

OTTIE

THE organization of the winter dancing clubs with their first and second dances of the season has been the chief order of activity lately. The club of the younger married set, headed by J. Wesley Ladd, met in its first dance Monday night at Murlark hall. The Fortnightly Dancing club, which alternates with this club, will have its second meeting tomorrow. Some clubs have been set on foot among the younger people as well. The subscription dances among the younger set which proved so popular last year are to be renewed with a dance in the near future.

Auction bridge is the new card game that is attracting attention and several classes have been started in it. It is pronounced a most fascinating game, with enough relation to society's beloved bridge to make it popular and yet enough difference to make a desired change. For this reason it should prove more popular than that which was introduced last year, but did not meet with general popularity because it differs too radically from bridge and involves so much rapid counting.

Mrs. George S. Whiteside entertained with an informal tea Thursday afternoon in honor of Dr. Whiteside's sister, Mrs. Alexander Whiteside of Boston, who has spent some five weeks with them. The guests were those who have entertained Mrs. Whiteside, Sr. during her visit here. Tea was poured by Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. John Eban Young and Mrs. Ralph Wilbur. Assisting the hostess were Miss Henrietta Elliot, Mrs. Fred G. Sykes and Mrs. Herbert S. Nichols. Mrs. Whiteside expects to leave for home today visiting en route with friends in Minneapolis and Chicago.

An interesting event to art circles will be the lecture which Miss Josephine Locke will give at the Women of Woodcraft hall, Tenth and Taylor, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, in the interests of the art exhibit at Portland purposes to send to the Lyceum

International Art Exhibition at Berlin. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the art department of the Women's club and the public is invited. The effort to have Portland and its art treasures represented at this exhibition is a laudable one and has met with much encouragement. Several prominent people have lent their support to the movement and are contributing interesting articles. Among those interested in the work are Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur, Mrs. William F. Biddle, Mrs. Hugh Hume, Miss Henrietta Felling, Miss Mary Felling, Mr. Koller, Mrs. C. H. Lewis, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell and the Oregon Historical Society.

Invitations have been received for the wedding of Miss Inez Cumming to Harold Perrell of New York, which will be celebrated at the Episcopal church at noon next Saturday. Miss Cumming went east early in the spring to visit with her distinguished aunt, Shanna Cumming, the singer, and there met Mr. Perrell, who is one of a prominent and wealthy family of New York. Miss Cumming is the eldest daughter of Dr. W. A. Cumming of this city and is a girl of unusual beauty and charm of manner. She is a tall brunette, built on slender, graceful lines, and with petite features. Her pretty soprano voice has placed her among the best known younger musicians of Portland. She has spent a good deal of time in study with her aunt in New York. Dr. Cumming and his daughter, Miss Veda Cumming, left Tuesday for New York to attend the wedding. On their return in about a month or six weeks they will move into their new, attractive home at Riverside.

Mrs. C. T. Whitney entertained Tuesday afternoon with a "4 o'clock chocolate" at her home on Willamette Heights. It was an informal affair, and the Misses Danaher of Chicago, who are visiting at the Portland, were honored guests. They assisted in receiving. The others assisting in the reception rooms were Miss Alice Sansbury, Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Walter B. Warren. Mrs. Whitney was handsomely gowned in white bengaline trimmed with white embroidered bands.

The living room was attractive in red with subdued lights and red carnations. The dining room was in pink with pink roses and tulip bouquets and pink shaded candles. Mrs. W. E. McCord and Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot poured.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Alvord entertained Tuesday evening in compliment to Miss Grace Monroe who has been their guest for several weeks and has proved one of the most popular of the younger visitors. Miss Monroe is a charming southern girl who lived originally in New Orleans and but in later years has made her home in Washington, D. C. The entertainment Tuesday evening consisted of mixed table games, played in progression, and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Harry Ladd Corbett and Kenneth Beebe. The consolation prize fell to Miss Aveline Webster. Mrs. F. G. Wheeler assisted her sister in entertaining her guests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. King this week announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lou King, to George L. McPherson, recently of Detroit, who has come here recently to make her home. The wedding is to be celebrated early in December. Miss King is a popular member of the younger set. She is a member of the Omega Nu society and has always been prominent in her social events. She was bridesmaid at the Greg-Brigham wedding recently. King's Heights, the fashionable residence quarter where Miss King has her home, received its name from her family, one of the old, prominent families of Portland.

Mrs. L. Allen Lewis entertained with a luncheon of 18 covers Thursday, in compliment to Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett. The table gave a beautiful bridal appearance with knots of pink tulle, rose geranium foliage and pale pink carnations forming a floral bed for the table. The guests were Mrs. Corbett, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Miss Frances Lewis, Mrs. F. Biddle, Miss May Felling, Mrs. George Good, Mrs. W. J. Burns, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Frances Wilson, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Percy Blyth, Mrs. Robert S. Howard Jr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd.

The first of the young people's subscription dances will be given Tuesday evening, November 24, at Murlark hall. The patronesses this year are Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. John K. Kollock and Mrs. William H. Warrens. The committee arranging the dances this year consists of Miss Claire Houghton, Antoine Labbe and Hawley Hoffman. Last year Miss Carolyn Burns was largely instrumental in the arrangement.

On account of the death of Mrs. Sarah Ahpel, sister of Mrs. Leah White, there was little entertaining among Mrs. White's friends last week. Mrs. Ahpel lived with Mrs. White, who is a prominent entertainer, an aunt of Mrs. L. N. Fleischner, and sympathies have been extended to the relatives in their bereavement.

The University of Oregon alumni are making plans for their annual Thanksgiving dance to be given after the Multnomah-Oregon game at the Masonic temple. The Parsons' orchestra will play. The patronesses for the evening are Mrs. Prince Lucian Campbell and Miss Luella Clay Carson of Eugene. Mrs. George E. Chamberlain, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur, Miss Henrietta Felling, Mrs. John C. Ainsworth, Miss Kate Holman, Mrs. William D. Fenton, Mrs. A. J. Giesy, Mrs. Henry W. Goddard, Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. Zera Snow.

Mrs. Wells Gilbert entertained at luncheon Thursday with eight covers in compliment to Mrs. Harry Stinson Sladen, a recent bride. Covers were laid for Mrs. Sladen, Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot, Miss Amy Heitahu, Miss Inez Barrett, Miss Effie Houghton, Miss Ernestine Felling, Miss Grace Warren and Mrs. Gilbert.

The marriage of Miss Harriet Ankeny to Captain Francis Pope of the fourteenth cavalry, at Walla Walla, will be celebrated next Wednesday, and her aunt, Mrs. Harriet K. McArthur will go over for the wedding.

Miss Hazel Dolph is being shown many attentions on her visit with Mrs. Eleanor Martin in San Francisco. The San Francisco papers speak of her as a charming young woman, a favorite in San Francisco. Among the courtesies shown her was a luncheon given by Mrs. Peter Martin of New York, who entertained a number of San Francisco's most prominent people as well as some prominent New Yorkers who are visiting in the Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerlinger and their daughter, Mrs. R. B. Dalton, returned to New York last week after several months in Europe and are at the Waldorf. They will spend some time in the metropolis before returning west. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerlinger Jr. will join them in New York and will return with them.

The announcement that Madame Nordica will give a concert here Thursday, December 10, is welcome news to society. She is a general favorite and her concerts are always among the largest and most fashionable events of the musical season.

A good deal of interest was shown in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Anderson, daughter of General and Mrs. T. M. Anderson, to Charles J. Gauld, which came as a good deal of a surprise. Miss Anderson will join her parents in Philadelphia, where they were called recently by the illness and the death of Mrs. Anderson's mother. The wedding will take place there in January. Mr. Gauld is a brother of J. G. Gauld of this city.

The first of the Scottish rite at homes will be given next Friday evening at the cathedral. Music, dancing cards, billiards and pool will be the amusements. Refreshments will be served in the banquet hall. The patrons and patronesses are: Mr. and Mrs. Bonase S. Josselyn, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Brydon H. Nicol and Mr. and Mrs. Newman J. Levinson. Music will be furnished by Parson's augmented orchestra.

A benefit reception is being planned by the Trinity Mission Guild for their work in charity, to be given Tuesday evening, December 8, at the Trinity parish-house. There will be a short program and dancing. The Trinity Guild are always popular. The officers of the guild are: Miss K. L. Trevis, president; Mrs. S. B. Lintburn, vice-president; Mrs. W. E. London, secretary, and Miss Thompson, treasurer.

A pleasant event of the week was a theatre party given by the Wednesday Evening Five Hundred club, at the Orpheum, followed by supper at the Portland grill. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. N. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cleaton, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. D. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. F. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hare, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mendall, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wehring, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Yates.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood entertained at dinner Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Edwards of Hay Creek, who are at the Portland. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Miss May Felling, Miss Carrie Planders, Richard Koehler, Child Hassam, the artist who is now with the Woods, and Maxwell Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey R. Winslow were at the Plaza in New York early in the week and will visit there for about a fortnight before returning to Portland about December 1. Mrs. Winslow, who was Miss Alice Sibson, will be warmly welcomed after her absence of two years.

Miss Dorothy Morrison is to have charge of the selling of candles at the Rosa Eytling benefit Thursday afternoon at the Hotel, and several of the girls of the younger set will assist her. Fashion has interested itself in this benefit, and it will doubtless be one of the big affairs of this week.

Mrs. Rudolph A. Marshall, Mrs. Clifford Fleming Marshall, Miss Marshall and Mrs. Frank Wood will be at home to their friends at 653 Multnomah street every Tuesday afternoon and evening until December 21.

Mrs. Thomas Kerr entertained at the Waverly links for her guest, Miss Judith Miller, Wednesday afternoon. There were a number of smaller parties there to see the opening of the golf tourney.

The Misses Felling entertained Friday with four tables of bridge for their sister, Mrs. H. C. Cabell.

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Honeyman entertained Wednesday evening at dinner

In compliment to the Grelles and to the Harry Ladd Corbetts, both recently married. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Grelles, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Lewis, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Kathleen Burns, T. Scott Brooks, Roderick Macleay and Maxwell Wood. The centerpiece was of autumn fruits.

The engagement of Miss Lisa von Manderscheid of Berkeley to Samuel Ely Eliot of Portland, which was informally announced in these columns some time ago, was formally announced last week at Berkeley by Mrs. Eda von Manderscheid. Mr. Eliot, a son of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Eliot, is this year holding the position of assistant professor of philosophy at the University of Oregon. He met Miss von Manderscheid in Berlin, where she was studying music at the time when he was a student at Oxford. The marriage will take place in the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Freeman entertained informally with four tables of bridge Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stinson Sladen. Mrs. Freeman will give a larger bridge party next Thursday afternoon in compliment to Miss Susie Stott.

SPECIALS IN LEGAL MATTERS
PORTLAND, OREGON

Portland, Ore., Nov. 10, 1908.

J. P. Burke,
Supt., McAllen & McDonnell, Inc.,
3rd & Morrison Street,
Portland, Ore.

Dear Sir:-

Some days ago you were instructed by the Board of Directors of McAllen & McDonnell, Inc., to dispose of all of the stock of the partnership firm of McAllen & McDonnell, in order to make room for the new stock of the incorporation now owning the business of the said partnership. There was no limit of reduction placed upon the selling price; your instructions were DISPOSE OF THE ENTIRE STOCK. The goods are not selling as rapidly as the Board of Directors desire. Arrangements have been made to remodel the store room, place therein new show cases and fixtures so as to make the store the leading up-to-date dry goods, notions and gentlemen's furnishing store in the Pacific Northwest. The changes and improvements cannot be made until the present large surplus stock of partnership goods and the early arriving new stock are disposed of.

Therefore you are now directed to make such REDUCTION IN THE SELLING PRICE OF EVERY ARTICLE in the store as will guarantee its disposal within the next four days. Our President and General Manager, Mr. Daniel McAllen, is giving his personal attention to the contracted improvements while you are to sell the large stock of hand.

Very truly yours,
The Board of Directors.
By H. S. Pague
Chairman.
