Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer, Who Entertained With a Children's Party.

THIS is the season of engagements and bridal entertainments. The chief affairs given continue to be in honor of the two brides, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett and Mrs. Harry Binson Sladen, and the two brides-elect, Miss Effie Houghton and Miss Susan Scott. Other engagements are being rapidly added to the list of pending weddings. The engagement of Miss Hannah Adair, granddaughter of the late Bishop B. Wistar Morris and of the late General John Adair, to Lausant Rogers of Philadelphia was one announcement of interest. Miss Adair's betrothal was announced by Arthur Alexander came as a great surprise. Miss Lou King, whose engagement to George McPherson, and Miss Corinne Kelly who is to be married soon to William C. Barker, are others who have been recently added to the bride-elect list.

The benefits Thursday afternoon for Miss Eytzinge and Friday evening for St. Agnes' home were festive of the week. The children's home tea this week will be another event of public nature that will interest many.

The football game yesterday afternoon called out many prominent people in spite of the weather. The boxes in the front of the grand stand contained many prominent people.

The Scottish Rite at home Friday evening was the large dance of the week and was largely attended.

Many of the travelers are returning from abroad to spend the holidays at home. Among those who have recently returned are Mrs. Hamilton Brooks, Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens and Miss Russell. Mr. and Mrs. George Good and Miss Frances Lewis. On their way home are Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey R. Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. George Gerlinger and Mrs. E. B. Dalton, who are visiting in New York, and slated to sail soon are Mrs. Montgomery and her daughter.

Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer was the hostess at a small children's party Wednesday afternoon, in her delightful new home. The members of the Thursday afternoon class were her guests. After games and music they were seated about a table beautifully adorned with a small Christmas tree from which many birds in small gowns, garters, and pretties packages of candies brought joy to the guests who were on their best behavior. After their little "tea party" they danced in the music room. The guests were Miss Fitchner, Jean and Miss Miller, James and Katherine Selzer, Jeanette Meier and Helen Blasinger.

Incidentally a delightful little story is told of Jean Meier, who, with the other children enjoys the attentions of a devoted Fraulein who teaches them the many book the children are required to know. While in the study of pronouns a little while ago, Fraulein said, "Name me the first, second and third best behavior." After their little "tea party" they danced in the music room. The guests were Miss Fitchner, Jean and Miss Miller, James and Katherine Selzer, Jeanette Meier and Helen Blasinger.

Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur and Miss Genevieve Thompson were the visitors from Portland who attended the Pope-Ankeny wedding in Walla Walla Wednesday. Mrs. McArthur is an aunt of the bride and Miss Thompson, a close friend of the bride. The wedding was a brilliant affair, attended only by the relatives and immediate friends, but a large reception of the bride and groom was given at the home of Mrs. Ankeny, the bride's sister-in-law, was the matron of honor and Miss Sarah Winans of Walla Walla and Miss Thompson were the bridesmaids. Captain Francis H. Pope was attended by Captain H. H. Crosby and the ushers were Lieutenant George and Lieutenant Hume, all of the Fourteenth cavalry. The bridegroom's regiment. The bride is described as looking very stunning in a lace and white satin with a tulle veil and orange blossoms. The bouquet was of lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore white liberty satin trimmed with old point lace and carried sweet peas, and the bridesmaids wore empire frocks of pink liberty satin and carried corn-cob and chrysanthemums.

Miss Ernestine Felling entertained at bridge Wednesday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett. There were ten tables of the game and attractive arts and crafts gifts were given as prizes at each table. Miss Felling's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Binson Sladen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Grelle, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harrison Corbett, John Yavine, Miss Latta, Don Monroe, Miss Grace Monroe of Washington, D. C., Marlon Dolph, Miss Effie Houghton, George Warren, Miss Grace Warren, Mortimer Hartwell, Miss Aveline Webster, Stuart Strong, Robert Strong, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Felling, Edward Felling, Thomas Robertson, Miss Lisa Wood, Miss Heane of San Diego, Mr. Cox, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, John Burkhardt, Frank Robertson, Harry Felling and the Misses Felling.

An interesting church entertainment was given Monday evening when Dr. and Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe threw open their handsome home on Lovejoy street for the benefit of the basar of the First Congregational church. A program was given including an address by Dr. Luther R. Dyott on "Amid the Wonders of Mammoth Cave." Miss Ada Alice Tuttle gave piano music, Stuart Modine, Harrison Corbett, John Yavine and Earl Coe played a piano and violin duet. After the program the younger guests danced in the ballroom apartment. Mrs. Coe was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Luther R. Dyott and Mrs. R. E. Wood. In the dining room Mrs. Burkhart and Mrs. Robertson, William Heights served punch, and in the barroom adjoining the ballroom Mrs. Barber and Mrs. Charles King served.

The annual tea of the children's home will be given next Tuesday afternoon at the home, 887 Corbett street, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. These annual teas are popular events with society, and prominent matrons are always enlisted to give their help in serving. Mrs. P. A. Mann is the president, but as she is in mourning she will not receive this year. Mrs. T. J. Elliot, the first vice-president, will be the hostess and other members of the board will assist in showing guests about the home. Miss May Felling has charge of the tea tables and serving will be Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. Joseph N. Teal, Mrs. Constance Rinn and Miss Louise Fanning.

2600 Oriental Rugs

Choice Persian Rugs, carefully selected by a member of the firm, who is still in the Orient gathering fine, rich floor coverings, are offered now AT PRICES SO LOW THAT IT WILL DAZZLE THE TRADE. While Mr. George Atiyeh was gathering fine rugs in Constantinople for regular business, owing to the unsettled conditions in Turkey for the last three months he obtained them at very low prices which will set the town agog. This great bargain event will give everyone an opportunity to secure beautiful Persian pieces at a remarkable saving, and as every purchaser spreads the money-saving news we expect to furnish many homes with the richest floor coverings ever made, as we show

Hundreds of Rugs to Select From

There are many genuine ANTIQUES, which should be of great interest to connoisseurs and collectors, as well as practical antiques—rugs confessedly new, but which conform minutely to the highest standards, fine in weave, rich in harmony of colors, and true in pattern and design that is purely oriental. It is unnecessary to quote prices, for you must see the quality in order to judge the price. Anyhow, we quote you these very few dress. Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. John K. Kollock and Mrs. William H. Warrens are the patronesses of the first dance. Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd will give a supper of 14 covers, with Miss Effie Houghton and Marlon Dolph as honor guests.

An event of importance to university people is the entrance of the first national sorority into the University of Oregon. November 12, the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, assembled in annual convention at Beta chapter, Ann Arbor, Mich., granted a national charter to the local sorority of Tau Pi at Eugene.

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority was founded at Syracuse in 1874 and is one of the oldest and most conservative of the Greek letter sororities. In 1894, Gamma Phi installed her first western chapter at the University of California; since that time western chapters have been established at University of Washington, 1902, and Stanford University, 1906. The new chapter of Gamma Phi Beta has been organized as Tau Pi—a local society, for five years. The following are members of the organization: Lela Strain Stanford, Eugene, Or.; Mary Gray, Grace Gray, Jean Gray, Vivian Holmes, Constance Covell, Edith Woodcock, Jessie Huxley, Ruth Dunaway, Gertrude Holmes, Ruth Hansen, Blanche Houston, Helen Beach, Pearl McKenna, Sylvia Stanfield, of Portland; Edna Chandler, Nieta Harding and Clara Canfield of Oregon City; Gladys Farrar, Salem; Mary Steiner, Fossil; Mary Howard, Washington, D. C.; Paul W. Wier, Union; Jennie Perry and Josephine Cameron, Pendleton; Helen McKenney, Bertha McKenney, Irma Clifford, Baker City; Sara Reed Hammond, Gold Hill.

The Portland alumnae Gamma Phi Beta are Mrs. Charles Clarke, Mrs. George Norman West, Estelle Daniels, Luella Daniels of Vancouver; Beulah Bridges, Alice Hanson, Margaret Higgins Stokes, Winnie Higgins, Melola Ward, Caroline Benson.

The University of Oregon alumni dance at the Masonic temple Thanksgiving night will be largely attended by students from Eugene and as usual will be the prominent college event of the year. The patronesses are Mrs. Prudence Lucian Campbell of Eugene, Miss Luella Clay Carson of Eugene, Mrs. George E. Chamberlain, Mrs. Cyrus A. Dolph, Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur, Mrs. John C. Ainsworth, Miss Henrietta Felling, Miss Kate Hagan, Mrs. William D. Fenton, Mrs. A. J. Giesy, Mrs. Henry W. Goddard, Mrs. A. A. Morrison and Mrs. Zera Snow.

Mrs. Norman Lang entertained with a beautiful violet luncheon at the Portland Monday in honor of her two charming guests from Oakland, Cal., her sisters, Mrs. Orestes Pierce and Mrs. George W. Meier. Other guests were Mrs. L. Wilson, Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. John C. Ainsworth, Miss Carrie Flanders and Mrs. C. E. S. Wood.

Mrs. George W. Kelly of the Booth-Kelly company came down from Eugene for the O. A. C.-Oregon game yesterday. He entertained at the game with a box party for the visiting members of the Zeta Phi sorority of the University of Oregon, of which his daughter, Miss Kate Kelly, is a prominent member. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Finley and Miss Anna Finley were the Portland guests.

Henry Teal entertained with a dinner at the Portland last Sunday evening in compliment to Miss Augusta Glose, the clever artist at the Orpheum. Mrs. A. S. Norton was another entertainer in honor of Miss Glose and her mother, at the Orpheum, a small musicale and supper. Her other guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Owen, Ashley Vantine, H. W. Vague, Henry Teal and J. D. Carson.

Mrs. Frank Freeman entertained Thursday afternoon with a bridge party of 10 tables for Miss Susan Stott, bride elect. The first prize, a beautiful French print in an oval gold frame was won by Miss Inez Barrett and the second an old Dutch silver spoon by Miss Effie Houghton. Mrs. Freeman's sister, Miss Tongue of Hillsboro has been visiting her.

Mrs. Ralph W. Wilbur entertained at luncheon Saturday in compliment to Miss Stella B. Meade of New London, who is spending several weeks at the Norton's. There were eight covers, and the other guests were Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. John Eben Young, Mrs. Walter F. Burrell, Mrs. Hannah Robertson, Mrs. Howard Mather and Mrs. Morton Inasley.

The Irvington Dancing club has sent out cards for a dance Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday at the Irvington club. The committee consists of J. C. Mann, Robert L. Aldrich, R. P. Graham, W. H. McMonies and C. H. Hoeg.

Mrs. R. Jacobs is to entertain next Tuesday evening with a theatre party at the Orpheum in honor of her young daughter, Miss Miriam Jacobs, who is just out. Later supper will be served at the Portland grill.
