

BRINGS THINGS GOOD FOR OREGON

Dr. Kerr Enlists Federal Bureaus and Promises a Big Convention.

By John E. Lathrop.
Washington, Nov. 21.—President W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college today procured pledges from a majority of the members of the executive committee of the National Farmers' Institute, in convention here, for the meeting next July, at Portland. This will take 500 delegates besides their friends and families, to the Oregon metropolis.

The reduced rates on account of the Seattle exposition, Dr. Kerr said, "will include a large attendance. I have been assured that a number of presidents of agricultural colleges will go to the convention, afterwards spending their entire vacation at Portland and in its vicinity. Everything I planned before coming to Washington, I have succeeded in carrying through."

More important than the convention are the arrangements Dr. Kerr has effected with government bureaus for extensive assistance in experimental work in Oregon. The interior and agricultural departments have granted special concessions. The reclamation service will give lands, fenced and supplied with buildings, for an experimental station at Hermiston, and the bureau of animal industry will assist in maintaining it. The bureau of cereals has consented to cooperate with the state in dry land farming experiments in some dry county of the state.

"The results of these experiments will be to increase the state's production enormously," Kerr said.

SAVINGS BANK FOR LINNTON

Local Capitalists Will Open Institution for Business Within Fortnight.

Linton, near the mouth of the Willamette river, is to have its first bank within the next 10 days or two weeks. It is to be known as the Linton Savings bank. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday with the county clerk. The capital stock of the new bank is fixed at $15,000.

C. G. Wilson of the Clark & Wilson Lumber company of Linton, is to be president of the institution. S. M. Mann of Portland will be cashier. The incorporators are Mr. Wilson, Mr. Mann and J. Frank Watson, president of the Merchants National bank of Portland, and Mark Crandall, a retired farmer living at Linton.

The bank is to open for business as soon as possible in temporary quarters which are to be occupied until a building of their own can be built by the stockholders. A lot 60 by 100 feet was purchased for building purposes some time ago. A two-story building probably to be erected, the construction material being either of stone or brick. Architects are now at work on the plans. The bank building is to be modern in every way and will be one of the largest in the town.

Mr. Mann will remove from Portland to Linton to take charge of the bank's affairs as soon as all the details of opening for business have been completed.

LOT ON THURMAN HAS NEW OWNER

Mall & Von Borstel have sold for Ned R. Manger to Captain James Wats a lot 60x100 and a two-story store building on Thurman street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets. The property has an income of $95 per month and the consideration was $10,000. Captain Wats bought the property as an investment.

COTTAGE GROVE FAIR IS CLOSED

Cottage Grove, Or., Nov. 21.—The Cottage Grove District fair was brought to a close this evening. It was well attended and the displays were far beyond the expectations of the people. The poultry show was one of great interest.

PORTLAND BOY

It is doubtful if a cleaner exhibition of straight football has been seen in the east this season though by reason of the fact that the ball was seldom forced within the danger line by either team the contest was somewhat lacking in thrills. The teams were evenly matched, Coy, the Yale phenom, offsetting the splendid work of Verweib, Corbett and Kennard in the Harvard back field.

Big Yale Fullback.
The big Yale fullback's line plunging was easily the feature of the game, while his punting netted Yale from five to 10 yards to every exchange of kicks. Towards the finish, however, the herculean work he had been called upon to do told and in the final moments of the game when Harvard, despite a number of substitutions, was weakening perceptibly, Coy fell just a trifle short of performing the miracle that would have been required to have torn the game from Harvard's deathlike clasp.

The boys from Cambridge won the game near the close of the first half. The ball had been sent sailing up and down the field with fortune, hitting with first one team and then the other. Coy's line plunging time and time again carried the oval almost the length of the field, only to have it returned by the spectacular and ruse of Corbett and Verweib. Finally the crimson took the oval to Yale's 15-yard line. Then Harvard displayed a bit of strategy that won her the game.

Despite the fact that Verweib had been one of her surest goals, the big fullback was relegated to the sidelines and Kennard sent in to replace him. Dropping back 10 yards, the 30-yard line the new fullback booted a graceful drop kick, which Goebel braking through the hands of Verweib, touched with his finger tips. The ball scooted off a bit of an angle and teasingly cleared the bar by about three inches. The disturbance noted by the seismograph in Washington was the demonstration that resulted in the Harvard victory.

The Second Half.
The second half saw Yale plunging into the fray full of confidence and with the evident determination of pulling the game out of the mire into which she had done on many a hard fought field.

Those four points stacked up by Harvard, the first and registered against the blue in seven years, were a magic tonic to the crimson class gladiator and with all her reputation for the bull dog fighting spirit Yale never made a game stand than that put up by Harvard.

Time and again Coy and his assistants carried the oval into crimson territory, only to have Harvard brace hold for downs and then boot the oval back out of danger. In the kicking game toward the end of the half Coy had all the better of it. Working the ball to Harvard's 40-yard line, Johnson, who had relieved Corey, worked an onside kick which Coy recovered on Harvard's 18-yard line.

Big Crowd at Game.
Wheaton dove into the crimson line, which braced beautifully, and he gained a yard. Johnson then staked all Yale's chances on a forward pass. Holmes failed to hold the oval and Harvard recovered within a few inches of her own goal line. On the next play, Holmes booted the ball out of danger and Old Bill's last hope of victory went glimmering.

Forty thousand people witnessed the game. Ideal weather conditions and the evenness with which the rivals were matched served to bring out a record breaking crowd of alumni and it is estimated that almost 10,000 people were turned away. Never in the history of the annual contest has there been such a pile of money wagered on a contest.

Harvard students invaded New Haven today with their purses bulging. Tonight they are leaving with the same purses crammed to bursting. Conservative estimates place the amount wagered here in New Haven alone at almost $200,000, most of the money being placed at even money.

WISCONSIN PLAYS GREAT BALL, BUT MAROONS BETTER

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 21.—The Maroons put the middle west championship in cold storage this afternoon when they defeated Wisconsin, 18 to 12, in one of the most sensational games ever seen on Randall field.

The score does not fully convey an idea of the stubborn fight the Badgers put up. Chicago's victory was largely due to the generalship of Steffen, who took advantage of a brief attack of Badger stage fright in the first half to pile up 18 points. The Wisconsin rooters were turned fairly on their feet at the very outset when Steffen, the fleet Maroon quarterback, caught Stehman's kickoff on his own 10-yard line and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. This was accomplished only with perfect interference and an exhibition of dodging that reminded the spectators of Bokrosall.

Chicago's lead was short-lived, however. Wisconsin finally got the ball on the Maroons' 15-yard line, and the Badgers braced amazingly. Pierce line plunged by Oathoff and Wilce and a forward pass to Deau put the ball within a yard of the Maroon goal. Wilce was pushed over for a touchdown and Moll booted a difficult goal.

Chicago immediately broke its long forward passes into play and worked them so accurately that two touchdowns were scored in quick succession. Schommer kicked both goals.

In the second half the Badgers had retained their nerve and swept the Maroons off their feet with the variety and fierceness of their attack. On a fumble, Wisconsin got the ball on Chicago's 15-yard line and the Badgers readily scored a touchdown. Moll kicked a pretty goal. From then until the whistle ended the game neither side could score, although both goals were threatened several times. When time was called the Maroons had the ball in Wisconsin territory and were running it rapidly toward the Badger goal.

CARLISLE GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT BEFORE GOPHERS
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 21.—The Redskins met their Waterloo this afternoon. Thorpe's wonderful toe and the cleverness of the rest of Carlisle's boasted eleven availed nothing, when the Indians were defeated by Minnesota by a score of 11 to 6.

The victory of the Gophers was clean cut and decisive. The Indians did nothing in the second half with Minnesota's stonewall defense and the Gopher backs kept the ground around the ends with considerable ease.

Carlisle ruled favorite in the betting, odds of 1 being offered by the Indians' backers.

Shortly after the first kickoff Minnesota began to rip the Carlisle line to pieces. Johnson, by reason of his hand, handled forward passes with remarkable brilliancy and the ball was quickly carried to the Indian's three-yard line. Here Plankers was pushed over for a touchdown. Farnham kicked goal.

Shortly after, Carlisle carried the ball 70 yards on a series of forward passes and end plays and scored a touchdown and kicked goal.

In the second half, after the ball had seceded for 15 minutes, Johnson and McGovern, by reason of their forward passes, tore off 60 yards and Plankers was pushed over for a touchdown. Farnham failed at goal. The Indians could do nothing after this.

The call of time came with the ball in Minnesota's possession on Carlisle's 15-yard line and this alone prevented another touchdown.

Forward passes characterized the game throughout. The Gophers gained with the play nine times, netting a total gain of 161 yards. The Indians used the forward pass nine times, successfully only once.

MICHIGAN'S DEFEAT CALLED INGLORIOUS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Syracuse, Nov. 21.—Bad fumbling in the first half caused Michigan to go down in inglorious defeat before the Syracuse team today, the game ending with a score of 18 to 4. The Syracuse team began pumping up the score.

New Yorkers was at least the indirect result of fumbles by the Wolverines. Not a yard was gained in the first half. During the last few minutes of the game they outplayed an eleven, making repeated and material gains by means of long forward passes.
