and the other over Virginia. Light local rains have fallen at scattered places in the Mississippi valley, but elsewhere fair weather prevails, with nearly normal temperatures in the western states, while in the eastern states it is cooler than usual.

The indications are for rain Tuesday in Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho, with high southerly winds this afternoon and tonight along the coast.
