STRANGLER'S FRIENDS MAKE HIM FAVORITE

SMITH AND O'CONNELL CUT DOWN WORK

Friends of Strangler Smith have forced him into a 2 to 1 favorite over Ed J. O'Conneil, the former Yale and Cornell graduate, who is now wrestling instructor of the Multnomah club, in their match at Merrill's hall Thursday night. At these odds O'Connell's backers are jumping. They figure that he is a good bet and since he has not shown in many engagements here, figure that he is still practically unknown. That there will be a record-breaking attendance at the match is assured from the advance sale. At the Schiller, Cadwell and Rich cigar stores, where the easts have been on sale, there has been attendance at the match is assured from the advance sale. At the Schiller, Cadwell and Rich cigar stores, where the seats have been on sale, there has been a steady demand for them.

Both Smith and O'Connell have trained faithfully for the match and are now in the pink of condition. O'Connell has taken an immense liking to the Oregon climate and says he never felt better in his life. He will be prepared to travel faster than he has ever traveled before which means that the spectators will see something unusual in western wrestling, the element of high speed. Pinishes Hard Work.

O'Connell finished his hard work last night and today will commence to taper down. He worked out with his grappling partners this morning and will have a slight tussle with them tonight again. Tomorrow and Thursday the medicine ball and a little road work will finish for him.

again. Tomorrow and Thursday the medicine ball and a little road work will finish for him.

Smith continued his five-mile rufining stunt this morning but will only go three miles tomorrow and a mile the morning of the match. Thursday. He worked out hard this morning with his trainers and will have another hard hour tonight. Tomorrow he will, tone down to the medicine ball and cut out hard work altogether.

That there is intense interest in the match is shown by letters which have been received. Here are some of them: "Sporting Editor of The Journal—Do you think that Strangler Smith will be able to defeat Ed O'Connell in the wrestling match next Thursday night in Merrill's hall, three falls out of five? I have watched both men work out and I must confess that it is beyond me to pick the winner. I think Smith is the stronger of the two and ought to be able to tire O'Connell down in five falls, but then I am not overlooking that marvelous speed of O'Connell. And then O'Connell is pretty nifty himself when it comes to working those long. shapely muscles of his to the best advantage. I saw him down Dick Hart with a hammerlock that coulda', be heaten. I sen't think he should have tugged so hard on Hart's helpless hand, but then I guess he thought he should not take any chances, especially when Hart had one fall to the good. Well, who do you think'll win, anyhow?

"FRANKLIN ERWIN."

He Will Back Strangler.

He Will Back Strangler.

"Sporting Editor The Journal—I'm going to back Strangler Smith with all my wages. Didn't I see Smith throw a big Turk once that weighed 350 pounds with that strangle hold? Don't try to kid me into believing any 150-pound man likes this fellow O'Conneil can throw the Strangler, when he's got that strangle hold on tap. Haven't I seen him lift bigger loads than any long-shoreman on the dock? I've seen Smith in a score of matches and there won't be anything to the proposition, take it from me.

"Sporting Editor The Journal—I've just got $450 that says Smith can beat O'Connell in the wrestling bouts next Thursday night. I'll be at the ringside and Fill have the roll with me, you bet. I know that O'Connell has a great reputation in the east, but I also know that if Strangler Smith went east

For eczema and other skin diseases of a similar nature, certainly nothing in the world could be simpler than the formula for D. D. Prescription (oil of wintergreen compound in liquid form) now recognized as the remedy.

This wonderful remedy is composed principally of common oil of wintergreen, carefully combined with such well known healing and antiseptic substances as thymol, glycerine, etc.

San Francisco, Nov. 10 .- Members of the Olympic club today are offering personal bonds to meet the suit of Henry A. Schulze, an architect, who yesterday attached expensive foundations of a new club house to be erected by the athletic organization. The board of directors accepted the personal financial ald offered and will be joined by 60 members, each bonded in $1,000 to meet the architect's demand for $33,322.94.

The architect declares that the money is due him for plans of a clubhouse to be built by the Olympians. The board of directors assert that the clubiflouse never will be built from the plans submitted. Experts in architecture will be called by both sides in support of their ciaims and the case promises to become famous is the history of building design and construction in this city. East Side is in much better form than they have been for two weeks, having fully recovered from the awful drubbing handed them by the Seattle team, and are in fair shape. But little is known of the Salem team here, but from the quality of ball which they put up against the East Siders last year they are looked upon with respect by all the local teams. Chauncey Bishop is their coach. This game will probably give a line as to the strength of the valley teams and help to determine the state championship.

STEPHENS TIGHTENS

Good Game Is Spoiled by Poor Work on Part of Official.

Stephens Grammar school yesterday took a firm hold on the lightweight grammar school championship when it defeated Hawthorne, 14 to 5. The game was played on East Portland field, Fourteenth and Davis. Stephens fully deserved to win for they showed much better teamwork while McLynn and Elliott, two of her backs, showed exceptional line bucking ability.

What should have been a good game was spoiled largely through the referee, who seemingly lacked both knowledge of the game and the backbone to make decisions stick after he had given them. The boys were in dead earnest over the game as the winner would be in line for the grammar school championship. In the first half three forward passes were pulled off in succession, two by Hawthorne and one by the Stephens team, and each one of them touched the ground before being touched by a player. Not a penalty was meted out. was spoiled largely through the referee touched by a player. Not a penalty was meted out.

One especially flagrant decision robbed Hawthorne of the credit for kicking an unusually difficult goal. After the Hawthorne players had shoved the ball over the line near the side-lines, a Hawthorne player inadvertently laid the ball down while he prepared a place from which to kick. One of his fellow pleyers warned him, however, and as the Stephens players rushed up he grabbed the ball up, held it in position and Ostrander, the Hawthorne captain, kicked the goal. The goal was not allowed for reasons best known to the referee.

As for the game itself it was simply better teamwork which won for Stephens. Morrow ran his team well and every man was in the play from the start to the finish. Efficit and Mo-Lynn proved to be consistent ground gainers. A safety owing to a bad pass to Stone, Hawthorne's fullback, by Moore, the center, gave them a safety and the first

An onside kick to Andrews, a long forward pass to McKean and some short hard line bucks by Stone carried the ball to the 20-yard line and Cobb, on a quarterback run, made the remaining 20 yards and a touchdown, Hawthorne's only score. GREAT NORTHERN TO BUILD TO TACOMA

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tacoma. Wash., Nov. 10.—The mer-cantile organizations of this city have renewed their efforts to overcome the opposition displayed in the city counci to allowing the Great Northern railroad to enter Tacoma. James J. Hill an-nounced yesterday that the Great Northern was ready and willing to enter Ta-coma and would aid in the building of a grand central depot to equal any in the west.

Right field, Cobb.

Kling and Sullivan are the reincarnations of Kelly and Ewing.

Brown is regarded as absolutely the premier pitcher of the age. This was demonstrated in the great game that decided the outcome of the race in the National league this year. Hostile crowds and misplays behind him have no effect when his prayedous nerve no effect upon his marvelous nerve. Stovall is a player of infinite pluck. He hasn't an equal in either league in keeping his fellow players on edge.

Evers' playing in the world's series entitles him to the second base position on the all-star team.

Leach should have a clear title to third base when his great batting is reckoned along with his grand fielding. Wallace may rank slightly below other great shortstops in hitting, but his marvelous fielding should give him the volous fielding should give him the place. He is the nearest perfect infield-er the game has ever known. Fielder Jones will save more games by his wizard catches than he will lose by his failure to hit in pinches.

Donlin is great in every way—a terrific hitter, a beautiful fielder and a lightning fast base runner.

Cobb looms far and away above all the other right fielders in the land.

Baseball Men in Session.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10.—Minor league baseball owners and patrons will be particularly interested in the annual meeting of the National association of baseball clubs, the great minor league organization, which began at the Auditorium Annex today. There is some talk of redistricting the minor league territory and the matter may be discussed at the present meeting, though it is not at all probable that any action toward redistricting will be taken. There is no war talk this year and all indications point to a harmonious session. The reelection of President Pat Powers is assured.
