CRIMSON AND INDIANS IN PUGET

In the Form of a Football Game, of Course, and Under Football Rules, but It Is a Battle—Portland Man a Hero of It.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Boston, Mass., Nov. 7.—Harvard wiped out the shame of last year by defeating the Carlisle Indians and proved herself the leading candidate for championship honors by chasing the Redskins off the stadium this afternoon with a score of 17 to 0.

The result was one of the surprises of football history, for, in view of past performances, the Cambridge team started the game with the odds 2 to 1 against them.

Unable to make use of their vaunted drop kick, the Indians were inferior at the other stages of the game and only once put Harvard's goal in danger. The Indians only attempt at a field goal was blocked. Balenti's wonderful toe found plenty of employment in punts and short kicks, but he was given no chance to duplicate his past success in dropping the ball between the goal posts. Harvard had good use for the forward pass, but when she came within striking distance of her goal line she relied on straight football. Her scores were due to three touchdowns, from which she kicked two goals. One of these was the result of a brilliant 23-yard run by Corbett on a trick play, but the others followed a series of plunging line bucks.

For the first time this year, some say, Harvard had her "vander" up from the first kickoff. The fierceness of the play was emphasized by the number of penalties for offside work, holding and slugging. Early in the game Kennard, the crimson fullback, was driven weeping from the field for punching Waukeka, the Copper Head Indian, and his team suffered a penalty of 50 yards. Several members of the Harvard team received warnings and penalties for using their fists.

More than 30,000 persons saw the game and any kind of a seat sold in speculators' hands at an advance of 100 to 200 per cent.

Portland, Cambridge and Boston are aghast over Harvard's victory.

DARTMOUTH PUTS MORE HUMBLE PIE IN PRINCETON MENU

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Nov. 7.—Princeton's football team struck the worst snag of its season of disappointments this afternoon when, on the Polo grounds, it lowered its colors to the scrappy bunch from Dartmouth by a score of 10 to 6.

Showing a fine burst of good, old-fashioned football early in the second half, the Tigers ripped through the Hanoverians' line for repeated gains and scored a touchdown.

Then Midget Plishong, the Dartmouth quarter, and Schildmiller, the giant end, pulled off a piece of modern football, and by means of a forward pass crossed the Tigers' goal line for the touchdown that means the sweet morsel of victory for one and the ashes of defeat for the other.

It was a triumph of modern football over the old. Dartmouth's four points in the first half came from a cleverly executed field goal by Berwin, who booted the oval 33 yards and at a most difficult angle over the bar and between the uprights. Dartmouth's touchdown, too, was the result of the development of the modern game.

Princeton played the simplest kind of football. Up to date, Princeton has uncovered nothing new and if she comes to the scratch next Saturday with a team of the usual Princeton calibre, her supporters will be as much surprised as anyone.

The game was played under perfect weather conditions and nearly 15,000 people watched the struggle. Princeton, while she played the best game of the season, showed herself still uneven in her attacks and one time had to yield the ball on downs when within five yards of a touchdown. Final score, Dartmouth 10, Princeton 6.

Cornell Defeats Amherst.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 7.—With their lineup greatly weakened on account of injuries to their star player, Cornell managed to defeat Amherst by a score of 6 to 0 this afternoon. It was the first gridiron battle the two elevens have ever fought, and although the visitors presented a field strong front, they were never near the Ithaca goal.

Yale Freshmen Beat Princeton.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Showing her real strength and gaining most at will through Princeton's left tackle and guard, Yale's freshmen defeated the freshmen from Princeton by a score of 6 to 0. The game was closely contested, especially in the first half, when the Princeton youngsters withstood the hard attacks of the Yale boys.

West Pointers Barely Win.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Springfield Training school's eleven furnished a surprise today to the cadets, and but for the failure to kick a goal after a touchdown had been made, would have played Uncle Sam's men to a tie game. West Point won by a score of 6 to 5.

Middies Win With Ease.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 7.—Villanova proved much easier for Annapolis today than was expected and the Middies won by a score of 30 to 6.

Brown Holds Yale to a Tie.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—Brown held Yale to a tie score today, 10 to 10. In the first half, scrapping made a for-

PRINCIPALS IN THURSDAY'S BIG WRESTLING MATCH FOR COAST CHAMPIONSHIP

E. J. O'Connell, the Challenger.

When these two votaries of the grappling art, Strangler Smith, the present Pacific coast middle-weight champion, and Eddie O'Connell, the new instructor of the Multnomah club, who holds a clear title to the welter-weight championship of the United States, come together in Merrill's hall, next Thursday night, Portland followers of the game will see the greatest wrestling match pulled off in Portland in years.

Ever since the two grapplers were matched two weeks ago the hundreds of fans in Portland and near vicinity have been itching to see them get together. They are so evenly matched from all appearances that the mix-up will undoubtedly go the full five falls before a winner is returned.

Smith Is Popular.

Smith is immensely popular among the labor union people, and they will back him to a man. They have followed his fortunes for seven years, and those who backed their judgment with coin of the realm have won much more than they have lost. In fact, Smith has won nine-tenths of his matches since he has been wrestling here, his defeats being always to men who outweighed him from 40 to 75 pounds. With his record he will no doubt be forced into a favorite over the clever fellow who is teaching the young of the Multnomah club.

Smith was never in better condition than right now. He quit off stevedoring over ten days ago and has been working out hard ever since. He has been taking a daily run of five miles for the past few days and has been afterwards worked out with the medicine ball. In the forenoon and afternoon he has worked out with his trainers, Henry Newman, Frank Ely and Bill Schroeder. He has taken on all three of them separately every afternoon, right after the other, for nearly two hours. He will keep this up till Tuesday, when he will begin to taper off. Smith is a glutton for work, and he is making the most of his training.

Strangler Is Confident.

And above all, he is enthusiastic and content. He is forming a false opinion of the prowess of his sterling young opponent, but knows him to be wonderfully clever wrestler. Smith said yesterday that he would be extremely cautious against O'Connell in the first fall, and would try his man out. Then he will go after him at full speed, as counts upon his greater strength to tire the instructor out in the five falls.

Then, again, if Smith gets the strangle hold, for which he is famous, on O'Connell, his great strength will stand him in hand to bear down the easterner. Smith has been planning his line of attack ever since he saw O'Connell in action against Dick Hart last month. He believes he has a shade on O'Connell, and isn't afraid to let his backers know it.

Eddie Has One Advantage.

On the other hand, O'Connell has this advantage of Smith: He came from the front-end of the wrestling game—New York. If there is anything in the art that he is not familiar with, it is something yet to be sprung. He has trained with Jimmie Heel and Champion Gotch. He has thrown some of the greatest men in the country in the light, welter and middle-weight classes. He so terrorized George Bothner, the present lightweight champion, that Bothner allowed O'Connell to pull down the forfeit money and crawled out of the match. He is the undisputed welter-weight champion, and has a half interest in the present middle-weight title. If that isn't enough to scare out a man, then there is nothing that is. But it doesn't scare Smith.

Longer Than Local Man.

His length, he has a foot advantage on Smith, will give him a great advantage, it would seem. But on account of the strangle hold he will not have ward pass to Dennis, and Dennis scored. McKay failed to kick a goal. Brides and Coy then rushed the ball to the 30-yard line and kicked a goal from the field. In the second half Johnson passed to Haines, who took the ball over for a touchdown. Hobbie kicked the goal a minute before the game was over McKay made a 40-yard run for a touchdown but there had been holding in the line and the score did not count.

Michigan 49, Kentucky 0.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 7.—Michigan defeated Kentucky today by a score of 49 to 0. The Colonels were not in it any stage.

Strangler Smith's Wonderful Back Muscles. O'Connell's Combination Hammerlock and Toe Hold.

much of an opportunity to use his famous body and head scissors on the local luminary. His longer arms may give him an advantage, and he is just the boy to make the most of these valuable members. While Eddie doesn't look in his store clothes to have a very strong neck, yet he will deceive you there. He has a neck that has resisted the strangle hold more than once and whether the tenacious Smith will have any advantage in working on O'Connell's neck remains to be seen. Any way you want to size the situation up, it looks as if it will be a battle such as has never been seen in this neck of the woods. Seldom are two men found who are so evenly matched. O'Connell will bring about four-fifths of the Multnomah clubmen down to cheer for him, which means that they will come about 500 strong. Smith following will be just as vociferous even if not so numerous. However, Smith being a local man will no doubt attract as many admirers as O'Connell.

FARMERS WIN AT CORVALLIS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 7.—Before a large and enthusiastic crowd the O. A. C. team this afternoon defeated Willamette university by the score of 28 to 0. 23 points of which were made in the first half. O. A. C. kicked off and soon took the ball, shoving Wolff over for a touchdown in two minutes' play. The goal was kicked. Willamette kicked off to Hastings who returned the ball 20 yards after several scrimmages. Keck received the ball and made a 35-yard run through a scattered field for a second touchdown. Willamette again kicked off and made a determined stand, but was unable to check the determined advance of the Beavers, and Hastings was shoved through tackle for a third touchdown. After the kickoff and exchange of punts Keck took the ball at the center of the field and ran for a 15-yard line, but holding on the part of O. A. C. prevented the touchdown from being allowed.

Second Half.

In the second half numerous penalties were inflicted on O. A. C. for minor offenses and this caused considerable delay. Late in the second half, Hastings carried the ball over for the only score of the half, but no goal was kicked. Wolff received the kickoff on O. A. C.'s 15-yard line, but holding on the part of O. A. C. prevented the touchdown from being allowed. Willamette played a determined game, but was too weak to stop the onslaughts of the husky Beavers.

O. A. C. showed much improvement in conference, but played old-fashioned football, attempting the forward pass only five times, with fairly good results. Sullivan was the star for Willamette, but Cummings played equally well until his ankle was wrenched, putting him out of the game. Keck, Brodie and Hastings starred for O. A. C.

The seniors and juniors played their second scoreless game as a preliminary to the varsity game.

The lineup of the teams in the main game was:

O. A. C.	Position.	Willamette.

WHITWORTH WINNER OVER OREGON

Forbes' Men Completely Outplayed by Eleven From Little College on Puget Sound—Final Score Is 16 to 10.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Nov. 7.—Underestimation of Whitworth's strength and lack of team work gave the game to Whitworth today by a score of 16 to 10. Both teams were frequently penalized by Referee Hockenberry. Whitworth outplayed Oregon in every department of the game, showing splendid interference and team work. In every line buck the whole team was behind the man with the ball and their interference on runs was excellent.

On defensive their line held repeatedly. Oregon seldom making yardage. Two of Whitworth's three touchdowns were results of sensational 60 and 60 yard runs by Colbert. The first took place three minutes after play began, when he received one of Moulten's punts in the center of the gridiron and with splendid interference downed through a scattered field. Goal was missed.

Toward the end of the half Whitworth was forced back by a punt and the 15-yard penalty for holding and Means blocked a kick, knocking it behind the line where Michael fell on the ball for a touchdown. Moulten kicked goal, putting Oregon in the lead for the first half.

An inside kick recovered on Oregon's 5-yard line gave Whitworth her second chance to score. Tanner carrying the ball over. Again the goal was missed, but three minutes later Moulten tied the score by a place kick from the 20-yard line where it had been advanced after Michael had recovered a punt on Whitworth's 30-yard line.

Whitworth's last score was made on a brilliant 60-yard run by Colbert. The ball had gone over Oregon's goal line and Clarke had kicked out to Colbert who dodged through the entire Oregon team. Moulten kicked goal, putting Oregon in the lead for the first half.

Whitworth's back line outlasted Oregon's, the trio carrying the ball frequently for ten and 15 yard gains through the Oregon line. The result the utmost efforts will be put forth to get the team into shape to defeat Wash State. Referee Hockenberry. Coach Forbes would make no statement concerning the game.

Between halves rosters 250 strong paraded the field singing and yelling, and after the game a rally was held in front of the gymnasium. Penalties on both sides were frequent. Referee Hockenberry interpreting rules very strictly. The lineup follows:

right, Volght, Harding; center, Means;

TACOMA HIGH WINS OVER WASHINGTON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 7.—By a drop kick from the 25-yard line, with but three minutes to play in the second half, Tacoma High defeated Washington High of Seattle today, the final score being 4 to 0. Once in each half Tacoma had the ball on Seattle's one-yard line, but was unable to carry it across. From the first kickoff Tacoma kept the ball in the enemy's territory, due to phenomenal accuracy in the forward pass and superiority in open plays. Neither team was able to gain through the line, and with the local team considerably outpunting the visitors, Tacoma's score was made by Seattle's superior knowledge of old-style play.

Over 3,000 saw the game, breaking all records for this district. Hundreds came from Seattle, and Tacoma is seeking to-night a demonstration down town never before equaled.

Loss of game practically eliminates Tacoma from the championship race.

That honor now lies between Tacoma and Lincoln High of Seattle, which will play shortly.

Purdue 16, Northwestern 10.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Evanston, Ill., Nov. 7.—The boiler-makers defeated Northwestern in the first game the Methodists have had with a conference college in three years, by a score of 16 to 10. There was no count in the first half, Purdue being unable to bore through Northwestern's line. The open plays of the Methodists failed to get the ball across the goal line. Purdue was first to count, pushing over for a touchdown and kicking goal shortly after the second half started. Then Northwestern made a touchdown and kicked goal. A second touchdown and a field goal put Purdue's score 16, while a field goal was all Northwestern could add.
