

CITIZENS AND FARMERS AT LECTURES

LET KAISER'S POWER BE CURBED

Willamette Valley Sections Turn Out En Masse to Profit by Visit of Demonstration Train—Professor Cordley on Fruit Pests.

National Liberals' Leader Denounces Wilhelm's Personal Rule and Demands a Responsible Ministry—Wildly Applauded.

Ralph A. Watson. Salem, Or., Nov. 10.—The largest crowd of the two weeks' journey of the Southern Pacific farming demonstration train greeted the demonstrators at Salem at noon today. The train stopped at the freight office down town and was surrounded by an eager gathering which listened with deep interest to the discussion of the professors and later went through the train to see the demonstrations. The train staid in Salem until 12:45 when it left for Gerards and Woodburn.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—Demanding that Chancellor Von Bulow introduce a bill limiting the Kaiser's personal power and reciting a long list of what he terms indiscretions on the part of the emperor, Herr Wasserman, leader of the National Liberals, today made a sensational attack on the monarch of Germany during a sitting of the Reichstag. He declared that reactionary forces were at work in the German empire that made the country more benighted in many ways than Turkey or Russia.

Five hundred people were at Jefferson to meet the train at the first stop in the morning. The train will stay at West Stayton this evening, and will reach Portland tomorrow night, after stopping at West Stayton, Silverton, Hubbard and Aurora.

When Wasserman had finished, Herr Welmer followed with a harsh criticism of the emperor, and Paul Singer, leader of the Socialists, followed him with an attack in similar vein.

Springfield Turns Out. Yesterday afternoon 500 people were at the depot at Springfield waiting to witness the demonstrations and hear the lectures of the different professors. The last stop was made at Brownsville, where fully 700 people were gathered.

There was the wildest excitement when the speakers denounced Wilhelm, and the Reichstag applauded again and again.

In this wise does Professor A. B. Cordley, entomologist of the Oregon Agricultural college, outline the purpose of his work and the reason for his visit with the Southern Pacific demonstration train, the Willamette valley tour of which is now drawing to a close.

The government ministers regard the situation as critical and fear that the ministerial government similar to that of England will follow the agitation aroused in the German parliament.

Professor Cordley has spent many years in Oregon, waging a continual fight against the encroachment of the fruit pests, the San Jose scale, codlin moth, apple scab and other diseases which have attacked the orchards of the state.

Wasserman opened the debate for the National Liberals. He was applauded loudly when he arose and the audience listened to his remarks with intense interest.

But what I am trying to tell the people on this trip, and what I have preached for years, is that a continual fight against fruit diseases will subdue the pests and bring the fruit of the state back to the grade of the early days when there were no wormy apples or scaly trees in the country.

Wasserman and Turkey Outdoers. "The Kaiser's last indiscretion," has aroused the German nation until the people are boiling over with indignation at his personal regime," he said.

WILLIAM WILL GO STAR-GAZING

Court Astronomer Will Be Added to His Personal Suite.

By Malcolm Clarke. Berlin, Nov. 10.—A court astronomer or astronomer is the latest addition to the Kaiser's already numerous personal suite. The idea is not a new or very original one, for during the reign of King Louis XIII of France the post of Astronomer Royal was an envied berth among the wisest men of Versailles, but Louis XIV abolished the office because some of the predictions of its holder displeased one of his mistresses.

The reason why William II has decided to have a court astronomer is that he has been struck by the extreme wisdom of certain statements of one of that ilk.

The declarations which thus brought astronomers into the good graces of the Kaiser were to the effect that the sign of the scorpion (October 24 to November 23) is particularly productive of good rulers.

Under that sign have been born President Roosevelt, Edward VII, the Mikado of Japan, the King of Italy and Frederick Falliers.

But will the new German court astronomer have an exit from the mouth of his master that the latter was born under the relatively uninteresting sign of Aquarius?

The silent fight for the crown of Serbia is going on between the Crown Prince George and his father, King Peter, whom the young man wants to abdicate in his favor.

The conflict has been going on for some time, but of late it has become decidedly bitter.

The Crown Prince, hitherto known only because of his madcap escapades, and his ungovernable temper, has suddenly become imbued with the most fervent patriotism, and hopes to become popular among the people, and especially in the army by provoking a war with Austria.

At a dinner of the officers' corps of the eighth crown prince expressed views concerning the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina exactly opposed to those of his father. He claimed the late attitude of Serbia toward Austria and concluded: "Our brethren in Bosnia must be set free, no matter what the powers of Europe decide."

As similar remarks come almost daily from the crown prince expressed views concerning the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina exactly opposed to those of his father. He claimed the late attitude of Serbia toward Austria and concluded: "Our brethren in Bosnia must be set free, no matter what the powers of Europe decide."

The allegation that the original inventor of the Zeppelin airship is not the aged and well-advertised Count Zeppelin, but a Jew named David Schwarz, is heard everywhere here.

The bitter war between the count and Major von Gross is followed with great interest by the Jews in Vienna, says a telegram from that city today.

Frau Schwartz, widow of the supposed inventor, who resides in Vienna, is, it is said, determined to "expose" Count Zeppelin, and declares that the Zeppelin airship was fully elaborated in David Schwarz's plans, which the count has in his possession.

MURDER CASE

lying at his side with two chambers empty when the body was picked up and was turned over to a policeman.

Robb Cooper is a practicing attorney, 37 years of age, and single.

Body Examined. Dr. McPherson, the physician who arrived at the scene of the tragedy soon after it occurred, said tonight:

"I found the body of Mr. Carmack on the right side of Seventh avenue as one walks to Church street from Union street. He was lying with his head facing north and his right arm raised over the head of the median line, and one inch below the hair line on the neck, posteriorly. The bullet entered the neck and made an exit from the mouth of the deceased. It was found on the street under his tongue, at the exit of the wound. Two front teeth were broken down, and a sliver of bone was found from Carmack's pistol."

The body of Mr. Carmack was fired for about five minutes, and in some of Frank Lander, general manager of the Tennesseean.

Another bullet entered the left shoulder about four and one-half inches below the right nipple, under the skin. Both of these wounds were clean.

The third bullet which I conceive to be the fatal one was in the neck. The wound was one and a half inches below the hair line on the neck, posteriorly. The bullet entered the neck and made an exit from the mouth of the deceased. It was found on the street under his tongue, at the exit of the wound. MANY TEMBLORS IN DEATH VALLEY

Three weeks of Quiverings, Then Shock That Drives the Miners Out.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 10.—Death valley and the surrounding country are today in the throes of a series of earthquakes, which began three weeks ago, and which have driven the miners out of the district.

The dismal craze of the funeral range seemed to fairly totter when the severe shock came. Miners were tossed from their bunks, camp equipment was scattered about, and scores of claims and rich prospects were abandoned before noon.

Reports from Ludlow and Daggett say that miners have been frequent for the past three weeks, but none has been severe.

Immense changes in underground rivers which intersect the great sink are believed to have taken place, and some of the miners believe the waters which once gushed through the valleys will again within a short time be flowing over the now arid sands.

Samuel Lawrence, one of the first miners to reach here with details of the earthquakes, said today that for three weeks past there had been one or two temblors daily. They had all been light with the exception of the one on Wednesday.

SIDELINE STORIES OF GREAT NORTHWEST

SPRING TO BE DEVELOPED

Pendleton Water Commission Sends Men to Thorn Hollow. (Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Nov. 10.—Yesterday morning a crew of men in the employ of the Pendleton water commission went to Thorn Hollow to begin the work of developing the springs in that locality with a view to determining the amount of water that may be secured from that source.

The crew is under the charge of Walter Wells and consists of half a dozen men. It is expected that it will require several weeks to complete the work. When finished, the engineers will be able to tell definitely whether or not sufficient water may be secured from Thorn Hollow.

Though the water commission has had an engineer at work at intervals for several months, the crew sent out yesterday will do the first actual work towards developing a gravity system.

Eisel carried the distance in 53:14.5, and was made by Willie Day at Staten Island.
