La Grande Jail Apparently Holds Wrong Men in Shooting Scrape.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., Nov. 24.—Flem Gabbart and Ben Curtis are spending the day in the city jail on an informal charge of shooting and attempting to rob Charles Anderson in this city early Sunday morning. At 2 o'clock today no formal charge or complaint had been filed against them. It is evident that an attempt was made to rob Anderson, and some one shot him. He is nursing a very sore chin and a crippled hand as a result. According to Anderson's story two men, dressed in Cowboy attire, pointed a revolver at him and ordered him to give them some whiskey. This he refused to do and then the highwayman demanded fifty money. This request was also denied and the robbers fired a couple of shots. One shot struck him in the chin and the other plowed its way through his hand. As the description of the would-be robbers tallied rather closely with that of Gabbart and Curtis, they were justified in taking them into custody. The accused men were at the city jail and both stoutly denied any complicity or knowledge of the shooting. They claim that they will be able to establish their innocence. They do not deny having been in town at the time of the holdup. In fact, they say they will be able to account for all of their time from the hour they came to the city. They claim the officers arrested them in the room over the La Grande restaurant. The assault is said to have taken place 20 minutes after the robbery. At the time the men charged claim they were eating lunch in the above mentioned place. The men were taken to the city jail and the men charged claim they were eating lunch in the above mentioned place. The men were taken to the city jail and the men charged claim they were eating lunch in the above mentioned place.

BEST SHOOTING NAVEY EVER DID American Gunners Able to Smother the Biggest Fighter Aloft.

By H. Lee Clotworthy, Staff Correspondent of the United Press. Manila, P. I., Nov. 24.—Experts stated today that no ship now afloat could remain five minutes under the terrific firing shown by the American gunners in the battle practice here today. The shooting is unequalled and is the best ever done by the navy. Much satisfaction is being expressed by the officers and the general public. The practice area is a source of gratification to all concerned. Extensive preparations are being made for the entertainment of the men when they come ashore and the long deferred celebration will be carried out with all the men in line in to-day.

WEATHER REPORT The barometer is rising rapidly on the Pacific coast.

The barometer is rising rapidly on the Pacific coast. A moderate storm is central over the northern United States and a second disturbance of nearly equal energy is central over Iowa. The Atlantic pressure area is moving slowly seaward. Heavy rains have fallen in the Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and heavy snow has occurred in the Rocky mountain states. The rains in the Pacific states have been light, and the weather is now clear at nearly all the coast stations. The indications are for rain or snow in this district tonight or Wednesday, with lower temperatures tonight east of the Cascade mountains.
