

FURNITURE FOR HOLIDAY GIFTS

It is not to be expected that every Christmas gift that the family man makes to his good wife should be something in the furniture line. Yet, what could be more appropriate—useful as well as beautiful and something withal that all the members of the household may enjoy? It cannot be gainsaid that more pleasure and more benefit are derived from money invested in furniture than from almost anything else. And then, too, good stylish, well-made furniture stands for years and years, and, passing from generation to generation, becomes an heirloom, priceless in value because of the associations that cling about it
