

LICENSES TO RESTAURANT GRUERS ARE TO BE DELETED-- DELAYED

Conflicting Ordinances Make Councilmen Wait Until It Is Settled What Can Be Done on Serving Liquor in Restaurants.

To wait until all restaurant liquor licenses have expired, December 31, and then take up the matter dealing with the entire lot at once is the plan decided upon by the council until the question of restaurant liquor licenses is finally determined.

City Auditor Barbur will not have any arrests made, as he is not sure he has any ground for such action. The restaurant managers have complied with the law so far as they can by applying for the licenses.

But what is the law? That is the question as yet unanswered, for there are two conflicting ordinances. The Collins ordinance allows any open and public dining-room or restaurant to sell liquor, and repeals all ordinances that conflict with this provision. This ordinance defining restaurants makes it necessary for them to procure a special license. The city attorney holds in an opinion rendered to the liquor license committee that the Collins ordinance exempts only such "restaurants as are otherwise authorized to sell liquor."

Applications Not Signed.

Applications for liquor licenses filed by seven restaurants, including the Hobbrau, the Perkins grill, the Turn Halls, the Lovvare and the Quella, were not signed by the council. The liquor license committee of the city council yesterday afternoon, a majority of the committee refusing to sign the applications which were sent to the council without recommendation.

Councilman Runlight said that in the future he would not sign the requests of restaurants for licenses to sell liquor until the Collins ordinance had been repealed. Councilman Vaughn has fought the big restaurants from the start, contending that $300 should be raised to $800.

City Attorney Kavanagh has rendered an opinion in which he declares that no restaurant can lawfully serve liquor with meals unless a license has been granted for that purpose by the proprietors of restaurants which have both a service bar and a saloon bar.

Proprietors of restaurants which have both a service bar and a saloon bar declare that if the council does not grant them restaurant liquor licenses they will tear out the service bars and serve liquor brought from the saloon bars. This, they contend, is legal and the manager of one of the largest hotels in the city says he will endeavor to induce the city auditor, if necessary, to compel that official to permit him to sell liquor from the saloon bar in the hotel.

The manager states that he has only paid the license for the service bar heretofore to avoid annoyance and not because he has legal title to do so. The committee recommended that the license of Gus Swanson, 355 North Fifteenth street, be revoked. Councilman Cottel, chairman of the committee, favored revocation because Patrolman Swensen swore that his life was in danger whenever he tried to enforce the law in the vicinity of the saloon. The charge against Swanson was that of selling liquor to intoxicated persons. Three other charges of a similar nature against saloonmen were dismissed by the committee after a lengthy hearing of testimony in each case.

DIABETES CURED

Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure is the only positive remedy for Diabetes. Mr. H. S. Brewer, a prominent real estate dealer, of Rochester, N. Y., has been cured of a bad case of diabetes by Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure, which is their special preparation for this form of kidney trouble.

"After suffering greatly from Diabetes Mellitus for some time and not experiencing any relief from different courses of treatment prescribed, I commenced the use of Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure and soon noticed a great improvement in my condition. The excessive thirst and abnormal appetite have disappeared. The flow of urine has been reduced to the normal amount. The amount of sugar is greatly lessened, my weight has increased and I am surely recovering my usual health."

I therefore consider it a duty to recommend the use of Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure to the many sufferers from this dread disease, feeling confident that they will experience the same beneficial results from its use."

Ex-United States District Attorney Is Outspoken Against Scheme of Fulton Men to Turn Legislators From Promise to People.

Holding that for Statement No. 1 legislators to violate their pledges regarding the senatorship would be to breed moral obliquity and intellectual dishonesty in the state and encourage political depravity and civic unrighteousness, William C. Bristol, former United States district attorney for Oregon, has come out emphatically in favor of the integrity of pledges and against the present effort being made by Fulton men to turn legislators from promise to people.

Mr. Bristol does not believe that pledges should be made by legislative candidates to be broken, and he does not believe that these pledges will be disregarded. He considers that once a man has made a solemn and a voluntary promise to his constituents, that such a pledge should be kept inviolate and be fulfilled to the letter. He decries the effort being made by Fulton men to turn legislators from promise to people.

"Without regard to whether Statement No. 1 is good or bad in its effect upon parties," said Mr. Bristol, "it should be upheld by the coming legislature, and not going into a technical discussion of whether the operation of Statement No. 1 tends to disrupt party. The issue is not the question. The problem is whether it is right for the men of the legislature who have taken Statement No. 1, who have pledged themselves to the people voluntarily to abide by their will as expressed at the polls, to break that pledge. Or, conversely, the question is whether it is right for men to attempt to persuade by any means, these men who have pledged themselves to break that pledge."

Cause Moral Obligation.

"In answer to this proposition I want to say that this very movement having as its object to induce members of the legislature to violate their word given to the people, or to create the impression that those men are going to violate their pledges is one that is calculated to build up moral obliquity and intellectual dishonesty among the people. Such a movement is one that is calculated to bring about a general disregard of the law of the land. Such movements as this lead to the surrender of the government into the hands of the money pirates of the country without regard to justice or equity or the rights of the rest of mankind. It is wrong in intent, intellectually dishonest in conception, and will be disastrous in result. It is a movement with which I have not had and will not have anything to do."

Two Italians Invent Device to Send Message to Its Sole Destination.

Paris, Nov. 24.—It is announced by Belin and Tost, two Italian scientists, that the problem of independent wireless communication has been solved by their after eight months of experimenting on the coast of Normandy. This result, they say, has been secured by the use of a rectangular aerial, fixed at right angles and so attached to the apparatus as to permit the transmission of the message by the simple law of mechanics. These two electric magnets force unite and produce an electro-magnetic field, and the Hertzian waves are projected in a single vertical plane, which can be alternated instantaneously by means of the Hertzian device.

PORT OF PORTLAND

(Continued from Page One.) The towage on the river, and will keep a general eye out over the pilotage business, according to Charles F. Swigert, chairman of the commission. Mr. Swigert was told of the decision handed down by the supreme court this morning by The Journal and asked what the decision would be. The commission will prepare immediately to take the towage on the river between Portland and the sea," said Mr. Swigert. The commission anticipates a reasonable decision by the supreme court, has been preparing for the decision and has made things ready as nearly as possible.

"The bond was put on the market at once and sufficient funds thus secured to take over the business. Chief Engineer E. C. Lockwood has recently returned from an extensive trip through the east, where he went to look into the tugboat situation. He has returned with late telling of all the available tugs now on the market for sale, and of the cost of tug construction. He has also made investigation into the kinds of tugs most adapted to use in the Columbia and Willamette river towage business."

"It will be possible for the commission to begin handling the towage in a very short time," continued Mr. Swigert. "The commission will be ready to take over the entire charge and management of the towage. When the commission does assume the management of the business it will be able to give ample and satisfactory service."

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 24.—A secondary operation to carry away secretions from his system was performed today on Francis J. Heney, who was today on Francis Heney, November 13. The operation was not of a serious nature, and was followed by no unfavorable results. Anaesthetics were not administered. No visitors were allowed to see the wounded prosecutor today. Mrs. Heney and Ben Heney, brother of the patient, were with him after the operation. "Mr. Heney is cheerful and gaining strength rapidly," said Ben Heney after the operation. "His physician thought it best for him to receive no visitors today, as they wish to subject him to no excitement. His wound has healed, and the danger of complications is more remote than at any time since he was shot."

GIRL ON TRACK DIED IN DESPAIR

Theory That She Had Exhausted Aid Resources; Possibly Suicide.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24.—Discovery today by a reporter for the United Press that the mysterious young woman whose decapitated body was found on the railroad tracks near Alhambra Sunday may lead to the identification of her remains. Developments today show that the girl spent Saturday at Pasadena seeking the home of Mrs. Minnie J. Carlson, a Christian Science reader, and the theory is that she was afflicted with epilepsy or heart trouble, which struck her down on the tracks under the wheels of an approaching train. Penniless, friendless and ill, the girl is believed to have walked to Pasadena Saturday morning in the hope of gaining comfort and possibly financial aid from Mrs. Carlson. Searching throughout most of the day for Mrs. Carlson's house, she finally discovered that her journey had been in vain, the woman she sought being away from home. Then according to the theory, she started on her return journey to Los Angeles. Near Alhambra she was overcome by fatigue or disease and sank upon the rails just as the 5 o'clock train came thundering through the dense fog which hung over this section of the state Saturday night. Ground to bits beneath the wheels of the train the girl's body remained undiscovered throughout the night and was passed over by a second train early the next morning just after it had been found by W. Lemon, who had gone to summon assistance. Saturday afternoon a girl answering the description of the mysterious victim was seen wandering about Pasadena's streets, and about 4 o'clock inquired at the Parker railway office in South Pasadena, where the 4700 block on Brent street was.

BALLOONISTS FLYING

(Continued from Page One.) believed to be the giant gas bag. If these reports are true the balloon passed out over San Jacinto valley and southward along the exact route picked out by Captain Mueller as the one most likely to afford success in a transcontinental flight. If the balloon held this course through the night and has not been forced to land since, it is now probably sailing eastward somewhere over northern Mexico. Lack of food and general unpreparedness will have no effect on Captain Mueller and Hutchinson if they have succeeded in making progress toward the east. Before they ascended both expressed their determination to prove some day that a transcontinental flight could be made from Los Angeles. Mrs. Rappetti Burned to Death. (United Press Leased Wire.) NO WORK WHILE BODIES IN MINE

Thousand Finlanders Tie Up One of Montana's Big Collieries. (United Press Leased Wire.) Red Lodge, Mont., Nov. 24.—Finlanders who comprise half the 2,000 men working in the mines of the Northwest Improvement company, where nine men were killed last week, refused to go to work until the bodies are taken out of the mine. The entrance in which the fire started is still impenetrable. The miners refuse to enter other workings till the bodies are brought out. The result is a tie-up of one of the largest coal producers of Montana. It is believed the bodies of six of the dead will never be recovered, as they are thought to have been entirely consumed by the flames. All timbers in that portion of the mine are burned up.

THEORIN IN COURT
