Forecast of Document Indicates That It Will Recommend Changes in Many Laws Including Sherman Anti-Trust.

(Salted Press Leased Wire.) Washington. 7 .- President Roosevelt's last annual in history as a faithful register of the accomplishments and aims of the present administration.

ent administration.

At no time during his term of office has the president given the attention to the president given the attention to the preparation of a message that he is devoting to this one. Roughly drafted while he was at Oyster Bay for the summer, and supplemented since his return by important departmental recommendations, he is still at work amending and polishing.

Much attention will be paid in the message to questions of economic reform in which labor is deeply interested. One of the most striking features will be recommendations of an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law exempting labor organizations from its provisions, and the passage of anti-injunction laws along the lines proposed last year.

Whether the president will push his fight for a larger navy by recommending the annual construction of four monster battleships has not been decided. He will, at any rate, ask for Additional fortifications for the Philippines and for sea coast defense in this country will be strongly urged.

Congress will be requested to broaden the powers of the interstate commerce commission in the supervision of rates before they become effective. The difficulties encountered in the adjustment of interstate rates by states having rall-road commissions have raised a demand for additional federal legislation that the president believes will meet with hearity support even by the minority party in congress. cially and otherwise, which he believes will accrue in Japan, China and other points of the Orient.

Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona will not be neglected, nor will the demand for the creation of an "Appainchian forest reserve." Also his advocacy of the adoption of a policy looking to the purchase of at least one legation site a year will be renewed.

The plasing of dates upon the labels of packing house products and the payment of the cost of inspection by the packers is another matter to which he will call attention. The demand for uniformity in divorce laws will be retirerated, as well as child labor legislation.

ball will be fixed at such an enormous amount as may be almost prohibitive. In that event they are preparing to apply for a writ of habeas corpus.

Morse still maintains the attitude that he is not guilty and that he can prove it. His counsel disagree entirely with the ruling of Judge Hough that entry in the books of a hank is false even if properly made, provided the act that caused the entry is in itself illegal. They intend to quote the rulings of other judges on that point, and appear to have no doubt that they will win.

legal. They intend to quote the rulings of other judges on that point, and appear to have no doubt that they will win.

Far from feeling the loss of the company of Curtis in the Tombs. Morse expressed himself today as glad that his former employe and president of the National Bank of North America had been freed. The attitude that Morse took was that it would in ng way aid his case to have Curtis remain in prison and as he always stood on his own feet, he can do so now without dragging down anyone else. It is not believed that Morse today is the wealthy man he is generally reputed to be. On the contrary, those who have suits against him say they believe that all the stocks and bonds he at one time possessed have been hypothecated.

Whatever he may have settled on his wife and sons is not known, but that he personally has anything like the fortune of $22,000,000, which he told Curtis sometime ago he possessed is not believed. Morse spent most of his time today receiving visits from his wife, sister, Miss Jennie Morse and his two sons, Benjamin and harry. Before the visits began he spent more than three hours with a pack of cards playing soltaire.

many bodies have been found under similar suspicious conditions.

Gwing to the remoteness of the locality and the great distance from the authorities, as well as to the uncertainty regarding which state the bodies were found in, the discoverers have buried the bodies where they were found. No publicity has been given to the finding of the dead bodies.

When the snow melted last spring, it human bodies were found between the two towns. They were all the victims of violent deaths, in every case the skull being crushed. Not one of the murdered graders was interred with a coffin or shroud. All went back to earth just as they had died, with their boots on.

For the country to go ahead now and make mistakes.

The campaign has demonstrated that Democracy has a great leader, but he has developed great opposition. Some day a really great opposition to Republicanism will be developed, but it will be by a real Jeffersonian party.

He said defeat had once come to the Republicans because they had a billion-dollar congress in two years. The government was great and expensive, and now a billion-dollar congress was the result every year.

Lewis, the next speaker, assured the club members that the Democrate swould work in harmony with the Republicans for the welfare of the country.

The Bankers club has about 200 members, most of whom are millionaires.

Intense Interest in Eilers Big Contest

Piano Manufacturers Decide to Increase Appropriation From $18,000 to $25,000.

While thousands of contestants who While thousands of contestants who sent in replies to the great Eilers Counting Contest, which ended several days ago, are anxiously awaiting the final decision of the judges, the well-known plano manufacturers who are co-operating with Eilers Piano House in this gigantic movement, have decided to materially increase the cash appropriation to be divided among the successful contestants.

INCREASED TO $25,000.

So intense is the interest manifested and so favorably have these manufac-turers been impressed, that instead of distributing $18,000 as originally in-tended and announced, it has been decided to increase the total amount to $25,000. This should be welcome news to the thousands of contestants in the Ellers Contest.

In the meantime, great headway is being made in the laborious task of axcertaining the winners. From present indications, the Board of Judges, composed of the following prominent men: Rev. Father H. J. McDevitt, Mr. Tom Richardson, Mgr. of the Commercial Club, and Prof. Frank Rigier, City Supt. of Schools, will be able to arrive at the fortunate winners in a few days, and definite announcement made in the papers possibly by Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

All prize winners will be notified by mail at the earliest possible moment, and to relieve the anxiety of the thousands of contestants Ellers Plano House is employing every effort to expedite the work as much as possible, and yet insure careful, accurate examination. MUCH PROGRESS BEING MADE.

their lives on American soil. The men are accused by the czar's government of crimes they deny ever having heard of until they were arraigued before United States commissioner Foote. Already an order is out for the deportation of Alexandrevitch, a tall young student, who was arrested several days ago and taken before the commissioner.

Upon the assertion of an interpreter that Alexandrevitch expressed willingness to return to Vilna for trial on charges of forgery, he was ordered turned over to a representative of the Russian government. Deputy Marshal Wainwright was sworn in as a special officer of the czar and was given papers for the deportation of Alexandrevitch. He took the prisoner into custody tonight and since then his movements have been secret.

Realising that Alexandrevitch's deportation means his execution shortly after his arrival in the czar's domains, the Lettish Social Democrats of Chicago held a meeting and telegraphed to their agent at Washington to present the matter to the secretary of state, if possible, before Alexandrevitch is deported.
