

STAMPS SELL FREELY FOR CHARITY

Visiting Nurse Association
Compelled to Purchase
Second Lot of 100,000
Seals — Heavy Demand
From Nearby Towns.

The first consignment of Christmas stamps to be sold for the Visiting Nurse association for the campaign against tuberculosis has all been placed and a second lot of 100,000 is due to arrive tomorrow. This is the cheering news which has made glad the workers in this cause. It is astonishing, considering how short a time the stamps have been here, the widespread interest which the campaign has aroused. The telephone at Visiting Nurse headquarters in the Medical building requires constant attention. From Hood River, from Milwaukie, from Peninsula, come urgent requests for stamps. "Send us some stamps, we'll sell them," is the cry from all parts.

And how deeply interested are the sufferers from this distressing malady themselves. The patients whom the nurses in their rounds are attending ask with great eagerness, "How is the stamp sale going?" "It comes too late for me, but I do so want it to succeed for the other people who aren't so far gone," was the exclamation of a young man whose frail life is daily being saved.

Know What Care Means.
They know, these who have fought a losing battle with the grim figure who walks beside them, measuring their heart beats. They know what it means to the sick who are able to have all the little attentions, the carefully prepared nourishing diet, the sunshine and clean surroundings. For them the struggle is hard enough. How much worse, then, for the sick who are also poor, for whom there are none of these necessary comforts, and are powerless to help themselves, and even unable to protest those who love them from the contagion.

Merchants in all parts of the city are sending their respective stamps, and are being supplied as fast as the workers can distribute them. Sales girls and clerks in all of the department stores are also interested in selling the stamps as possible to help their work. This is their contribution, and they make it willingly. Through their efforts the same feeling is shown, and expressions of encouragement are heard on all sides.

Banners Are Offered.
Wednesday morning, the council meeting will be held, and the offer of prominent advertising space for banners on two street corners, advertising the stamp sale.
And women who are already hastening to the postoffice with their bundles feel that not one is complete until it has its red ribbon and Christmas seal. Merchants are putting them upon their business letters. Notes of holiday greeting bear them. Children are spending hoarded pennies for them. It will be early in the kind of mail. But any kind of mail will carry it. One penny apiece.
Buy the Christmas stamp. Ask anybody.

SIDELINE STORIES OF GREAT NORTHWEST

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK

Lewisman Man May Erect Building at Eugene.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Dec. 5.—John Davies, a former Eugene tailor, now residing at Lewiston, Idaho, who owns a business lot across the street from the five story brick block just completed here by the Odd Fellows, announces that he may go the lodge one better and erect a six or seven story block on his lot. The location is very advantageous. Business in that vicinity has increased considerably since the erection of the Odd Fellows block at the corner of East Ninth and Oak streets.

LONDONER BUYS MINES

Claims in the Blue Ledge District Change Hands.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Dec. 5.—A mining deal of importance was consummated a few days ago when the Cook & Green copper gold group of claims of Blue Ledge district was sold to W. A. Phillips of London, Eng. The consideration was not made public, but is known to be a large amount, as this is one of the richest and best developed mines of Blue Ledge. Mr. Phillips is owner of the famous Wolfram mine of Devonshire, and has unlimited capital behind him. He visited Blue Ledge this past fall and was highly impressed with the splendid showing of the properties. He made an offer for the Cook & Green, but the deal was not closed until a few days ago. He is also negotiating for the purchase of the Bloomfield group of the same district. He has returned to England to confer with his associates regarding plans for deep development and extensive equipment of the property.

RUSHING RAIL WORK

Electric Line Will Reach Forest Grove Soon.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., Dec. 5.—The crew of the Oregon Electric railway has the rails laid to within a short distance of this city, and expects to complete the rail laying to the terminal grounds by the first of the week. The company has until December 31 to complete the line to this city.

J. J. HENDERSON ASSIGNS

Liabilities Between $17,000 and $18,000; Assets $5,000.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Dec. 5.—J. J. Henderson of Coburg has made an assignment of all his property for the benefit of his creditors. His liabilities are between $17,000 and $18,000 and his assets $5,000. He sold out his property at McMinnville some six years ago for $25,000 and moved to Coburg, where he has apparently been unsuccessful in his business operations, running heav-

GAS PRESSURE STOPS DRILLERS

Heavy Volume of Water Flows From Oil Well at Ontario.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Ontario, Or., Dec. 5.—The gas pressure encountered at the Ontario oil well Thursday continues. It has been flowing 60 hours and increases in volume steadily. The drillers were forced to stop work on account of the tons of water thrown into the air continuously. The well is now capped but the water is being forced out between the casings to a height of 12 or 14 feet. The directors of the company will meet tomorrow to decide what course of action to pursue. They will probably apply for a gas franchise Monday for heating and lighting Ontario and other towns in the country. An attempt will be made Monday to continue drilling for oil, as the well may furnish both if drilled to a sufficient depth. Gas was found in the fine sand 20 feet below blue shale. The drillers believe the main head of gas and oil is probably a few hundred feet below.

lly in debt, several banks in Lane county as well as in Yamhill being large creditors. At the present time he is sick, and unable to look after his business affairs, hence the assignment.

BOULEVARD WILL WIPE HIM OUT

T. L. Garland Kicks Against Proposed Width of Portland Heights Boulevard.

Several property owners on Portland Heights are registering a protest against the widening of the proposed boulevard to 300 feet between West Park street and the head of Eighteenth, while further the big roadway is narrowed to 45 feet. Some of the smaller land owners think this is a discrimination against them. In an open letter to Tom Lewis, of the park board, Thomas L. Garland, who owns a half block at Fourteenth and Collins streets, says the boulevard as at present planned will practically take away all his property. He values the land at not less than $4000 a lot, but he says that if the property is condemned he will only get a title of this sum, as it is assessed far below its value to him.

Valuation Not Enough.
"I came here from New York City 10 years ago," said Mr. Garland last night, "and I at once saw that land on Portland Heights would one day be much more valuable than it was then. I bought five lots and have worked hard ever since to improve the land and make it more desirable for residence purposes. As the assessor does not consider the value of the view in making out the tax roll, the ground is rated at a small valuation, and, of course, the city would not be willing to pay what I think it is worth."

"Now, if the boulevard is run at this point, so it will not take in my property, I am ready and willing to pay a liberal benefit assessment. This could be done, and then the drive would be more than 100 feet wide. I think the city could get this stretch of property for very little if the width was lessened, as property owners would all be glad to pay assessments of perhaps $1000 a lot.

Will Fight to the Last.
"I do not want the park board to think I am trying to prevent the boulevard from going through. The fact is, I think it is a good thing, but I do not want my 10 years' work to go for nothing by being forced to sell out for a mere song. I think I am entitled to as much consideration as some of the wealthier land owners along the route of the boulevard, where it has been cut down to a width of 45 feet to avoid the necessity of paying for property that is assessed so high that the lots would cost $4000 or $5000 apiece."
"Before I will submit to having my lots taken from me at their assessed valuation, I will fight the city through the courts, and will tie up proceedings for several years. If I cannot protect myself any other way, I will invoke the referendum."

DR. BROUGHER AT THE Y. M. C. A. TODAY

For the next three Sundays the Y. M. C. A. will be addressed by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher. His general subject will be "Big Fights." December 6 will be given "The Fight With Heredity and Environment," December 13, "The Fight With Temptations," and December 20, "The Fight for Happiness." This series is one of the strongest series of talks for young men that Dr. Brougher has ever given and while they are full of wit and humor, they also offer a solution to the man who is fighting these fights. Besides the address each afternoon there will be stereopticon pictures and special music.
This afternoon just before the address, Mrs. Olga Barlach Lang will sing a special solo, and a number of Alaska views taken by Mr. Grille, the physical director of the Y. M. C. A., will be shown and explained by him. Following the address will be the usual Bible class and fellowship luncheon. All men are invited to attend the full afternoon program.

After Parole Breaker.

J. C. Barnard and O. M. Page, detectives of St. Cloud, Minn., have come to Portland to take back Charles Lawrence, arrested here for vagrancy, who is wanted in St. Cloud for breaking his parole at the state reformatory.

YAKIMA LEADS IN FRUIT RAISING

Government Statistics Show 12,000 Acres of Bearing Orchards.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
North Yakima, Wash., Dec. 5.—That North Yakima is entitled to the claim of being the greatest fruit raising section in the Pacific northwest is borne out by the compilation of government statistics which have just been made and will be used for advertising purposes at the big apple show at Spokane next week.
These figures show that North Yakima has 12,000 acres of bearing orchards, 30,000 acres of young orchards not bearing and from 300,000 to 400,000 acres of available fruit land that is not settled.
Hood river is shown to have 9000 acres of bearing orchards, 12,000 acres of young fruit trees that have not yet begun to bear and 6000 acres of fruit land that has not been put under cultivation.
The figures for Wenatchee show 6000 acres of bearing fruit trees, 10,000 acres of land set out to trees but not old enough to bear and 4000 acres of available fruit land not under cultivation.

Cascara Company Formed.

Articles of incorporation of the Pacific Cascara company have been filed by Herman Metzger, A. Wilhelm, A. T. Peterson, W. Pollak and D. J. Fry. The capital stock is $250,000.

REID IS ASKED TO SHOW CAUSE

Judge Webster Cites Administrator of Goode Estate to Explain.

Acting on the petition of Mrs. Edith F. Goode, who filed a petition asking for the removal of E. G. Reid as administrator of the estate of her late husband, Henry F. Goode, County Judge Webster yesterday issued a citation requiring Reid to appear in court on December 17, to show cause why he should not be removed as administrator.
Reid is now in the east, but had notice of Mrs. Goode's intention to ask for his removal before he left Portland. He is charged with negligence and mismanagement that is alleged to have caused the estate substantial loss. He is working to get the owner of the "Flyer" to pay him $5 for towing the boat from Leonard's landing to Portland at Leonard's request. He asks that the boat be held by the sheriff and sold to satisfy his claim.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ARRESTS A BOAT

A deputy sheriff yesterday made a novel arrest. He received a warrant to take into custody "Flyer," a gasoline launch, and he located his prey without difficulty at the foot of Stark street. The warrant was issued in a suit begun in the circuit court by G. F. Merrill, the arrest of a boat being specially provided for by statute. Merrill claims that G. W. Leonard, the owner of the "Flyer" owes him $5 for towing the boat from Leonard's landing to Portland at Leonard's request. He asks that the boat be held by the sheriff and sold to satisfy his claim.
