CHORAL SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting last night of the choral organization which will sing at the musical festival next March, these officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Frederick W. Goodrich; first vice president, Mrs. E. S. Miller; second vice president, Edward L. Bayly; secretary, Miss Eva L. Wells, whose address is 328 Wheeler street; and treasurer, E. S. Miller, who will also act as an executive committee. A subcommittee, consisting of E. S. Miller, Edward L. Bayly and Miss Eva L. Wells, was appointed to report at the next meeting of the society to be held next Tuesday night, suggestions relative to a set of bylaws and constitution to be afterward adopted. Mr. Goodrich has had experience in the formation of choral societies, and although he was not present at last night's meeting his was the only name proposed for the presidency of the society. Mr. Goodrich is the organist and choirmaster of St Mary's cathedral choir. These names have been suggested by which the new society may be known: The Portland Festival chorus, the Portland Philharmonic society, and the Portland Choral Festival society, but the exact title will be agreed on later. A very satisfactory rehearsal was held from several choruses of Sullivan's "Golden Legend" last night, the other oratorios to be rehearsed being Gaul's "Holy City" and Rossini's "Stabat Mater." The director is William H. Boyer.

ALL FRANCHISES TO GO BEFORE PEOPLE

City affairs to be governed by six general departments and all franchises for public utilities to be submitted to a vote of the people were the principal features of the reports of the executive committee and public utilities committee of the charter commission which met last night. The report of the executive committee was adopted as presented by Senator Gearin, chairman of that committee. The six departments will be those of public affairs, accounts and finances, fire and health, public safety and police, streets and public improvements, parks and public property and water supply.

The report of the public utilities committee will receive the special consideration of the commission at its next session next Tuesday evening.

FAMILY MUST FACE INDIGNANT WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jacobs, parents of Morton D. Jacobs, and the latter's brothers and sisters will have to face Mrs. Susanne D. Jacobs in court to meet her suit for $200,000 damages for the alienation of the affections of her husband, whom she married against their will. Judge Gantenbein in the circuit court yesterday overruled the demurrer for the defense, in which it was sought to throw the case out of court on the ground that it had not been begun within the time allowed by the statute of limitations.

But G. G. Schmidt, attorney for Mrs. Jacobs, sprang an old section of the statutes, passed in 1862, which extends for five years the time in which a married woman may sue in such cases. The statute of limitations has therefore not begun to run, and it will be possible to introduce a large number of letters and other testimony that otherwise would be impossible.

TODAY OLD MAIDS PRAY FOR HUSBAND

This is St. Catherine's day, the day of the patron saint of old maids.

In France even the twentieth century maiden takes her love affairs seriously, and she goes to church bright and early November 25, armed with a bouquet which she lays upon the altar, offering at the same time a prayer to St. Catherine to send her a husband, and "soon, please, dear St. Catherine."

The American girl cuts out the religious ceremony on this auspicious occasion, and, though her heart be aching, she makes merry with a party, and if she prays it is not like the Pharisee on the street corner, but in secret beside her little bed.

St. Catherine's day will not be very well observed in Portland. People who have seen Oregon girls know why. But of course there will be a few parties, and now and then, perhaps, among the scattered few, a prayer will be offered with the hopes that it will bring results—a husband.

A New Departure

The cost of interments has been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking company.

Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
