OREGON AGGIES FACING PROBLEM

Development of Eleven Delayed and Team Fears for Future.

Oregon Agricultural College, Nov. 4.—The defeat of Idaho by the University of Oregon football team Saturday has caused followers of the game here to sit up and take notice. They are glad that the Oregon team won, but realize that the victory over the Idaho veterans means a powerful aggregation for O. A. C. to meet in the coming contest on Multnomah field November 21.

Whether the Beavers can repeat the performance of last year or even that of the 0-0 score of the year before is a conundrum at which local fans are guessing. The team has eight members of last year's coast champions in its lineup. It has much new material for the vacant places.

The work that the old men will be able to do, if they become imbued with last year's spirit, is unquestioned. The problem is to whip the new men into form, and to find among them material such as were Emlay, Dunlap, Rinschert, Barber and Bennett, all powerful players.

New Men in Back Field.

In the place of Rinschert in the back field, there are Keck, Hastings and Endberg. Keck is last year's second team man, now performing for his first time on varsity. Hastings is a punter, and his usual ability as to distance, and a line backer of much promise. He has played a consistent game throughout the season and bids fair to hold a place in the back field. Hastings of West Portland High, has shown splendid ground-gain ability and is likely to make the regular eleven. Endberg, ex-captain of the Baker City High, is also regarded as a consistent game throughout the season and bids fair to hold a place in the back field at half or at end.

Among the other players of promise is Wallace of last year's second team, who is playing an aggressive game at guard, and is likely to make good in that position. Another is Francis, also a second team player of last year, who is fast pounding into a formidable man at tackle and end. His weight is 190 pounds and he is fast.

Backer Giant Player.

Still another man is Parker, a giant player from Klamath High school. He sustained slight injuries early in the season, but with recovery is fast gaining technique as a runner where his great strength will make him of value if he once acquires a knowledge of the position.

Another is Looney, who played two years on the Astoria Normal. He is a promising candidate for the guard position. Brodie, formerly of Hill Military academy, has played a consistent game at times sensational game at end, and is believed to be slated for that position.

Of the old players, there are Captain W. ex-Captain Fendergrass, half-back Cooper, end Cady, center Kelly, tackle Jamison, Quarter Gagnon and End Dobbin.

Development Delayed.

Progress in developing the team has been delayed by reason of poor condition of the men, many of whom have been kept out of the game for long periods by reason of slight injuries. The games played have caused grave doubts as to whether or not a team can be whipped into so perfect a machine as was last year's eleven. The performance of the team in each instance have occasioned considerable anxiety on this point.

The good showing by the University of Oregon eleven at Idaho has further tended to raise question as to the ability of the Beavers to pull a victory out of the great game to be played on Multnomah field two weeks from next Saturday.

You! Dyspeptics Read

What an Eminent Medical Man Says Dyspepsia Really Is—Then Gain Hope.

"This affection called Dyspepsia, is the greatest torment of civilized life, and to be considered as an unnatural functional difficulty than as a structural disease."

The same authority has classified dyspepsia as a reflex action due to relations with other organs which are in a morbid and unhealthy state which is characterized as a reflex action of such a type is the nausea and vomiting caused by irritation of brain, lungs, liver or uterus.

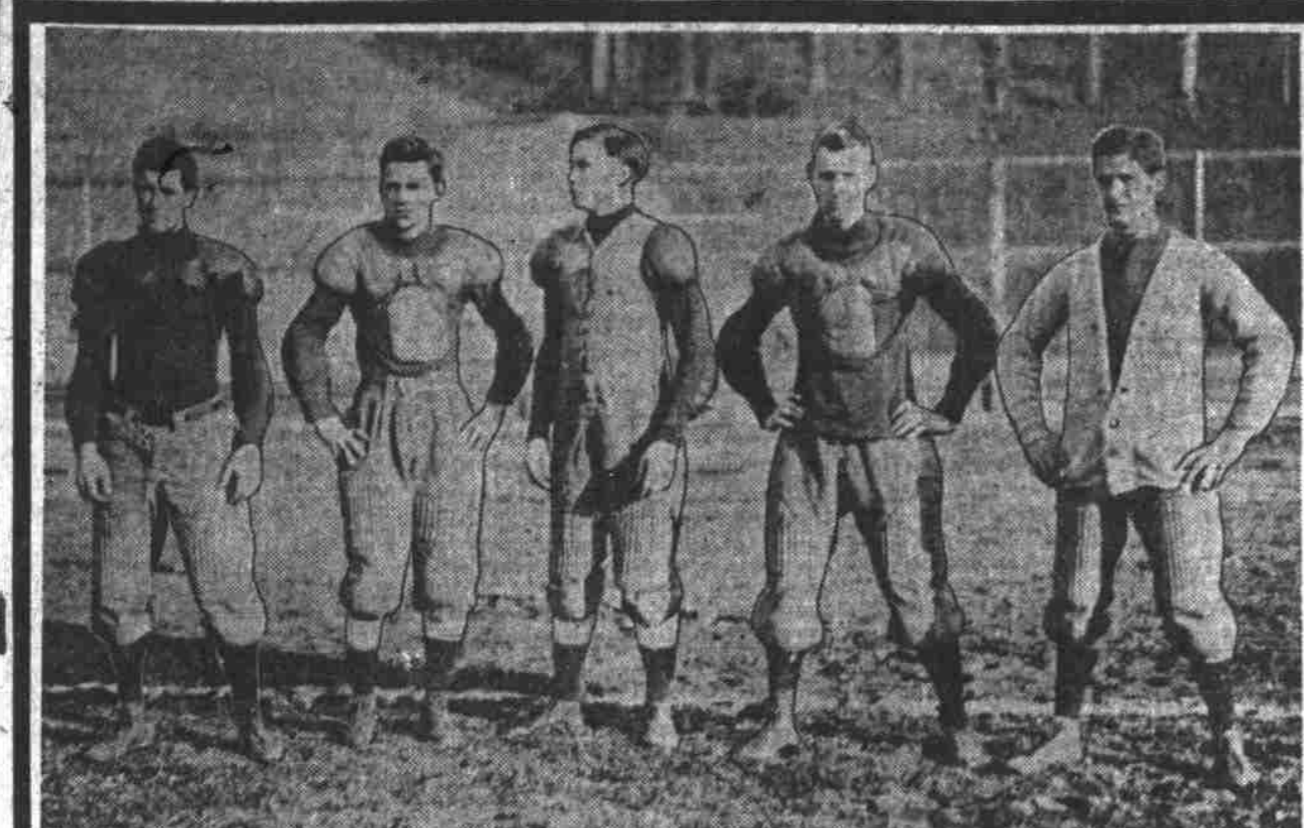

The second form is caused by scanty supply of gastric juice, made evident by slowness of digestion, long retention of food in the stomach, distress for a long time after meals, accompanied by weighty and uneasy feeling at pit of stomach, discomfort and food in alimentary canal causing fetid and foul gases and the appearance of digested food in the evacuations from bowels.

The third and last form of dyspepsia, according to this renowned medical light is that which accompanies some abnormal quality of the gastric juice, combined with a partial paralysis of stomach's muscles so that this organ cannot sufficiently mix the food with the digestive fluids.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will remedy each condition of a stomach afflicted with dyspepsia as above described. These tablets contain digestive agents which act with or without the aid of the stomach. One grain of an ingredient used in these tablets will digest 2,000 grains of food, and if necessary will do it in a glass vial so that the digestion can be seen by the human eye.

They help the stomach, enrich the blood, revitalize the gastric juices, give strength to the alimentary nerves and glands. They are recommended by every druggist and 40,000 physicians who use and prescribe them. FIVE STAR PLAYERS OF CADET ELEVEN

Hill Military academy, which meets West Side High school on Multnomah field this afternoon, has five exceptionally fast men in its line up. McGuire, Prehn, Graham, Meier and Hughes are probably as fast a quintet as there is in the interscholastic league. They are all fine track men but Hughes and he makes up for not being a good track man by being an excellent baseball player.

CHAPMAN'S ELEVEN DEFEATS THOMPSON

Chapman school's light but unusually fast team scored a victory over the Thompson school yesterday, 12 to 5. Peterson, the speedy left end of the Chapman, made both touchdowns, picking up the ball on kicks for good runs over the goal line. Thompson made its only run after the same fashion, Bogorath scooting over the line with the run.

Peterson, Lewis, Herty and Grigwire put up the best game for the victors, while Daly, Earle and Kay starred for the losing eleven. The lineup follows:

STANFORD FIFTEEN MEETS VANCOUVER

(United Press Leased Wire.) Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 4.—The Stanford football team will meet the Vancouver varsity today in the first of the two games of the series of Rugby football, the northerners are scheduled to play here. Apart from the interest by the clean-cut work of the Vancouver men, the contests are looked upon as bases of comparison between the teams of the University of California and Stanford.

Vancouver has led California in one game, while Daily, Earle and Kay starred for the losing eleven. The lineup follows:

- | | | |
|----------|----------|--------------|
| Thompson | Chapman | |
| Moore | L. E. | Peterson |

RED HOT GOSSIP

There's a nice fat salary awaiting Mike Lynch in Seattle according to reports that have recently issued from the Dugdale catacombs. Dug has been after Lynch for some time and as his offer is probably greater than he Tacoma magnate can meet Mike will probably take up the job. Lynch has been manager of the Tacoma team for the past three years and has done well at hand has always finished well toward the top. Dug's getting awfully tired of the second division rife.

Willie Keeler, that wonderful batsman of the fast set for years and years, has announced his retirement from the game. Willie says he is not worth $25 a week to the management of any big league team, which was as much as he got when he first broke into the game 17 years ago. Keeler is without doubt the most scientific batter that ever performed in major league company. With the exit of Keeler, the great team that won three championships in a row for the Baltimore Orioles, and Edlin and Nettles will be extinct as ball players. Not one of them is an active player and Keeler is the last to leave the ranks.

Either the batters were a long way off or the pitchers were a long way off, standard in the Coast circuit last season, for the crop of 300 stickers looks as if it had been ravaged by an army of Kansas locusts.

Ote Johnson and wife, Pearl Casey and John Bassey returned this morning from California to spend the winter. All will be employed in Portland during the off season. Manager McCredie expects to return to Portland later in the month.

OREGON CITY TEAMS END FOOTBALL MATCH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, Nov. 4.—The last of three match games of football was played yesterday afternoon on Canemah grounds, between the McLoughlin institute and Eastham, in interscholastic football, amateur, 880 yards. 1895—At Springfield, Mass. G. M. Hencke, amateur, rode a tricycle, against time, 440 yards in 42 seconds.

1896—Harvey McKenna, a celebrated billed player, died in New York City, 1893—At Madison, Wis. University of Wisconsin defeated University of Michigan at football, 24 to 8.

1897—At Easton, Mass. Austin Rice and "Kid" Goodman fought 15 rounds to a draw.

1898—Shives Kilgour, a noted rifle shot, killed at Campbelltown, N. D.

TWELVE TEAMS IN BOWLING TOURNEY

Multnomah club's bowling tournament is scheduled to start November 10 and the captains of the team have already been chosen. This season there will be somewhat of a departure from the custom of last year, when five bowlers composed a team. Instead three men will make up each team and there will be more teams entered in the tournament. In place of a handicap tournament such as was the order last year, it will be an open affair.

All the teams will be evenly matched. The captains follow: H. J. Boyd, P. E. Brigham, T. H. Newstead, Charles B. Duffy, Harry Gardner, S. E. Humphrey, H. L. Pitcock, E. L. McCann, M. E. McKay, E. L. Mercereau, H. H. Rasch and J. L. Weist.

Every Morning. From the Delinquent. Paul, at the age of 4, was asked one morning by his papa, "What is the name of the first meal of the day?" "Oatmeal," responded little Paul promptly.

THREE BIG TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

Brings Out Strength and Endurance in Coach Stagg's Maroons.

By Manhattan. New York, Nov. 4.—The fact that with the football season now approaching the final stages, there are equally expert observers who champion the claims of Princeton, Harvard and Yale for the premier position in the football world, is a sure indication that three big teams are very evenly matched. And this is the fact, Princeton is doing as pretty offensive work as has been seen on the gridiron in a long time. If they were as good on the defense they would easily be in the lead. With Captain Dillon in the game the team which beats the young men from Nassau will come pretty near being the 1908 champions.

Coach Roper has developed a splendid fighting machine. The ends are still the weak points in the team, and hard work is being done to strengthen them.

Harvard has developed a fast, aggressive team, which is playing splendid football all the time. Harvard seems to have mastered the open plays encouraged by the new rules to a higher degree than have the other teams.

Yale always is formidable and is in the game always till the call of time. In many respects Old Eli has the best of the three, but whether on the whole she is better than Harvard and Princeton is a question which time must solve.

I still fancy Princeton.

A new star has appeared on the Cornell football field in Hoffman, hitherto a substitute third string half-back. A beautiful 60-yard run on a forward pass, which scored the first touchdown for the varsity, and a series of brilliant shorter dashes into and around the scrub line, made his work so conspicuous at a recent practice game that at the conclusion of the practice he was ordered to report to the training table, and will probably be started in tomorrow's game. This was taken to indicate that Hoffman, who is fast and sure, would supplant Hutchinson for the second string of backs.

The latest thing in the line of football training is moonlight practice. That is what Coach Stagg is conducting at the University of Chicago. This is by far the most unique feature that the "Wizard of Midway" has conceived of this season and comes as a surprise to other western coaches who call in their men as soon as it grows dark.

Not so, however, at the Midway. Stagg realized that in order to have a winning team this fall he will have to make up in some way for the unusual lack of material, which for a time threatened to make it impossible for him to turn out even a mediocre eleven. So he is exercising all of his genius in making his best team possible out of the small aggregation which he has.

One of the secrets of the success that Coach Stagg has achieved on the football field for the last 15 years is that

AUTOS MAY SPEED O'ER CAMPUS WAYS

Stanford University, Cal., Nov. 4.—The Stanford campus, which has heretofore been closed to gasoline machines, according to the expressed wish of the late Mrs. Stanford, is now declared by the university authorities to be opened to any and all automobiles upon any of the campus streets or avenues.

Since last year the machines were allowed to run upon one certain avenue and one cross street leading, respectively, to the residences of C. G. Lathrop, treasurer of the university, and Dr. Jordan, president of the institution, both of whom operated their private cars. Time after time appeals have been made by those living on the unfavored streets for the same privileges, but each time without success.

This liberal construction of Mrs. Stanford's aims, ideals and hobbies will be greatly appreciated, not only by the students owning machines, but also by the public, which often comes to visit the university and its surroundings in automobiles.
