THE WORLD'S MARKETS

MOST GROWERS HOLD POTATOES

Many Unwilling to Let Go Until Spring at Any Price—Onions Too.

PORTLAND WHOLESALE MARKETS.
Growers hold potatoes stiff.
Good onions rather scarce.
Banana shipments arrive in.
Bayou beans advanced 15c.
Eastern cranberries have arrived.
No demand for poor hops.
Dressed veal market is active.
Eggs and poultry are holding.

Growers Holding Potatoes Tight.

Buyers who have been out in the country during the past week tell of their inability to secure supplies. In every section the growers are holding. Most of them have decided not to sell their supplies until spring and for that reason many of them have not put a price upon them. On this account there is extreme dullness in the local trade. The few growers willing to sell are asking such high prices that shippers cannot possibly purchase and send stocks to the south with any profit. In fact if they were to purchase potatoes from local growers at the figures they now demand they would not be able to get their money back on a basis of present prices in San Francisco.

May Bring California Potatoes.

While two or three cars of California river potatoes have already been unloaded upon this market because of the lack of offerings by Oregon producers, it is understood that some liberal shipments are to start from the south in the near future unless growers here change their attitude in regard to holding all their supplies for an advance. The fact of their holding has caused a shortage of potatoes in some quarters and unless supplies are brought in from the south there will be a famine here. While to date only the poor river stock has been shipped here from the south, according to one of the California men now here, future shipments would consist of the best quality grown there. The ordinary California river potato is too full of water to hold up in cooking and for that reason does not find a good demand nor even a fair price.

Stiff Holding by Onion Men.

The attitude of onion growers here is surprising the commission trade in general. While it was the general belief of buyers that producers would at least let go of their holdings which were nipped by the frosts, they are in fact holding everything. Only a nominal amount of stock is being offered and most of this consists of very small sizes. Prices are therefore stiff along Front street.

Eggs and Poultry Holding.

Prices are holding in both the egg and poultry markets along Front street. While the receipts of eggs are somewhat better, the demand remains good around 37½c in a general way although one or two dealers are said to be willing to clean up at 37c.

Buyers, true to their promise, came into the market and bought the surplus supplies of chickens along Front street during the past 24 hours. Their purchases while quite liberal had no effect upon prices, values showing no change for the day.

Weakness continues to gather in the creamery butter market but values are generally unchanged.

Bayou Beans Are Advanced.

About a week or 10 days ago there were two advances in white beans, which were mentioned in The Journal at that time. Today the market is firmer all around and bayous are showing an advance of 15c per hundred pounds. Whites are showing no change.

Brief Notes of Front Street.

Eastern cranberries have arrived and are in good shape.

Several cars of bananas arrived in this morning.

There is practically no demand at all for poor quality hops at this time but good quality is wanted.

Dressed veal market is firmer owing to the better demand but prices are showing no change for the day.

There is an oversupply of bell peppers in the market and supplies can scarcely be moved at any price. Some good stock was being offered today as low as 50c per orchard box with no takers.

Holiday packages of raisins and other dried fruits are arriving quite freely and are securing a good demand.

Front street sells at the following prices. Those paid shippers are less regular commissions:

POOR QUALITY IN HOG MARKET

Valley Stuff Is Not Fancy and Eastern Oregon Stock Comes Slowly.

Portland Union Stockyards, Nov. 7.—Owing to the very low price offered, shippers are not offering cattle so freely as they were a short time ago. Killers are not willing to pay more than $4 for stuff that receivers say should be worth at least $4.25. Killers on the other hand assert that they are offered more cattle than they know what to do with at this time and are therefore justified in holding prices in check.

Valley Hogs Are Poor.

While there have been no sales of hogs in the yards during recent days beyond $6, the trade is of the opinion that good, select eastern Oregon stuff can be moved around $6.25 but until such transactions are actually made the market remains at former figures.

"I believe that select east of the mountain wheat fed hogs can be readily moved at $6.25," said Lee M. Lacey of Hunt & Lacey today. "Arrivals of late have consisted mostly of Willamette valley hogs and most of these were not in prime condition."

Sheep market is quiet with a lack of arrivals.

Today 20 horses arrived in the yards.

The arrivals today of livestock compare with this day in recent years as follows:

	Hogs.	Cattle.	Sheep.
1907	15	68	..
1906	140	75	80
1905	80	..	664

A year ago today all lines of livestock were weak with no change in values.

Following is the general range of values on stock ruling in the yards for late shipments:

Hogs—Best east of mountains, $6.00@6.25; ordinary, $5.75; blockers and China fats, $5@5.50; stockers and feeders, $4.75@5.00.

Cattle—Select east of mountains, steers, $4; medium steers, $3.75; best cows, $3; medium cows, $2.50@2.75; stags, $2.50@3; bulls, $1.75@2.

Sheep—Best wethers, $3.50; ordinary wethers, $3.25; lambs, $3.90@4.00; straight ewes, $3; mixed lots, $2.50@2.75.

Veals—Choice young calves, $4.50; heavy and rough, $3.50@4.00.

RUN OF SALMON IS HEAVY ON COOS BAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Marshfield, Or., Nov. 7.—The salmon run on Coos bay is now especially large. The fishermen are busy day and night and such great quantities of fish are being delivered at the canneries that the plants throughout the county are running full force. Rush orders for cans are being sent to the factories by the canners, the supply of fish being greater than was anticipated.

New York, Nov. 7.—If any one thought the market of the last three days was manipulated and not the public, they were thoroughly undeceived today. There was a genuine bull market and stocks in every crowd moved up in response to orders that came from every side. There was tremendous realizing on the part of interests who have been compelled to sustain the market during the past eighteen months but stocks were easily absorbed and well distributed so that with the good news which the trade expects to be published daily in the papers there is every expectation that a higher plane of values will be reached. Of course there will be minor fluctuations but a runaway market with the accumulated savings of the world which has been economical for two years behind it means a big advance over today's close.

YAKIMA POTATOES $4 LOWER WITHIN WEEK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

North Yakima, Wash., Nov. 7.—The price of potatoes here has dropped $4 a ton in the last few days. Because of the sudden reduction ranchers in this valley will lose thousands of dollars. But the loss is not nearly so heavy as it might have been because many of the growers have disposed of their crops at the former price of $16 a ton. The cause of the reduction is the receipt in Seattle of large receipts of an inferior stock from California. Potato growers here will not make much money this year, as in addition to this low price of $12 a ton the crop was not nearly so large as usual.

There was a firmer tone throughout the local grain situation today. The advance of ½d in Liverpool prices was one factor toward stiffening values, all of which, however, showed no change from yesterday.

A feature of the market was the stronger tone in barley. With another advance in both cash and futures in San Francisco today, holders here stiffened in their views regarding the future, and while no changes are reported locally today, it is not believed that the holders are willing to let go at the quoted figures. There has been more demand shown from Europe than for some time past, and recently two more cargoes were sold by local people.

Oats market is quiet with producers still holding their supplies, unwilling to offer at present price, and buyers not willing to offer more.

Wheat is disposed to show added strength, but no change is noted in either cash of future values for the day.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—With foreign markets very stiff and higher this morning this market made a sharp response at the opening of the wheat pit. At the opening December went to 100½, May to 104 and July to 99¼c.

The market began to show great strength right after the opening. Buying orders appeared from all sides and for a Saturday the volume of business was quite heavy. Crop news contributed greatly to today's strong market, not a little of the strength coming from the situation in Argentina, which is said to be not nearly so good as late cables have indicated.

Most of today's strength was obtained near the close of the session, the last transactions showing a net advance of 1⅛c to 1⅜c over the final figures of Friday.

METSCHAN GLAD TO GET HOME

Hotel Man Returns From Extended Trip Through Europe.

"The greatest event of my 16 months' trip abroad," said Phil Metschan, of the Imperial hotel this morning, "was my arrival home last night. I had a fine trip and a good time and all that, but there is nothing like getting home. I began seeing persons I knew as soon as I landed in the United States. As I neared home I began to see more friends and at The Dalles two sons and their families came aboard the train, unexpectedly to me. Today it seems that I know everyone I see."

Since Mr. Metschan left Portland for a visit to his old home in Germany his two sons, Phil and Otto, have been attending to the hotel business and among other things they have accomplished is a new hotel which is to be built by Theodore B. Wilcox for the Metschans.

"The boys have done all right—fine in fact," Mr. Metschan continued. "And just think! You have passed through a money panic since I went away. Yes, the boys did all right. I couldn't have done better myself."

It had been 54 years since Mr. Metschan left his old home in Germany. While away he visited all the principal cities and countries of Europe. Mr. Metschan was accompanied by Mrs. Metschan, his daughter, Miss Lillian Metschan and Miss Pansey Sweetser.

LARGE CARGO FOR SAILING SCHOONER

Crescent Clears for Guaymas With Oregon Forest Product.

With a cargo of 1,701,698 feet of lumber, valued at $16,008, on board the American five-masted schooner Crescent, Captain Olsen, will leave down the river this afternoon, bound for Guaymas, Mexico. This is one of the largest cargoes ever set afloat from this port on a sailing schooner and it exceeds in size most of the cargoes carried by foreign windjammers of larger registered tonnage.

The Crescent was expressly built for the lumber trade and the long hold has no obstruction whatever in the way between decks or stanchions to obstruct the stowing of the lumber, excepting the heavy timbers that separate the hold into two sides. The Crescent is considered one of the finest specimens of the typical American lumber drogher and as compared with the square-rigger, only a small number of men are required to handle her. The sails are hoisted by steam power and it is hardly ever necessary for anyone to go aloft except to keep the rigging in first-class trim.

Most of the material being shipped on the Crescent is to be used in railroad construction work. Mexico is continually getting increased railroad facilities and a considerable portion of the timbers are supplied by mills in the city and on the lower Columbia. Down at Stella the schooner Benicia is loading railroad ties for Guaymas and it is only a few days since the barkentine M. J. Griffith was sent from that place with 20,000 pieces of ties for the same destination.

Mexico is also buying large quantities of oak ties from Japan.

HEAVY FLOUR SHIPMENTS

Three Full Cargoes Go to Orient During November.

Portland will have two regular oriental liners in the harbor next week, both the Alesia and the Arabia being due to arrive. The Alesia should reach the river Monday and the Arabia should show up Friday or Saturday.

The Alesia comes direct from Yokohama bringing a fair quantity of freight consigned to local importers. The Arabia comes by way of Honolulu and San Francisco and is also expected to bring some freight consigned to local firms. The Alesia brings no overland freight and what comes on the Arabia will be discharged at San Francisco.

The departure of two oriental liners from here in such close succession will bring the total flour shipments for the month to a high figure, approximately 170,000 barrels, since one liner, the Nicomedia, has already cleared this month for the orient with 52,000 barrels of flour. The Alesia will carry a full cargo, about 55,000 barrels, and the Arabia is expected to take a similar quantity. The Alesia's cargo goes to Vladivostok.

STEAM SCHOONER ASHORE

Aberdeen Sticks on Sands in South Bay, Humboldt.

Eureka, Cal., Nov. 7.—Resting easily on a sand bar in South bay the steam schooner Aberdeen, with 500,000 feet of lumber aboard is awaiting today a favorable tide to assist the tugs in floating her. Captain Carey in command of the vessel and his crew of 16 men are safe and no danger to the vessel is apprehended.

With no surf, and the vessel on an even keel, Captain Carey after sending to Eureka for aid, decided to wait until today before attempting to float the schooner.

The Aberdeen was built in 1899, and is owned by the Pacific Lumber company of San Francisco. She was bound for San Francisco.

Under charter to load about 2,000,000 feet of lumber for Australia, the British steamer Forerie of the Frank Waterhouse line, reached Astoria yesterday and went to one of the mills there to load. She will go to Australia by way of San Francisco, where some general cargo and mail awaits her.

Another Frank Waterhouse liner, the Gymeric, will be here next month to load for Australia. The Gymeric's cargo will be supplied by local mills and it will measure about 2,500,000 feet. The Gymeric and Forerie have both been here before.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The steamer Alliance sails for Coos Bay this evening and the steamer Breakwater is due to arrive from there tomorrow.

The steamer Eureka, which arrived here last night from Eureka and Coos Bay, is booked to sail again this evening.

The Harriman liner Rose City sailed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for San Francisco with 400 passengers and 2,500 tons of freight, a capacity cargo.

The steamer Nome City is scheduled to leave San Francisco this evening for Portland with passengers and a large quantity of freight.

The British ship Wynnstay will clear this afternoon for Queenstown or Falmouth for orders with a cargo of wheat, measuring about 110,000 bushels.
