

SOCIETY

THE WEEK has not been a very busy one. A few small teas, a few luncheons, and a few dinners, mostly for visitors or newcomers, have filled the calendar. The coming week a good many affairs, some large and some small, are scheduled and it promises to be an interesting period.

Halloween festivities ruled last Saturday and held over through a few of the early week events. The approach of Thanksgiving which is always remembered as soon as November steps in, is bringing on the preparations for family reunions.

Clubs are organizing for the winter and soon the dance season will be in full swing. Two fortnightly clubs have included in their membership most of the younger married people.

Mrs. Gustave Bruere entertained with a tea Thursday afternoon at her attractive home on North Twenty-fourth street. She took this opportunity to introduce two recent comers, Mrs. Charles M. Gunn and Mrs. Ellis Lawrence, who are to make their homes in Portland. These two received with her. Mrs. Bruere was gowned in cream broadcloth, cut on the sheath lines and trimmed with handsome lace. Mrs. Gunn wore a cream cloth empire gown and Mrs. Lawrence a cream silk gown. In the dining-room Mrs. Bruere and Mrs. Sanderson Read, in old rose gowns, and Mrs. W. F. Biddle and Mrs. E. G. Reed, in cream gowns, poured tea and served loaves. Old rose chrysanthemums decorated the tea table. In the drawing-room and library were yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. W. L. Wood, in cream cloth, and Mrs. Alan Welch Smith, in full green broadcloth, served punch.

Mrs. George D. Peters was hostess Friday afternoon with a charming tea at her pretty bungalow in Irvington. The rooms were pretty with large bouquets of chrysanthemums as the only decoration. Mrs. Peters was dainty in a sheath gown of soft warp Henrietta of a deep cream shade, trimmed with cluny lace and pearl passementerie, with a sachet director's sash.

In the dining-room the tea table was beautiful with a Japanese drawnwork cloth over yellow satin, and a huge bowl of gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums beneath the yellow art shade of the chandelier. Mrs. Thomas Mac-Donald Peterson, Mrs. Horace Mecklen and Mrs. Clinton Shomo served the first part of the afternoon and Mrs. Ross Mills Plummer, Mrs. Henry Frank and Mrs. Arthur Barndrick the latter part. Mrs. Plummer wore an exquisite gown of old rose director's satin, cut director's, and trimmed with gold lace and cream net. Mrs. Shomo also was in rose satin. The others, all recent brides, wore their wedding gowns of cream or white satin. Assisting them in serving were Miss Marguerite Shawb, Miss Wilma Pike, Miss Katharine Whitmer and Miss Evelyn Hams, all in pretty, light frocks.

In the living-room Mrs. Peters was assisted by her mother, Mrs. George Langford, in gray silk, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. I. D. Peters, in a lavender cloth costume. She was also assisted by her sister, Mrs. Ray Matson, in a stunning director's costume of pink broadcloth of la France rose shade, with bodice of panne velvet of the same shade and a large pink plumed hat to match, and Mrs. John G. Peters, in a pretty gown of pink voile, touched with white lace.

Mrs. Robert S. Howard Jr., and her sister, Miss Von Destinson, entertained Friday afternoon with six tables of bridge in compliment to Miss Stella B. Meade of New London, who is spending several weeks here at the Nortonia.

The other guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. Howard Mather, Mrs. Arthur C. Minott, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. W. C. Alvord, Miss Henrietta Felling, Mrs. C. F. Beebe, Mrs. William T. Allen, Mrs. John Eben Young, Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mrs. William MacMaster, Miss May Felling, Mrs. Frederick G. Wheeler, Mrs. James Canby, Miss Sally Lewis, Mrs. Frederick G. Sykes, Mrs. Morton H. Insley, Mrs. C. E. Chensery, Miss Mary Montgomery, Mrs. Edward Cookingham, Mrs. John C. Robinson, Mrs. Clarence B. Sewall and Mrs. Percy Blyth. Later several more came in for tea, and Mrs. Warren F. Houghton and Clarence Nichols poured.

The Portland Alumnae of the university of Oregon are making elaborate preparations for their annual Thanksgiving dance. It will be given this year at the new Masonic temple, West Park and Yamhill streets. The ball after the big Thanksgiving football game with Multnomah club has become an annual affair which is looked forward to each year as the distinctive college event of the entire season. A large number plaudits of some of the largest and most fashionable audiences in the country, has made her home in Portland permanently. Through the program has not been finally arranged, there is a general hope among her friends that she will contribute something to it for those who heard her at a recent recital of her pupils were convinced that although youth has passed her physical body it has left her brilliant mind unimpaired and she still has the old fire that endeared her to throngs of theatre-goers.

Miss Eytzinger is a charming hostess and her friends call upon her often at her apartments on Flanders street. She is full of interesting reminiscences and still does not have the fault of most retired stars—reminiscing only about herself.

Mrs. M. F. Henderson of Willamette Heights entertained Tuesday afternoon with an "election party." The rooms throughout were decorated with the national colors. At the tables dissected pictures of the presidential candidates had to be made whole again by the guests and the first successful ones were rewarded with a copy of "George Washington's Memoirs" and the "Sayings of Roosevelt," in book form. The winners were Mrs. Barber, recently of California now of Alexandria Court, and Mrs. A. D. Walker. The score cards were reproductions of the American flag. Refreshments carried out the national color plan. The lunch cloths were of Japanese paper stamped with flags. Red and white candles lighted the room and red sylvia and white cosmos attractively placed in settings of blue paper were on the table. Late in the afternoon a ballot was taken and Taft was elected by popular majority. Mrs. Henderson's guests were Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Mrs. Frederick Er-gert, Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe, Mrs. Edwin Caswell, Mrs. F. E. Beach, Mrs. F. M. Gilbert, Mrs. C. W. Hodson, Mrs. Helen B. Cardwell, Mrs. Luther R. Dyott, Mrs. H. H. Northrup, Mrs. J. B. Cleland, Mrs. P. Thomas, Mrs. E. W. Listerwood, Mrs. M. C. Griswold, Mrs. R. M. Gray, Mrs. A. W. Anthony, Mrs. M. L. Nicholson, Mrs. R. W. Wilson, Mrs. E. A. Sessions, Mrs. E. Little, Mrs. E. R. Rumelin, Mrs. H. M. Grant, Mrs. F. L. Johnston, Mrs. W. B. Knapp, Mrs. J. A. Sheffield, Mrs. J. P. Fordyce, Mrs. F. and Walker, Mrs. Frank Dayton, Mrs. A. E. Butterfield, Mrs. George W. Bates, Mrs. F. Chapman, Mrs. P. N. Parker, Mrs. B. W. Montague, Mrs. P. L. Willis, Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley, Mrs. Rhoda Ashley and Mrs. A. F. Dresser. Assisting the hostess were Miss Florence Dayton, Miss Emma Fordyce, Miss May Henderson and Miss Bonney Henderson.

The club of the young married set which was organized last year and an equally such delightful dances, has been reorganized with its first new members and will have its first dance tomorrow evening at Muriark hall. As before, there will be an instructor and the dances will be entirely informal in nature. The membership is limited to a certain number and several requests for membership have had to be refused. The membership list this year comprises Mrs. A. C. Chensery, Mrs. E. C. Mears, Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Sykes, Mr. and Mrs. L. Alford, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. M. and Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Dr. and Mrs. George O. Peigram, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Sewall, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Corbett, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Skene, Mr. and Mrs. Wells Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. John Eben Young, Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chensery, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson Reed, Dr. H. C. Joffers and Rodney L. Gilman.

A beautiful tea Wednesday afternoon presented a popular debutante, Miss Cornelia Cook, whose picture is shown today. Miss Cook is a charming demure with pretty coloring who will be a popular addition to the younger set. She has recently finished at Rogers' Hall, Lowell, Mass., where her sister, Miss Cully Cook, is now attending school.

Wednesday afternoon she made her initial bow to society at a large tea given by her mother, Mrs. J. W. Cook, at her Portland Heights home. Several hundred guests called during the afternoon. The rooms were beautiful with pink chrysanthemums in the receiving room, parti-colored cosmos in the den where punch was served, and gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums in the dining-room.

Mrs. Cook wore a handsome gown of black chiffon satin trimmed with imported gold passementerie, black duchesse lace and net, and she wore diamonds and carried violets. Miss Cook wore simple decorative frock of white chiffon cut director's, with handsome embroidered trimmings, and she carried violets. Receiving with them were Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. John E. Miller of Salem, in an imported gown of black embroidered silk, trimmed with black lace; Mrs. Vincent Cook in dull green silk touched with handsome white lace, and Mrs. George B. Maxwell, in a handsome costume of navy blue broadcloth, trimmed with thread lace of the same tone.

In the dining-room the tea table was attractive with yellow chrysanthemums and yellow shaded candles. There Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. Curtis Strong and Mrs. George F. Taylor poured tea and served loaves. Mrs. Teal was elaborately gowned in a beautiful sheath gown of chiffon cloth in a lovely amethyst shade. Mrs. Strong was in black silk, and Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Taylor wore gowns of chiffon in pale color. Mrs. A. L. Maxwell served punch in the den. The girl friends of the debutants who assisted about the rooms were Miss Lesley Smith, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Harriet Kinney, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Miss Olive Felling and Miss Lindley Morton.

The Fortnightly club, a new organization composed mostly of young married people, with a few unmarried members, had its first dance last Monday at Muriark hall. The members are looking forward to many pleasant dances throughout the year. Their affairs are all informal and are limited to the members only, who in turn are limited in their numbers. Their dances alternate with the other fortnightly club, which also meets on Monday nights at Muriark hall, and which opens its season tomorrow night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Raley of Irvington have just returned from a delightful motoring trip through the New England states. They have been gone three months and much of that time has been passed in their fine car. They traveled over 7,000 miles. Mrs. Raley is one of the most popular matrons in the Irvington set and is a musician of ability.

Mrs. I. D. Peters entertained Tuesday afternoon, assisted by her daughters-in-law, Mrs. John G. Peters and Mrs. George DeFeters. The rooms were pretty with chrysanthemums and Oregon grape. Bridge was played early in the afternoon and later a number of friends came in for tea. Mrs. Herbert Boulton and Mrs. Russell Sewall poured tea.

Mr. and Mrs. George Good and Miss Frances Lewis who have been traveling through Europe for over a year returned last week. They have been greatly missed as Mrs. Good is one of the most popular matrons in society and Miss Lewis figures prominently in all the young people's affairs. They will be entertained a good deal.

Mrs. B. F. Weaver entertained Monday evening the Fortnightly Bridge club at her home in Irvington. There were five tables and Mrs. McKinley Mitchell won the prize. The Halloween idea was sustained in decorations. The rooms were decorated and can't you see lanterns afforded the only light.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Crissey and Miss Annetta Crissey of St. Louis, the parents and sister of W. B. Crissey of the Portland Commercial club, have come to Portland to reside. They will spend a few weeks on Mr. Crissey's ranch before coming to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kerr entertained Thursday evening with a dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett for whom there has been so much entertaining lately. Mrs. Corbett is proving a most delightful and popular addition to society.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brand of San Francisco are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Frank Branch Riley. Mr. Brand a short time ago suffered a painful injury through a streetcar accident from which he is now recovering.

Miss Mabel Shea, who has been traveling through California the last four months, is now attending Marlborough finishing school where she will be the coming year.

Mrs. Clara B. Waldo and her daughter, Miss Edith Waldo left Thursday for the east to sail for Europe, where they expect to spend a year in travel.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fleischner and Miss Flora Fleischner left Thursday morning for Europe where they expect to spend a year. The Fleischners were fairly overwhelmed with good wishes and flowers on the morning of their departure and a large number of their friends were at the depot to bid them goodbye for they are among the most popular members of their set. Miss Fleischner who has a delightful voice will spend a good deal of time in study in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey L. Winslow who have been traveling in Europe since their marriage, are expected home next month in time for the holidays. Mrs. Winslow, who was Miss Alice Sibson, has not been in Portland for about two years and as she was a popular member of the younger set her return will be welcomed.

Mrs. J. Coulson Hare, one of the matrons who assisted in the collection of funds for the Baby home on tag day, gave a box party at the Bungalow theatre Saturday matinee, entertaining those who assisted her, the Misses Cavallin, Gilrich, Wehrung and Boscow, and an Fassel and Mrs. Walmatman Wade.

A marriage of general interest was that of Mrs. Reno Hutchinson and Rev. Melville T. Wira, Wednesday afternoon at Grace Methodist parsonage. Mrs. Hutchinson is the daughter of Mrs. Grace Hutchinson, and has many friends here. They will go to the Dalles to live.

An after-theatre supper was given Tuesday evening for Miss Louise Kent in honor of her birthday. A number of her theatrical friends and a few other guests gathered in her mother's apartments at Elton Court and surprised her on her arrival home.

Mr. Alfred C. Sears and her daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Sears, who have been visiting Captain and Mrs. Calkins at Newport, are at West Point attending Robert Sears, who is ill with typhoid. The cadet is now improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Nash returned Tuesday after spending the summer and fall on their ranch at Nashville. Mr. Nash, who suffered a nervous breakdown last spring, has entirely recovered.
