SIDELINE STORIES OF GREAT NORTHWEST

PROTECTS VALLEY'S FISH

Game Warden Prosecutes Offender

—Other News.

(Special Northwest Correspondence.)

Husum, Wash., Dec. 2.—As well as sustaining a reputation for raising all kind of select fruit the White Salmon valley can take the lead in producing vegetables of mammoth dimensions and weight. A few days ago a business man of White Salmon was the recipient of some immense and curiously malformed potatoes and carrots. One of the potatoes raised by J. L. Nell weighed over four pounds, and a carrot from the ranch of Mrs. League tipped the scales at eight and one-half pounds. George Gilmer, game warden of Klickitat county, will appear at Goldendale this week against O. P. Shirko, who is charged with allowing sawdust and debris to be thrown in running streams. This county is famous for its excellent trout streams and a continuation of the nuisance is sure death to the valley's favorite variety of fish. There is a possibility of a box factory being established at Bingen, a town in this county on the Columbia river. John C. Murphy of Portland has been looking over a field with a view of putting in a plant for the convenience of the many fruitgrowers in southwestern Klickitat county.

GOLD EXCITEMENT GROWS

Mayfield Ore Assays $14 to Ton—Rush Increases.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Centralia, Wash., Dec. 2.—Excitement over the alleged discoveries of gold at Mayfield, 20 miles southeast of here, was increased last night when Roy Skaggs of this city, who has a claim here, received a report from Falkenburg & Lauck, assayers and chemists, that the assay of one set of samples as shown by their sworn statement showed the ore to run $14 to the ton. The ore was taken from beneath the surface of a large ledge; samples taken from the surface failed to show any gold. Winston creek is now staked out on each side for three or four miles in each direction from the first discovery. The influx of gold seekers has made it impossible to secure accommodations at Mayfield and persons are packing their blankets and sleeping outdoors. Apparently there is an unlimited quantity of the rock which assays show is gold bearing; some is reported to run $1,800 to the ton.

WASCO COUNTY RECEIPTS

Figures Show Remarkable Gain Over Last Year.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Dalles, Or., Dec. 2.—A report given out today by County Clerk W. R. Angle shows the total receipts of that office for November to have been $42,516, exclusive of $75,000 license fees. This is an increase of $102,200 over the corresponding month in 1907. It is a remarkable gain in view of the fact that during the month of November, 1907, the present county of Hood River was a part of Wasco.

For several hours yesterday afternoon the Dalles was threatened by a destructive fire. It originated in the Johnson building at Second and Union streets. The building is frame and is situated in the midst of a number of wooden structures. But for the quick and effective work of the fire department the entire block including the new city hall would have been wiped out.

LANE'S POULTRY SHOW

Annual Exhibition Will Be Held December 21-24.

—Eugene, Or., Dec. 2.—The Lane County Poultry association will hold its annual fair in Eugene December 21-24. The Commercial club is taking an active interest in the undertaking. The secretary of the poultry association and the manager of the club have secured silver cups from the following business men: E. A. Booth, S. H. Friendly, Griffin Hardware company, F. E. Dunn, John H. Hartog, Linn Drug company. Other prizes of considerable value have been secured from different merchants.

JACOBS GETS LIMIT

Maximum Sentence for Alleged Local Opinion Violation.

—Eugene, Or., Dec. 2.—Joseph Jacobs of this city was given the maximum sentence in the circuit court yesterday for violating the local option law. He was sentenced by Judge Harris to pay a fine of $500 and to serve in the county jail 30 days in the county jail. This is Jacobs' third conviction. There are several other indictments against him on the same charge. The judge announced that the other charges would be prosecuted and that he would give him the maximum sentence on conviction. Jacobs keeps a small store and it is alleged that he sold the liquor there. Charles Williams, a hotel clerk, was fined $100 for a like offense.

THREE PLANS TO CURB THE KAISER

Socialists, Liberals and Centrists All Trying to Tie Imperial Tongue.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The reichstag indulged in a remarkable debate today when three plans for curbing the kaiser were submitted.

The Socialists asked that restrictions be placed on the kaiser, making it impossible for him to declare war without the consent of the reichstag and the federal council. The socialists also wanted to make the chancellor personally responsible for what the kaiser said and did and to hold him liable to criminal prosecution should he permit the emperor to involve the nation in a situation that would bring discredit upon it.

The Liberals offered a similar plan, but modified the criminal prosecution feature. They wanted the constitutional responsibility of the chancellor fixed.

The speakers, while making strong points, were mild in their references to the kaiser.

CABINET TIMBER IN WHEELER, PERHAPS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, Dec. 2.—William R. Wheeler, assistant secretary of commerce and labor, is suggested by the politicians for a place in the cabinet of President Elect Taft. A cabinet position is conceded to the Pacific coast and since the name of George W. Knight aroused discussion and opposition the chances of Wheeler have been discussed.

Wheeler as assistant secretary has had experience and is held to have shown himself capable of succeeding Secretary Straus if the latter should lay down the portfolio. Wheeler, however, has shown adaptability and another post in the cabinet may be his.

BUILDING AND LOAN MEN WILL CONFER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Olympia, Wash., Dec. 2.—State Auditor C. W. Clausen has called a meeting to be held in Olympia, December 31, of the representatives of all the building and loan associations of this state.

Several hundred delegates are expected to attend. The meeting will discuss a number of changes proposed in the laws relating to such associations and the purpose of the meeting is to prepare a general discussion of amendments so that an approved bill can be prepared to be submitted at the coming session.

Mrs. M. E. May Is Dead.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Dec. 2.—Mrs. M. E. May 45 years old, who for a month past has conducted a pastry stand at the public market, dropped dead of heart disease at her place of business shortly after 8 o'clock last night. Mrs. May was a sister of State Senator-elect Frederick Jordan of Boise Idaho.
