KETCHEL KNOCKS BILLY PAPKE OUT

Michigan Wonder Regains Middleweight Title in the 11th Round From Miner.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—By knocking out Billy Papke in the eleventh round at the Mission street arena yesterday afternoon, Stanley Ketchel, the Michigan middleweight regained his championship title. Outside of three or four rounds the battle was all Ketchel's, Papke was a 10 to 7 favorite but $6,000 of Ketchel money remained untaken at the odds just before the men entered the ring.

At infighting and at long range Ketchel showed his superiority over the thunderbolt. That terrific right shift of Ketchel's proved Papke's undoing and when it was followed by the ponderous left on Pap's chin, the battle was over but the counting out.

As in their fight at Los Angeles the milling was so terrific that the fighters went out of the ring. At Los Angeles a heavy blow sent Ketchel through the ropes, but this time both fighters went out. Ketchel caught Papke in the stomach and in protecting himself Papke grabbed Ketchel and pulled him through.

In the closing rounds Ketchel came back strong and Papke was forced to stall some. In the eleventh round as they broke from a clinch Ketchel swung his left flush on the chin and Papke went to the floor, his head striking heavily. He tried to regain his feet but Stanley shot several rights to the head and then felled the Spring Valley miner with a left hook. He was unable to rise at the count of 10 and Ketchel was declared victor.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round 1.—They went at it without shaking hands. They fiddled and clinched. On the break Papke put stiff right and left to jaw. Ketchel landed right on eye. They clinch and Papke pounds stomach. Papke caught Ketchel hard right on the chin and repeated a moment later. Both missed rights. In a furious mixup both landed hard lefts to body, Papke breaking ground. Even round.

Round 3.—Ketchel came up cautiously, blocked left for body. Papke missed two tries with right. They clinched. Ketchel missed with left in neutral corner. They exchanged lefts to face and clinched. Papke fought with right hand in clinch, landing lightly. Papke landed stiff swing to jaw and repeated a moment later. They roughed it in a prolonged clinch. Ketchel missed wicked left swing. Round 4—Both were up on the jump. Both missed left swings, and they kidded each other in a clinch. Referee Welsh cautioned both boys not to hold. Ketchel landed hard right to head. Papke came back with same punch. They clinched in Ketchel's corner. Ketchel blocked Papke's left. Another clinch. Ketchel missed wild left swing and took two light rights on jaw. Papke missed with left, and they clinched. They fiddled and clinched again in a neutral corner. Ketchel punished Papke over kidneys with left. They exchanged light lefts to face. Ketchel's round.

Round 5—Papke missed with left, but Ketchel didn't. They wrestled in a clinch. Ketchel missed wicked left. They fiddled into another clinch. Ketchel started Papke through the ropes with hard right to jaw, and they both went out of the ring into the laps of the spectators. Neither was hurt by the fall. Papke put right to ear and left to body. They clinched again, Papke putting another right to ear. Ketchel chopped over wicked right hook to jaw. They clinched. Papke missed left swing. Ketchel put terrific left to stomach. Ketchel chopped Papke over the eye right at gong. Ketchel's round.

Round 6—They clinched and wrestled. Ketchel missed right for body, and they clinched some more. Papke seems inclined to hold. Papke missed right to head, but got there with light left. Ketchel put right to face and right to body. Ketchel staggered Papke with hard right to jaw and left to body. Papke held hard. Papke drew from Ketchel's mouth with a light left. Ketchel pummelled Papke hard in body with left and jolted him in a clinch with left. Ketchel landed light left to face and they clinched again. Ketchel had a good lead in this round.

Round 7—Papke planted light left on Ketchel's sore mouth. They clinched. Ketchel missed vicious right swing, so did Papke. They clinched. Ketchel missed with right but put terrific left to body. They clinched again. Ketchel missed another hard right. Ketchel lands two stiff uppercuts in clinch. Papke missed with right. Papke missed right swing but landed straight left to face. Finding he was getting the worst of it, Papke roughed himself out of the clinch. Ketchel landed vicious right swing and came back with hard left. Papke took his beating without flinching and went to his corner strong.

Round 8—They fought into a clinch. Ketchel put right to body. Papke put hard right to face. Ketchel's wicked right landed on Papke's shoulder. Ketchel landed light right swing. They clinched. Ketchel uppercutting, Papke hooking on jaw. Ketchel landed hard right smash on eye. They clinched again. Papke seemed tired and his punches lacked steam. Ketchel hit him with wicked left. Ketchel has a good lead and is fighting cautiously. Ketchel put hard right to stomach and right uppercut to jaw. Papke missed wicked right swing and Ketchel put two wicked lefts to body. Ketchel caught him with hard left hook at gong. Ketchel's round.

Round 9—They exchange hard lefts to face and clinch. Ketchel put hard left to jaw and two wicked lefts to body. Ketchel put two hard rights to body. Papke started blood from Ketchel's nose with hard left. Ketchel staggered Papke with hard right swing to jaw, sending him clean across the ring. Ketchel landed a series of stiff left uppercuts. Papke fighting wild, wiping his bleeding nose on Ketchel's face. No steam left in Papke's nose. Papke put light right to body. They clinched. Ketchel's round. At this stage of the game the fight is all Ketchel, although Papke seems strong and unaffected by the punishment. At that his blows have lost their force.

Round 10—Papke rushed out of his corner but did no damage. He took much the worst of it in a clinch. Ketchel missed left uppercut. Both put light rights to head and clinched. Papke landed light right uppercut. Ketchel missed hard right swing but put wicked left to body. They exchanged hard rights to face. Ketchel missed with his famous left shift. They clinched. Ketchel put stiff right to body and repeated with left. Ketchel put right to body and blocked Papke's try for same spot. They were clinched at the gong. Even round.

Round 11—They rushed into a clinch. Papke started forcing for a minute and they clinched again. Ketchel got there with right to head and left to face and body. Ketchel landed hard left on jaw. Papke went down in a heap, struggled to his feet at the count of nine and Ketchel pounced on him with vicious lefts and rights to jaw. Papke was beaten to the floor again and was counted out, while his hands and knees touched the floor. He was not unconscious and could have continued. He was surprised when the referee counted him out. Ketchel had all the better of the fight.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 27.—Philadelphia hotels are crowded with visitors in anticipation of the annual football game on Franklin field, tomorrow between the elevens representing the United States Naval academy at Annapolis and the United States Military academy at West Point. In honor of the occasion business houses, hotels and other buildings in the downtown district are decorated with the blue and gold of the Navy, and the black, gold and gray of the Army.

The game tomorrow promises to be as brilliant an event socially as any of its predecessors. The attendance will be representative of the youth and beauty of the entire land. It will not be confined to the younger set, however, for there will be no end of the gray-bearded rear admirals, major generals and officers of all other grades of the united service. And besides the war and navy departments, every other department of the government will be represented.

High Officials Here.

The railroads have made extensive preparations to handle the large crowds of visitors. Special trains will be run from Annapolis, Washington, New York, West Point and many nearby points. Included in the official parties from the national capital will be members of the cabinet and high ranking officers of the army and navy.

The two football teams reached the city today and were given rousing receptions. Suppers, theatre parties and other festivities will, as usual, precede the big game, but in this part of the program the members of the two big teams will have no part. They will keep in the best possible trim for the big battle tomorrow.

The betting odds today is slightly in favor of the Navy. Close critics of the two teams are of the opinion that the Annapolis boys have the better chance of victory, though they do not expect the contest to be a one-sided affair by any means. The manner in which West Point held the Yale team down to a 6-0 score showed that the Navy will have worthy antagonists, and the Army followers are confident that their team has at least an even chance of winning the game. On all sides it is conceded that the contest should be one well worth witnessing. The demand for seats is enormous, and the ever-present speculators today are asking and receiving $5 and upward for their tickets.

FIELD GOAL DEFEATS MISSIONARY ELEVEN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Washington State College, Pullman, Wash., Nov. 27.—Washington State college yesterday defeated the Whitman Missionaries by a score of 4 to 0 on a place kick by Halm from the 28 yard line. The game was fiercely contested from start to finish and both teams played with confidence and aggressiveness.

Washington State college easily outclassed the sons of Marcus in the line, on the ends and in the back field, although the advantage was not enough to enable them ti win by a large score. The grangers were penalized for a total of 95 yards by Johnnie Bender, referee, several times being on the point of crossing the Whitman goal when penalized.

Whitman was penalized for a total of 35 yards. W. S. C. worked the forward pass four times for a total of 14 yards. Whitman worked it twice successfully for six yards. Halm, for W. S. C., punted 10 times, averaging 32 yards per punt. Whitman punted 14 times, averaging 22 yards. The field was very muddy.

The game was characterized by fierce line plunging and crashing end running. Neither team relied on kicking to as great an extent as was characteristic in the Idaho game. Both were confident to the last and many of the players played with tears in their eyes.

It was the fiercest game seen in the field in years. The lineup:

W. S. C.—Cherry, center; Halm, right guard; Captain Wegler, left guard; Fishback, right tackle; Hunter Laird, left tackle; Galbraith, right end; Coohn, left end; Foran, Boone, quarterback; Cave, right half; Montgomery, Crane, fullback; Cheely, left half.

WASHINGTON MEN SMOTHER O. A. C.

Crippled Aggies Are Beaten at Seattle by 32 to 0 Score.

Seattle, Nov. 27.—University of Washington's splendid football team earned a clear title to champions of the northwest, when they defeated Oregon Agricultural college here yesterday afternoon 32 to 0. Washington outplayed the Aggies in nearly every department of the game, although it must be said that the Corvallis eleven took a new lease of life in the second half and made more yardage than in the first.

The day was ideal for fast playing, the field being very dry and steady under foot. Wolfe, the Oregon punter, was under the weather, and his kicks were not so long as usual. Eakins of the varsity had the better of the punting duel, getting a few yards on nearly every exchange of punts.

In the first half O. A. C. tried a forward pass which fell into Grimm's arms and the left end raced 55 yards for a touchdown.

The next score was the result of a fair catch and a goal from free placement by Coyle. Westover went over the line for a touchdown shortly afterwards, when Washington recovered a fumbled punt. The goal was missed and the score at the end of the half was 15 to 0.

Two touchdowns were the result of straight football in the second half, and the third came when Grimm again captured a forward pass and sped 40 yards for a touchdown. The lineup:

Washington.		O. A. C.
Grimm	L E	Brodie
Brantz	L T	Pendergrass
Jarvis	L G	Evendon

JENKINS TO WRESTLE BIG TURK TONIGHT

New York, Nov. 27.—The first wrestling match of any consequence that sport followers hereabouts have had an opportunity of seeing in some time is scheduled to be pulled off in Madison Square Garden tonight. The principals in the match are Tom Jenkins, who formerly held the American championship, and Yussif Mahmout, the Turkish champion who arrived in this country a short time ago. Both wrestlers are reported today to be in the finest fettle, and all indications point to a desperate struggle for supremacy. The men will wrestle to a finish, the winner gaining two falls out of three and carrying off the lion's share of the gate receipts. In addition to the main event the program calls for several first-class preliminaries between local wrestlers of reputation.

EAST SIDE ELEVEN IS WINNER OVER EUGENE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Eugene, Or., Nov. 27.—The East Side Portland High school football team defeated the team of the Eugene High school on Kincaid field here yesterday afternoon by the score of 10 to 5. East Side made its points in the first half by a touchdown early in the half and a goal from placement a few minutes before the end of the half.

The locals rallied in the second half and scored a touchdown, but failed to kick goal. They kept the visitors from scoring again, although the latter were within a few yards of Eugene's goal several times.

The Portland team cleverly outplayed the locals and the score represents the relative strength of the teams. A reception and dance was given in honor of the members of the visiting team in the armory last night.

Balloon Carnival at North Adams.

North Dams, Mass., Nov. 27.—Preparations have been completed by the Aero club of America for the big balloon carnival to be given for its members here tomorrow. Balloons owned by the club members in Boston, Springfield, North Adams and Pittsfield are expected to take part in the ascension.

Practically all of the ballooning this season has been done by the New England clubs, and one of the objections filed against the club officers at the recent annual meeting was that nothing had been done in the way of old-fashioned ballooning for the members this year. The new board of directors, therefore, decided upon the carnival as a means of placating some of the members, and with five or six balloons starting at once, the event is expected to be the largest balloon feature held in the east this year.

Coffroth Loses Money.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 27.—Fight Promoter James Coffroth has discovered today that he was loser by yesterday's middleweight battle at the Mission Arena. He had counted on a $30,000 house, but the gate receipts when totaled, amounted to $18,321, a little over half of what had been expected.

Of this amount Papke, although loser, gets the larger share, he having demanded $12,000 of the first $20,000. It is probable, however, that they will make a split of the money on the basis of 60 and 40 per cent, Ketchel taking the short end of the money.
