

HINDUS' WAR PLAN MADE KNOWN

Native Troops Will Join Revolt and Caste Will Be Forgotten for Country—Future Ruler Somewhere in America, Incog.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 1.—Following up the revelation of a plot to overthrow British rule in India, as borne exclusively in the United Press dispatches, startling additional details have fallen into the hands of British secret service officers working on the Pacific coast. It is the design of the Hindu revolutionists to overthrow the British empire in India and place a Sikh ruler on the throne.

The date of the great uprising and the plan of the campaign which was to have followed are now known to the authorities.

It has long been suspected by the Indian office in London that the scheme to throw off the British yoke, of which the outrages that are daily taking place in disturbed India are part, was being worked from America and for the last three months native spies under two white officers have been quietly gathering information. From Oakland on the south to Seattle, officers have probed every Hindu circle with the startling result that it was found the headquarters of the revolutionary party was located on the coast. Directions were sent to the minor leaders in India by an apparently harmless code, through a white man in California to a well-known native firm in Calcutta.

Zealous Work in America Incog.

The real leader is described as a new Guru Nanak. He is a Sikh of exceptionally high caste, who by a special dispensation has been allowed to leave his native country in order to prepare himself as a ruler when the time arrives. He is still little more than a youth, yet he has taken his degree at Cambridge and has followed this up with a special course at Columbia university.

His headquarters was for a considerable time at New York. At the present time he is very much sought after by eight secret service men, but his location, which is admitted to be on this continent, is only known to the highest council of the revolutionists, consisting of seven high caste Sikhs.

Five of the council are known to the authorities, and although until recently several of them were under the British flag in Vancouver and vicinity, they are all now safe beyond the border. They are Darnish Singh, Backresh Singh, Mer-can Singh, Ranjit Singh and Kanah Singh. Three of these Sikhs have been employed in local mills. It was one of the three who disclosed the whole plan to a British secret service officer when cornered in Vancouver and promised freedom as the price of the betrayal of the plot. His story, told in good English, was as follows:

Bomb Outrages to Scatter Troops.

The small outrages that are now taking place in India are part of the plan of campaign directed from this side of the Atlantic. It is necessary to have disturbances in several places in order to scatter the British troops. The main uprising is to take place in April, when the hot weather sets in and the white troops are at a disadvantage.

The white officers, too, will have gone to the hills. Amritsar is to be the scene of the main uprising. There is an arsenal there which will be of great service to us, and the first skirmish will be there. The British will be in a state of confusion in several places. That will give an opportunity to the natives in Cashmere to take Sialkote and march on Lahore. British reinforcements will have to be rushed from Rawal Pindi, and this will leave Peshawar unguarded and an easy prey to the Pathans, who are ready to enter through the Khyber pass. It will also open up to us a route by which we can get a new supply of arms.

To Take Over Sikh Regiments.

"One of the men now on this side has control over the train service. All departments are now run by Hindus and Mohammedans. There is no caste prejudice between us now and it has been arranged for all the main lines of communication to be destroyed at a given signal. The only thing that is lacking is artillery, and we rely on our first victories to get big guns. Officers are all detailed to take the places of the white leaders and the regiments, apparently loyal to England, will be used practically as they are.

Army Manufactured in Japan.

"Huge stocks of arms, many of them of the most modern type, recently manufactured in Japan, have been smuggled and are buried at present in the mountains to the highest leaders. The government has discovered some of the places but the largest stocks are safe.

"Every native who has command of a detachment under the British has been allotted a position and corps. The plans are on this side of the ocean but all have been notified of the probable date and what the signal will be. We have been aided in our plan of campaign by foreign experts.

Will Choke Suez Canal.

"Many of the native rajahs now thought to be unwavering in their loyalty to the British will be found on our side with their excellently trained troops. Cashmere, Patiala and Gwalior, all will help. Other places where uprisings will take place in the present plan is followed out—and the details are, in my opinion, too complete to change materially now—are around Meerut, outside Lucknow and probably Jullundur. Of the plans around Bombay and Madras I do not know, but I do know the details of the scheme in touch with our leaders and that Mohammedan and Sikh will be found fighting side by side for the deliverance of their country. We have reckoned on reinforcements coming from England. The Suez canal will be blocked by the sinking of a pilgrim ship. Then, where will Great Britain get her supplies?"

The story, continued, tells of the readiness of the revolutionists to throw off the British yoke at the most opportune time. It is the beginning of the battle of the orient against the occident.

"It will be a terrible affair," concluded the tall Sikh, "but it is inevitable. Our people have suffered too much under the present generation of white rulers. They do not understand us. The general idea of the revolutionists is to place a Sikh ruler on the throne. The premature disclosure of their plans has caused consternation in the ranks of local Hindus, and several of the leaders declare the man who divulged the details of the scheme will be punished. The Sikhs are open in their declarations of disloyalty to Great Britain and demand that the British government in India is such that the Canadian government dare not deport them for their seditious activities.

It is admitted that the leaders are over the border in the United States. Secret service men are now working against the Hindus and the Sikhs, and it is thought they are hot on the trail of Guru Nanak, who is to be the new leader.

Who Guru Nanak Is.

According to information in the hands of these officials, the student Nanak, now in the full bloom of manhood, as a result of diligent training in the colleges of England and America for the one special cause has his head filled with modern ideas and modern knowledge. He is a Sikh, the evolutionary leaders in India believe fit him for the responsible position he is to occupy as the new ruler of India.

Guru Nanak, the first of the line, was the founder of the Sikh religion, while the twentieth century, Guru Nanak, now said to be hurriedly completing an education calculated to enable him to become a leader of leaders—an education for which money has been expended—supposed to be the reincarnation of the first Nanak, who was the son of a Jat farmer and whose peaceful doctrine was subsequently changed to one of ruthless warfare by succeeding Gurus as the result of continued persecution. It was the evolution of the first Nanak's teaching that led up to the remarkable organization of the Sikh brotherhood.

Guru Nanak was born in 1469 and died 70 years later. The word of "Guru" was applied to him in the meaning of "spiritual guide," but later, owing to continued persecutions, the succeeding Gurus organized their followers into a band of stalwart warriors and the word "Guru" changed in its meaning to "organized head."

OPEN HOLLY SEAL CAMPAIGN

Visiting Nurse Association and Other Warriors Against White Plague Distributing Christmas Stamps to Be Sold at Penny Each—Much Work to Be Done.

One hundred thousand stamps to be sold at a penny each, the proceeds to go to the Visiting Nurse association, to aid in fighting tuberculosis in this state, will be placed on sale in this city as soon as a large force of women interested in the work can sort and distribute them.

Tomorrow morning at 10:30 a general meeting will be held in the Medical association room, second floor of the Medical building, Park and Alder streets; which all women interested in this stamp sale are asked to attend. There is still a great amount of work to be done and many willing hands are needed.

The Visiting Nurse association is meeting with its largest success in this campaign. All of the money raised from the sale of these stamps will be used in the local tuberculosis work. It is more than a charity. It is the most practical way of allowing the whole public to contribute to a work which is for the safety of the public.

Indorsements from some of the prominent physicians and others interested in tuberculosis work in this city are appended:

"Teaches People Self-Help."

Portland, Or., Dec. 1.—To the Visiting Nurse association—The movement which has been started for the sale of stamps to raise funds for the assistance of the tubercular poor is certainly a most worthy one, and should meet with hearty approval.

As is well known, your association reaches a class of poor that can be reached by no other organization, and in a most effective way. There is no organization in this state that teaches people to help themselves, and in a practical manner as does the Visiting Nurse association, and for this reason is especially worthy of support.

Yours very truly,
 C. E. BERRY,
 Secretary State Board of Health.

From Dr. Pierce.

Portland, Or., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Clarence Nichols, My Dear Madam—The work that has been performed by the Visiting Nurse association in caring for the helpless poor, and in teaching them how to help themselves, is a most commendable one. I feel confident that I voice the sentiment of all those whose efforts have made possible the maintenance of the Portland Open Air Sanatorium, in wishing that the fullest measure of success attend the stamp sale.

A campaign of education that will reach every home keeper in the state will also solve the problem in the fight against tuberculosis. New York University, Pennsylvania and other death rate from tuberculosis 40 per cent in the last 10 years. I trust that the association will do best full duty. Please command me if I can be of service.

E. A. PIERCE.

Keep Oregon in Front Rank.

Portland, Or., Nov. 30.—To the Visiting Nurse Association—The sale of Christmas stamps by the Visiting Nurse association has caused consternation in the ranks of local Hindus, and several of the leaders declare the man who divulged the details of the scheme will be punished. # DEATH IS TARDY; POLICY INVALID?

End Came Three Hours Later Than Butte Suicide Calculated.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Butte, Mont., Dec. 2.—That he was worth more dead than alive is believed to have been the sorry philosophy which drove W. M. True to kill himself in the Butte hotel Monday. He was insured for $7000 in the New York Life, and the policies were made payable to his aged father. In connection an odd question has arisen as to the collection of the insurance.

He took out a $2,000 policy six weeks ago and the $5,000 policy a year ago. The second payment on the larger policy would have been delinquent at 12 o'clock on the day True killed himself, and it appears that the man's intention was to kill himself before the policy became invalidated.

True's calculations miscarried, for though he shot himself at about 10 in the forenoon, death did not come until nearly 3 in the afternoon, three hours after the expiration of the policy.

True was an agent for the New York Life here.

Anty Drudge Tells How to be Rid of the Smell.

Miss Chirp—"Say, Anty, do you notice that odor? I've just had this waist washed and the laundry soap has made it smell horrid!"

Anty Drudge—"Yes, dear! No one without a cold could fail to notice it. But why don't you have your clothes washed with Fels-Naptha? It will leave them sweet and fresh without any odor. And they'll be cleaner and wear longer than if washed in the old, washboiler way."

Do your clothes have an odor when they come from the wash?

No—if you wash with Fels-Naptha.

Yes—if you use ordinary laundry soap or washing powders.

If you could see what goes into the ordinary soaps and powders, you would understand why they leave the clothes yellow and ill-smelling.

If you could see the pure materials that form a basis for Fels-Naptha you would know why it makes your clothes white and sweet, free from all odors.

Compare clothes washed with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water with clothes on which ordinary laundry soaps and powders have been used.

No other soap is anything like Fels-Naptha—in results.

Be sure to use Fels-Naptha the Fels-Naptha way, in cold or lukewarm water—no boiling. Get a supply from your grocer. Look for the red and green wrapper.

FOLLOWS HUSBAND MORE THAN 4000 MILES

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 2.—After chasing him more than 4000 miles, Mrs. Isabel Carman is suing her husband, John S. Carman, for $100 a month for maintenance. Carman is the son of General Ezra Carman, U. S. A.

Mrs. Carman says that her husband deserted her a short time after their marriage in Detroit in 1905. She alleges the trouble between them was caused by her husband's desire to keep their marriage secret and by the refusal of her mother-in-law to receive her after the news of the union was made public.

Following her husband from Detroit to Washington, Mrs. Carman says she then traced him to New York and finally to this city, where his mother now resides. She said she had but little money when the chase began and she was compelled to work as a stenographer in various cities along her route to secure money to continue her pursuit.

BITTEN AND READY TO APPLY TO PASTEUR

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 2.—After driving all night, frenzied with the fear that he had been infected with hydrophobia, George A. Tremlin, a landscape gardener, is ready to return to Pasteur institute at Chicago if the physicians in whose care he has placed himself decide that it is necessary.

Tremlin was bitten by a dog while on his ranch near Calabasas in the Santa Ana mountains. Believing the dog had hydrophobia, Tremlin and his wife made a wild drive at night to secure medical aid here. The police surgeons examined Tremlin's wound and advised him to wait a few days before starting to Chicago. It is believed he will escape ill effects from the bite, as he promptly washed his hand in carbolic acid after being bitten.
