

JAPANESE READY TO DESCEND UPON CHINA

Despite Protests, Mikado Is Evidently Resolved to Overlook Nothing That May Accrue in the Imminent Evil Days.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, Nov. 23.—Japan is watching closely the development of affairs in China and is preparing for whatever emergency the crisis may bring, according to advices received today by the British foreign office.

Despite Japanese denials of interference in Chinese affairs, there is every indication that the mikado is keenly alive to the possibilities of the oriental situation and will not be found unprepared in any event.

Chinese messages, reaching London by way of Japan, say that Prince Chun is splitting up the Chinese army and appointing commanders with separate authority, as he fears to trust to a consolidation of power under any one general.

This is taken to mean that serious disaffection exists in the ranks of the army and gives color to the report that a revolution is threatened.

SAYS THEORIN WAS SEEN IN ALBANY

of Rasmussen's murder had been made public. He stated to at least two men Friday that he was going to San Francisco on the steamer Monongia.

Had Theorin been the guilty man, it hardly seems reasonable to believe that he would have returned to the city so long, especially in view of the fact that the murderer knew he had been seen by Carner and would naturally suppose that a description of himself was in the hands of the police.

Sends Out Descriptions.
But on the chance that Theorin really is the guilty man, the sheriff has been making every effort to find him. Descriptions of Theorin have been wired to the ports of destination of all vessels that have sailed from this part of the country since the murder was committed.

Theorin was supposed to have sailed for the Nome City, but she was searched on her arrival at San Francisco and no trace of the man was found.

The statement that had been made that Theorin was in need of money, having been out of work for several weeks, is not believed to be true. Theorin had some employment since his discharge from command of the gasoline schooner Condor for running her ashore at Alsea bay, made one trip as first officer of the Nome City, but First Officer Anderson, whose place he held temporarily, returned to work with Theorin found himself again out of employment. Theorin stated at that time that he intended to get a berth there better chance of getting a berth there than he would have in Portland.

Theorin has a penitentiary record, having served four years in the Salem institution on a conviction of forgery.

Carner Not Certain.
L. Carner, of the harbor boat Palmer, who was aboard the Washington at the time the dead body of Rasmussen is supposed to have been lying in the engine-room, covers with a tarpaulin, and who undoubtedly had a narrow escape from a death similar to Rasmussen's at the hands of the latter murderer, states that although he does not know Theorin, the description of the latter which has been given does not correspond very well with that of the man he saw aboard the Washington. He thinks the man he saw was taller than Theorin. Both, however, have round, full faces.

Carner is not willing, though, to say that the two men are not one and the same. "I think I would know the man I saw if I were to see him again," he said this morning.

Theorin, who has a Swedish accent, and Carner, talks with a decided accent, and Carner does not remember that the man aboard the Washington had any accent at all. It appears, therefore, that by no means certain that Theorin is the murderer of Rasmussen, but as the authorities have no one else under suspicion, every effort is being made to capture him and confront him with Carner.

Theorin Was an Espion.
Sheriff Stevens has been spending the day tracing down the recent movements of Theorin. He has ascertained that the seaman had a room at the Gilliam house, where he stayed at such times as he was in Portland.

The theory that Theorin was out of money and therefore desperate appears to have poor foundation. Theorin has learned that the ex-captain of the Condor at most of his meals at first-class restaurants, and sometimes at even one moderately hard up, could not afford to do this. Theorin when at work made good wages and it is probable that he had something to fall back upon when he was temporarily out of a job.

DR. DAVIS MUST PROVE MALICE

In passing on a demurrer in the suit of Dr. L. M. Davis against The Journal for $40,000 damages for alleged libel, Presiding Judge Gantenbein in the circuit court this morning declared that when the case comes to trial the plaintiff will have to prove that the journal acted from malice in arraigning Davis, who had been elected a member of the pack legislature, for his attitude on Statement No. 1.

As the complaint alleged malice, the court held that it was sufficient and overruled the demurrer. At the same time pointing out that the truth of this allegation of malice will have to be proved at the trial before a case is made out. Judge Gantenbein also said that the case does not come within the class that is actionable per se, as there is nothing in the publication complained of that imputes a crime to Davis, and it is not an attack on his private life.

In the case of H. B. Beckett against J. R. Kerr the court overruled a demurrer to the charge of libel in which the plaintiff sought to plead the statute of limitations. Shaw was defeated on this point because he is a subsequent purchaser and did not come within certain exceptions clauses.

LONG CHASE ENDS ALLEGED EMBEZZLER

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 23.—E. Knolly, whose true name is said to be E. Hancock, was arrested by Pinkertons on the steamer Monongia yesterday after a chase which had extended half around the world. Hancock is wanted at Winston-Salem, N. C., on the charge of embezzling money belonging to the Lamb-Fisher Lumber company. The detectives have traced him to New York, San Francisco and Honolulu, and back again to this city. Elaborate descriptions of the tattoo marks on the arms of the fugitive embezzler have been compared with the tattooing on the limbs of the steamboat passenger now in custody and the police are confident that they have the right man.

Tonight is ladies' night at the "Expo" rink, bring your want ads to The Journal and get free tickets.

WHEN HER BIGGY IS BIGGER THAN HIS

Question as Between Him and District Attorney Rises at Inquest.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 23.—The growing ill feeling between the members of the district attorney's office and the police department was manifested today at the resumption of the inquest into the suicide of Morris Haas, assailant of Francis J. Heney.

Chief of Police William J. Biggy, who claims that Haas had concealed in his shoe the small derringer with which he shot himself, became involved in a quarrel at the beginning of the session with Assistant District Attorney Louis Ward over the question of authority.

The discussion arose over the order issued to the police by Biggy preventing Special Agent William J. Burns from interviewing Haas on the afternoon of the day Haas shot himself. Biggy maintained that Burns was not an official and had no right to see Haas if he, as chief of police, so decided.

Coroner Leland was determining the status of Burns when the row started. Biggy declared that he was a higher public official than District Attorney Langdon, and that he had the right to see Haas if he, as chief of police, so decided.

"Show me," shouted the little chief, "shown."

Emile Yan Carrigitschinski, a trusty at the county jail, denied that he gave Detective Sergeant Tom Burke a newspaper on the day that, as alleged, the pistol was given to Haas. Burke was detained and fined $100 and has previously admitted that he gave Haas a daily paper, contrary to the order of Langdon, and that he had secured the paper from the trusty.

ATWOODS FAIL TO BLOCK CASE

Judge Gantenbein Overrules Demurrer of Tremont Hospital's Owners.

Presiding Judge Gantenbein in the circuit court this morning overruled the demurrer to the indictment against Drs. C. H. Atwood and C. H. T. Atwood, who are charged with committing acts outraging public decency in equipping and conducting the maternity hospital at Tremont station. The chief ground of demurrer was that more than one offense was charged in one indictment.

In disposing of this point Judge Gantenbein cited his ruling in the case against Mrs. Belle Waymire and E. E. Radding, who were convicted of a conspiracy to blackmail the reputation of Mayor Lane. In that case the defendant charged that more than one crime was charged, as the commission of a crime, in connection with the main crime.

Judge Gantenbein's ruling in the Waymire case was upheld by the supreme court, which held that the breaking of the door was only incidental to the offense charged. The court applied the same rule to the Atwood case, in which the alleged performing of a criminal operation forms an incidental part.

FRIENDS FEAR FOUL PLAY

Two Missing Men Last Seen Well Supplied With Money.

Four mysterious disappearances have been reported to the police within the past two days. In two instances the missing men had considerable sums of money with them when last seen and owing to the fact that the towns are overrun with criminals, friends of the missing men believe that they met with foul play.

H. C. Penny of St. Johns, who drives a fish wagon, had $100 in his pockets when last seen Saturday night on his way to Portland. Penny is 35 years of age and is described as being five feet six inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, and dressed in dark clothes.

B. Goodwin, aged 32, of Lents, has been missing since Saturday night. He had $60 with him and it is believed that he too has met with foul play as he is not accounted for drinking and it is said would not go away without informing his brother who also lives at Lents.

The Y. M. C. A. has asked the police to locate Albert Bullock, a 15-year-old boy who ran away from Los Angeles and who had been charged by the local institution. Not much was known of the boy here, but the police have been asked to put forth every effort to locate him, as his parents are greatly worried over his disappearance.

G. T. White, a prominent dentist of Salem, reports that his brother, Dr. L. White, left the capital city several days ago without any money whatever and is not accounted for drinking and it is said would not go away without informing his brother who also lives at Lents.

WOMAN'S MEETING GIVES SUPPORT TO ANTI-GRAFT CRUSADE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 23.—The graft prosecution's fight is strengthened by the knowledge that a thousand of the city's best women are pledged to its support. At a meeting held yesterday in Calvary church, under the auspices of the Women's Branch of the Citizens' League of Justice, addresses were made by Professor G. H. Roke, Mrs. Warren Cheney, Walter MacArthur, Mrs. J. W. Orr, Miss William H. Colwell, Mrs. Sperry, Mrs. E. I. Baldwin, Rev. Bradford Leavitt, Thomas E. Hayden, Rev. N. Lathrop, Dr. Matilda Kibbe and Mrs. T. A. Starr. The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, we, the women of San Francisco, realizing that the criminal corruption which has prevailed and does still prevail in this city is a menace to the peace of our homes and the future of our children; therefore, be it resolved, that we pledge our earnest support to the graft prosecution in its just and noble fight for justice and the moral peace of our homes."

ADMITS THAT HE SWORE FALSELY

"No, sir," was the witness' halting answer.

"Didn't you last week in Portland say to a United Press reporter: 'I don't know why I am wanted in San Francisco. Detective Burns has an affidavit which contains everything I know.'"

Ach violently objected to this question, and as the court sustained him, the answer was not given.

When the defense took the witness, Ach drew from his admissions that Burns had first sought him in his room and broached the whole subject to him. Lathan declared that he told Burns then that he could remember none of the incidents, above which he knew of no other information. He added, moreover, that he still remembered nothing about which he made an affidavit.

More Contentions.
Lathan, in answer to Ach's questions, declared that Burns told him that, if he would remember these incidents, he would help Ruer who, at that time, was under indictment.

James L. Gallagher, former supervisor, was on the witness stand when the court opened, and his examination was temporarily discontinued in order to allow Lathan's story to be heard.

TO BUILD OR NOT TO BUILD

After Long Pilgrimage He Learns at Los Angeles the Awful Truth.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Nov. 23.—After walking most of the way from Hermosillo, Mexico, to Los Angeles to learn what disease afflicted him, Tremoda Ortego is on the verge of insanity after discovering that he is a leper. Authorities at the county hospital are preparing to send him across the line into Mexico.

Four months ago Ortego was taken ill. His physicians treated him for tuberculosis but he grew steadily worse. Being advised to come to Los Angeles for treatment he set out. He had but little money and was forced to walk for miles through the mountains of Sonora working when he could find employment and often begging meals.

Two days ago he arrived here and was taken to the receiving hospital, where the police surgeons pronounced his case leprosy. He was sent to the

HAS FAITH IN SOLONS

Chamberlain. He worked hard and honestly for the success of H. M. Calk, the Republican nominee for United States senator, and at that time, and since, he fought against the past and present course of the opponents of the direct election of senators, and while the county chairman believes that the efforts now being made to override the will of the people and break down the primary law in the state are unwise and unpatriotic and that they will rebound to the discredit of those who are fostering them.

Settled at the Polls.
"I can not see why there is any agitation over the senatorial question at this time," said Major Kennedy, in discussing the situation this morning. "I consider that the matter was settled at the polls last June."

"I do not believe anything will come of the agitation now being stirred up. I do not believe that there is a member of the legislature pledged to Statement No. 1 who will carry out that pledge to its fulfillment."

"Every member of the legislature who subscribed to that statement did so voluntarily, under no duress or compulsion, the people taking it for granted that the member was honest in his conviction and was trying out while waiting for an elected him. Every member so pledged is morally bound by that pledge. Every man who took that pledge knows that he is morally bound to keep it. Therefore it is my opinion that all this technical quibbling now being indulged in will be of no avail."

"I can not see how any member of the legislature who took Statement No. 1 can repudiate it, and I do not believe any one will. Therefore it appears to me that all this agitation is out of place, and that it will fall of any effect. I have too much faith in the character of the men we are waiting to elect to believe that any of them will break promises solemnly given, and I believe that Governor Knappa will be elected United States senator on the first ballot."

Now Taking a Rest.
Major Kennedy is resting from the activities of the recent presidential election and is paying out little attention to the present situation. He is, however, open in his championship of the cause of Statement No. 1 and the direct primary law, and he has seen many people have shown by their ballots that they approve of the laws. He believes in the principle of direct election of senators as provided for by the primary law and the Statement No. 1 clause, and since the last election day has been an earnest opponent of the present movement which has as its object the overthrow of the law and the reversion of political conditions to the old days of the machine and the boss.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as a sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.
