BELHART'S COLONY HAS GRIEF COMING

(United Press Leased Wire.) Waukegan, Ill., Nov. 26.—The peace which has hovered over the "Spirit Fruit Colony," conducted on the principle of non-resistance, was rudely disturbed today by events following the death of the colony founder, Jacob Belhart, "Mother" Young, a spiritualist, announced that she had received a spirit message from Belhart, naming Miss Virginia Moore, a member of the cult, as the new leader. The announcement caused an uproar among the faithful. The colony divided into factions and the supporters of Miss Moore expressed consternation on the receipt of a telegram from Mrs. Belhart, widow of the founder, that she and her two sons were on their way from Kansas to claim the estate.

KELLY SAYS CAN'T QUIT SMUGGLING

(United Press Leased Wire.) Bellingham, Wash., Nov. 26.—Before starting for Seattle this morning, where he had been ordered to appear before the federal court on a charge of smuggling, Larry Kelly by extra-judicial means stated to a friend that he had been in the smuggling business for so long a time that he cannot quit. He said he was first arrested for smuggling 24 years ago and many times since then. He is now 72 years of age and says he will soon leave the land of the living.

ANTI-SALOON MAN FIRED FOR NEGLECT

(United Press Leased Wire.) Bellingham, Wash., Nov. 26.—Rev. J. W. Friesolin, head of the anti-saloon league in this part of the state, has been relieved of his duties by the state league, on account of his prominence in county politics, according to State Superintendent R. W. Raymond. The charge against Friesolin is that he neglected the duties of his office and devoted his time to the election of certain county officers. The retirement of Friesolin follows a sensational disclosure that the league was offered a big sum by one of the county candidates for the endorsement of the league. The bribe is declared to have been rejected.

JAIL TERMS CURE FOR SPEED FIENDS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Speed maniacs are threatened with sentences to the workhouse by Deputy District Attorney Paul McCormick, who has issued a statement warning automobilists against a violation of the law. Discussing his crusade, McCormick said: "If a man conscientiously violates the laws regulating the speed of automobiles on any of our city streets and thus endangers life and limb he should be given a term in jail. The ends of justice are not gained by imposing fines on consistent violators of the speed laws. A jail term is the proper remedy."
